Miller to deliver memorial address

Rev. Louis Miller of the Calvary Baptist church will deliver the traditional Memorial Day address as ceremonies are held at the Belmond cemetery next Tuesday at 10:00 a. m. Plans, which are in the charge of Eimbrink post of the American Legion, will follow the same form as in years past.

Veterans, the VFW-Legion color guard and firing squad, the BHS band and cars carrying Belmond's Gold Star Mothers will form up at the site of the former Veterans' Memorial hall between 9:00 and 9:30 a. m.

Legion Commander Ralph Wilson says the customary line of march along Main street to the Rock Island tracks will be followed, and transportation to the cemetery will be provided from there.

The Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Camp Fire girls will also take part in the parade.

Decorating of the veterans' graves will again be done by the Boy Scouts, prior to the cemetery program.

The roll of honor will be read by Harley Thompson, a salute to the dead will be fired by the rifle squad and taps will conclude the annual rites. Bill Dempsey will raise the colors. Dick Gowdy will be master-of-ceremonies for the program.

With few execeptions, Belmond business places will be closed all day on Tuesday.

Crops under loan in Wright county reported by ASC

Wright county's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee has announced that price-support loans made to Wright county farmers on their 1966 crops of corn and soybeans total over $4,840,000 through May 1.

The county ASCS office has handled 700 loans covering 2,400,000 bushels of 1966 corn. The same number of loans were made at the same date last year, but covered only 2,200,000 bushels of 1965 corn.

The 1,065,000 bushels covered by the 825 loans on 1966 soybeans made through May 1 compare to a total of 715,000 bushels of soybeans covered by loans a year ago.

Two-thirds of the soybeans covered by loan are stored on Wright county farms, the committee reports, with the remaining one-third stored in commercial warehouses.

Price support loans on the 1966 crops of both corn and soybeans are available at the County ASCS office through June 30.

Nelson, Roberts placers in Class A track meet

Belmond tied for 17th place in a field of 72 teams that had competitors in the Class A state track meet at Eagle Grove last Saturday with five points. The Broncos' scoring was done by Terry Nelson, with a 3rd in the discus; and Tim Roberts, with a pleasantly surprising 4th in the high jump.

Nelson, on his very first try, got off his best toss of the season. His distance of 151-8 was just an inch behind the 2nd-place winner. The discus he'd been accustomed to throwing, a rubber-coated model, was slightly shy of meeting the official weight and Terry had to throw a wooden one he was less familiar with. He felt he could have done better, had he been able to use his favorite platter.

Roberts, who'd placed only 3rd in district competition but qualified for the state meet by outdoing a couple of other district winners, was the first man over the bar at 5-10. But three other jumpers improved on that mark subsequently, leaving Tim in 4th place. It was nevertheless a commendable performance for the Bronco senior.

The two-mile team finished a couple of places out of the money, though lowering the school record to 8:23.8. Splits on the four 880's were approximately as follows: Mike Klinefelter 2:05.7, Don Goeman 2:10.8; Gary Meyers 2:02.8 and Dallas Steenblock 2:04.5. The Bronco quartet was five seconds slower than the 5th-place team, as Westwood of Sloan won with a fine 8:09.6.

Steenblock later finished 6th in the 880-yard run, his official time of 2:02.9 being a tenth of a second over that of the man in 5th. Dan Sanders of Humboldt took the event in 1:59.6.

Meyers' effort in the 440-yard dash was about :54.2, only three events intervening between his individual effort and his appearance in the two-mile relay. It took better than a :53 to place.

Bob Rise pulled a muscle slightly in his 100-yard dash preliminary and posted a poor :11.2. He did much better in the 220, but his :23.7 was not good enough to qualify for the finals.

Coach Chuck Stalker regarded that most of the performances by the Broncos measured up quite well to his expectations, although he had harbored hopes that the two-mile quartet might come close to 8:20 in their event.

BRONCO LINKSMEN DEFEAT GARNER GOLFERS, 177-200

Another victory was chalked up by the BHS golf team last Friday afternoon when they easily defeated Garner in a dual match at Clarmond Country club, 177 to 200.

Don Havens was low medalist with a 39, three strokes better than the Cardinals' highly regarded Bill Engstler was able to shoot. Other Belmond scores were: Doug Thompsen 44, Lee Gordon and Terry Nelson each 47.

Girls recreation starts June 1st

Girls softball for players age 13 through 19 will start Thursday of next week, June 1, according to Jean Coulson, who again will be in charge of the girls summer recreation program.

Due to conflict with various summer church schools, girls from age eight through 12 will not report for practice until June 12. Slightly over 50 was the enrollment in both age categories last summer, according to Miss Coulson.

Practice for the older girls will start at 4:00 p. m. and that hour will be starting time for games after teams are formed, until the younger group reports. Then the older girls will report at 1:00 p. m. and the youngers ones at 9:00 a. m.

Because the Jaycees' peewee diamond is no more, since the tornado, the girls' program will be conducted on the diamond between the junior high and Ramsay schools. All participants are requested to provide their own gloves.

Miss Coulson expects to have an assistant to help her run the program but none had been designated by the sponsoring Jaycee-Ettes this week.

Track captaincy to J. Van Gerpen

WAVERLY (Special) — Three Belmond athletes were among 42 Wartburg college students honored at a special luncheon last Friday as letter winners in spring sports and for achieving related distinctions.

John Van Gerpen earned recognition as one of two track co-captains elected for 1968 and also as a school record breaker. Daryl Suntken, a sophomore, was also among the track letter winners.

Tom Heard, Waverly senior, lettered on the Knights' baseball team that chalked up a 15-5 mark for the '67 season and took third place in the Iowa conference final standings. The track team also took a third in the annual loop track meet.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Stegner and boys of Minneapolis, Minn., spent the weekend in the Allen Dumke home.

Mrs. Ronald Lenz of Melrose visited Tuesday night of last week in the Elmer Hopkey and Butch Olk home.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Larson of Minneapolis, Minn., spent the weekend in the Louella Larson home. Saturday evening Mrs. Larson and guests were evening dinguests in the Denver Schofield home at Rockwell.

Laaveg undergoes surgery on knee

On Tuesday of this week at University Hospitals, Iowa City, Sterling Laaveg underwent surgery to correct damage done to his right knee in a football injury at the outset of the University of Iowa gridiron season last year.

Sterling, son of Rev. and Mrs. Oscar Laaveg, is attending U-of-I on a full football scholarship but was able to play very little last fall due to the injury.

He had been a top prospect to fill the Hawkeyes' center position next season, but was unable to take part in spring practice due to the bad knee. The surgeon predicted the operation would offer a 50-50 chance that the damage could be satisfactorily mended so Sterling would be able to resume his place on the football squad.

PUBLIC FORUM

Letters to the Independent are welcomed. Please try to limit to 250 words or less.

To the editor:

We speak of justice and enforcing law and order. I'm for enforcing law and order, but it seems to me it depends on who the law is being enforced upon. If authorities are going to call and tell a person that if you don't do this or that — such as tie up your dog or we'll impound it — call everybody, not just a selected few.

"Law is law." We are all taxpayers and citizens; and city employees and their families should uphold the law as well as us underdogs. Should the duties of law enforcement be put in the hands of juveniles, at 50 cent per subject? That seems just like putting a pint of liquor within reach of an alcoholic. Even if it means trespassing, how can they resist?

When it comes to cleaning up lawns and property, the city enforces this. Who should enforce cleaning up city hall? The public? The same things happen when they put out a petition to sign for proposed projects. What good does it do to express our opinion, when the officials suit themselves and then tax the people? They call this a free country, but the only thing free about it is the practice you get from signing your name.

We are not all saints. As a rule, most of us don't throw stones until someone tosses a few our direction. We all have a little dirt on our back doorsteps and skeletons in our closet. Let's all take a little time to think of our past years and pray a little and do unto others as you would expect others to do unto you.

Mrs. Charles Wilson

Try Camaro—"The Hugger"

Camaro hugs a road closer, straightens a curve easier because it's the widest stance sportster at its price. It's lower, heavier, too...big-car solid and steady. You get a better ride, more precise handling for your money. Ask any Camaro owner, he'll tell you.

Now, during the Camaro Pacesetter Sale, you also get special savings on specially equipped sport coupes and convertibles. Save on all this: the 250-cu.-in. Six, whitewalls, wheel covers, bumper guards, wheel opening moldings, body striping, deluxe steering wheel, extra brightwork inside. And, at no extra cost during the Sale, get a floor shift for the 3-speed transmission and the sporty hood stripe! Compare Camaro. See your Chevrolet dealer now. Frosh-Soph tracksters take second in conference event, behind Osage Belmond High's freshman-sophomore tracksters took second place in the annual North Iowa conference meet for underclassmen held Tuesday of last week at Osage. The host Imps matched the Osage varsity's achievement by taking the loop crown with 65 points, the Broncos following with 52½.

Garner was third with 46, then came Lake Mills with 42, Buffalo Center with 41, Forest City 29½, Northwood 20 and Britt 1

Only 1st place won by Belmond was in the pole vault, taken by Dennis Followwill at 10 feet. Greg Steenblock took 2nd in the event.

Coach Chuck Stalker was generally pleased with his team's performance and could see in retrospect where the Broncos very possibly could have won the meet if he'd concentrated on his best talent instead of giving a maximum number of boys a chance to compete.

Two outstanding races were turned in by Preston Kessler in anchoring the two-mile and medley relay teams. He brought the two-mile quartet in 4th with a 2:12 half and then turned in an excellent 2:09 to get a 4th place in the medley. Greg Steenblock, Gene Kalkwarf and Dick Thompson were the other 880 men in the two-mile, while those preceding Kessler in the medley were Lee Barkema, Ron Ginapp and John Greenwood.

Kevin Gallagher played the key role in bringing Belmond a 2nd in the mile relay and a new BHS frosh-soph record in the event with a time of 3:52.4 — 3½ seconds better than Jerry Soma, Jim Pasquariello, Larry Ackerman and Tim Courson ran it in 1962.

Gallagher anchored with a :55.2 quarter, after having earlier posted a :55.7 in the open 440 for a 3rd place.

Randy Turner broke the freshman 880 record with 2:18.4 for 4th place, but the preceding Saturday in a relay meet at Hampton had turned in a 2:18.0. Rich Stadtlander held the old mark of 2:18.8. Turner also was 4th in the mile in 5:04 and took 2nd in the discus with a toss of 114 feet.

Other Bronco placings were: 120-yard high hurdles, Korthas 3rd; 100, Hawley 5th; 220, Middleton 5th; 180-yard low hurdles, Tim Dirks 3rd; shot put, Hawley 5th; high jump, Tom Shirer 3rd (5-2); broad jump, Korthas 3rd (18-7); 440-yard relay, Middleton, Lenny Johnson, Dirks and Hawley, 5th.

8th graders beat Garner in track

Belmond junior high's track teams split a dual affair with Garner on Monday of last week, the 8th graders winning 56 to 27 and the 7th graders taking the short end of a 46-37 score.

Nine of the 11 8th grade events were won by the Colts; but the local 7th graders came out on top in oly four of the same number.

Individual Belmond winners in the 8th grade meet were: shot put, Ron Fuller 39-5¾; broad jump, David Nelson 14-11; high jump, David Hickman 4-10; pole vault, Duncan Campbell 8-0.

100-yard dash, Jim McVey :12.6; 100-yard low hurdles, Sam McLaughlin :14.0; 880 relay (Hickman, Mike McMurray, Norm Olson, Fred Erdman), 1:52.5; 400 relay, (Erdman, Hickman, Olson, Nelson) :53.2; medley relay, (McVey, Bob Berns, McMurray, Nelson) 1:28.9.

Second places went to Snyder in the shot put, Erdman in the high jump, Berns in the pole vault; and 3rds to Duane Anderson in the broad jump and Campbell in the 220.

O'Choa got the only individual 1st for Garner, in the 220-yard dash; and the visitors also won the shuttle hurdle event.

Seventh grade 1sts for Belmond were: Jim Just, shot put 32-5; Ron Fuller, high jump 4-4; 100-yard low hurdles, Wayne Lonnevik :15.0; and the shuttle hurdle relay (Mike Anderson, Dave Barkema, Lonnevik and Steve Burt).

Nick Classick took 2nd in the shot put, Lonnevik in the high jump, Burt in the pole vault and the low hurdles; 3rds — Howard Beenken in the broad jump, Barkema in the pole vault, Jim Krugler in the 100 and Tim Pals in the 220.

9:30 a. m. — Morning worship and Dedication of new church building. Speakers are the pastor and Rev. Henry Poppen of Denver, Colo.
2:00 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. — Open house.
7:30 p. m. — Evening service with Rev. George Poppen of St. Anne, Ill.

Cards Of Thanks

I wish to thank all my friends for the patience and kindness they gave to me of their time and selves the many times their phones would ring and there would be "little old me" on the other end ready to chat because the days of winter were long and lonesome. Thank you again, Colletta Dorr. 35t1

I wish to extend my thanks to all who remembered me with the many cards and visits while I was at the hospital and since returning home; also to Dr. Leinbach and the hospital staff for the fine care. Edwin Medaus. 35t1

This space available FREE of charge to any organization wishing to advertise their moneymaking events.

CAR WASH — The Youth Fellowship of the EUB church at Goodell will hold a car wash Saturday in the alley behind the church, starting at 9:30 a. m. The charge is $1.00.

● Belmond Locals

On Monday of this week, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barkema had as visitors Mr. and Mrs. Russell Havard, who were en route from Alabama to California, where Mr. Havard will be filling a new military assignment. The young couple were married a week ago. Mrs. Havard is a granddaughter of the Barkemas. She's the former Deanna Barkema, daughter of the Lyle Barkemas of Ventura.

Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Zacharias of Hampton and Mr. and Mrs. David Zacharias of Mason City were Friday evening guests in the Ted Zook home.

Dr. and Mrs. Odean Severseike and family of Minneapolis, Minn., were Saturday evening guests in the parental Archie Lee home.

● Belmond Locals

Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Weisbrod and children attended graduation exercises at Webb Friday evening. They attended a reception afterwards at the Vic Weisbrod home in honor of Dennis Weisbrod, a graduate.

Mr. and Mrs. Marson Anderson of Eagle Grove, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Otto Tegland, were dinner guests a week ago Sunday in the Paul Tegland home at Goodell, honoring Thomas Tegland who had been confirmed at St. Olaf Lutheran church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wright spent the weekend in Grant with the Jerry Barrett family.

● Belmond Locals

Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Weisbrod of St. Paul, Minn., spent the weekend with Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Weisbrod and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Schneider of Springfield, Mo., were Friday overnight guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Thompson. Mrs. Schneider, the former Maude Anderson, was a high school classmate of Mrs. Thompson.

Carl Wolle of Sioux City accompanied his nephew, R. G. Packard, and a party on a fishing trip to northern Minnesota last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Goelz of Des Moines visited a week ago Wednesday with Mrs. W. H. Trafford.

CLARK & LARSON FIBERGLASS BURIAL VAULTS

An achievement of intensive planning and modern technology, our vault combines the scientific metallic alloy of resins and fiberglass, affording the perfect solution for the problem of everlasting protection. Here is the utmost in skilled workmanship by experts in their field, the complete assurance of perpetual guarding against all invading elements.

Fashioned of incredibly durable fiberglass, this vault is unequalled in combining desirable features not possible with other materials. Rigid quality control assures the uniformly high standard.

Endowed with the distinct advantage of lighter weight, our vault is designed and constructed to have astounding strength. In tests at the Twin City Testing and Engineering Laboratory, Inc., loads in excess of 20,000 pounds were successfully applied to the top surface of this vault. That severe stress was 300 per cent over the maximum encountered in burial conditions. Joining this proven sturdiness and the durability of fiberglass composition, the hermetic sealing process is applied to weld the entire vault into one airtight, waterproof unit.

Our vaults are available in a variety of attractive, dignified shades No mere surface finish, the intrinsic built-in color has beautiful depth that is not vulnerable to marring. The specially elite Eterna Mausolea, pride of our line, is a vault of unusual distinction.

The Belmond Independent

"Heart of This Four County Trade Area"

VOL. 43 NO. 36 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER WRIGHT COUNTY IOWA—THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1967 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER 12 PAGES AND SUPPLEMENT

MAIN STREET

BY PAT, DICK, DUANE

Ray Hagie of Clarion was one of a number of "ham" radio operators who received Public Service Awards from the American Radio Relay League, Inc., in recognition of services performed at the time of the Belmond tornado. We tried to identify others through reports on amateur radio communications during the disaster that appeared in the hams' official magazine, QST, but the only call book we had access to was six years old and did not contain many of the call letters.

We know that among those who performed yeoman service, along with Ex-Senator Hagie, was Dr. Harold Morgan, nationally known cancer specialist from Mason City. These radio enthusiasts come from all walks of life.

In congratulating Mr. Hagie on his award, the ARRL noted: "The Public Service Certificate is not the type of award that is specifically worked for, asked for or expected. It comes as a spontaneous recognition of outstanding work by individual amateurs during communications emergencies. It should give you deep satisfaction to know that the type of work you have done best exemplifies the spirit which makes amateur radio a valuable asset to the public and to the nation."

What must be a rock-bottom low for citizenship was achieved by some thoughtless, conscienceless individual on Memorial Day when he deliberately snapped off two flags from the lamp post at the corner of George's Auto Electric and left them lying in the street. He took the decorative point off of one of the flag poles before proceeding on his way. The flags were brought in out of the rain by some customer at Rich's Tavern. It was a good thing the culprit wasn't around when Keith Chandler turned-to to take in the banners. Keith may not be the ruggedest guy you ever say — but his adrenalin was pumping!

We keep 'em humble around the Independent. There are no indisdispensible bosses or employees. One by one, we've all had this proved to us. Like, f'rinstance, last week Duane Meinders took his vacation. Duane operates the Linotype, helps with the floor work and press work. Keeps real busy when he's on the job. He really does.

So what happened when Meinders was GONE? The week's issue of the newspaper was completely run off by 11:30 a. m. Wednesday — the the earliest EVER, on a non-holiday schedule.

When we told Duane this, he was rather dubious about taking any more vacations. We might get the idea he isn't needed AT ALL. But as mentioned, we've all had a similar experience. Leaves us kinda wondering why it takes us LONGER when we're ALL HERE! As Harlan Miller would say: "There is no solution. Seek it lovingly!"

When we wrote the story on dedication of the new Immanuel Reformed church last week, Rev. Robert Vander Schaaf was out of town and we were unable to check with him the cost of the new edifice. Consequently, we went to the files for the figure used in our ground-breaking story last year. It had the cost as $116,000. Now Pastor Vander Schaaf notes that a decision to include a bell tower added $6,000 — and that other changes plus interior fittings make a $130,000 amount more realistic. That's how it goes, when you build these days.

Want to feel REAL good — and do a REAL good turn? Once again the Student Congregations of Iowa State University, Ames, are conducting their "Friendly Town" project. This places in Iowa farm and small town homes hundreds of children (ages six to 11) from Chicago and Des Moines for a period of two weeks. The host family may designate the sex of their young guest and approximate age, but not the race.

These youngsters come from slum areas and have had little or no acquaintanceship with such commonplace (to us) things as grass, trees, farm animals and wide open spaces.

It's late in the game to apply for a child, but Rev. M. L. Jones could assist you in getting a prompt application in if you'd like to participate in the project. The children leave Chicago and Des Moines on July 15 and return July 29. A $10 fee is required with the application. If you receive a Des Moines child, $5 is returned; if there is no child for you, the entire $10 is returned.

A house-warming is being planned for Mrs. Jennie Retleff by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Virgil Nolte, to mark Mrs. Retleff's occupancy of her new home at 311 Second street NE.

Not only did Jennie's home "go with the wind" last October, but she received injuries that hospitalized her for a number of weeks.

She's been in her new home, now, since Mother's Day. Friends and kin are invited to help her celebrate her return to her own home this Sunday between 1:00 p. m. and 8:00 in the evening.

SIGNS TEACHING CONTRACT

Nancy Christenson, a 1963 graduate of BHS and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Christenson, has signed a contract to teach second grade in the Marshalltown Community schools during the coming school year. She will graduate tomorrow from State College of Iowa, Cedar Falls, with a Bachelor of Arts degree in education.

HOSPITAL NOTES

On May 25, the following entered for medical treatment: Mrs. Lester Hopkey and Mrs. Dean Lauen of Meservey and Jo Ann Noftsger of Kanawha.

THAT BRIGHT SMILE on the face of Sharon Zollner when she was photographed last Friday afternoon had real significance — for she was about to go to Steele Memorial clinic to have those awkward casts removed from her arms. She'd been wearing them for just two days less than a month, following an accident at the swimming pool playground on April 30. She was hanging by her knees on a crossbar on the swing set when she slipped and broke a bone in each arm, just above the wrist. She's been brave about the cast, but was delightedly looking forward to "graduating" to splints; and will be even happier when the day comes that her arms are altogether unencumbered. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Zollner, Sharon is 12 years old and will be in 7th grade next fall.

Luick Auditorium site of 4-H girls Rally Day

Belmond High school's Luick Memorial Auditorium will be the scene this Saturday of the annual rally day of Wright county's 4-H girls. Program starts at 1:00 p. m.

All club members in the county are expected to attend and in addition an invitation is extended to all parents, leaders and other interested persons.

Campaigning by the clubs for their respective candidates for county office will take place between 1:00 and 1:30 o'clock. Eight candidates have been nominated for the five county offices, including Sandra Bock of the Pleasant Peppy Pals.

Other nominees who will be running for office are: Sherry Holmes, Blaine Blue Ribbon Winners; Pauline Thul, Dayton Dandies; Susan Mersch, Eagle Red Peppers; Paula Woodin, Grant Go-Getters; Carol Marshall, Lincoln Lassies League; Jo Ellen Iverson, Up and Coming Vernonites; and Paulette Cramer, Wall Lake Wee Women.

After the delegates have voted, the new county officers will be installed in candlelight ceremony by the boys' county officers. They are: president, Gary Woodley; vice president, Wayne Smith; secretary, Roger Thompson; treasurer, Ted Derscheid; and historian, Duane Odland.

One of the highlights of the afternoon will be a presentation by Dennis Lettow, an International Farm Youth Exchange delegate to Mexico last year. He is presently vo-ag instructor at Dows. By the use of slides, he will present information on the home life in Mexico, where he spent five months.

Incumbent officers of the girls 4-H county organization will conduct the annual meeting. President is Janet Tesdahl of the Lake Leading Ladies.

The other officers who will be concluding their terms are: Penny Stevens, Lincoln Lassies League, vice president; Martha Spangler, Troy Trojans, secretary; Diane Gearhart, Eagle Red Peppers, treasurer; and Lennea Groom, Iowa U-Go-I-Go, historian.

Candy Kitchen bought by bank

On Monday of this week the First State bank signed a contract for purchase from Mr. and Mrs. Pete English of the property that for many years has been occupied by the Belmond Candy Kitchen. Possession of the building will be given the first of next year.

Luin Cox, executive vice president of the bank, says that plans for the newly purchased site — which adjoins the east annex to the bank — are not definite at this time.

He did say, though, that the bank given some thought to opening a drive-in window for its customers' convenience and such a use for the property will be investigated.

Jaycees mapping July 4th plans

Jerry McLaughlin has been named general chairman in charge of the 2nd annual 4th of July celebration of the Belmond Jaycees and reports that plans for the event are shaping up rapidly.

It is the Jaycees' intention to provide a full day of entertainment, starting with a horse show on the Central Soya grounds at 9:00 a. m. and concluding with the traditional fireworks display at 9:30 p. m.

Something entirely different in the sports line has been scheduled for the evening program at Faris Field, starting at 8:15 o'clock, in the form of a soccer game.

"Introduction of soccer on television has aroused considerable interest in this sport that is so popular, the world over," Mr. McLaughlin notes.

Location, opposite city hall—

Approval given new post office for Belmond

Postmaster William Walrod last Saturday received notification from Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien that a new post office has been approved for Belmond. Since the tornado last October, when the post office here was totally destroyed, makeshift quarters in the basement of the IOOF hall have served temporarily as a post office.

It was noted by Postmaster General O'Brien that his department has been governing its construction program in accordance with directions from President Lyndon Johnson to "exercise frugality in conducting governmental operations." Consequently, new construction is being authorized only when it is demonstrated that the need is urgent and no other alternative is available.

Since Belmond falls very precisely within these limitations — there being no existing building to remodel and no other suitable quarters available, plans for completely new construction were deemed acceptable.

Site of the new post office will be the northeast corner of the 200 block north of Main street, occupying the two lots lying west across the street from the property occupied by the city hall. Two tornado-damaged dwellings are still on this land and will be removed.

Preliminary plans call for 3,464 square feet of floor space — somewhat over that which was provided by the demolished post office — with an area of 9,880 square feet for parking and movement of postal vehicles.

This location will be serviced by the sidewalk lying along the 100 block of Second avenue NE, whereas there was no sidewalk access to the former post office on River avenue. Following destruction of the former post office, a petition signed by a good many hundred patrons expressed disatisfaction with the old site and the wish for a more satisfactory rebuilding location.

Postmaster General O'Brien said the building will be constructed under the department's lease construction program, with the government's capital investment limited to postal equipment. While leased to the government, the building will remain under private ownership and the owner will pay local real estate taxes.

Plans and specifications for the new building, as well as bidding forms and other pertinent data, will be made available to prospective bidders at an early date, at which time the department will advertise for bids. The site option will be assigned to the successful bidder, who will purchase the land, construct the building and lease it to the department.

Suits for damages totalling $164,150 have been filed jointly in Wright county district court by three plaintiffs against the Chicago, North Western railroad as outgrowth of a train-car accident on July 7, 1965, that killed one and injured two other persons.

Michael Mickelson, 74, of Eagle Grove lost his life in the collision as his wife Dorothy was driving their '65 Chevrolet east on Highway 323 a mile west of Woolstock. It was struck by a train approaching the crossing from the south. Both the driver and the Mickelsons' 14-year-old son Dennis suffered injuries.

Fred Eamer was engineer of the train. The accident occurred about 9:15 a. m. The plaintiffs charge in the petition that negligence on the part of the railroad and the engineer on a number of counts was responsible for the accident.

Mrs. Mickelson is suing for $50,000 for permanent injuries, pain and suffering, hospital and medical expenses; and an additional $3,150 for loss of the automobile.

Her husband's estate, through Mrs. Mickelson as executrix, asks $16,000 for loss of earnings during his expectable lifetime of 8.4 additional years and $20,000 as damages to his estate as a consequence of his untimely death.

Dennis Mickelson, through his mother as friend and next of kin, seeks damages of $75,000 for severe and permanent injuries, pain and suffering, hospital and medical expenses already incurred and yet to be incurred.

The plaintiffs demand that the case be heard by a jury.

SEE GREG HARRISON GET DEGREE AS VETERINARIAN

Dudley Bonte and Mrs. Clair Bonte, accompanied by Mrs. James Manusos of Mason City, attended commencement at Iowa State University, Ames, on Saturday, Greg J. Harrison, son-in-law of the Clair Bontes, received the degree of Doctor of Veterinary Medicine.

Dr. and Mrs. Harrison and daughter Dana will leave June 10 for Hollywood, Fla., where Dr. Harrison will be employed at the Broward Animal Hospital.

VISITING IN NEW JERSEY

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Townsan left Saturday for Kendall Park, N. J., where they will visit in the home of their daughter, Mrs. S. E. Finkelstein, and family for several weeks.

Goldfield youth chosen state 4-H office candidate

Wright county will have a candidate for state boys 4-H officer when 1,300 club delegates from over Iowa gather June 21-24 on the campus of Iowa State university, Ames, for the annual state 4-H conference. He is Ronald Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Holmes of Goldfield.

He was one in a group of nominees originally chosen by their respective clubs, then named as a district nominee, who were recently interviewed by a special committee at ISU. On the interviewing committee were the current state boys and girls officers, Iowa State university and extension personnel and prominent Iowa citizens.

Eight boys and eight girls were selected by this committee as the official candidates for the four boys' and four girls' state offices.

Ronald Holmes was Wright county boys vice president last year and has filled the presidency and other offices in his own club, the Liberty Pathfinders. He has been in club work for eight years.

Last year he was honored by designation as the "Spirit of Conservation" at the state 4-H conservation workshop. His activities have included county and state demonstration work, Dutch elm disease control, veterinary medicine and participation in the Wright County Older Youth Group.

His 4-H projects have included baby beef, commercial beef, swine, forestry and junior leadership. He was active in a wide range of high school activities and serves as an announcer for radio station KRIT-FM, Clarion.

"ROCK" NOW WITH SEARS

Dennis "Rock" Gallagher spent a part of the Memorial Day holiday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gallagher. Since early May he has been manager of the men's clothing department at Sears in Mason City. Before accepting this position he had been on the sales staff of the men's wear department of Black's department store in Waterloo for the better part of a year.

Anderson, Clayton announces—

Promotions bring two seed executives here

Two promotions in the ACCO Seeds division of Anderson, Clayton & company that are bringing new executives to Belmond were announced this week by management of the division. Both men are expecting to move here this weekend.

Dr. Harold D. Loden, who has been general manager of Paymaster Seeds, has been named research director of Anderson, Clayton's Seeds division and R. J. "Bob" Richardson, who has been business manager of Paymaster Seeds at Plainview, Tex., has been named production and processing director of ACCA Seeds division.

Effective today, June 1st, Dr. Loden will move his office from the Agricultural Products division headquarters at Abilene, Texas, to Belmond, now the headquarters location of ACCO Seeds division.

From the Belmond office, Loden will direct the combined research staffs of Paymaster Seeds and Tomco Seeds. Anderson, Clayton & Co. recently purchased the common stock of Tomco Genetic Giant, Inc. and Tomco Seed, Inc.

C. E. "Chuck" Wilmarth will head the division's corn research staff, which will include Don Terhune and W. A. Shirer. Dr. N. W. Kramer of Plainview, Tex., will direct the sorghum and forage hybrid research activities, along with D. C. Hess and G. L. Duncan. Quentin Adams and W. L. Pools will continue the cotton research program headquartered at Plainview.

"The joining together of the capable research staffs and facilities of all companies under the direction of Dr. Loden will give the ACCO Seeds division one of the best research and development programs in the seed industry," according to Mr. Horton.

Born in Colbert, Ga., where he attended public school, Dr. Loden is a graduate of the University of Georgia. There he received a Bachelor of Science degree in agriculture and received his Master's degree in 1939. The same year he became associated with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and engaged in soil survey work in the midwest until 1940, when he transferred to Alabama as an agronomist.

During World War II he served in the U. S. Air Force. During his tour of duty, he spent a year in Brazil as part of an Air Force mission that mapped the upper Amazon Valley. Shortly after the end of the war, he served as Director of Agricultural Experiment Stations in South Korea and was awarded the Air Force Commendation Medal for work in developing a vegetable seed production program for that country.

Dr. Loden returned to the University of Georgia as assistant professor of agronomy in charge of cotton research after his discharge, but soon went to Texas A & M university on leave of absence to accept a fellowship to conduct cotton research and study toward his Doctorate in genetics.

He joined Paymaster Seed Farms in 1951 as geneticist in charge of cotton breeding and related research. In 1952 he was named manager of the Seed Farms research and production operations.

Under Dr. Loden's direction, the farm has developed and released several outstanding cotton varieties. He also directed one of the most comprehensive hybrid sorghum breeding programs in the world. The Paymaster Indian-named varieties of hybrid sorghums and forages such as Apache, Ute, Pawnee, Kiowa, Sweet Sioux, Thunderbird and 3 Little Indians are now being distributed in many parts of the world.

Professionally, Dr. Loden is past president of Texas Certified Seed Producers, Texas Seedmen's association, Southern Seedmen's association and National Council of Commercial Plant Breeders. He is now serving as second vice president of the American Seed Trade association.

Announcement of Mr. Richardson's promotion and transfer to Belmond was made by Mr. Thompson. Bob and his wife Sybil will move from Plainview to Belmond this weekend. They will reside at 416 Tenth Avenue NE.

Mr. Richardson will be in charge of the production and processing of Tomco hybrid corn seed in Iowa, Nebraska and Illinois and Paymaster forage and sorghum hybrid grain seeds in Texas and Kansas.

He joined Paymaster Farms at Plainview in 1962. He was transferred from Paymaster Oil Mill division of Lubbock, Tex., where he was manager of the Paymaster Soybean Trading department.

Mr. Richardson was with Southland Cotton Oil company when Anderson, Clayton & Co. purchased this organization in 1952. He has been associated with Paymaster at Oklahoma City as manager of an oil mill and at Jackson, Miss., he was active in soybean trading in the deep south for Paymaster before moving to Lubbock.

The Richardsons have two sons, Reuel and R. J., Jr., and one daughter, Mrs. Carolyn Rose.

Joint Lions-Jaycee project—

Plan rebuilding of shelter house

Members of the Belmond Lions club and Junior Chamber of Commerce have agreed to collaborate in rebuilidng of the city park shelter house, which was demolished by the tornado.

At a special meeting last Friday, the Lions voted to appropriate up to $1,500 for reconstructing the shelter house if the Jaycees would provide the labor. This proposition was accepted by the Jaycees at a meeting Monday night.

Work was to be started on the job Wednesday night of this week. Larry Dorr, who will serve as foreman of the project, says the help of anyone with a knack for carpentry will be welcomed as the Jaycees spend the daylight evening hours at their task, the next week or so.

An estimate of material costs obtained by the Jaycees indicates the cash outlay figures to be somewhat under what was first expected, and that the expense may run only $1,100 or so. This is despite the fact that the new shelterhouse will be 16 feet longer than the old one and require an extension of the cement slab.

Russell Porter, chairman of the city park committee, asked enlargement of the shelter house due to the minimum of shade the park will possess during the next few years on account of trees lost in the tornado.

A companion proposal made to the Jaycees by the Lions club was that the Lions would appropriate $1,000 for refencing and enlargement of the tennis court if the Jaycees — in this case, too — would do the work.

This offer was tabled, due to a suggestion by Jaycee Jerry Kintzi that a site close to the high school might be preferable as a tennis court location.

It is the feeling of Lion officers, though, that money contributed to the club for tornado-related projects could not be used to build new courts for the school, whereas rehabilitation of the park courts would ideally fulfill the sort of purpose for which the donations were given.

It was the Lions' hope that the park court might be put back into use by the middle or latter part of July, which would have required the prompt ordering of fencing. Tabling of the proposal leaves it problematical whether the tennis court project can be carried through this year.

REPRESENTATIVE FROM SBA AT BANK HERE ON FRIDAY

Don Albertson of Des Moines, disaster loan officer for the Small Business Administration, will be in Belmond on Friday of this week to discuss applications for loans necessitated by the tornado. He may be seen at the First State bank, or an appointment for an interview with him may be made by calling the bank.

BLACKS BACK FOR VISIT

Mrs. Frank Black of Marion spent last week in Belmond visiting friends.

Hello, World

A baby girl weighing 8 pounds was born to Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Plagge of Latimer on May 25. She has been named Shari Lynn.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peddicord became the parents of a baby girl May 26. She weighed 6 lbs. 3½ oz. and has been named Tammy Lee.

VISITOR FROM FLORIDA

Irene Smith of Jacobsonville, Fla., called Thursday morning at the Paul Steenblock home.

Escaping ammonia lends excitement

Considerable excitement was produced at the Belmond division plant of Armour Agricultural Chemical company on Wednesday afternoon of last week when the contents of a car of anhydrous ammonia was being transferred to a storage tank.

In some manner, a valve on the car that was not involved in the transfer began to let ammonia gas escape. When Armour employees were unable to get the valve closed, the Belmond Fire department was summoned.

Its members had recently had instruction on how to combat such a situation. Fog was used to dissipate the gas and also to give a repairman protection in his effort to stop the leakage.

Wayne Janssen of the Armour staff was equipped by the fire company with protective clothing and breathing equipment and given the assignment of getting the leak stopped, which in not too long a time he succeeded in doing.

Since the liquid ammonia burns flesh badly and the gas can quickly suffocate a person, the situation was a touchy one for a while. Also, Decker Brothers, just to the west — toward which the wind was blowing — was loading 119 head of hogs for shipment.

The animals were coughing and seemed in a good deal of distress; but Decker Manager Bob Churchhouse learned that the hogs seemed to be all right when they reached their destination.

"Sorry about that" was about all there was left to say.

Alvin Charlson had been asked by the sheriff's office if a vacant farmhouse on property he owns a mile north of Clarmond County club might be used Wednesday of last week in a law enforcement exercise that was to be directed by Bob Blair, chief of the state bureau of criminal investigation.

Permission was given, when Mr. Charlson learned that the idea was that several officers taking the roles of "criminals" were to be flushed from the frame dwelling with tear gas grenades. He asked that windows be removed through which the grenades would be tossed, to prevent glass damage.

He added that he planned to tear down the house this summer and salvage the lumber. The windows were carefully removed.

In the morning, Chief Blair had directed the officers in firing from a moving vehicle at targets along a road. Then he lectured the men on a variety of dangerous weapons easily purchasable these days on the open market — and gave them instruction in the use of tear gas and smoke bombs.

Doug Dean, Clarion chief of police, and Deputies Bob Shaw and Vern Elston were then dispatched to occupy the abandoned house and prepare for the afternoon's exercise.

Three attack parties approached the house from different directions while Sheriff Bob Blecker and Mr. Blair comprised still a fourth group. Only a couple of tear gas bombs actually found their way through the open windows; but gas and smoke enveloped the house from the outside.

As luck would have it, two smoke bombs fell near baled straw that had been banked around the foundation when the house was still being used. Flames broke out at both points, and soon the straw — and the house — were a roaring conflagration.

The cornered "culprits" beat a hasty retreat. And the Clarion Fire department was summoned. By the time the firemen arrived, not only was the house a lost cause, but a shed and garage were also destroyed. There wasn't a drop of water on the place, so no fire-fighting was possible until the fire trucks got there.

Monday, Fire Chief "Bud" Packard stopped in to see Sheriff Blecker and explained that, the way the county has been divided for rural fire-fighting purposes, the Wednesday blaze had been in Belmond territory. How come the Belmond department hadn't been called?

Blecker explained that the fire really HADN'T been on the agenda. Next time, he promised, if things were a little better planned . . .

"ORDER OUT OF CHAOS" might be an appropriate caption for this picture, showing a Nelson Gravel company cat' with Ralph Turner at the wheel converting the old city dump grounds into usable terrain. This is some of the land which the Belmond Industrial Development corporation bought from the city, and from which the northern portion was sold to National By-Products. Last week, that concern was similarly levelling the site of its collection station, on the County U blacktop. BIDC is filling and levelling all of the former dump area to the north of the road leading into the dump grounds. What use is to be made of the reclaimed land is completely open to conjecture at this point. If you've heard anything more specific, that's exactly what it was — conjecture, without basis.

Never having been exactly what you'd call a whizz at arithmetic, we're perhaps stretching our capacity when we venture into the higher mathematics of surety bonding. Nevertheless, the publicity that has been given several recent embezzlements in Iowa county courthouses has posed a question in our mind as to whether the present state law governing protection of the public from such defalcations isn't a bit on the funny side.

Back in 1925 a gentleman named Jonas Buser, who was state senator from Muscatine county, sponsored the existing law that sets a limit of $10,000 on the bond that must be carried as surety against embezzlement by a county treasurer. Smaller bonds are required on other officers, whose opportunities to dip into the public till are reduced by the smaller amounts of cash they handle — and the cost of their bonds per $1,000 are correspondingly less.

When a shortage so large as that of $114,000 comes to light, as recently did in the Boone county treasurer's office, the bonding company coughs up $10,000 and the remaining $104,000 is made up by the 99 counties on a pro rata basis governed by the proportion each county's taxable property valuation bears to the total taxable property valuation in the state.

In other words, the $10,000 bond cuts mighty little ice in affording the public with bona fide protection against such embezzlement losses. If memory serves us right, Wright county's share of the tab for the Boone county shortage will run about $1,085 — or somewhat more than we pay in six years to bond our own treasurer for $10,000.

By inquiry, we've learned that the more or less standard fee for a $10,000 treasurer's bond is $200 per year — or if he's bonded for his entire four-year term at one time the amount is discounted to $170 annual cost.

In six years' time, Iowa's 99 counties will have expended on treasurers' bonds almost $103,000. Eleven defalcations would have had to come to light in that span of time for the group of counties, as a whole, to "come out" on their investment in surety bonds covering this one office, alone.

We've no figures at hand that enable us to say what the average incidence of treasurer embezzlements is in a six-year period of time; but we'd willing to wager that a couple at most would be par for the course — and likely, that estimate is high.

But say there ARE two, on the average. That would mean that Iowa's counties paid the difference between $20,000 and $103,000 for their protection — or $83,000. If those two defalcations were in the amounts of the two that have lately come to light — $114,000 in Boone county and an as yet estimated $25,000 to $50,000 in Washington (let's take a guess and call it $40,000) — there would be a total $154,000 public loss reimbursable to the extent of only $20,000 in bond money. The public's deficit — $134,000.

Now . . . what if, instead of bonding for $10,000 apiece, the counties had put the equivalent of the bond premiums into a sinking fund? Had this practice been started back in 1925, and embezzlements had occurred at the rate of two every six years (again we suggest this is probably and extravagant estimate), the sinking fund would have grown to $720,720.

That's the amount, at the present premium rate, that the counties would have paid out for bond protection. And in the 42 years, $140,000 would have been returned (14 defalcations bringing back $10,000 each in bond settlements). That would have left $580,720 to meet losses than ran in excess of $10,000 in embezzled funds.

Say the defalcations AVERAGED $50,000 each — which would come to $700,000 — the ENTIRE AGGREGATE LOSS could have been met out of the present annual bond premiums that provide only $140,000 protection under the hypothetical circumstances we have set up. And there would have been no necessity for assessments such as Wright — and all the other counties — are having to cough up as a result of the Boone embezzlement.

Toss in a few thousand dollars that the sinking fund could be drawing in interest through the years, and it looks like a pretty good proposition. If it had been in effect 40 years ago, the savings could conceivably have been as much as a million dollars during the interim.

Possibly the biggest drawback to enticing any genuine public (or legislative) interest to the idea would be the question, "What's so great about saving a million dollars or so over 40 years' time?"

Granted, governmentally speaking a million dollars is pretty small potatoes today. Still and all, a million here, a million there — it adds up. . . . Or don't YOU pay taxes?

If many do what ONE might safely do: comes chaos

Movie viewers who have seen "Dr. Zhivago" likely would agree in large majority that one of the most touching scenes finds a secret police officer watching the doctor rip boards from a fence to keep his family warm.

Reluctantly he goes in pursuit of the physician, saying to himself, "What does it matter? . . . It matters, because although one person tearing down a fence may be only an object of sympathy, if five million people start to tear down fences, the result is chaos."

With this incident as his inspiration, Editor William B. Rotch of The Wilton (N. H.) Cabinet, contemplates application of the officer's remark to our social structure — or to ANY social structure — with these astute observations:

"This is the dilemma faced by every society. Where is the line between freedom and oppression? Every society must, in its own way, find a solution.

"The totalitarian governments may be more heavyhanded, quicker to sacrifice the individual for what they believe to be the good of the whole. The democracies tend to be more tolerant of the individual, more patient in asking his understanding, but the basic problems remain the same, and it is no less imperative that solutions be found.

"The hope of democracies is that their people will accept controls voluntarily. The more closely people crowd together, the more regimentation seems to be required to keep them orderly. Perhaps the army is the supreme example of a society in which personality is sacrificed to attain unity of purpose.

"The wastes from one isolated house are not likely to cause a pollution problem, but multiply the situation by a thousand and rivers become stinking sewers. It made little difference if the first automobile drove down the center of the road. One gum wrapper on the ground can be ignored; a thousand gum wrappers constitute a mess.

"Most laws — not just zoning and land use rules — are intended to curb actions which may well have been acceptable when the population was less dense. As people crowd together, individual freedom comes under increasing restraint. More and more the 'rights' of the individual are curtailed to protect the 'rights' of the many.

"Learning to live together is the imperative. The totalitarian states may seek to teach the lesson by force. The democracies prefer education. The one thing certain is that the lesson must be learned."

Report from Sen. Hugh Clarke

One of the most talked about topics around the legislature, and around the state, concerns the date when the General Assembly will complete its work and adjourn. What should also draw attention is the type and complexity of the issues which have been handled by one or both houses of this session.

It is an impressive list, featuring such issues as tax revision, governmental reform, establishment of a merit system for state employees, constitutional amendments, reapportionment and subdistricting, a new basis for school aid distribution and court reform.

Frankly, many legislators feel that as long as the General Assembly concentrates its attention on such important issues as these, they have nothing to fear from the voters. The attitude represents the feeling that the quality of legislation rather than the quantity is the most important consideration.

MOST LAWMAKERS WOULD prefer the session to end now. However, they realize their duty is to get the work done first and then adjourn.

There are some persons who have recommended that this session adjourn now and come back for a special session this fall, However, the Governor has made it clear he would not summon the legislators back, so there seems to be no other course than to continue until the job is finished.

It costs money to run a legislature; an estimated $11,000 per day. A substantial investment of money has been made thus far in this session. It will be a good investment if the job is completed in as reasonable a time as possible. To end it now before the work is done would hurt the investment, not help it.

ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT bills of the session has finally cleared both houses. The Senate agreed with House amendments and approved establishing a merit system for state employees. Under the bill, most state workers will be hired strictly on their qualifications shown through competitive tests, and not on the basis of their political affiliation. Also, workers will not be fired for politics, but for the inability to do their job.

I would like to thank all of those who have taken the time to write to me their views on tax reform. I hope I have made my position clear in my answer to these letters and in my previous columns. At this writing I am more optimistic than before in the possibility of meaningful tax reform.

WHILE I HAVEN'T SEEN THE "total Democratic package," the rumors are that the Democratic-controlled Senate has finally become convinced that Iowa's citizens mean business and demand the matter be given attention.

I feel that we lawmakers must have the courage to raise state taxes and funnel the money back to schools. Because to do otherwise would be saying to local people, "Get the money you need for schools from local property taxes and take the blame for any tax increase yourself."

BASICALLY, THE ALTERNATIVES are clear. The rising cost of public services will be paid either through higher property taxes or higher state taxes. I think the people of Iowa prefer to supplement local property tax revenue with additional money raised by higher state taxes and pay for any additional costs over and above these sources by another levy on local property tax.

This is the principle of the Petersen Plan which will encourage local effort to demand value received.

Of real local interest, especially to those people in Belmond, is the passage in the Senate, without a dissenting vote, a bill which I handled that will permit the issuance of municipal bonds for the construction of the arcades that is a part of their modern downtown plan. I am confident that this measure will be passed by the House shortly after the four-day legislative holiday.

ADJOURNMENT WHEN?—

The nice spring weather is making legislators restless as the session heads toward a new record in number of days spent in session. The new record does not come exactly as a surprise since this is what one might expect with the Senate under Democratic control and the House under Republican.

The two Houses seem to have reached agreement on reapportionment and sub-districting, also on a state civil service plan and a number of lesser issues.

They are still far apart when it comes to the question of taxes, except both are agreed that the overall tax load will increase.

AS LEROY PETERSON, DALLAS, told the House, "There seems to be no lessening in demand for the services provided by government."

Both Houses are trying to provide "property tax relief," believing that the property owner has about "had it" on taxation and any further revenue must come from such sources as income tax and sales tax.

The Republican House, after passing Mr. Petersen's plan to increase the amount of state aid to schools in the belief that this would mean a lighter load on the property owner, has passed a bill which would:

(1) RAISE STATE INCOME TAX rates by 33 per cent in the $1,000 to $5,000 adjusted gross income brackets and to 60 per cent in brackets above $5,000; (2) increase the sales tax and use tax from two to three per cent; (3) double the corporation tax rate from four to eight per cent, and (4) extend the sales tax to services (laundry, dry cleaning, farm equipment repairs, auto repairs, machinery repairs of all kinds and repairs on household appliances including radio and television) not now covered.

The bill passed by the Republican-dominated House has received a cool reception in the Senate, where Democrats have a slight edge. The bill appears to be headed for a conference committee.

PROPERTY RELIEF—

As part of a package tax plan the House also has approved a proposal which would virtually wipe out the personal property tax on household goods and give considerable tax relief to farmers and businessmen.

The measure, passed 90 to 20, would exempt from taxation the first $5,000 of assessed valuation on personal property. It's estimated it would take $33.9 million in state money to replace the revenue that would be lost by the counties. Republicans said the money would come from the big tax bill passed by the lower chamber and from planned cuts in Gov. Harold Hughes' recommended state budget.

Meanwhile, the Senate approach to the personal property problem is a proposal to eliminate it by "phasing out" over a five-year period.

MERIT PLAN OK'ED—

One of the major pieces of legislation to come out of the 62nd General Assembly is a bill creating a state civil service system. The House has accepted a compromise amendment and quick passage of the bill appears likely in the Senate.

The bill will take thousands of state employees' jobs out of politics. Under the compromise, the state commission that would administer the merit system would be empowered to set rules restricting the political activity of state employees.

NEW TRUCK LAW—

Legislation affecting trucks continues to make news. The Senate has passed two bills involving trucks. One Senate-approved bill would lower truck speed limits on interstate highways and raise them on primary roads.

The measure would lower the daytime speed limit on trucks on four-lane divided highways from 75 to 65 miles an hour and maintain the present night-time limit of 65 miles an hour. It would raise the day and night speed limits for trucks on primary highways from 50 to 55 miles an hour.

The second bill sets up guidelines and standards for "over-sized" vehicles, such as mobile homes, special construction rigs, and empty double-bottoms.

IDLE FUND RATES—

One of the big controversies in Iowa politics a year ago was whether the state should invest its idle funds in Iowa banks or in federal securities. The banks were limited by Iowa law in the amount of interest they could pay; the 1963 legislature had set a ceiling of four per cent. The federal securities would pay a higher rate of interest.

After much public discussion, State Treasurer Paul Franzenburg decided to withdraw more than $33 million in state funds from the banks and invest the money in U. S. securities. Now the House, by a vote of 103-0, has decided to remove the four per cent ceiling.

UNDER THE HOUSE APPROVED bill, the rate would be set at monthly meetings of a committee comprised of the state treasurer, state superintendent of banking and state insurance commissioner.

The bill also provides that interest rates paid by banks to other political sub-divisions, such as cities and counties, can be no higher than the state rate and no lower than one per cent below the rate being paid on state funds.

If the bill clears the Senate, as seems likely, Franzenburg hopes to invest some $60 million of state funds in Iowa banks.

After preaching a funeral sermon Sabbath last at Britt, leaving the cemetery at 4:15 p. m., Rev. McKown left for Goodell and arrived at 8:15 p. m. in time to preach the memorial sermon. He made the drive with one horse hitched to an old-fashioned road cart. Considering the distance traveled, 20 miles, and the condition of the road it was deemed remarkable that he gathered up the pieces, so to make a sermon.

NINETY YEARS AGO—

Two Belmond braves adore the same girl. This makes the waters troubled. Sunday evening they met in mortal combat, resolved to spill 15 drops of life blood for love's sweet sake. For three mortal minutes they fit, struck, clawed and gouged, tearing "mother earth" into fragments. But even great battles come to an end. This did. 'Tis said, however, that the sequel to the above is to come up yet. The bad blood wasn't all used up.

Elphic wins four 6th-grade events—

Three sextathlon records broken, two tied

Only three records were broken and two tied in the annual running of the sextathlon for boys in the 5th through 8th grades, reports Jack Steinberg, physical training instructor.

Ron Fuller put the shot 45 ft. 4 in. to wipe out an 8th grade mark of 44-1 set last year by Ron Dougherty. In the 5th grade low hurdles, Brian McVey posted a time of :11.1, matching a record by Jeff Kessler that has stood since 1959; and in the 100-yard dash Marshall Hanson and William Walrod had times of :14.0 that equalled the record Stan Korthas set in 1962.

Larry Elphic, who won four of the six 6th grade events, sprinted the 60-yard dash in :07.9 and the 100 in :12.9 to take one-tenth second off of the record in each.

Dave Snyder took the 8th grade sextathlon title with 7,880 points; Steve Burt was winner in the 7th grade with 5,676; Larry Elphic won the 6th grade crown with 4,961; and Brian McVey was winner in the 5th grade with 4,041.

Following Snyder in the 8th grade total point standings were: Ron Fuller 7,208, David Hickman 7,048, Fred Erdman 6,741, David Nelson 6,547, Norman Olson 6,300, Paul Schaefer 6,193, Mike McMurray 6,153, Sam McLaughlin 6,107 and James McVey 5,876.

Top places in the 8th grade individual events were as follows:

220-yard dash — 1st, Snyder, :27.0; 2nd, Erdman, :28.1; 3rd, McVey :28.6; 4th, Nelson, :28.9; 5th, Hickman, :29.3.

Low Hurdles — 1st, McLaughlin, :10.4; 2nd (tie) Erdman, Duane Anderson, Bob Berns, :10.8.

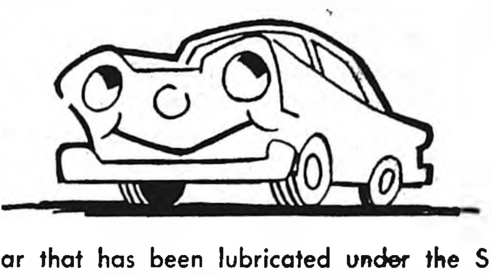
MEET A HAPPY CAR



A car that has been lubricated under the Skelly Greasemaster Plan is a happy car. The 1967 Skelly Greasemaster Chart provides up-to-the-minute guides for greasing your car, regardless of the year or model.

When we lubricate your car under the Skelly Greasemaster Plan, we follow the manufacturer's guide, plus the recommendation of Skelly's Engineering Department, to give your car a grease job that you can really rely on! Don't take chances! See us today!

JOE'S
Service—Ph. 2264
SKELLY

Let me protect your new car warranty.

Today's new cars come with broad, generous warranties. Because of this, car manufacturers quite resonably demand certain "warranties" of you, the car owners.

What they ask, principally, is that you have your new car serviced periodically. Without this regular servicing, in fact, your warranty could be voided.

I suggest you let me help keep your car warranty in force by driving into my ular intervals. Whatever servicing is called for in your car manual, I'm qualified and equipped to handle.

In any event, by all means keep your new car warranty in effect with the checkups and servicing car manufacturers demand.

It would be my pleasure to help you do so.

Elliott representative here—

Employment service offers its aid

The Iowa State Employment Service office at Webster City, which services Hamilton and Wright counties, has appointed a volunteer representative in most towns in the two-county area to help the employers and employees in each area secure help and work in their own locality.

These volunteer representatives will act more or less as a "clearing house," providing a means whereby the worker and employer can get each others names. The main function of this program is to help the employer get primarily day help.

However, the local representative may have some persons signed up who are looking for seasonal or even permanent work.

In event an employer is in need of workers for a longer duration and the local representative does not have an applicant on file, either the employer or the local representative may contact the Iowa State Employment Service in Webster City and an attempt will be made to locate a worker looking for such employment.

All people who are looking for work should contact their local representative and "sign up"; anyone age 14 and over is invited to do so. Workers will soon be needed for baling hay, weeding beans, detasseling corn and similar farm jobs.

Those who sign up now will also have their name on file for such fall work as harvesting and plowing and then for the usual winter and spring work.

Employers who are in need of help are invited to stop in and see their local representative and go over the list of names. They may contact workers of their choice who have their names on file.

Another added service is the "job poster," which is displayed in each volunteer representative's business establishment. This is a very breif listing of various permanent jobs in the two-county area. The list of job openings is updated and changed every two weeks.

For further information, any interested person can contact the Iowa State Employment Service office in Webster City.

Employers or would-be employees in this vicinity should contact Ellis Elliott at the Belmond Chamber of Commerce office in the city hall or Ed Oster in his barbershop at Rowan.

Dogs kill sheep once too often

A dog that had been suspected of killing livestock in the Belmond vicinity made one too many forays last week and was killed by his own master's hand when evidence of his guilt became conclusive.

A week ago last Sunday, Dennis Stecher, whose parents, the Fred Stechers, operate what is known as the "airport farm" a mile north of town, reported to Sheriff Bob Blecker that dogs had killed 14 head of sheep on the place.

The young man had caught sight of a German shepherd and a black, long-haired companion but couldn't catch up with them. Then on Wednesday of last week a neighbor spotted the shepherd back again and chased him away.

This time the dog was traced to the Francis Ainger farm a mile north and one east of Belmond. Earlier, the animal had been suspected of killing a number of hogs on the Tomeo farm in the same vicinity.

With weight of evidence heavily against the dog, Ainger at Stecher's insistence shot the big canine. A careful watch is being kept for the shepherd's running mate, which Sheriff Blecker is convinced has been responsible for other livestock killings in the Belmond area.

Degree from ISU to Nicki Killius with distinction

AMES (Special) — The largest graduating class in Iowa State university history, 1,290 students, received diplomas last Saturday. The class surpassed the previous record set in 1959 when 1,215 were graduated.

President Robert Parks awarded the diplomas at the 98th annual commencement exercises beginning at 9:00 a. m. in the Amory.

Nicki Killius, one of 10 students from Wright county receiving Bachelor of Science degrees, was graduated "With Distinction" in applied art education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Killius of Belmond.

Other Belmond graduates were: Howard Pals, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick D. L. Pals, architecture, and Ronald Schroder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schroder, agricultural business. Also from the Belmond area — Craig Toftey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Toftey, and Steven Espe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Espe, both from Kanawha.

Dows — Robert Anderson, agricultural business; Galt — Dale Lewellyn, psychology.

Another Belmond area student graduating "With Distinction" was Daryl Kuhlers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kuhlers, in animal science.

Miss Killius and Mr. Kuhlers were among only 95 in the graduating class who completed their studies "With Distinction" by compiling a grade point average of 3.5 or better (4.0 representing A).

● Belmond Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Buseman had as guests in their home from a week ago Sunday until Friday the following relatives from Colorado Springs, Colo.: Mrs. Buseman's mother, Mrs. Hazel Toft, Mrs. Buseman's twin sister, Mrs. Mary DeBour, and another sister, who is also a twin, Mrs. Hazel Harvey, and her son Kenneth. On Thursday night, the Busemans and their guests were at the Robert Berneman home for supper.

Mrs. Reuben Nelson, Sonja and Mark attended commencement program Tuesday of last week in Plainview, Neb. A nephew, Paul Jacobson, son of Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Jacobson, was a member of the graduating class. The Nelsons were overnight guests in the Rev. Palmer Wold home at Sioux City.

Irene Smith of Jacksonville, Fla., will leave Friday after spending 12 days in the George Smith home and with other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Christianson, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Berhow and Mrs. Lillie Johnson attended commencement exercises at Sheffield a week ago Tuesday evening. Jeffrey Sheriff, grandson of Mrs. Lillie Johnson, was one of the graduates.

DEGREE TO STADTLANDER

Robert Stadtlander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stadtlander, graduated recently from Wayne State college, Wayne, Neb., with a Bachelor's degree in industrial arts. Robert and his wife will both be teaching this coming year in the Iowa City school system.

GIVEN WALDORF DEGREES

Among 200 students receiving degrees at the 62nd annual commencement of Waldorf college, Forest City, a week ago Sunday were four from Belmond. They were: Dennis Alvin Dorenkamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Dorenkamp; Miriam Jane Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hill; Kent R. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Durr; and Edwin Christian Olson, son of Mrs. Eva Olson.

Larry Suntken hits it rich!

Rev. Larry Suntken of New York City, son of Mrs. Gen Suntken, has done it again. Last year, he and a partner reaped a $3,800 harvest together on the TV program, "Call My Bluff." This time he was a contestant on the NBC show, "Concentration."

These programs are pre-taped, so local viewers of the Rochester and Fort Dodge stations can see Larry ride to glory and riches this Friday at 9:30 a. m., then win further prizes — and finally tumble from his pay-off perch — on another telecast at the same hour on Monday morning.

The clergyman's "take"? Really, not bad: two Datsun (Japanese-make) sedans, a fur stole, roomful of modern furniture, $375 in suede fashions and luggage, pool table, portable typewriter, $150 worth of shirts and socks, $100 worth of perfume, two Rembrandt lamps.

Talk about "paying the preacher"!

Officers put on party for patrol

Annual party for members of the Student Safety Patrol put on by various peace officer groups was held at the junior high school lunch room Thursday afternoon of last week, with approximately 85 youngsters participating.

A safety film provided by the Wright county sheriff's office was shown and refreshments were served. Patrolman Bill James and Chief of Police Ray Thompson helped "ride herd" on the gathering.

Ice cream sticks were donated for the occasion by the Belmond Co-op Creamery and pop was provided by P & G Grocery, We 3 Market and By-Lo Grocery.

Sixth grade captains — Bob Pasquariello, Jolene Lieberknecht, Steve Dougherty, Lori Elphic, Mark Dirks, Marjorie Studebaker; lieutenants — Jon McLaughlin, Carolyn Greenwood, Jim Killius, Sharon Zollner, Craig Thielen, Pat Quigley.

Legislature holds key—

Ambulance service crisis feared

At a meeting of Wright county funeral directors, doctors, mayors and the board of supervisors held last Friday at Clarion, it was the consensus of the funeral directors operating ambulance services that they would be obliged to discontinue that service as of July 1. Threat of heavy penalties under new wage and hours regulations has prompted this stand.

Such an action would be contingent upon ambulance service being provided by the county, which the supervisors have agreed upon if legislation is in affect that would permit it. A new law has been passed allowing counties to supply ambulance service — but the present law makes no allowance for financing the service.

Wright, and many other counties, now levy so close to the maximum millage permissible under the general fund that ambulance service expense could not be financed from that fund. And, at any rate, no appropriation could be made from the current year's general fund to meet such an unbudgeted cost.

Efforts are presently being made by doctors and ambulance service proprietors to induce the current General Assembly to pass legislation before its imminent adjournment that would enable counties to provide ambulance service for the balance of the year, starting July 1. Companion legislation would be needed to make funding of the service possible in years to come.

Persons concerned over uninterrupted ambulance service are urged by spokesmen for Wright county physicians and ambulance service operators to contact their legislators and urge that such legislation receive consideration and action.

Maynard Johnston, proprietor of one of Belmond's two ambulance services, regards the local situation to differ from that of most of the rest of the county. With the hospital here, calls can be regularly expected from three adjoining counties as well as from Wright.

He says it is his own present feeling that, regardless of what steps are taken to provide service within Wright county, his business will continue under obligation to assure ambulance service to the four-county trade area of which Belmond is the center until such time as all of the counties involved have made adequate arrangements to supply ambulance service themselves.

Phillips funeral conducted here

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at Fulton Funeral Home for Mrs. Margaret Mae Phillips, 78, who died the previous day at Weise Nursing Home at Webster City. Her nearest kin was Mrs. Raymond Ainger of Belmond, a second cousin.

Rev. M. L. Jones officiated over the rites. Burial was in the Belmond cemetery. Pallbearers were Maynard Harty, Gary Harty, Francis Ainger, Harold Ainger, Gerald Berns and Claude Veeder.

Mrs. Phillips was born at La Porte City, Ill., on April 9, 1879, her maiden name being Lindstrom. She was married at Chicago on Oct. 3, 1923, to William Phillips, who preceded her in death in 1935. In addition to her husband, a brother died before her.

NIC, BHS records among 'em—

Track season saw many marks fall

—SPORTS—

A review of the past track season shows that a goodly number of BHS, North Iowa conference varsity and freshman-sophomore, and Faris Field marks were bettered as a good crop of athletes made assaults on the established standards.

Three Belmond High varsity outdoor marks were improved. The two-mile record that had stood for seven years was cut from 8:27.6 to 8:23.8 by Mike Klinefelter, Don Goeman, Gary Meyers and Dallas Steenblock.

In the pole vault, Doug Thompsen added four inches to Paul Laaveg's record with a leap of 11-11; and Terry Nelson bettered Neal Waddington's discus mark of 149-2½ with a best heave of 151-8.

Two indoor marks tumbled. Dallas Steenblock posted a 2:10.0 in the 880 and the quartet of Don Havens, Don Goeman, Greg Steenblock and Mike Klinefelter had a 9:09.5 in the two-mile relay.

Only one Bronco freshman-sophomore mark was improved. That was in the mile relay, with Stan Korthas, Dennis Followwill, Verlyn Boelman and Kevin Gallagher chalking up a time of 3:52 4.

Seven NIC varsity marks were bettered, with Belmond accounting for four of them. The two-mile foursome of Klinefelter, Goeman, Meyers and D. Steenblock took almost nine seconds off the Buffalo Center record with an 8:24.4 running. Steenblock also lowered the 880 mark by 1.3 seconds with a time of 2:04.8.

Doug Thompsen and Lake Mills' Steve Pedersen both reached 11-11 in the pole vault, 13 inches over Paul Laaveg's record, but Doug won the event on fewer misses. Terry Nelson put more than six feet on the old discus mark held by Waddington with a toss of 144-8½.

Dennis McNulty's shot put record was bettered by slightly more than two feet when Dean Hannam of Osage posted a distance of 50-8. Lake Mills' sprint quartet of Harang, Thomas, Reinsmoen and Hope clipped both the 440 and 880 relay marks with times of :45.7 and 1:33.8. There was some question of the validity of the 880 time; but that's how the official timer caught it, so apparently it will stand. Belmond held the old 880 mark of 1:34.5 and shared the previous 440 mark of :46.2.

Belmond's froshmores had no part in the seven new NIC freshman-sophomore records that were established. Three were established in relay events by Osage: 440 — :48.0; 880 — 1:39.6; and mile — 3:50.9.

Pat Costigan of Buffalo Center ran a fine :53.8 in the 440. Garner's Gary McCabe, the most promising NIC distance man since Larry Kramer was chopping the cinders, lowered the 880 mark to 2:10.2 and the mile record to 4:50.8. Garner's mile medley foursome posted a new time of 3:59.9 in that event.

Randy Turner accounted for two new BHS freshman records with a discus toss of 116-2½, far bettering Glenn Pannkuk's 95-11 mark, and a new 880 time of 2:18.4. Lenny Johnson, D. Janssen, Joey McLaughlin and Tim Dirks beat the prep 400-yard shuttle hurdle mark with a time of :54.7.

Three new Faris Field marks were set in the Class B district [illegible] this spring, two by Eldora athletes. Cakerice surpassed Dave Suntken's high jump record with a leap of 6-1¾ and ran on the mile relay quintet that posted a 3:35.2, a 1.5-second improvement on the track record held by Eagle Grove.

Jerry Letzring of CAL got the other Faris Field mark with a :15.2 in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Clarmond tourney slate starts soon

Clarmond Country club's tournament season gets underway this Sunday with a tourney for junior golfers. Al club-swingers in that bracket are asked to sign up at the clubhouse, if they wish to compete.

Women from a number of neighboring communities will be guests of the Clarmond women on Tuesday, June 20, for the annual Clarmond Ladies Invitational Tournament.

This will be followed the next Sunday, June 25, by the yearly men's handicap tournament. Men are urged to post all their scores so that fair handicaps can be assigned.

Preparations are already in full swing for the annual Top of Iowa Amateur Tournament on July 4th. This is expected, as usual, to draw some of the finest golfers in the state as it has become one of the top attractions on the Iowa golf calendar.

A SHINING REWARD for a shining sales record was recently received by Harold Erdman, salesman for McLaughlin Brothers Chevrolet, Inc., as one of the five best in the entire Des Moines Zone, which includes three-fourths of Iowa. He was the only salesman in the seven-county District 5 to be so honored. Harold is shown holding his prize, a 19-piece silver set of coffeemaker and service, as District Sales Manager Lynn Johnson of Fort Dodge lends a hand. Mrs. Erdman, left, displays one of the silver hors d'oeuvres trays such as was given to each of the 225 wives that accompanied their salesmen-husbands to the Chevrolet Legion of Honor Banquet at Des Moines, where prize honors were distributed. Mr. Johnson presented the five top awards, given on a point basis for the sale of new and used trucks and cars during the year — in Harold's case, well over 500.

NORTH IOWA Peach

OF THE WEEK!

Five young students of the North Central Community High School pooled their musical talents and are performing for many groups around the area. Members of "The Doughboys" are: on the guitars, Mark Sabin, Manly, and Mark Jennings, Hanlontown; standing, Danny Schmitz and Rusty Tabbert, both of Manly, and John Hogen, Kensett.

The boys, with guitars, amplifiers, cymbals and drums, blend their voices in harmony as they perform at teen dances, proms and recently were selected to participate in a talent contest at KRNT. Winning top honors there they won the privilege of appearing at the State Talent contest at the Iowa State Fair this summer.

We salute this group of fine young boys. May their spirited endeavors afford them much success.

MAIN STREET

BY PAT, DICK, DUANE

Ellis Elliott, Chamber of Com- ierce secretary, reports that ie story last week naming him s a local representative of the ate employment service rompted rather surprising re- ılts. He says he has registered ie names of a good many applicants for farm work. . . . So, rou farmers who may be eeding some extra hands, ear this in mind. A phone call Ellis (5212) should promptly btain you the help you need.

June is "Dairy Month" — as you st certainly should know by now, cause we've been reminding our aders of the fact year after year a long time. In this issue ap- ırs some special advertising per- ning to Dairy Month (again), ich we planned to editorialize ut. We didn't quite get to it; we'd still like to speak a brief ce in behalf of our cow-milking ends. They are a rugged, inde- ident bunch for whom we have great deal of admiration. And as ir numbers decrease, it's the ST rugged and the MOST inde- ident that are left in the busi- s.

Running a dairy operation is not, in case you've never stopped to think about it, a bed of roses. Those cows never heard about long weekends; and when Bossie needs milking, SOMEBODY'd better be there to do the job.

There's hardly another type of ming that is as demanding; and in all kinds of farming, the ry farmer is wholly at the mercy the market. Practically his only ance of surviving, year in and ar out (more or less) with a pro- is to be a heck of a good mana- r. Also, it helps if you LIKE cows, N'T care much about vacations, d find pleasure in a decidedly GULAR routine. Because there RE some folks like this, we're ivileged to enjoy milk, cheese, cream and the rest of the dairy odies.

Since our meals would be less enjoyable without these contributions to our table fare, we say "Thanks a bunch" to those farmers (and their long-suffering spouses) who continue to find dairying a satifying way to make a living. May their tribe increase . . . their milk go in the tank (instead of the sod or the gutter) . . . and their herds stay out of the meat case and IN the milking parlor.

It must have been a matter of nsiderable satisfaction to Repre- ntative Ray Bailey last week to chosen as a member of the use sifting committee. This will one of the most powerful — and sponsible — groups in the state- use for the balance of the cur- nt, long session of the 62nd Iowa neral Assembly.

There were only four (or was it five?) Democrats chosen for this committee, along with the sizeable majority of Republicans. And no legislator is picked unless he has proven himself and exceptionally able man at his job.

So it was quite a feather in Ray's p to be named among the "sift- s." Both he and Senator Hugh arke have, to our notion, repre- nted their constituents in a de- dedly praiseworthy fashion dur- g this legislative session. We'd y that all who voted them into of- e should be proud of the repre- ntation they've had.

Just about our No. 1 newsmaker these days is Bill Johnson, who seems to set records selling insurance with about the same regularity that Kansas university's fabulous Jim Ryun sets 'em on the track. His $3 million in insurance sales last year gave all Lutheran Brotherhood underwriters a target for the future (including himself). Just when you get to thinking, "The man must spend ALL his time pushing life insurance," then comes an announcement that Bill led the entire Brotherhood ranks during April in the sale of HEALTH insurance — out of more than 1,000 representatives in the U. S. and Canada. . . . Golly! Can that man SELL!

Ye Ed is setting his cap for urels in a new type of competi- n. In the past, The Independent s copped honors for community rvice, editorial writing, covering cal government, column writing, otography, news writing. All of ich is fine and dandy, but hasn't ally touched on Ye Ed's REAL rte — which is desk-cluttering.

Now Publishers' Auxiliary, the weekly newspaperman's newspaper, is conducting a contest to find the most cluttered desk possessed by a U. S. weekly editor. We found ours up to the challenge. Didn't require a speck of "fixin' ". We took a picture, as was, and sent it in.

There's a $25 Saving Bond for e clutteredest entry. And unless me conniving editor does some ecial staging to distort appear- ces, we feel certain that that nd should be ours. Of course, rs wasn't up to top standard be- use of the tornado. We had to rt from scratch last October and really first-class clutter takes ne!

Feed mill in operation soon—

Central Soya buys plant from GM

As of last Friday, the former facilities of General Mills, Inc., which for the past three years have been under the management and operation of Central Soya, Inc., passed into the hands of the lessees. Central Soya had leased the soybean plant in June of 1964 with an option to buy and had made known earlier this year that it had decided to exercise the option.

This assures continued operation of the soybean plant, which for more than 20 years has been the source of Belmond's largest payroll.

Simultaneous with the information that Central Soya had taken up its option and that transfer of deed to the property had been recorded came an announcement from Plant Manager Ray Wright that the feed mill will be in operation by July 1 or earlier.

Curt Beauchamp, who is superintendent of the mill and has been overseeing its preparation far return to production, has been here for more than a year. It had originally been expected that the mill would be back in use considerably sooner, but intervention of the tornado and several other factors caused a delay.

The feed mill has not been in use since General Mills shut it down in 1962. It will have a staff of 10. Leroy Green will be mill supervisor and Don "Barney" Stoffer will be clerk. The latter will transfer to the mill on June 12, after having been on the elevator crew for about 20 years.

Mr. Wright says that the. seven production staff members have all been hired since the first of the year and have been employed at other duties awaiting the mill's opening. Their training to take up mill assignments started Monday of this week.

On June 12 a Central Soya trainee, Dave McCleary, will be transferred here from Decatur, Ind., to be customer service man for Master Mix feeds, trade name of the Central Soya livestock feed line. He is getting married to a former Iowa girl on June 4 and will be reporting for his duties here after a week's honeymoon with his new bride.

Glenn Martin now has new position

Friends of Glenn Martin, who lived here some 15 years ago when an employee of General Mills, will be interested to know that he resigned this spring from the GMI organization to accept a new job with the MoorMan Feed Manufacturing company.

He and his family are now living at Quincy, Ill., their address being 2629 Rogers Court, Quincy, Ill., 62301. He is managing a large soybean plant for the MoorMan company.

His departure from Belmond was prompted by a transfer to General Mills' plant at Rossford, O. He was most lately employed by GMI as maintenance supervisor of a large Grocery Products plant at Buffalo, N. Y.

As new lodge location—

Vets hall site bought by Masons

Ray Wright, Worshipful Master of King Solomon Masonic lodge, informed The Independent this week that the Masonic brotherhood has purchased from the Veterans Memorial corporation the property on which the Veterans Memorial building stood prior to last fall's tornado.

It is the Masons' intention to build a lodge hall on the property during the current construction season.

For some years, the Masons had used as their lodge hall the quarters over the former Schultz building, which before its demolishment by the tornado occupied the present site of Redder's Rexall drug. The lodge has been "homeless" since that time and meetings were held in the Masonic hall at Clarion.

Building of a lodge hall has been an off-and-on plan of the Masons over a period of years, and for some time they had owned the lot immediately south of Kinseth's Plumbing and Heating as a hall location. Several months ago, this property was sold to the Belmond Industrial Development corporation for potential resale to the city as a parking lot location.

Plans to build were not dismissed, however, and contributions received by Lodge No. 210 from other lodges throughout the state since loss of all its equipment in the tornado have spurred interest in proceeding with the project.

Mr. Wright says that more than $9,000 has been received from other lodges to date, to be added to the existing building fund. There is good reason to believe that further donations are yet to come in; and a finance committee has been appointed to solicit members of King Solomon lodge for personal contributions. C. N. Hildebrand is chairman of this committee.

Clarence "Dick" Whitten of Rowan, long-time member of the lodge, has been named chairman of the building committee, which will have the responsibility of studying plans and seeing to the construction of the new lodge home.

Other members of the committee are Roy Cunningham, Ben Bailey, Mr. Hildebrand, Leroy Green, Ron Courson, Erv Halverson and Ted Zook.

A clean-up of the debris left by destruction of the Veterans Memorial hall is planned by the Masons in the near future to ready the site for the new lodge hall. No decision has been arrived at as yet concerning the exact type of building to be erected; but Mr. Wright says it likely will not be of so large a size as the former Vets hall.

Clubs plan open meeting on city plans, problems

Paul R. Jensen of the Mason City engineering consultant firm of Wallace, Holland and associates will be speaker at an open meeting to be held tomorrow (Friday) evening at 8:00 o'clock at the library basement relative to local improvements necessitated by the tornado.

His appearance was arranged by the Culture Study and Progress clubs to elicit interest in these improvements and direct attention to some that require public concern.

Wallace, Holland has for some time done engineering work for the city of Belmond, so its staff is well acquainted with both the city's projected plans for the future and immediate needs that arose from the disaster.

Express purpose of Friday's meeting is to encourage coordinated effort toward meeting these needs. It is also hoped that some false rumors pertaining to certain aspects of the rehabilitation plans can be set to rest.

Ellis Elliott, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will be called upon to outline plans under study for improvement of the business district and to discuss what progress has been made toward their implementation.

Mrs. Marc Ihm, Progress club president, says, "Much progress has been made toward returning the city park to usefulness; but a review of the plans would be to the point, to assure that no needs are being overlooked.

"And while similar progress has been made in rehabilitation of the business district and the residental area hardest hit by the storm, our clubs consider much benefit might be derived by taking a broad look at the over-all community needs with a view to meeting them in a methodical manner."

She adds that an effort has been made to contact all Belmond organizations to encourage each to have representatives at the meeting. Some oversights were almost inevitable, however, and the sponsoring clubs wish to emphasize that every person interested in the future of Belmond is most cordially invited to attend.

Elected at Rally Day here—

Clarion girl to head county 4-H

Carol Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall of Clarion and officer nominee of the Lincoln Lassies League, was elected president of Wright county's 4-H girls at the annual Rally Day held Saturday at Belmond High's Luick Memorial Auditorium.

She received the top office as best vote-getter among the eight candidates for county office. Other girls who were successful in obtaining offices were:

Jamie Johnson of the Lake Leading Ladies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Johnson of Eagle Grove, vice president; Susan Mersch of the Eagle Red Peppers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Mersch of Eagle Grove, secretary.

Paulette Cramer of the Wall Lake Wee Women, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cramer of Blairsburg, treasurer; and Jo Ellen Iverson of the Up and Coming Vernonites, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Iverson of Dows, historian.

Mrs. Robert Marshall presided over the program. She introduced skits by the Pleasant Peppy Pals and Woolstock Willing Workers and turned initiation of the honorary 4-H member over to the Iowa U-Go-I-Go, Lake Leading Ladies and Grant Go-Getters.

The honorary membership went to Mrs. Charles Bastian of Vincent, long-time leader of the Troy Trojans club, who has also been active in 4-H committee work and assisted with fair exhibits. She has two daughters in 4-H.

Ron Holmes of Goldfield was introduced as Wright county's candidate for state boys 4-H office. Dennis Lettow, Dows teacher who was a 1966 International Farm Youth Exchange representative to Mexico, spoke on his experiences and illustrated his remarks with slides.

Interment in cemetery here—

Dora Wright, ex-Belmondite, dies at age 101

Mrs. Dora Wright, oldest former resident of Belmond, died last Friday at Ellensburg, Wash., at the age of 101. She made Belmond her home from 1909, when her husband entered business here, until moving to Washington in 1947 to make her home with her niece and foster daughter, Wilma E. Trumbell.

Graveside rites were held Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. M. L. Jones of the Methodist church, accompanying interment in Belmond cemetery. Fulton Funeral Home was in charge. Miss Trumbell was already in Belmond, having come here last week to attend a reunion of the BHS Class of '17.

Jessie Udora Trumbell was born July 29, 1865, in Luzerne county, Pennsylvania, daughter of Cornelius R. and Adeline Trumbell, in the same house in which her father had been born. When she was 19 years old, her family moved to Iowa and farmed near Goodell. She taught school for five years until her marriage on July 29, 1889, to Theodore Wright. They first made their home in Goodell, moving later to Rodman and then in 1909 to Belmond, where Mr. Wright engaged in the implement business.

They had no children of their own but made a home for Iva and Wilma Trumbell, daughters of her brother Charles, after their mother's death in 1902.

Mrs. Wright was a loyal and active member of the Methodist church for 85 years, serving in many capacities. Many Belmond people will remember her as their Sunday school teacher. She had a special gift for remembering people by name — especially young people — which endeared her to them.

Two years after her husband's death in 1945, Dora, as she was known to her friends, moved to Ellensburg and she kept house for her niece until at the age of nearly 95 failing eyesight compelled her to limit her activities. From the time she was injured in a fall four years ago, she resided at the Bernath Nursing Home, where she could receive special care. It was there that her death occurred at the age of 101 years, 10 months.

Besides her husband and parents, she was preceded in death by two sisters, Minnie and Catherine; two brothers, James and Charles Trumbell; two nieces, Iva Trumbell and Iris Trumbell Foster; and two nephews, Bert Trumbell and Gareld Lampson.

In addition to her foster daughter, she leaves two other nieces, Fern Trumbell Courter and Florence Trumbell Prignitz; and three nephews, Summer, Harry and Charles Trumbell.

A memorial service for Mrs. Wright will be held at Ellensburg upon Miss Trumbell's return there after her sojourn here.

Crossword puzzles were a favorite hobby of Mrs. Wright and within two months of her death she was able to supply words promptly upon being given the puzzle definitions by her niece. She remained alert and keenly interested in affairs of the day practically up to the time of her death.

Miss Trumbell relates that her foster mother's dry sense of humor brought pleasure to her host of friends and that her knowledge of sports surprised and delighted her younger acquaintances. Miss Trumbell adds:

"Business people looked forward to visits from her because of her informed interest; and everyone responded to her overtures of friendship and never ceased to ask about her daily, through the years."

Could use help on project—

Jaycees will buy picnic tables

Belmond's Jaycees at a regular meeting Monday night voted to purchase five new picnic tables for the city park at a cost of $20 each. They hope that their example will be followed by other local organizations and firms, since some 15 to 20 tables are needed for the city park and the swimming pool grounds.

These are redwood tables finished in natural color and equipped with comfortable, attached benches for seating.

President Terrell Baker says that the Jaycees will inscribe on the tops of any tables donated by other groups the name of the contributing organization so their interest in the park will be made known.

Any business firms or clubs that might like to give a table or two may advise Gary Garvin, and arrangements for procuring the tables will be made.

Meanwhile, good progress is being made by the Jaycees in rebuilding the park shelterhouse with funds that were provided by the Belmond Lions club. Chapter members, occasionally assisted by persons from outside the Jaycees, have been regularly spending evening hours on the project and the structure is rapidly taking shape.

Since last week's issue of The Independent was published, a misunderstanding has come to light regarding another project in which Jaycee collaboration had been invited. This was the enlargement and refencing of the park tennis court.

Last week's paper related that this project had been tabled following a suggestion by Jerry Kintzi that the high school grounds, as an alternative tennis court site, might be given consideration.

Actually, the Lions' proposal was never brought up before the Jaycees so Mr. Kintzi's remark had no relation to the proposition — and, he has informed The Independent, was in no degree intended to discourage return of the park courts to use.

As announced in another story in this issue, Central Soya has now expressed interest in providing funds for rehabilitation of the tennis courts and the Lions club has most willingly given way in the matter of financial sponsorship.

With money for the project now coming from Central Soya, the Central Soya Men's club has — very appropriately — issued an offer to supply the labor for the reconstruction of the courts.

Academic honor to Bill Heinzig

Bill Heinzig, son of Rev. William Heinzig, former pastor of St. John Lutheran church, and son-in-law of the Art Homervolds, was recently elected to membership in Kappa Iota chapter of Phi Alpha Theta. This is a national history honorary society.

Eligibility requirements include a position in the top quarter of the candidate's class and a grade-point average of at least 3.1. Bill is able to boast a 3.5 average.

Bill will complete his junior year at Iowa State university, Ames, during this year's summer session after being out of military service only a little over two years, and will receive his degree next spring.

He plans to teach and will do practice teaching next fall at South Hamilton High school (Jewell) in history, government or economics.

Gift from Central Soya to rebuild park courts

Ray Wright, Central Soya plant manager, has received from the company headquarters at Fort Wayne, Ind., word that Central Soya wishes to have a part in tornado rehabilitation efforts in Belmond and has selected a couple specific of projects toward which it would like to contribute.

One is rebuilding of the park tennis court, for which the Lions club had already pledged funds but will most happily step aside to give Central Soya priority, says President Bill Walrod.

In addition, Central Soya has made an offer to the Belmond Jaycees of the cash needed to repair and supplement the lighting fixtures that were left at the peewee ball diamond after the tornado. Originally the poles and lamps had been given for the diamond by General Mills, after the GMI Men's club ball field ceased to be used.

From $1,000 to $1,500 was promised to rebuild the park tennis courts, if arrangements could be made with a Belmond organization to contribute the necessary labor for carrying through the project.

Most appropriately, the Central Soya Men's club has agreed to donate the labor for extending the court's length and erecting needed fencing.

Plans call for transfer of the peewee ball diamond from its former location on a plot of land north of Third street NE that belongs to the Methodist church to a site north of the school bus barn.

Belmond's Jaycees have reestablishment of the field there as a chapter project. No specific amount was designated for repair and needed additions to the lighting system, but Mr. Wright predicts that sufficient will be available "to do the job right."

Formal dedication of shelterhouse July 4th feature

A special feature has been added to the program of the Jaycees' 4th of July celebration, according to Jerry McLaughlin, general chairman.

This will be the dedication of the new shelterhouse in the city park, which is presently being rushed to completion with money from the Belmond Lions club's tornado fund and with Jaycee labor.

An appropriate ceremony of dedication will be held at 2:00 p. m. It is hoped that a bronze plaque can be obtained by that time duly noting the joint effort of the Lions and Jaycees in making the new, larger shelterhouse available to users of the park.

The dedication will follow immediately after the downtown parade, which starts at 1:00 p. m. and will immediately precede the tractor-pulling contest scheduled for approximately 2:00 o'clock.

Mr. McLaughlin says the Jaycees believe the program mapped out for the 4th should provide Belmond and surrounding area with as fine a celebration as the community has ever seen. Additional features of the event will be described in coming issues of The Independent.

Sign-up tomorrow for swim lessons

Cooperation on the part of the weatherman permitted opening of Luick Memorial Swimming Pool "on schedule" last Saturday, and a throng of young people took advantage of the opportunity to get in their first swims.

Bob Davis, pool manager, announces that youngsters must sign up for Red Cross swimming lessons sometime Friday at the city hall. The lessons will start next Monday and class assignments wil be posted at the swimming pool this coming weekend.

Experienced swimmers interested in qualifying for junior or senior life saving badges should also sign up for instruction this Friday.

In addition to local swimmers, children from Rowan, Goodell, Kanawha and Meservey will be taking lessons at Luick pool.

Tom Stevens will be the assistant to Mr. Davis in management of the pool. Serving as life guards and instructors are Janis Porter, Cindy Musselman, Nicki Killius and Ed Dana. Mr. Davis says one more may be added to the staff if the number of enrollees for the lesson program is large enough to justify it.

Vo-ag boys return from 535-mile field trip

Fifteen boys, who will be juniors in the BHS vo-ag program next fall, returned home Friday of last week from a five-day field trip that covered 535 miles and took them to numerous stop-overs of interest ← along the way. They were accompanied by their instructor, Keith Carlson.

After their arrival at Waterloo on Monday morning of last week they visited the Rath Packing plant and in the afternoon the John Deere tractor works, then they camped out at T. F. Clark state park.

Tuesday morning they visited the Amana Colonies and Hoover Memorial Library at West Branch. After a trip to the Coralville reservoir in the afternoon they spent overnight at Lake MacBride state park.

Wednesday morning found them at the Bob and Connie Green purebred Hampshire farm at Ainsworth, from where they went on to Muscatine to inspect the Kent feed mill, Grain Processing corporation facilities and three Kent research farms. Their camping spot this day was Wildcat Den state park and some of the party took advantage of an opportunity to visit a near-by U. S. fish hatchery.

Continuing to cover points of interest at Muscatine the next day, the boys visited Monsanto's anhydrous ammonia plant and also that company's herbicide plant. They also looked over at large CCA warehouse and a lock and dam on the Mississippi river. They then departed on a 190-mile jaunt that took them to Ledges state park near Boone by 6:00 p. m.

On the tour's final day, the group visited agronomy and ag-engineering experimental farms operated by Iowa State university near Ames, ISU's dairy farm and the Ray Thompson farm near Ellsworth that specializes in raising turkeys and beef cattle. The bus was back in Belmond by 4:00 p. m. Friday, leaving only the job of cleaning up that vehicle before the boys dispersed to their homes.

Sharion Louise Sparks married to Stephen A. Hinman, May 28th

Miss Sharion Louise Sparks of Ames, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donal A. Sparks of Chariton, became the bride of Stephen A. Hinman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen N. Hinman, Sunday afternoon, May 28, at the Congregational church in Belmond. Rev. J Samuel Shelby preformed the double-ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with white spider mums and pink carnations. David Hinman, brother of the groom, and Jon Hinman, cousin of the groom, were candle-lighters.

Rachael Kalkwarf, cousin of the groom, organist, played the nuptial music and accompanied Rhonda Kamm as she sang "Because" and "I Love Thee".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soie. The sheath skirt was accented at the empire waistline with Venice lace trim as were the elbow-length sleeves. The back of the gown had a removable floor-length Watteau train that was trimmed with a tailored bow. Her silk illusion, pouf veil was attached to a nylon covered pill box. She carried a bouquet of pink and white roses with split white carnations and lily of the valley. Her pearl necklace was a gift of the grom

The maid of honor, Janet Throckmorton, and the bridesmaid, Linda Storm, both of Derby, wore floor-length, empire-styled gowns of pink organza over taffeta. The straight skirt was trimmed in the back with a panel effect and the bodice with a round neckline. The waistline and elbow-length sleeves were accented with Venice lace. They wore matching headpieces and carried long-stemmed pink roses.

Donald Hinman, brother of the groom, was best man and Rodney McElvain of Ames was groomsman. Ushers were Jerry Sparks, brother of the bride, Wayne Hinman, brother of the groom, Earl Kalkwarf, cousin of the groom, and Sam Visthuipol of Ames, college roomate of the groom. The men wore black suits and white carnation boutonnieres, except the groom, whose boutonniere was a pink rose.

The mother of the bride wore a beige dress and accessories and the groom's mother wore a three-piece suit with white accessories, each with a pink rose corsage.

Rita Sparks, sister of the bride, and Gary Wollis of Cambria, cousin of the bride, were gift pages. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stecher of Boone, Kay Varnum and Steve Wessman, both of Ames, unwrapped and displayed the gifts.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Paul Tegland of Goodell and Mrs. George Hinman, aunts of the bride, poured coffee and Mrs. Robert Kalkwarf, aunt of the groom, served punch.

Waitresses were Mary Schilling of Derby, Mrs. Irvin Heiden of Dows and Mrs. Robert Hinman, Jr., of Goodell, the latter two cousins of the groom.

For going away, the bride chose a pink lace dress with white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Mormon Trail High school at Garden Grove and the American Insitute of Business, Des Moines. The groom graduated from Belmond Community High school and is attending Iowa State university at Ames, where he is majoring in mechanical engineering.

The couple will reside at 734 Brady street in Davenport this summer as the groom will be employed by the J. I. Case Company.

STAR HURDLER John Van Gerpen, BHS alumnus, was named Athlete of the Month for May at Wartburg college, Waverly, in recognition of his outstanding performances. He was top scorer for the season on the Knight track squad, won the low hurdles in the Iowa conference meet and placed second in the highs. John is a junior.

Boys out Monday for ball program

Don Hoppel, director of the boys' summer recreation program, issues a call for all peewee and midget ball players from age eight through 14 to report for registration at the high school locker room Monday between 1:00 and 2.00 p. m.

This program will extend through Aug. 4, with a full schedule of games in both peewee and midget divisions.

Jack Steinberg, who is coach of the BHS froshmore team, will assist Hoppel with the younger boys and Hoppel will lend Steinberg a hand with the freshman-sophomore team.

Jean Coulson asks for girls ages 8-12 to report at the high school diamond at 9:00 a. m. Monday. She is being assisted in conducting the summer program by Lynnette Tomson.

Due to a conflict with the summer driver-training program, only a dozen girls turned out on June 1 for the summer program for older girls. Miss Coulson says this will necessitate limiting actual play to games with out-of-town teams.

SCI NUMERAL TO RISE

Phil Rise of Belmond was among the freshman athletes wining numerals in track at State College of Iowa, Cedar Falls, this spring. Among the SCI varsity letter winners was Bruce Abrams, Meservey-Thornton star hurdlers of two seasons ago. Mike Mattis of Garner also won a varsity letter.

—SPORTS—

Hampton tourney taken by Gordon

Fred Gordon demonstrated not only his links skill but a winning knack for card-cutting last Saturday at Hampton Country club's annual one-day tournament.

His golfing ability gained him a 1st-place tie with Bill Feehan of Cedar Rapids and Bud McCardell of Newton at 113, two over par for the 27 holes. Then by cutting an ace, Fred picked off the championship prize, which was an electric typewriter.

Both Gordon and Feehan had 75's at the end of 18 holes, Fred following a one-under 36 with a two-over 39. Then each posted a 38 for the final round. McCardell trailed with a 77 but came back with a 36 to figure in the tie.

Report of trustees notes—

New home built on hospital farm

A. C. Hanson and Luin Cox, trustees of the Chester P. and Vida Luick Memorial Hospital Trust, filed their 15th annual report last Saturday in the office of Wright county clerk of court. It divulged that money from the 420-acre farm which is the body of the trust was diverted for the 12-month period of May 1, 1966, to April 30 of this year from its usual purpose of going for "the use and betterment" of the hospital.

It is explained that $20,804.98 was expended for construction of a new dwelling on the hospital farm to replace the old house that has provided inadquate accommodations for the farm tenants, presently Mr. and Mrs. Duane Thompson.

Use of that amount of money for a new dwelling left the trust on April 30 with $1,940.30 cash on hand, plus 1,200 bushels of soybeans and 5,000 bushels of corn yet to be marketed.

Gross receipts from the farm during the period covered by the report came to $11,686.87. Also incorporated in the trust's holdings, but having no bearing on the farm's operation, was $8,741 in gifts toward the building of a retirement home in Belmond.

This was money directed to Dr. S. P. Leinbach following the tornado by Iowa members of the medical profession and others for the purpose specified. It was given into the hospital trust's custody as a temporary matter of convenience and will not be used for purposes of the trust.

Judge Ed J. Kelley has set the date of June 15 as time of hearing on the 15th annual report. At that time he will act on a request of the trustees that $500 apiece be allowed them a reasonable reimbursement for their services during the past year; also on their request that they be permitted to pay R. A. Henderson a like amount for legal services rendered.

Karl Smiths see son get degree

Chief Petty Officer and Mrs. Karl Smith of Honolulu, Hawaii, spent last week visiting relatives and friends in Belmond and Clarion, having returned to the mainland to witness graduation of their son Kurt from St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn.

They with Mrs. Smith's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson and Eric of Des Moines and Mrs. Ruth Bingham of Clarion attended the St. Olaf commencement on May 28.

Kurt received a B. A. degree in history. He has enlisted in the U. S. Air Force and on July 5 will enter the officers training school at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex.

CPO Karl Smith has many acquaintances here, dating back to a period in the 'thirties when he was Coast to Coast store manager in Belmond.

Game of chance; but "not much"

A couple of fellows (at least) learned the hard way last Saturday at Eagle Grove's Town and Country Days celebration that a "game of chance" doesn't necessarily give a player MUCH of a chance

During the afternoon, Ronald Cook, 21, told Police Chief Bob Koob that he'd been "taken" for $580 at a wheel-of-fortune concession traveling with the carnival.

Koob summoned Sheriff Bob Blecker and Deputy Vern Elston and with another Eagle Grove policeman they went to take a look. As they were unobtrusively keeping the stand under surveillance, a 19-year-old Webster City youth had his pockets lightened to the extent of about $185

Hailed into court on a charge of operating a gambling device, the two proprietors— Oscar Harris, 41, of Chicago and Frank Brewer, 42, of Houston, Tex. — were each fined $100 and costs.

They returned to Cook and their Webster City victim "part" of the money from which they had separated them.

ATTEND BANDMEN'S PARLEY

Maurice Fahrney, instrumental music director for the Belmond schools, was among some 250 musicians who attended the three-day 40th annual convention of the Iowa Bandmasters association weekend before last at the University of Iowa, Iowa City King Gleason, director of the CAL Community band, also attended the parley.

8 Wright youths in Marine corps

Eight young men from Wright county have lately enlisted in the U. S. Marine corps through the Mason City recruiting sub-station. Seven of them enlisted under the Buddy Program, which sent them in a body to the Marine Recruit Depot at San Diego, Calif., for eight weeks of training.

On May 31, Thomas Fevold of Goldfield was sworn in and also was assigned to San Diego. In the Buddy group that enlisted on June 1 were:

Jim Janssen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Janssen, and Dennis Didio, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Didio, Belmond; Leslie Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson, and Douglas Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holmes, Rowan.

Bernard Blank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Blank, Kanawha; Paul Knight son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyden Knight, and Tim Wesenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Wesenberg, Dows.

17 CAL pupils make honor roll

Seven 7th-graders made the CAL junior high school honor roll for the second semester, as follows: Colleen Henning, Christine Alden, John Hensel, Corwin Schulte, Dorothy Severson, Becky Thielen and Marilyn Wharton.

All of these pupils also were on the first semester honor roll.

Nine 8th-graders earned honor roll mention: Carla Brown, Marlys Dirksen, Sally Henning, Steve Henning, Jackie Plagge, Charlene Suntken, Corrine Hamilton, Susan Ostendorf and Denise Johansen.

These same students comprised the first semester honor roll, except for Carla Brown, who missed the first two quarters of the school year.

CAL jr. hi girls compete in track

Saturday before last the CAL junior high girls track team competed in the Iowa Track Federation state meet at Fort Dodge and returned home with several honors.

Vying with other 7th, 8th and 9th graders, Corrine Hamilton placed second to win a silver medal in the long jump and won a bronze medal for third in the high pump.

She also ran with Charlene Suntken, Anita Boelman and Nancy Johnson on the 880-yard relay team, CAL placing 9th among 42 schools. With Susan Ostendorf replacing Charlene Suntken and running with the other three in the 440 relay, CAL placed 10th on a time basis among 62 schools.

Audrey Armfield did creditably in the shot put, but did not make the first five.

GARY OBRECHT PROMOTED TO AIRMAN FIRST CLASS

OKLAHOMA CITY — Gary W. Obrecht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle W. Obrecht of Belmond, has been promoted to Airman First Class in the U. S. Air Force

Airman Obrecht is an air policeman at Tinker AFB, Okla. He is a member of the Air Force Logistics Command which insures that USAF combat and support units are fully supplied and equipped at the least possible cost.

Senator Clarke asks for aid on ambulance mess

Senator Hugh Clarke advises The Independent that he has referred to Attorney General Richard Turner the plaguing problem of ambulance service that is disturbing Wright and many other Iowa counties right now.

He informed Mr. Turner, "The funeral directors are fearful of the coverage under the Minimum Wage and Hours Act and say that they simply cannot pay minimum wages 24 hours per day (to a driver) and continue to provide the service."

Mr. Clarke pointed out that even if the county assumed responsibility for ambulance service, as permitted under Senate File 51, financing on the county level would be next to impossible under present state law.

Most county general funds are already using most of the statutory three-mill limit to meet present obligations, whereas the supervisors estimate approximately a 1½-mill levy would be needed to meet an estimated service cost of $63,000 annually. This would not include purchase of four station-wagon type ambulances at about $20,000.

Senator Clarke urged Mr. Turner "to explore the potential wage and hour problem faced by the funeral directors and provide a list of factors which you believe would bring these people under the Wage and Hour Act."

2 Belmond teams make state meet

Two teams of Belmond bowlers last weekend at Mason City rolled scores that earned them two of three qualifying spots in the finals of the annual state tournament of the Bowling Proprietors Association of America. They competed against approximately 30 teams for the right to bowl in the state affair in Des Moines on June 25.

Taking first place among the qualifiers with a 3,101 handicap series was the team of Larry and Roger Kinseth, Carroll Morris, Don Meints and Vernon Schmale. In second with a 3,054 score was the quintet composed of the Kinseth brothers, Jack Lobdell, George Sharp and Larry Schimp.

EDWIN QUANDT IN STATES TO RECEIVE MEDICAL CARE

Mrs. H. R. Bayliss received a letter Monday from her son, Sgt. 1/c Edwin Quandt, saying that he was back in the States and at Fort Sam Houston Army hospital, San Antonio, Tex.

Sergeant Quandt had been sent to Vietnam last November. The past six weeks he has been in the hospital at Camp Zama, Japan, receiving medical treatment for high blood pressure. This treatment will be continued at San Antonio.

KATHY JONES RECEIVES DIPLOMA FROM SIMPSON

Kathy Jones, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Jones, belatedly received her Bachelor of Arts degree in Spanish last Sunday at the 100th commencement of Simpson college, Indianola.

Except for a few hours credit she had to make up due to a switch in majors, from home economics to Spanish, she had completed her degree requirements a year ago and she has been teaching junior high Spanish at Knoxville during the past year.

GIRL STILL UNCONSCIOUS

Mrs. Robert Berneman says she and her husband have been repeatedly questioned about the condition of Bob's niece, Teresa Berneman of Clear Lake, who was injured when struck by a car on May 29. The eight-year-old youngster is the daughter of Richard Berneman. Since the mishap, Teresa has remained unconscious at Mercy hospital, Mason City, having suffered a brain concussion and head lacerations.

Two get on honor roll with straight-A grades

Susan Thompson, whose feat of achieving straight A grades for both the second semester and final quarter of the 1966-67 school year made her valedictorian of the Class of '67, had her accomplishment matched by only one other BHS student.

The honor roll prepared by Principal Ernest Doeringsfeld following the close of school shows that a freshman, Irvin Meier, also "aced" the second semester and final quarter. His brother Phillipe managed an A average for the quarter, but not the semester, as did Marlene Suntken, a sophomore.

Seniors who made both the quarterly and semester honor rolls were: Ted Berns, Barbara Burt, Charles Christenson, Glenda Cunningham, Ed Dana, Marcia Kelley, Jean McLaughlin, Barbara Pals, Ann Reasoner, Roxanne Slining, Linda Suntken, Doug Thompsen, Linda Thompson and Larry Zeiger.

On the fourth quarter honor list only were Tom Finn, Dixie Lee and Margaret Prince; and on the semester list only, Neil Kalkwarf.

Juniors on both honor rolls were: Paul Bamford, Velma Basener, Kermit Bohning, Susan Burt, Glen Gabrielson, Deborah Misner, Eugene Pals, Luanne Paule and Rae Jean Willey. Qualifying only for the quarterly list were Linda Tomson and Doug Tyrrell.

On the quarterly list only was Tim Daniels and the semester only, Shanon McNulty and Nancy Mickelson.

With the Meier brothers on the freshman honor roll for both school periods were: David Banning, Rebecca Bell, Vicki Boelman, Geraldine Didio, Allen Halfpop, Lois Pals, Diane Tracy and Martha Jones. On the quarterly list only was Richard Bonte and on the semester only, Kathy Kelley.

About 80 attend reunion of alumni

Approximately 80 alumni of Belmond High school were present for the bienniel reunion of the BHS Alumni association held at the high school student center on Memorial Day.

President Louis Mennenga noted as a disappointing aspect of the reunion the fact that more people were present from out of town than from Belmond and near-by.

A short program was held in Luick Memorial Auditorium, emceed by Mr. Menenga. Musical numbers were offered by Ed Olson of the Class of '65 and a boys quartet consisting of Mack and Joel Gabrielson, Dave Paule and Keith Boller.

Following the program, the group adjourned to the student center for refreshments and visiting.

Class of 1917 enjoyed reunion on Memorial Day

Eleven of the 20 living members of the Belmond High school Class of '17 gathered for their 50th anniversary reunion on Memorial Day and enjoyed reminiscing over their school days and the years that have intervened.

Their class colors and an anniversary cake were highlights of the table setting as they met for a luncheon on Tuesday of last week at the Olde Belmond Inn. With spouses of the alumni, 20 ate together and then went to the BHS student center to join in the Belmond Alumni association's biennial reunion.

A program for all the alumni was held in Luick Auditorium followed by refreshments served in the student center.

Eight members of the Class of '17 are deceased. The 11 who were present for the reunion, with husbands or wives as noted, were:

Wilma Trumbell, Ellensburg, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Veeder and Mr. and Mrs. (Gladys Thompson) Gilbert Jones, Mason City; Mr. and Mrs. (Gladys Polhemus) Chris Kragh, Canon City, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. (Ruth Buchanan) Richard Elwell, Woodland Park, Colo.; Fred Bohning, Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. William Colburn, Latimer; Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hanson, Sheffield; Mrs. Earl (Esther Brooks) Michelson, Goodell; Mr. and Mrs. Harley Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. (Eunice Reed) Harry Sling.

Another class member, Harold Hembd of Ipswich, S. D., had planned to attend the reunion but was unable to do so after his wife died on May 29.

A. Peter Ratt acted the part

Mrs. Edith Hill would like to know the whereabout of a young man who when registering at Hill motel on Memorial day used the name, A. Peter Ratt. She'd also like to know if the name is as authentic as it seems appropriate.

Ratt and a companion, both long-haired, traveling by motorcycle and seemingly "nice young men," gave their home address as Port Arthur, Ontario, Canada.

When they'd made their departure the next day, Mrs. Hill's opinion of them was changed. Their room was strewn with empty beer cans; several ceiling insulation squares in the room had been broken; and they'd pushed two chairs against the gas heater and turned it up to its highest with the apparent deliberate intention of starting a fire.

COMING EVENTS

THURSDAY, JUNE 8—

St. Elizabeth Study club will meet at 8:00 p. m. at the home of Mrs. V. V. McLaughlin, Sr.

ALMOST LIKE MUSHROOMS grow overnight is the way this new home being built for Mrs. Titcia Boelman at 412 Third avenue NE has been going up. It came to Belmond as a "component package" from Fleetwood Homes of Worthington, Minn., and Clarence Steenhard is the contractor. In about two hours Wednesday afternoon of last week, the walls went up on the foundation. The next day, the roof was on. By the middle of this week, siding was to be on and the sheetrock installed in the interior. Wayne Bell of Fullerton Lumber company says about 60 days sees a Fleetwood Home completed, from digging of the basement to application of the last brushful of paint.

JoAnn Churchouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Churchouse, was the only junior high student to achieve a straight-A grade average for both the final quarter and second semester of the recently concluded school year. She topped a 7th-grade list of 24 students who earned places on the honor roll for the last quarter, the second semester, or both, according to Principal Albert Olson.

Twenty 8th-grade students had B averages for either the quarter, the semester, or both. Those making both honor rolls were:

Dale Arends, David Basener, Elizabeth Cox, Fred Erdman, Ronald Fuller, David Hickman, James McVey, Sonja Nelson, Norman Olson, Susan Pals, Betty Peterson, Michele Roberts, David Swaroff and Douglas Thompson.

Those from the 7th grade, in addition to Miss Churchouse, who earned places on both the quarterly and semester honor rolls were:

Marilyn Triggs had a B average for the semester, but not the fourth quarter; and the following were on the quarterly honor roll but not that for the second semester: Diane Bemrich, Darlene Meyers and Curtis Pals.

Donna Ahrens honored after her graduation

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ahrens held a reception for their daughter Donna at the Rowan Legion Hall after her graduation from high school. About 60 guests attended. Out of town guests were from Hampton, Clarion, Williams, Dows, Goldfield, Clear Lake, Goodell, Belmond, Alexander and Garner.

Mrs. Willbert Reineking and Dalton went to Oelwein to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Sorenson, where they met Wilbert Reineking who had been fishing in Canada with his two brother-in-laws, Hardy Sorenson and Earl Damm.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gardiner of Clinton were Saturday afternoon visitors in the home of Mrs. Louise Gardiner. They came to take their son Brian home, after he had spent some time with his grandparents, Mrs. Louise Gardiner and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Davis of Clarion.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kibsgaard visited Memorial Day at the home of their son Donald and family at Mason City.

A picnic was held at Bingham Park Sunday night. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rietz of Belmond, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eisenhower of Reinbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rietz and son of Ames, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reitz and family.

Post-graduation courtesy honors Diana Andrews

Diana Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ryle Andrews, graduated "with high honors" Friday evening at State College of Iowa, Cedar Falls. Those attending the graduation exercises were:

Mr. and Mrs. Ryle Andrews, Les, Norine and Valerie, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoover and Wyatt of Rembrandt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Halfwassen and Mark of Chapin, Beverly Harmon of Hampton, Mrs. Henry Arends, Mrs. Edwin Box and Mrs. R. E. Lee Aldrich, III.

Attending the reception besides those who were present for the graduation ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Andrews and family of Alexander and Mrs. Tillie Meylink and Edwin Box.

Lions to finance swimmers' travel

The Rowan Lions club had agreed to pay for transporation for the Rowan youngster taking part in the swimming program at Luick Memorial Pool at Belmond. The Lions also have under study a project to help the Boy Scout program in a financial capacity.

Another project of the club has been the building and placing of a new sign at the junction of Highway 3 and Highway 353. This sign was part of a project shared by the Lions club and the town.

Each year money is sent to the Iowa Sight Fund by the Rowan Lions as part of the Iowa Lions' program to aid the blind.

Burneil Jones, Jr., honored on birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Burneil Jones, of Dows entertained Saturday evening in honor of their son, Burneil, Jr's., birthday. Those attending from Rowan were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones and Leila, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Jones and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ordean Jones and family of Dows.

IOWA HAWKEYE 4-H CLUB

The Iowa Hawkeyes 4-H Club met Saturday afternoon at the Rowan schoolhouse with 25 members present. A tour was conducted to inspect the 18-family 4-H projects by stopping at each farm. After the tour, they returned to the schoolhouse to enjoy pop and cookies.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF IOWA IN AND FOR WRIGHT COUNTY
In Probate No. 6028.
In the Matter of
CHESTER P. LUICK AND VIDA LUICK MEMORIAL HOSPITAL TRUST.
NOTICE OF HEARING UPON FIFTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF TRUSTEES AND FINAL REPORT OF TRUSTEES AS TO TRANSAMERICA INSURANCE COMPANY.

TO: City of Belmond, Iowa c o Robert E. Misner, Mayor of the City of Belmond, Iowa; R. W. Courson, Hospital Trustee; L. C. Long, Hospital Trustee; Margrette Thompson, Hospital Trustee; and to whom it may concern:

You, and each of you, are hereby notified that there is now filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of Wright County, Iowa, the Fifteenth Annual Report of L. B. Cox and A. C. Hanson, as Trustees of the Chester P. Luick and Vida Luick Memorial Hospital Trust and their Final Report as to Transamerica Insurance Company, surety on the bond of L. B. Cox as such trustee, wherein said trustees make detailed accounting of all funds received by them and all funds disbursed by them during the fiscal year commencing May 1, 1966, and ending April 30, 1967, and by reference make each annual report filed by them since the time of the appointment of L. B. Cox as such trustee a part of their final report as to Transamerica Insurance Company, and allege that the bond of Transamerica Insurance Company terminated as of May 1, 1967. The trustees ask that the Court approve the Fifteenth Annual Report of the trustees, and each and every act performed by them and each and every expenditure made by them since the time of the appointmnt of L. B. Cox as such trustee to and including April 30, 1967. The trustees further ask that the bond of Transamerica Insurance Company, as surety on the bond of L. B. Cox as such trustee be exonerated and for such other and further orders as to the Court shall seem proper.

You are further notified that the Court, above named, has, by written order entered in this proceeding fixed the 15th day of June, 1967, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the Courtroom in the County Courthouse, at Clarion, in Wright County, Iowa, as the time and place of hearing upon said reports.

You are further notified that unless you appear thereto and file objections on or before the time so fixed for hearing the Fifteenth Annual Report of said Trustees, and all of their acts and all of their expenditures since the time of the appointment of L. B. Cox as such trustee to and including April 30, 1967, will be approved by the Court and the bond of Transamerica Insurance Company as surety on the bond of L. B. Cox as such trustee will be exonerated as of May 1, 1967.

ATTEND SCI GRADUATION

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drury attended graduation exercises at State College of Iowa at Cedar Falls last Friday evening. Their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bob Drury, was a graduate receiving a bachelor of Arts degree in education. She has accepted a teaching position in the Manchester school system this fall.

COURT REPORTER HONOR TO BONNIE V. BRUNOTTE

Bonnie Vestweber Brunotte, formerly of Rowan but now a municipal court reporter at Des Moines, was awarded the Certificate of Proficiency of the National Shorthand Reporters asociation after passing a test conducted by that association in Des Moines on May 27.

The test, consisting of dictation at speeds of from 160 to 200 words per miniute, comprised of literary, judge's charge, and testimony, must be transcribed by the contestant with a high degree of accuracy.

The Certificate of Proficiency is held by only some 750 court reporters out of a total of over 9,000 reporters in the United States.

Mrs. Brunotte is a graduate of the school of shorthand reporting of the American Institute of Business in Des Moines. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Vestweber of Rowan.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Mathiason spent Friday evening visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Johnson and family, who are just back from a trip to England, and Mrs. Hannah Johnson of Eagle Grove.

Old Glory stands for "we, the people" — or nothing

Next Wednesday you'll be hearing the perennial question, "What are the flags out TODAY for?"

The answer is the same as it's been for 90 years. It's Flag Day.

It was 'way back in 1877 — when Old Glory was 100 years old — that the government requested all public buildings to fly the flag on June 14th in commemoration of the birth of the Stars and Stripes.

In the meantime, it's become common practice for public buildings to fly the colors the year around on business days — which has complicated the problem, somewhat. For a much shorter time, it has been the custom to display the flag generally — which just enough people remember to do, that it confuses all the rest.

This is too bad, because love and respect for our country should be one of the unchanging influences in our lives. Not the jingoistic, superpatriotism that insists, "My country, right or wrong;" but an attitude that stems from the blessings that our people, THROUGH their self-government, have acquired and maintained for themselves.

When an unthinking dolt insults the flag, as one did here on Memorial Day by snapping two banners from their standards and flinging them in the street, he is demeaning not just flag but himself as well. For if the flag does not stand for the PEOPLE who are our nation and the government that they elect, it stands for nothing.

This act was suggestive of a sentiment that seems to be spreading in these unsettled times, which views the government as a force APART from the citizens it represents. In a democratic nation this should not — and NEED not — be true.

While, in exercising leadership, the government may at times seem not to be reflecting the true consensus of its constituents, it still remains necessary for the party in power to convince the citizenry of the wisdom of any innovations introduced. If the administration cannot do so, it knows it's not going to remain in power.

There is nothing wrong with expressing or showing impatience with our government. But desecrating the flag is a fruitless way to do so. Expression of opinion remains free, under the Stars and Stripes, and any one of us possesses the right to influence general opinion to our own way of thinking if he can. Further, whenever the polls are open it provides us an opportunity to "show" our disapproval by voting against such candidates as do not reflect our way of thinking.

Then it comes down to the will of the majority; and if we find ourself linked with the minority, we must accept that will. The flag stands for all factions; and it stands for the process that periodically sees the popular trends of today rejected or drastically modified tomorrow.

If this ever changes, it will STILL be a futile gesture to insult the flag in disgust. For the flag will always possess only such meaning as we, as a free people and a democratic nation, have permitted it to acquire.

Trading stamps are pesky, but don't go for "junk"

There might be persons inclined to look down their noses at our state representatives for spending time last week on a bill so patently unimportant as whether savers of trading stamps should have the option of exchanging them for cash instead of merchandise. We feel privately that the solons should be forgiven, because the session of the 62nd Iowa General Assembly has been notably free of nonsense bills (oh, there have been SOME, of course), and maybe this excursion into the esoteric area of trading stamps will leave the gentlemen refreshed and ready for a gung-ho attack on vital legislation that must still receive their attention.

It was clear that some of the lawmakers were adventuring in strange territory. Take, for example, the fellow who asked, "Why ram these stamps down the throats of the customer?" In the first place, you can almost imagine he's implying a customer must be queer enough to have two or more heads to dally with trading stamps — else, why the plurality of throats? He then continued that stamps have to be redeemed "for junk that we don't need."

Well, now, mister! We don't know how it is in HIS family, but in some with which we're acquainted there is rivalry over just WHO is to get the next batch of filled books for WHAT.

We happen to have bowled the past couple of seasons with a ball which we never felt we could "afford," but which our Ever Lovin' acquired for us — "for nothing" — with trading stamps. One son has a spankin' new tennis racket obtained in similar fashion.

Fact of the matter is, if all the objects around the house that were hard-won by licking and pasting stamps into books were at the wave of a wand to disappear, the gaps resulting would be immediately noticeable.

Of course, the import of the House Bill 550 was not to eliminate trading stamps or the premiums that they yield, but to give the customer the option of choosing their equivalent in cash. This seemed to be regarded by the majority of the representatives as a worthy aim, as the bill carried, 71 to 32.

Should the Senate now pass the bill (which is most questionable, for this session, at least), it would be interesting to see just how many stamp savers would choose to exercise the option. Our guess would be, mighty few.

Back in the days when a nickel box of Crackerjack contained an entrancing prize, how many children — do you suppose — would have preferred to find a refund penny in the toothsome contents . . . even though the prize unquestionably represented a lesser monetary value?

We sympathize with the merchants who regard trading stamps as "a monkey on their back" and would give them up in a minute if rival stores would agree to do likewise. More than that, we harbor suspicion that the extra cash the stamps have in reality cost us in purchase prices where stamps are given would probably have paid for all the premiums those stamps have earned — most likely with money left over.

But the trading stamp is one of the last strongholds of that old fashioned impulse toward "thrift" that exists in our society today. It enables the housewife to "save" for an article that doesn't fit itself conveniently into the family budget. And we suspect that the game would lose all of its glamor if each stamp was credited with a cash value of 1/10th cent, or whatever, and were exchangeable for unexciting coin of the realm.

For all this, we are unable to view House Bill 550 as landmark legislation. It gave the boys a brief respite from the grim necessities with which they have yet to tangle; and that may be good. But we still question if stamp-savers would ever be inclined to favor nickels over knickknacks.

Report from Sen. Hugh Clarke

In my last week's column I expressed some optimism concerning the possibility of meaningful tax reform. This optimism came because of the Senate leadership's promise to bring out a personal property tax phase-out bill and Senate File 807 did just this and was made a special order or business on Thursday, June 1. By 10:00 a.m., the hour set for consideration of the special order of business, the north gallery was filled with representatives of farm and business organizations interested in ending Iowa's tax inequities.

These people and many Senators were disappointed when the subject matter presented turned out to be poorly drafted. Little support could be generated for the bill when the leadership was forced to recognize the fact that the tax burden would simply be shifted to real estate. Consideration was deferred to give more time to redraft another bill.

BY THURSDAY EVENING ANOTHER bill was drafted and in my opinion it has the same basic flaw as the original draft. All this leaves me in doubt as to the real intent of the Senate leadership. They obviously do not share the view I have previously expressed, which is to raise state taxes and funnel the money back to schools.

The Senate had spent all day Wednesday as a committee during which time the proportionate sharing plan and the Petersen Plan was explained. After hearing the detailed explanations on both of these plans, I am more convinced than ever that the Petersen Plan is the soundest means of distributing state aid to schools.

BECAUSE COSTS OVER AND above a combination of local and state effort are borne by the local districts, the local school administration will be encouraged to strive for maximum dollar utilization. The plan's major disadvantage lies in the fact that it must have more nearly complete funding to attain its objectives than would be required to attain less desirable objectives under the proportionate sharing plan.

I will continue to work hard to secure passage of the Petersen Plan and the revenue bill which raises state sales tax one per cent, income tax by 50 per cent and increases the corporation tax from the present four per cent to eight per cent.

Here are some unbelievable facts which I regard support my stand on property tax reform and the revenue to replace it.

THESE FACTS ARE TAKEN from 1960 School tax payments by occupational groups, supported by figures from Iowa State University 1964 Study on Taxation.

25.26 per cent of Iowa's population (with average income of $5,575) pays 55.7 per cent of the school tax.

74.74 per cent of Iowa's population (with average income of $6,241) pays only 44.3 per cent of the school tax.

Self-employed businessmen are a 5.35 per cent minority but pay 28 per cent of the school taxes.

FARMERS ARE A 19.19 PER cent minority but pay 27.6 per cent of school taxes.

The self-employed businessman with an average income of $9,073 pays five times the school tax of the professional man whose average income is $9,046.

The farmer (average income of $4,634) pays 1.35 times more school tax than the professional man with average income of $9,046.

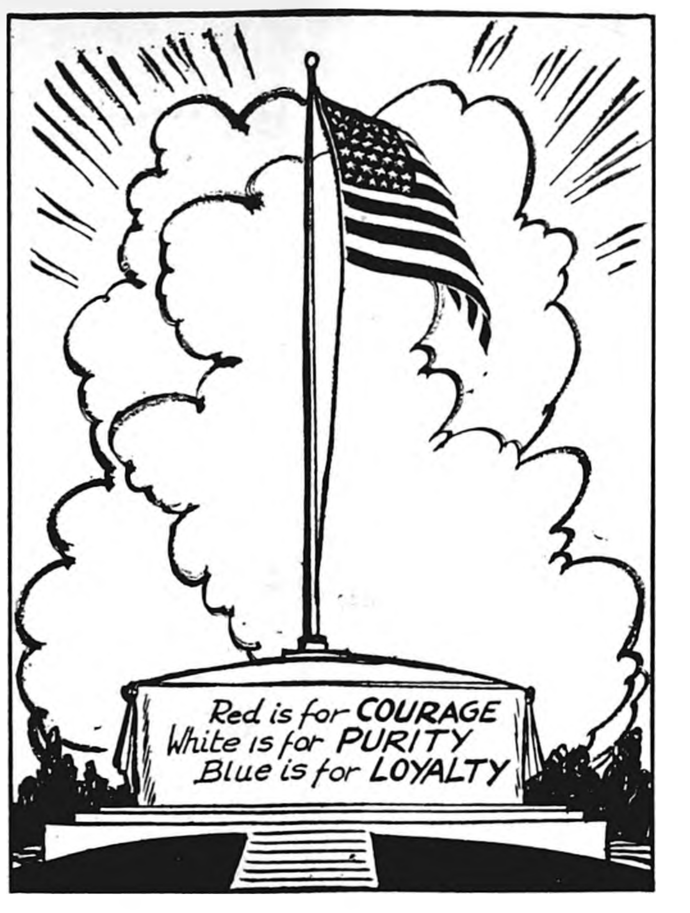
THE SENATE APPROVED A GOP platform proposal calling for an effective air pollution control bill. The Senate slightly amended a version which had earlier passed the House. The bill establishes a nine-member commission which includes the state health commissioner, a physician, persons involved in local government, an engineer and representatives from industry and labor.

The commission would have the power to hear complaints filed by local boards of health or a group of 25 citizens concerning alleged violations of the law. The commission could ask a court to compel a violator from polluting the air.

THE SENATE PASSED A BILL originated in the House of Representatives that was earlier passed by them which is a tool to aid in the eradication of hog cholera. Eradication of hog cholera is a worthy objective, because Iowa farmers are annually spending an estimated $7 million for vaccination and our Iowa farmers are being penalized further because we cannot share in the world market when we have the disease.

States surrounding Iowa are in the third phase of eradication of hog cholera. While there is some disagreement among experts, the preponderance of evidence led the industry to support this bill, which passed the House 111 to 7 and passed the Senate 57 to 0.

Public support of this program for the next two years, believed necessary to eliminate the disease, will be a million dollars and this is justified because hog cholera eradication is of utmost importance in reducing production costs to the ultimate benefit of the consumer.



That flag stands for ALL of us!

Capitol News Letter

Prepared for its members by
IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

SOLONS BACK AT IT—

After a brief four-day vacation over the Memorial Day weekend, Iowa legislators are headed into the homestretch. Much work remains to be done, however, and most of us are predicting the lawmakers won't be finished until the last week of June.

Perhaps the most knotty problem facing the legislature is what to do about the spiraling property tax. The property tax is over $550 million and experts predict it would reach $2.5 billion by 1975 — if left "as is" — should we continue to spend at the present rate.

The House of Representatives seems to be bent on more direct aid to schools, while the Senate appears more inclined to do something about personal property tax relief.

IN ORDER TO ACCOMPLISH either, it will take a substantial increase in other taxes and many Iowans are wondering about paying more state taxes when the state will wind up this fiscal year with a $94 million surplus.

The 62nd General Assembly will go down as the longest and most expensive in the state's history. Saturday, June 3rd, was the 146th legislative day and broke the record set by the last legislature, which met 145 days. This session is expected to cost over $2 million, about $400,000 more than two years ago.

SIFTING GROUP NAMED—

The House took a definite step toward adjournment last week, when on May 31 it voted to have the speaker name a sifting committee. This committee takes over all bills except bills pertaining to appropriations, tax revision and certain others, including bills already placed on the calendar by the steering committee.

The traditional function of the sifting committee is to limit future debate to only the very most important bills, with an eye toward final or "sine die" adjournment.

ROAD TAX SPLIT—

J. Merrill Anderson, Iowa Farm Bureau president, claims that the greatest deficit in revenue for Iowa roads is for secondary roads "and this deficit is increasing more rapidly than in any other road system."

Anderson made this observation in a letter to members of the steering committee of the Iowa Senate to clarify the situation on the present use of road funds in the state. He said there has been no proof of the claim that Iowa's cities tax themselves an equivalent of 19.2 mills in taxes and special assessments for streets.

THE ONLY WAY THIS COULD be possible, Anderson added, would be if all expenses even remotely connected with roads, such as tree disease treatment, sidewalk construction, storm sewers, lighting and others are included, saying, "These are worthwhile projects but cannot logically be totally assessed to the streets."

The League of Iowa Municipalities is pushing for an increase in road funds to cities. The League wants the legislature to increase the cities' share from 13 to 15 per cent of the road use tax fund.

LAWYERS CHANGE GOAL—

The Board of Governors of the Iowa State Bar association has withdrawn its support of four bills now pending in the legislature geared to bring immediate court reform.

However, the lawyers association still supports a bill to abolish nearly 600 justices of the peace and mayor's and police courts, replacing them with commissioners appointed by district court judges.

The bar association also supports a bill to create a traffic violations office with the district court clerk's office and to establish uniform minimum fines for traffic violations.

THE BAR ASSOCIATION, IN A resolution, said since the legislative session is near its end, there is a danger that none of the court reform bills will be passed because of the controversy on some of them. It also acknowledged that "there is a lack of accord among the membership of the association" as to the merit of some of the bills previously endorsed by the association.

The association called for further study of the other bills in the court reform package which had been recommended by the Legislative Court Study Commission.

THE BAR ASSOCIATION HAD not taken a position on a bill to reduce the number of state judicial districts from 21 to 13 and the number of judges from 75 to 72.

Originally the bar association had endorsed bills to forbid establishment of any more municipal courts, abolish the system of court terms, define the jurisdiction of minor courts and create the office of chief judge in each district to assign cases.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO—

Mary Lou Baker of the Belmond Busy Bees, retiring president of Wright county's 4-H girls, was awarded 1st place in the senior division of the Better Grooming Contest held last Saturday in conjunction with the girls' annual Rally Day at Dows.

—1952—

Lowell "Bud" Trafford was elected Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the Belmond Lions club to head that organization during the 1951-52 club year. He succeeds Denny Hook in the office.

—1952—

Luin Cox has been appointed by the hospital finance committee to head a drive for $15,000 still needed to buy necessary equipment to put Belmond Community hospital into operation.

—1952—

Five Belmond men were among 14 Wright county 18-year-olds registering for the draft for the first time during May. They were Clifford Toft, Roger Beenken, Ronald Pals, Michael O'Connor and Frederick Loats.

—1952—

Membership in Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary society, has been granted Donald Bohning and Roger Hanson by the chapter at Iowa State university, Ames. Both are juniors, Don being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Bohning and Roger the son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hanson of Goodell.

THIRTY YEARS AGO—

Emory Galloway and Jos. Sprenzel are among four Wright county men selected to report June 11 at Camp Dodge for state highway safety patrol training.

—1937—

Hogenson Construction company last week was awarded a contract to build a new school building at Hardy. The $15,000 project will be completed in 14 weeks.

—1937—

Belmond High school's band will be one of 22 appearing in the 2nd annual North Iowa Music Festival on Tuesday, June 22, at Mason City.

—1937—

Belmond Pleasant Pals 4-H club at its latest meeting elected officers for the coming year. Betty Lieuwen will be the new president; Maxine Hanson, vice president; Ruth Jean Baker, secretary-treasurer; Dorothy Boelman, historian; and Adean Mehus, reporter.

—1937—

—1937—

Ralph Hake is now running the delivery truck for McBride's Bakery. He has been attending Iowa State Teachers college at Cedar Falls and returned home last week.

FORTY-FIVE YEARS AGO—

A power mower has been bought by the Belmond Cemetery association with which the caretaker, Wm. Dempsey, will be able to keep the entire plat carefully trimmed.

—1922—

Steve Antoniou is now starting the making of ice cream for the wholesale trade at the Belmond Candy Kitchen and will manufacture and ship the toothsome dainty to the various surrounding communities.

—1922—

Smith W. Brookhart of Washington was an easy winner in Wright county over the nearest opponent, Sweet, in the primary voting for U. S. Senator candidate. Brookhart polled 2,344 votes to only 891 for Sweet.

—1922—

Edward Francis Klinefelter, 23, of Alexander was fatally injured Tuesday of last week when his clothing caught in the machinery as he was apparently doing some grinding with a large 7hp engine. He lived for three days before life ebbed away at the Belmond hospital.

—1922—

Raymond Finn of Goodell was a visitor here yesterday. He taught this past year at Avoca and will return there next fall as high school principal.

—1922—

Mrs. T. O. Letch and daughter Mrs. Tony Boller of Goodell last Friday went to Mora, Minn., to witness the marriage of the former's son Finis, who once was publisher of the Goodell Globe.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO—

An ordinance was passed at the last council meeting providing that any stock found tied or staked out in any street or alley shall be taken in custody by the marshal, who shall be entitled to charge and receive of the owner one dollar per day per head of said stock, while in his possession.

—1897—

Gus Baker found a good silver watch while planting corn in his field on the Sheriff farm south of town. He has had it repaired and put in running order and says he will deliver it up to the owner if he will prove property and pay charges.

—1897—

—1897—

The supper served by a few ladies of Goodell at the U. B. church Wednesday evening of last week was sumptuous. The proceeds were applied on Rev. McKown's moving expenses. The amount received was only $5.55, at 20c per couple, 10c single. Too cheap.

—1897—

W. I. Rosecrans started Monday for Dubuque to attend the session of the Grand Lodge, A. F. & A. M., as delegate from King Solomon lodge, No. 210.

—1897—

Due to apprehension over danger from mad dogs, Mayor Brewsbaugh forbids dogs from running at large in the village unless muzzled with a strong muzzle.

NINETY YEARS AGO—

When Dr. Lenher was here a few weeks since, he and Dr. Morris removed two tumors from Joseph Jenison, living north of town — one from the back of his head, the other from the arm. They weighed nearly a pound. Two very uncomfortable friends, but they stuck with him "through thick and thin."

—1877—

Wm. Luick has found out what will do it to a nicety. Take wood ashes, scent them thoroughly with kerosene, and sprinkle on and around your squash, melon and cucumber plants. It gives the bugs the blind staggers at once, and they flee to the other fellow's patch.

NIAC drawing largest number—

Over half of BHS seniors plan on college

Well over 50 per cent of the Belmond school Class of '67 will be getting further education or vocational training, reports Guidance Counselor Jerald Torgerson. At least, these were the members' plans at the close of the school year.

In fact, slightly over half — 47 altogether — of the 90 members who received diplomas have enrolled or plan to enroll in colleges to resume their educations in the fall. Besides these 47, another 10 will obtain vocational training in one field or another before going to work.

Enrolling at NIAC

North Iowa Area Community college is attracting the largest number of '67 graduates, Mr. Torgerson says. Twenty-four have expressed their intention of attending the Mason City school.

Their names and the courses they have in mind are: liberal arts — Pat Dorr, Craig Mennenga, Ron Snyder; agricultural technology — Art Larson, Doug Mennenga, Gary Wolters; business — MaDonna Luick, Frank Quigley, Tom Swaroff; auto technology — Dennis Dougherty, Karl Olsen.

Undecided — Dave Dirks, Gary Meyers, Jim Peterson, Richard Stadtlander, Tim Roberts.

Nine going to ISU

Enrollees at Iowa State university, Ames, will be: engineering — Doug Thompsen, Larry Zeiger; industrial arts — Lance Campbell; veterinary medicine — Charles Christenson; landscape architecture — Jim Dickson; agricultural business — Earl Kalkwarf; architecture — Neil Kalkwarf; agricultural education — Dave Moe; elementary education — Barbara Pals.

Only two are headed for the University of Iowa at Iowa City: Ted Berns, liberal arts; and Ed Dana, field undecided.

Waldorf college at Forest City was the choice of our students: Gail Bierman, art; Bob McNutt, music or history: Anita Olson, business; Mary Suntken, physical education or business.

Other colleges chosen

Other colleges that will be attracting BHS graduates of this spring are: Wartburg of Waverly, Susan Thompson, elementary education; Northwestern of Orange City, Bob Vander Schaaf, education; Morningside of Sioux City, Lennea Groom, home economics or art.

Loras of Dubuque, Paul McLaughlin, business; Northwest Missouri State of Maryville, Mary Jane Brinton, physical education; Southern State of Springfield, S. D., Mark Brinton, diesel technology; Ellsworth of Iowa Falls, Greg Kessler, liberal arts; Rochester (Minn.) Junior college, Dennis Finn, liberal arts.

Two girls will attend nursing schools — Pam Meints at Methodist-Kahler, Rochester, Minn., and Roxanne Slining, Iowa Methodist at Des Moines.

Four to Mankato school

Mankato (Minn.) Commerce college is attracting: Jill Stoffer and Linda Thompson, secretarial course; Jim Thayer, accounting; Carrie Charlson, accounting or business machines. Francis McLaughlin will take a secretarial course at Hamilton college, Mason City.

Allen Cronk will attend Iowa Technical Institute (Area XV Community college) at Ottumwa, where he will take a course in computer maintenance; and Bruce Smith will take the auto mechanics course at Dunwoody Technical institute, Minneapolis.

Seven boys have stated their intention of entering the armed forces. The U. S. Navy is the preference of Larry Burt, Kenny Busick, Scott Killius and Fred Whipple; Marine corps — Dennis Didio and Les Simpson; and Marlin Kuhlers was uncertain which uniform he would wear.

Going right to work

Among those planning to obtain jobs, secretarial work is the choice of Donna Ahrens, Pam Christenson, Marilyn Pals and Jolene Waltzing. Undecided as to the type of work to be chosen were Glenn Box, Dave Hackbarth, Dixie Lee, Ann Reasoner, Dave Riedel, Yvonne Wedemann and Darlene Wessels.

"Marriage" will be the occupational pursuit of Marcia Ihm Kelley, Margaret Hruska Ketchum and Jeannine Smith Hilpipre; while "I do" lies just ahead for Candy Trees.

Plans for the future are indefinite for Kelly Green, Darwin Hanson, Jerald Wessels and Dennis Fjetland; and apparently for Alfred Klooster, who did not reply to Mr. Torgerson's questionnaire.

Cards Of Thanks

I wish to thank so many dear friends and relatives for their prayers, thoughts of kindness, gifts and cards at the housewarming they gave me. A special thanks to the committee. "Giving thanks always for all things unto God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ." (Ephesians 5:20.) Jennie Retleff. 37t1

I wish to thank all my friends and relatives for all the visits, cards, flowers and gifts I received while I was a patient at the Belmond hospital and the Americana Nursing Center at Mason City. A special thanks to Doctors Weber and Leinbach and the hospiatl staff for their fine care: also thanks to Rev. Shelby and Rev. Miller for their visits and messages. All was very much appreciated. Mrs. Rena Landon. 37t1*

I wish to thank my friends, neighbors and relatives for the cards and gifts I received while in the Park hospital. They were greatly appreciated. Emmett Carr, Rowan. 37t1

It was a great disappointment to us when, for personal reasons, we decided to resign our employment with The Clinic.

Five things especially attracted us here: An accredited hospital, good medical records, heavy emphasis on having excellent laboratory and X-ray facilities, a nice little medical library at the office, and modest prevailing fees. We think these are some of the most important earmarks of an honest effort to practice good medicine. The fact that on other points we have been sufficiently disappointed to alter our plan for making Belmond our permanent place of practice, in no way alters these former observations.

The workers at The Clinic, as well as the personnel at the Hospital, the Administrator, the office force, the nurses and their aids, the laboratory technologists, and especially the operating room staff, could hardly have been more pleasant. Really, we never worked with finer folks.

To the pleasant people of this area who welcomed us, as strangers, to Belmond, and especially to those we had the pleasure of serving professionally, we wish you God's keeping. And if we meet not again in this world, may we have a longer and happier association in the earth recreated, where there will be no sickness or sorrow.

Doctors Harry and Velda Weber 37t1*

SWAP-N-DAYS

Begin Mon., June 5 - End Sat., June 10

We won't look like this - - -

but we will be dressed in overalls, straw hats, red bandanas, etc.

- Starting Monday June 5th thru Saturday June 10th 'til 6 p.m.
- We will try to swap for anything of value — pigs — hogs — sheep. You name it. Push — pull or drag it in.
- Open around the clock — the later it is the better the deal
- Employees will be dressed in overalls and straw hats with red bandana handkerchiefs.
- Some will be smoking corn cob pipes. Be careful of the ones who are chewing.
- Lots of new cars in stock for immediate delivery — more coming in every day.
- No reasonable offer refused — on-the-spot financing.
- No salesmen — No salesmen's commissions.
- The coffee pot will be on night and day — stop in and have a cup of coffee.
- Catch us sleeping and get an extra $100.00 off on a new or used car.
- A quarter of beef in U.S. Choice cut, frozen and wrapped to customer's specifications, at Hood's Super Valu in Algona with delivery of every new car.
- Register at either the station or garage starting Monday, June 5th, until 6 o'clock on Saturday night, June 10th. Winner to get a quarter of beef.

"Heart of This Four County Trade Area"

VOL. 48 NO. 38 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER WRIGHT COUNTY IOWA—THURSDAY, JUNE 15, 1967 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER 12 PAGES AND SUPPLEMENT

MAIN STREET

BY PAT, DICK, DUANE

Received in the mail last week a report on the UNICEF Tricks or Treats project last Halloween in Iowa. This is a project that has always appealed to us, because it comes about as close to a "One World" undertaking as this loused up old globe witnesses in a year's time. Iowa can take pride in the fact that it is one of five states that has never shown a decrease in contributions — and in '66 gave five times as much per capita as 10 years earlier, in 1957.

It caught our eye that the state's per capita giving in the interim had increased from nine-tenths of a cent in 1958 to two cents MORE than that last year (putting Iowa 4th among all the state per-capitawise in '66).

We went back to the files of last year to see how Belmond had done on the tricks or treats deal. Halloween was less than three weeks after we'd been lambasted by the tornado, and there were those who believed our people shouldn't be asked to give. It'd be our guess that, with folks displaced by the tornado, our population temporarily wasn't over 2,200. But the Halloween "take" was $128.14 — or mighty near six cents per capita. Not bad, for orphans of the storm!

Hear ye, BHS almuni. Several weeks ago Allen Suby, high school industrial arts instructor, sent out questionnaires to all graduates of the years 1956 through 1961. He will use the information received for writing his Master's thesis — so he needs "the dope." Thus far, out of the 187 questionnaires sent out, only 51 per cent have been sent back to him. He'd appreciate it greatly if those in the lagging 49 per cent would do him the favor of getting the completed questionnaires in the mail, pronto.

Another big step toward returning Main street to its appearance of 1966 B. T. (before the tornado) will be taken this weekend when Lloyd's Hardware occupies its former quarters at 232 E. Main. It will be a happy, happy day for Lloyd Buterbaugh when the transfer of stock this Sunday has been completed.

Lloyd will be open for business through Saturday night in his temporary location — the old Cornell building opposite the New Belmond theater.

Interior of the former store (now stripped of the second story that was the apartment home of the Ellis Elliotts) has been entirely redecorated and the handsome new front is a really fine improvement. The Independent has looked forward to having Lloyd as a near neighbor, once again.

A welcome note accompanied a recent subscription renewal check received from Paul and Maxine Jenson at Mill Valley, Calif. They particularly expressed regret that they'd been unable to attend the BHS alumni reunion on Memorial Day, adding that "another year, soon" they plan to be back for this biennial event.

Maxine says she especially enjoys the school news in The Independent — particularly that pertaining to "my wonderful piano and organ students, whom I greatly miss and adore."

Relative to her music, Maxine noted, "I'm organist at a church here; but not my own church. No vacancy there!" The note concluded, "Glad Belmond is picking itself up by the bootstraps after the tornado. What an horrible experience and memory for you all!" The Jensons live at 140 Marin View, Mill Valley (ZIP 94941).

Russ Tideback "showed 'em how to do it" last week when he hooked the largest northern pike of the current Minnesota fishing season, insofar as reports to the St. Paul Pioneer-Press annual fish derby are concerned.

Fishing near Malmo on Mille Lacs, where the Tidebacks and Harve Petersons own cottages, Russ hauled in a lunker that weighed at 23 lbs. 12 oz. This gave him a whole hatful of prizes as winner for the week — and put him in line for much richer rewards if nobody beats his mark during the balance of the summer.

Top prize in each of six classes will be a Mercury Fishin' Six outboard motor and year's supply of motor oil. At the season's end ALL entries will be drawn from for sweepstakes prizes — the No. 1 being a $1,550 camper-trailer.

First communion for 22 children

Ten boys and 12 girls received their first Holy Communion last Sunday morning at St. Francis Catholic church following the annual vacation school for youngsters of the St. Francis parish and St. Mary's parish at Goodell.

Enrollment for the school, taught by four Sisters from Mt. Mercy college, Cedar Rapids, came to 124. Those taking communion had had special instruction during the school year and final instruction under Sister Mary Jerome last week.

In the communion class were: Theodore Besch, Hubert Beavers, Michael Houser, Matthew James, Scott Janssen, Stephen Buterbaugh, Scott McLaughlin, Jeffery Pals, Stephen Payer and John Wilcox.

MINNESOTA VISITORS

Rev. Herbert Nelson, Bruce and Terry of Northfield, Minn., and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Nelson, Caral and Beth visited Sunday evening in the Herbert Hill home.

WATER, IN ITS PLACE, is a welcome thing — as demonstrated by its usage last Friday afternoon at Luick Memorial Swimming Pool and the adjoining wading pool for the little tots. Besides the generous number of kids, big and little, who were finding enjoyment in the pools, an almost equal number were strewn around the sun deck or standing there chatting with friends while the sun's rays did their work. Many were already beginning to acquire a handsome tan. Others, it was plain to see, were going to be moaning about blisters before any tan appeared on tender, pink shoulders and backs.

Construction started on new Armour office

Belmond District of Armour Agricultural Chemical company last week was well immersed in assuming its role in Operation Recovery, joining the ranks of local businesses that have emerged — or are in the process of emerging — from the ravages of last autumn's tornado "bigger and better than ever."

Armour facilities here were hard hit by the disaster, and the most immediate objective of the company was to return the headquarters of the Belmond District — which encompasses Iowa and Nebraska — to an operating basis that would permit customary service to its patrons.

This was done as expeditiously as possible, by "making do" with what was left. Demolishment of the company's office building made it necessary to resume administrative operations in the still-serviceable office basement and a couple of mobile home trailers adapted to temporary office use.

The large blending plant in which dry fertilizers were formulated lost its roof and a generous portion of its north end. This was rebuilt, machinery made again operable and put back into use in a minimum of time.

Very extensive damage was done to the laboratory and an almost total rebuilding job was undertaken as promptly as possible to return this facility to operation.

Much tank damage was done, requiring a good deal of repairs and replacement. But this has been accomplished, and Manager Harold Rose says that he is now implementing a program that will see all of the tanks repainted to present as attractive an appearance as possible — and to eliminate the Ris-Van insignia that some still bear, since this trade name has now been dropped from the Armour line of liquid fertilizers.

About the only structure that has not yet figured in specific repair or replacement plans is the large steel shed that Armour purchased from the city of Belmond for equipment shelter, and which was left a sorry mess by the tornado. Mr. Rose says he has investigated the possibility of repairing it, as it would appear feasible to replace steel sheathing on the relatively unharmed framework. The idea has not seemed to appeal to steel building suppliers, however, and the district manager suspects that it may prove necessary to erect an entirely new building.

A gleam of pleased anticipation brightens the eye of Manager Rose, though, when he talks of the handsome new office that is now in process of construction and will bring to an end the cramped "trailer existence" of the office staff when it is ready for occupancy in early fall. Sept. 1 is the target date.

Exterior dimensions of the new structure will be 68x60 feet, which will give twice the square — footage of space that the demolished building provided. And Mr. Rose says that the handsomeness of the building promises to be a point of distinct pride both to Armour's and the community of Belmond.

A portion of the front will be of cream colored brick; but essentially it will be a Butler-type building of steel panel construction. These panels will be mainly of antique gold color, but with some charcoal gray panels used for contrast.

King Construction company of Iowa Falls incorporated in the basic design office arrangements conceived by the Armour staff for maximum efficiency. The Iowa Falls firm holds the general contract for the building and foreman on the job is Leo Dorr, erstwhile Belmond builder

Interior walls of the new office-laboratory building will be of wood panelling and recessed lighting throughout will be another of the structure's attractive features.

Only the basement of the old building is being salvaged as a part of the new. Seven individual offices will be available to serve the administrative and sales personnel, two more than the cramped quarters of the previous building contained.

In addition, there will be a reception room, a secretarial area, and a much larger space than before to accommodate the accounting department. All the local laboratory facilities will also be housed in an area of the building specially equipped for carrying on both fertilizer and soil testing work.

The rebuilt laboratory building on the south side of West Main street will be used exclusively as a retail sales office and for storage purposes. The basement of the former office building will be used to stock office supplies, advertising material and other such items.

Footings for the new office were poured week before last and good progress had been made last week on installation of ducts required for the central heating and air-conditioning system that will assure comfort for the office and laboratory personnel in all seasons.

Landscaping to add to the attractiveness of the office and grounds is included in the plans presently being carried out. Plantings will be started this fall, but Manager Rose anticipates that the architect's plans in this regard will not be brought to completion until next year.

Summarizing the whole, elaborate project to rehabilitate the Belmond Division headquarters and wholly erase the ravages dealt by the October disaster, Mr. Rose says:

"We of the Armour staff are enthusiastic over the improvements that have already been made and those in progress. And we believe that all the people of Belmond will share with us in being proud of the final appearance of the office and its surroundings, as the asset it will be to the community."

Increases total $6,200—

School board okays staff raises

Staff salary increases, plus a $2,000 raise for Supt. Don Faris, approved Tuesday of last week by the Belmond school board brought to about $57,500 the increase in the Belmond Community School district payroll for 1967-68 as compared to that for the school year just ended.

Excluding the expense of substitute teachers required during the year, this would put the over-all cost of salaries for the coming year at approximately $543,400.

A figure of $15,500 was approved as the superintendent's salary, which keeps it in line with salaries being paid for chief administrators in other school systems of this area although below some of them, according to Board President Ed Gabrielson. Last year, Mr. Faris received $13,500.

Of the $57,500 total in salary increases, all but $6,200 will go to the teachers and administrators.

Twenty-three employees are hired in the capacities of secretaries, janitors and bus drivers, plus Ardeth Paule as school nurse and Robert Cooke as bus transportation director.

Mr. Cooke's salary was increased from $5,700 to $6,060 and Mrs. Paule's from $4,200 to $4,830. The pay of Mrs. Pearl Ubben, school district secretary, was raised from $4,620 to $4,980; that of the high school secretary, Rita Dorr, from $3,000 to $3,240; and that of the junior high and elementary secretary, Mrs. Betty Gallagher, from $2,230 to $2,600. The latter is for 10 rather than 12 months.

Two men serve both as bus drivers and janitors, drawing part of their pay from each job. Milo Roberts' complete salary was raised from $4,500 to $4,700 and Robert Gram's from $5,000 to $5,400.

Janitorial raises were as follows: Ernest Stadtlander, from $5,500 to $5,880; Bill Mock from $4,400 to $5,000; Sumner Fuller from $5,088 to $5,436; Nick Pasquariello from $4,400 to $5,000; Francis Ainger from $4,400 to $4,800; C. A. Didio from $4,876 to $5,310; and Ray Boller from $2,700 to $2,880.

Regular bus drivers, 11 in all, got monthly pay boosts from $140 to $150; and extra pay for driving kindergarten routes or afternoon activity busses was increased from $70 and $65 respectively to $75 monthly in each case.

SBA man coming again next week

Don Albertson, field representative of the Small Business Administration office at Des Moines, will be at Belmond next Tuesday to discuss disaster loans with prospective applicants.

Deadline for obtaining such loans necessitated by last October's tornado is July 31, Mr. Albertson notes, so persons still interested in and eligible for SBA loans should be getting applications in.

He will be at the First State Bank throughout the regular banking hours next Tuesday and can be contacted there in person or by phone.

JAMES HOUSER ELECTED LAWYERS' COUNTY V. P.

James Houser was recently elected vice president of the Wright County Bar association. At the same time, Robert Kay of Clarion was elected president and DeWayne Knoshaug of Clarion, secretary-treasurer. These new officers will assume their duties July 1.

WILL PLAY WITH SYMPHONY

Fred Griffen, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen and a frequent visitor to Belmond in years past, has signed a contract to play during the coming concert season with the San Antonio (Tex.) Symphony orchestra. He plays the French horn. Fred graduated this spring from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, Cincinnati, O.

Engineer's staff gets pay boost

Raises in pay were approved for members of the Wright county engineering staff at a county supervisor meeting last Monday. Chief Engineer Haydn Jones had received an increase from $9,000 to $10,000 annually the first of this year.

Pay boosts granted the staff members were as follows: Assistant Engineer Merritt McCoy, from $7,500 to $7,800; Sidney Swenson, $6,000 to $6,500; A. W. Johnson, $5,500 to $5,800; Clerk Grayce McClelland, $4,200 to $4,500.

At the same meeting, the supervisors named Oscar Mellgren of Eagle Grove to fill out the unexpired term of Joe Gunderson on the soldiers relief commission. Mr. Gunderson resigned the first of this month. The term Mr. Mellgren will complete runs to June 30, 1969.

Millie Halverson funeral services held at St. Olaf

Mrs. Garfield Halverson, Sr., died Thursday morning of last week at Oakwood Manor nursing home at Clear Lake, where she had resided for the past 10 months. Her death occurred just three days before she would have reached the age of 75.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at St. Olaf Lutheran church, Rev. Oscar Laaveg officiating and Johnston Funeral Home in charge. Burialy was in the St. Olaf cemetery.

Millie Wicks was born at Roland on June 11, 1892, daughter of Hektor and Madala Wicks. She received her elementary education in schools near her home. On Feb. 23, 1911, she married Garfield Halverson at Roland.

They farmed near that community for three years, then moving to the farm northwest of Belmond that was to be her home the rest of her lifetime until declining health necessitated her removal to the Clear Lake nursing home.

A long-time member of the St. Olaf church, Mrs. Halverson was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith in the Bergen Lutheran church at Roland.

Mr. and Mrs. Halverson were privileged to celebrate their Golden Wedding anniversary together in 1961. The following year, Mrs. Halverson was chosen by publishers of The Independent at Belmond's "Mother of the Year."

Four of the five children born to the Halversons survive: Ervin of Dows, Herma (Mrs. Brandon) Roseth of Cincinnati, O., Garfield, Jr., and Merlin of Kanawha.

One son died at the age of seven. Also preceding Mrs. Halverson in death were her husband, an infant grandson, nine brothers and sisters. Besides the four children, seven grandchildren survive her.

SCI FRESHMAN COUNSELOR

Norma Watne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Watne, returned to the State college of Iowa, Cedar Falls, to attend summer session. She is a junior and will be a freshman counselor this summer.

Hospital Notes

Mrs. Florence A. Tripp of Thornton was a medical patient June 6.

Entering June 7 for surgery was Debra Ver Brugge or Corwith.

Medical patients on June 9 were Mrs. Hattie Weber of Sheffield and S. A. Skauge of Clarion.

On June 12, Earl Peterson of Fort Dodge was an accident patient and Eileen and Marlene Velau of Garner entered for surgery.

Mrs. Hester Meacham of Clarion entered June 13 for medical treatment.

McNeal, Heykants awarded degrees

Two Belmond men were among more than 2,000 who received degrees from the University of Iowa at commencement exercises held last Friday at Iowa City. They were Clark McNeal, son of Mrs. Dorothy McNeal and the late Clark H. McNeal, and Ronald Heykants, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Heykants.

Clark received the law degree Juris Doctor. He will be associated with Attorney Elmer Ackerman in his law office at Alden, but will be living in Iowa Falls. A 1960 graduate of BHS, Clark received a B. A. degree from Cornell college, Mount Vernon, in 1964.

Ronald, a 1962 graduate of Belmond High, received a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in management and industrial personnel. He started work Monday in a production management position with the Quaker Oats company at Cedar Rapids.

Another student from this area graduating from the U-of-I law school was Thomas Eller of rural Kanawha, on whom the Bachelor of Laws degree (L. L. B.) was conferred.

Wright county graduates in addition to the two from Belmond were: Theron Bailey, Clarion, who also received the J. D degree, Jeannette Croxell, Eagle Grove, B. B. A.; and Mrs. Shirley Meredith, Woolstock, B. A. degree in English.

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR RUKA

Belated observance of A. Rukas' 50th anniversary planned Sunday

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ruka, who live on a farm on the Wright-Hancock county line northwest of Belmond, plan a belated observance of their parents' 50th wedding anniversary this Sunday. It will take the form of an open house at the Goodell EUB church, from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m.

No invitations are being sent; all relatives and friends of the honorees' are cordially urged to greet them during the specified hours.

Arthur Ruka and Florence Thompson were married Feb. 14, 1917, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Thompson, in Belmond. Celebration of the event was delayed due to the undependability of Iowa weather in February and because some relatives would have been unable to be present at that time.

Throughout their married lives until their retirement in 1958 they farmed on the place where Mr. Ruka was born as son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ruka. They have continued to make their home there since retiring.

Prior to her marriage Mrs. Ruka, a graduate of Garner High school, taught for several years at a country school two miles northwest of Belmond to which she walked daily.

Planning the open house Sunday are Mr. and Mrs. Ruka's two sons, Merle of Goodell and Lyle of Boulder, Colo., and daughter, Mrs. Donald (Eleanor) Abbas of Kanawha. The Rukas also have eight grandchildren.

Hello, World

Brenda Dee is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Doane of Thornton for their 8-lb. 10½ baby girl born June 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holm are the parents of a baby boy born June 12. He weighed 8 lb. 8½ oz. and has been named Sean Richard.

WIN HORSE SHOW PRIZES

The Bob Cullinan family attended a horse show Sunday at Humboldt. Bobby and Jim won trophies as a team in the junior barrel pickup. Jim Kvale of Eagle Grove and Mark Cullinan won fourth in the same event.

Parade, tractor-pull entries wanted

Two of the major attractions of the Jaycees' 4th of July celebration will be the parade through the business district between 1:00 and 2:00 and the tractor pulling contest south of the city park at approximately 2:00 p. m. Between the two events will be the dedication of the new shelterhouse in the park, rebuilt by the Jaycees with funds provided by the Lions club.

Keith Carlson is chairman of the tractor-pull and is now accepting entries. A fee of $5 is charged to enter. There will be four weight classes and three prizes amounting to $30, $20 and $10 will be awarded in each class attracting more than five entries.

Weight classes, including weight of the driver, will be 6,000, 9,000, 12,000 and 15,000 pounds. All tractors are to weigh in at Armour Agricultural Chemical company's scales on West Main street, across the Iowa river from Highway 69, between 12:30 and 1:30 p. m.

Tractor-pulls have been acquiring a great deal of popularity and Mr. Carlson believes the Jaycee event will be a real crowd-pleaser.

There will be three adult divisions in the parade and a special section for the kiddies, prizes to be awarded in all. Mrs. Larry Flanagan is chairman of the parade committee, and entries should be turned in to her.

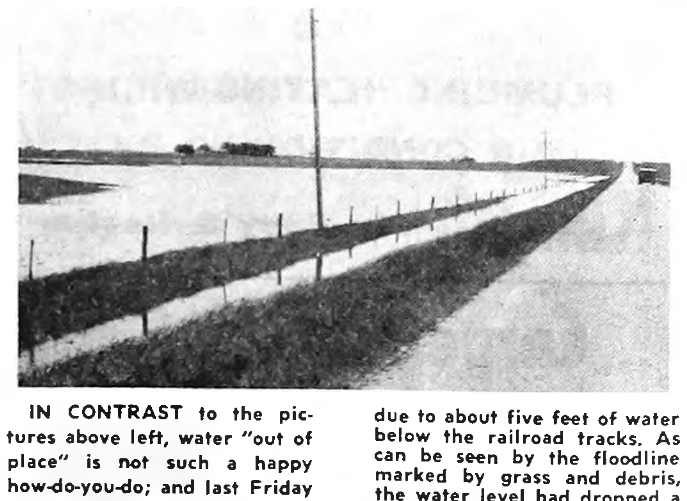
With three prizes of $10, $7 and $5 in each, the adult divisions will be identified as (1) business firms, (2) churches, clubs and civic organizations, (3) industrial. An additional sweepstakes prize of $15 will be awarded to the over-all winner.

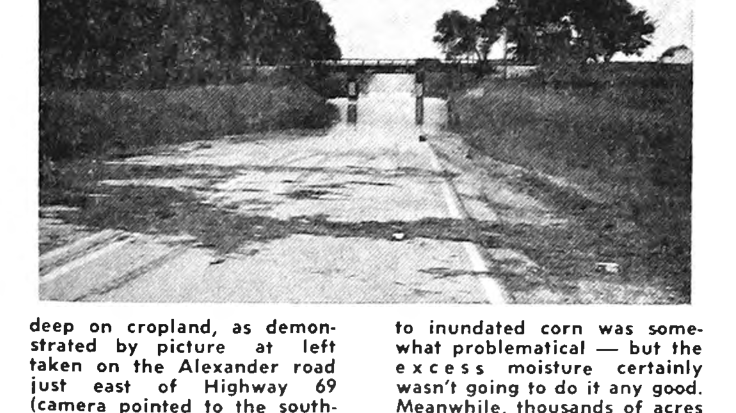
In the kiddies division, prize money for the first three places will be $5, $3 and $2.

Still another feature of the day's entertainment that is certain to be greeted with enthusiasm, in the opinion of Jerry McLaughlin, general chairman of the celebration, is the troupe of clowns from the Pipestone (Minn.) Lions club.

These talented buffoons, numbering about a dozen in all, have entertained at the Twin Cities' Winter Carnival, Aquatenniel, and other major attractions of the northern midwest area. They will be displaying their antics during the day and have an important part in the evening program in front of the grandstand at Faris Field.

Other program features for the Fourth are shaping up satisfactorily, says Chairman McLaughlin, and this year's celebration gives every indication of being one of the best ever put on for Belmond and vicinity.





IN CONTRAST to the pictures above left, water "out of place" is not such a happy how-do-you-do; and last Friday morning there was plenty of aqua out of proper position. When these pictures were taken about mid-morning, traffic was still being detoured around the Solberg underpass due to about five feet of water below the railroad tracks. As can be seen by the floodline marked by grass and debris, the water level had dropped a good three feet or so from its high point or perhaps seven feet. Outside of the inconvenience caused to traffic, the high water over the highway didn't matter too much. Water lying deep on cropland, as demonstrated by picture at left taken on the Alexander road just east of Highway 69 (camera pointed to the southwest), was a different proposition. One farmer with badly flooded fields said it would be two weeks before he could get in to cultivate them. How much damage would be done to inundated corn was somewhat problematical — but the excess moisture certainly wasn't going to do it any good. Meanwhile, thousands of acres of corn was getting "dirtier and dirtier" as weeds luxuriated between the rows and fields were too soggy to cultivate without putting pontoons on the tractor.

2nd grand opening—anniversary but in Redder Rexall's new home

You'll not find Erv Redder inclined to dispute that "it's an ill wind that blows nobody good."

When he came to Belmond as new owner of the former Nolan Rexall Drug on June 1, 1965, he was quite happy with the accommodations that the store provided — though housed by one of Main street's older buildings and not exactly "modern" in arrangement, for that reason.

Then came the blast from the south last Oct. 14, and all of a sudden Erv didn't even have an "old" store.

He suffered through nearly seven months as a "dispossessed person," while Kinseth Plumbing and Heating hospitably provided temporary quarters. Meanwhile, he found his landlord less that "hepped up" over rebuilding — but willing to sell the vacated premises.

So — this weekend finds Erv holding a combined "Second Anniversary AND Second Grand Opening" celebration in a brand new, up-to-the-minute modern building owned lock, stock and barrell by Mr. Redder.

To demonstrate his happiness over the final turn of events, Erv is giving away some fancy door prizes based on registration (no purchase necessary; but it won't make him MAD if you buy something). He also has some extra special bargains he calls "Bell Ringers."

You'll find Erv beaming — as if he were happy about the whole thing.

MR. AND MRS. DALE LISCHER

Vows spoken at Trinity on June 3 by Janice Ubben and Dale Lischer

The June 3rd wedding of Miss Janice Ubben, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ubben, and Dale Lischer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lischer of Red Oak, took place at Trinity Lutheran church with Rev. Oscar Laaveg performing the single-ring ceremony at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

The two altar bouquets were of white carnations and two bouquets of white gladioli and pink carnations decorated the chancel.

Mrs. Harold Simerson, organist, played the nuptial music and accompanied John Wollan of Oakridge, Tenn., as he sang "The Greatest of These is Love" and "O, Father, Son and Holy Ghost".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza and Alencon lace. Her veil was attached to an Alencon lace pillbox. She carried a bouquet of white daisies and pink rosebuds.

The matron of honor was Mrs. James Henderson of St. Cloud, Minn., sister of the bride, and the bridesmaid was Patricia Hanson of Evansville, Minn., college roommate of the bride. They wore floor-length dresses of pale pink crepe and carried white baskets crocheted by the bride's grandmother. The baskets were filled with daisies and miniature pink roses.

John Lischer of Red Oak served his brother as best man. Robert Thompson, fraternity brother of the groom, was groomsman. James Henderson, brother-in-law of the bride, and Louis Ball, fraternity brother of the groom, were the ushers.

Men of the wedding party wore English morning suits, having grey stroller coats with grey waistcoats and grey and black striped trousers. Their boutonnieres were white carnations, except that of the groom was a pink rosebud.

The mother of the bride wore a pink, three-piece suit and the groom's mother wore a turquoise ensemble, each with white accessories.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. The cake was cut by Mrs. Merrill Lischer, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Robert Savre, cousin of the bride. Mrs. Jewell Johnson, aunt of the groom, and Lucile Ubben, aunt of the bride, poured.

For going away, the bride wore a pink knit dress and hat with navy and ivory accessories. After a week's trip in Minnesota, the couple is at home at 9231 Nicollet avenue south, apartment 213, in Minneapolis.

The bride attended Iowa State university, Ames, and will be attending University of Minnesota at St. Paul, Minn., majoring in textile and clothing. The groom is a 1966 graduate of Iowa State university, had one year of law school at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, and is employed as an electrical engineer by Control Data at Minneapolis.

Cancer Crusade "over top" again

A near-final report on the Wright county 1967 Cancer Crusade received Wednesday of last week by Dwight Tyrrell of Belmond, chairman of the county chapter of the American Cancer Society, showed total proceeds trailing the successful 1966 campaign by only $84.

City, town and township results were turned in at a chapter board meeting held at the Tyrrell cottage on Lake Cornelia. They showed a '67 figure of $7,551 compared to a goal for the year of $6,495 and a 1966 total of $7,635.

Particularly pleasing to Mr. Tyrrell and the board members was the response of Belmond, in view of the October tornado disaster and its demolishment of an extensive residential area and damage to many business firms. With Mrs. Jack Steinberg and Mrs. Jerry Kintzi as the co-chairmen, Belmond's Crusade yielded $1,566.57, or just $130 less than that community had contributed in 1966.

Mr. Tyrrell expressed his enthusiastic thanks to Mrs. Roger Keppers of rural Clarion for directing her second consecutive successful Crusade as campaign chairman. This year's achievement made it 17 years in a row that Wright has met its Crusade quota. Mr. Tyrrell also spoke his gratitude to all the sub-chairmen and workers who helped make the drive a success.

Sums turned in by other cities and towns from this year's Crusade were: Clarion 1,479.75, Eagle Grove $1,743.51 Rowan $114 and Woolstock $114.30. Neither Dows nor Goldfield participated in the campaign. Dows did contribute $45.50 through the Bowl-Down.

Leading the townships in support of the Cancer Crusade were Iowa with $236.50 and Norway with $192.

Blaine $123, Belmond $171.50, Boone $165.50 Dayton $178.10, Eagle Grove $171, Grant $164, Lake $132, Liberty $149, Pleasant $166.80, Troy $125, Vernon $83.50, Wall Lake $90.50, Woolstock $74.

Mr. Tyrrell was re-elected as chapter chairman for 1967-68 and the other officers also were returned to the positions they have been filling: Mrs. Stanley Shupe, Clarion, vice chairman; Mrs. Ernest Feller, Clarion, secretary; and Harold Naefke, Clarion, treasurer.

Three new members were elected to the board: Mrs. Don Burt, Rowan; Mrs. Roger Keppers, Clarion; and Mrs. Ed Bennett, Clarion.

Trinity. St. Olaf to have delegates at ALC sessions

Rev. Oscar Laaveg and two lay delegates representing Trinity and St Olaf Lutheran churches will attend the annual convention of the Iowa district of the American Lutheran Church at Luther college, Decorah, to be held Monday through Wednesday of next week.

Ralph Wilson will be delegate of the Trinity church and St. Olaf will be represented by Mark Kline. Alternates from Trinity are Galen Johnson and Clarence Kirkendall; from St. Olaf, Melvin Olson and Archie Lee.

Presiding over the annual ALC sessions for the first time will be Rev. Bruno Schlachtenhaufen of Des Moines, who assumed his duties as new district president the first of this year.

Featured speaker will be Dr. Andrzej Wantula of Warsaw, Poland, bishop of the Lutheran Church in that nation. The Rev. Mr. Wantula is a survivor of three concentration-extermination camps operated by the Nazis during World War II, those at Dachau, Hauthausen and Gusen. He will be the Monday evening speaker.

More than 600 delegates, divided approximately evenly between clergymen and laymen, will represent the ALC's 349 Iowa congregations and more than 200,000 members.

GUESTS FROM ILLINOIS

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Johnson of Rockford, Ill., are visiting Mrs. Blenda Ahlstrom and other relatives here.

Five churches to share in holding mission fest

Ninth annual joint mission conference of the local Reformed churches and sister churches of this area will be held Sunday through next Tuesday, with three special speakers making appearances at all five churches that are participating.

Besides the Immanuel and Bethany churches here, the Alexander and Meservey Reformed churches and the Zion Reformed at Sheffield are collaborating in the conference.

Invited to deliver messages at each of the churches during the three-day period are: Rev. Harvey Staal, presently at home on furlough in Grand Rapids, Mich., after eight years of service in Arabia (Iraq) and two in Kuwait, one of the scenes of action in the war between Israel and the United Arab Republics.

Rev. George Gosselink, a native of Pella who last year retired after 25 years as principal of the School of High Hope in Basrah, Iraq. He is also exceptionally well versed in conditions in that war-torn area of the world.

Magnolia Jackson, a native of Brewton, Ala., and a graduate of Southern Normal High school there, who this fall will be a junior at Northwestern college of Orange City. She plans to enter mission work.

Alexander Reformed — Sunday, 9:30 a. m., Miss Jackson; Sunday, 10:45 a. m., the Rev. Mr. Gosselink; Sunday, 7:30 p. m., the Rev. Mr. Staal.

Bethany — Sunday, 9:30 a. m., Gosselink; Sunday, 10:45 a. m. Jackson; Monday, 7:30 p. m., Staal.

Immanuel — Tuesday 9:30 a. m., Staal; Tuesday, 10:45 a. m., Jackson; Tuesday 7:30 p. m., Gosselink.

Meservey — Sunday 9:30 a. m., Staal; Sunday 7:30 p. m., Jackson; Monday 7:30 p. m., Gosselink.

Zion (Sheffield) — Sunday 10:45 a. m., Staal; Sunday, 7:45 p. m., Gosselink; Monday 8:00 p. m., Jackson.

GOODWILL TRUCK COMING

Mrs. Clyde Jennings announces that the next regular visit of the Goodwill Industries truck to Belmond will be Thursday of next week. Items of repairable clothing, also repairable household articles, can be made useful by the handicapped workers and sold in the Goodwill store at Sioux City, helping these disabled people to help themselves.

Key to ambulance dilemma sought

Senator Hugh Clarke and Representative Ray Bailey have been bending every effort in the final days of the legislature to get some sort of legislation before the lawmakers that might supply some answer to the ambulance dilemma.

Both admit there is small likelihood of getting a bill through, but they hope that perhaps some legislation will come along to which corrective provisions can be attached as an amendment.

As matters presently stand in Wright county, with a possible lone exception it is the intent of the funeral homes to get out of the ambulance business as of July 1. The proprietors have offered to lease their ambulances to the county or other governmental bodies at very nominal cost and assist new drivers as they become acquainted with their responsibilities.

DEGREE TO GLADYS KLINE

Gladys (Mrs. Mark) Kline, teacher of 3rd grade at Ramsay elementary school, was among those who received degrees from Drake university at Des Moines on Monday of last week. She was awarded a Bechelor of Science degree in education, with social science as her major field.

SOFTBALL GAME FRIDAY

Softball fans will have an opportunity to see the Belmond Community Girls summer recreation team take on the Pleasant Peppy Pals this Friday evening. The game will be played at the BHS diamond, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

ACT GRADES AVAILABLE

Jerald Torgerson, BHS guidance counselor, says he now has in hand the results of the American College Testing exams that 60 members of the junior class took this spring. Those interested in obtaining information regarding how they did should call at Mr. Torgerson's office.

TWO GRANTS TO HELLAND

Mr. and Mrs. David Helland and family of Rochester, Minn., were Monday overnight visitors' in the L. M. Helland home. They left Tuesday en route to Corvallis, Ore., where Dave will study for six weeks at Oregon State university. He will then take a two-week course at a school in Louisiana, both study periods being paid for by National Science Foundation grants.

Plasterer held on check counts

John C. Henrickson, who has been employed here as a plasterer, was taken into custody Monday of last week by Sheriff Bob Blecker in response to a request from the sheriff of McCook county, South Dakota.

That official advised that he held two warrants for Henrickson's apprehension on charges of receiving money under false pretenses via bad checks.

Taken before Justice of the Peace Ross Stanbery at Clarion, Henrickson was bound over to the grand jury and his bond set at $1,000. When the bond was posted, he was released.

Johnson receives fraternal citation

William R. "Bill" Johnson was one of three area representatives of Lutheran Brotherhood insurance who were honored Tuesday at Fort Dodge at an observance of the fraternal society's golden anniversary. Similar functions were held in 80 cities throughout the U. S. and Canada on the society's 50th birthday.

Mr. Johnson received a citation naming him an outstanding Lutheran Brotherhood representative of 1967 for "distinguished service to church, community and country and outstanding performance as a fraternal insurance counselor.

Students speakers at special service

The First Methodist church last weekend held its annual Student Sunday. On this Sunday it is customary for the students to participate in the church services.

Five of the eight Kanawha students who participated in the Washington, D. C. - United Nations tour earlier this spring gave short reviews of speeches they heard.

Marcia Tripp gave a talk on Gettysburg.

The group visited the United Arab Republic embassy and talked with the ambassador. It proved to be very interesting, since the talk centered around the Arab-Israel crises. Mark Friedow gave the highlights on this talk

Jim Schrader spoke on the Peace Corps and Terryl Larson talked on Tanzania and Zambia. Larry Kurtz spoke on the Apartheid, a form of political segregation now taking place in southern Rhodesia.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Van Buskirk and family of Brownsdale, Minn., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chase Chapman. They came to attend Mrs. Chapman's brother's funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miedema of Sioux Center spent a couple of days this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Christians.

Dennis Eliason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Eliason, and Dennis Warren of Clear Lake returned Saturday after a fishing vacation at Lake Winnibigoshish in northern Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris entertained Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Harris of Rowan Thursday evening.

Wednesday evening of last week, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Harson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wessels of Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Nelson, Mike, Nancy, and Julie spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Lamfers, Alice, Olse, Benny, Casper and Linda of Kanawha and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lamfers of Grundy Center attended the funeral of Bill Lamfers at Aplington Friday.

Bobby and Billy Larson of Clear Lake spent the weekend in the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Larson.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lunday visited Mr. and Mrs. Bud Kraft of Renwick.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pals entertained for Mr. and Mrs. Duane Mrs. Dorothy Johnson and girls went to the Rochester airport Saturday to pick up her sister, Mrs. Swainson of Billings, Mont., who will be visiting friends and relatives

Reformed church holds its annual mission festival

The Kanawha Christian Reformed held its annual Mission Festival on Thursday of last week.

Afternoon services were held at 2:00 o'clock with Rev. Nicholas Vogelzang the main speaker. He is pastor of the First Christian Reformed church of Lansing, Ill.

From 1955 to 1964 he served as home missionary in Ogden and Salt Lake City, Utah, where there are now three organized Christian Reformed churches.

Following the afternoon program of the Mission Fest, dinner was served in the Fellowship Hall.

Evening services began at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Samuel Vander Jagt was one of the speakers. He is home missionary in Davenport. Besides serving churches in Battle Creek and Detroit, Mich., he has also served as a home missionary in Sacramento, Calif.

They Christian Reformed church helps support the following missionaries:

Rev. Cornelius Persenaire, serving in Isherev, N. Nigeria, W. Africa; Rev. Isaac Jen, serving on the island of Formosa.

Rev. Wendell Gebben, serving in Mason City; and Chaplain (Capt.) Harold Bode, stationed in the Philippines.

Support is also given the classical Home Mission church in Ames, Rev. Arlan Menninga being the pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Schilling entertained the Arnold Olsons of Clarion Wednesday evening of last week.

Lana Wicks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wicks, spent the weekend with her parents. Lana attends Hamilton Business college in Mason City this summer.

PHYLLIS K. LANDRUM AND GLEN O. MYERS RITES IN OKLAHOMA

Miss Phyllis Kay Landrum, daughter of Mrs. Bessie Landrum of Frederick, Okla., became the bride of Glen Oric Myers of Altus, Okla., son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Myers, Friday, May 26, at the Tabernacle Baptist church in Altus with Rev. J. Hoyett Lemmon, close friend of the groom, officiating.

The bride was attired in a light blue, sleeveless sheath, overlaid with lace and with it wore a pearl necklace and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Betty Breeze of Frederick, who attended the bride, wore a pink and white lace, empire-style dress and a deep pink carnation corsage. Attending the groom was Phil Neeley of Altus.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kae Myers, brother and sister-in-law of the groom.

After a wedding trip to Fort Worth, Tex., the couple is at home in Altus, where the groom is employed by the Altus Volkswagon service.

The bride is a 1961 graduate of Frederick, Okla., high school and has since been employed at Central Leather Goods, Inc., at Frederick. The groom graduated in 1959 from Alexander High school, attended the Palmer School of Chiropractic at Davenport and served for two years with the Armed Services.

Society NEWS

TWO-BALL FOURSOMES HAVE TO NEGOTIATE NEW WATER HAZARDS

Sunday's two-ball foursome tournament at Clarmond Country club had to be operated on something of a catch-as-catch-can basis, where available holes were concerned. Several large areas of fairway remained under water after last weekend's rains; but nine "holes" were nevertheless played, even though some were adaptations of the regular thing.

Don Rink and Regina Sheffield of Clarion alternated shots for the afternoon's low score of 45 and the prize for second-low went to John Brummond of Kanawha and Ruth Kilgore of Klemme with a 49.

Actual second-best was a 49 by Duane Anderson and Diane Rink, a 48 — but they got the prize for low number of putts (15), and only one prize was awarded per twosome.

Pete Kilgore, Klemme, had the first shot closest to the pin on No. 6; Frank Middleton, Clarion, had the longest drive on No. 1 among the men and Ethelene McDougle, Belmond, for the women. Susan Bateson, Belmond, holed out the longest putt on No. 9 green.

Mrs. Lanphere speaker at state PEO meeting

Mrs. Bill Lanphere, president of the local chapter of the PEO, attended the Diamond Jubilee state chapter meeting on the State College of Iowa campus at Cedar Falls from Wednesday through Friday of last week.

Mrs. Lanphere appeared on the program on Wednesday. Local chapter members attending that meeting were Mrs. Keith Wiggins, Mrs. Les Classick, Mrs. Russell Doughtery, Mrs. Ruth Brandmeyer and Mrs. Lester Gabrielson.

Ladies Invitational Tuesday at Clarmond

Annual Ladies Invitational Golf Tournament of the Clarmond Country club women will be held next Tuesday, with members of golf clubs throughout this area invited to participate.

Golf play will start at 7:30 a. m. Lunch will be served from 11:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m., with an afternoon of bridge to start at 2:00 o'clock.

CORRECTION

Mrs. R. C. Kennedy's name was inadvertantly omitted, and an incorrect one given, as that of cohostess with Mrs. Richard Brooks and Mrs. Joe Brooks at a shower for Diane Draper given on May 22.

KERCHEVAL GRANDDAUGHTER GOING TO COTTEY COLLEGE

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Kercheval spent weekend before last in Cedar Falls at the home of their son, Fred F. Kercheval, and family to attend the graduation of their granddaughter, Andrea Kercheval, who got her diploma from Cedar Falls high school on Monday, June 5.

Her parents entertained on Saturday evening after baccalaureate at a graduation reception in her honor for relatives and friends.

Andrea will be working at the Cedar Falls Trust and Saving bank this summer and in the fall she will enter Cotty college, a PEO school for girls at Nevada, Mo.

KEITHS GOING TO EUROPE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keith left Wednesday of this week from the Mason City airport by plane for New York. Thursday morning they will board the SS United States and sail at noon for South Hampton, England, and are to arrive in London on Tuesday of next week. Duriing the summer they will visit Scotland, Germany and Switzerland.

IOWA U-GO-I-GO

The Iowa U-Go-I-Go 4-H girls met Saturday, June 10, at the home of Julie Ketchum. Jack Freese and John Smith were appointed managers for the softball team.

Melanie Buchanan gave a talk on "Why Keep Food in the Refrigerator." Mary Burt gave a talk on "How to Handle Picnic Foods Safely." Demonstrations on "Let's Make Cookies" by Julie Ketchum and "Cookies from a Mix" by Kerrie Jo Smith were given.

Lunch was served by the hostess.

Home Study club met Wednesday evening of last week at the home of Mrs. Sherman Ekeland with Mrs. Russell Lonnevik as co-hostess.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. David Nelson of Minneapolis, Minn. Mr. Nelson, a former naval officer, showed slides of the ship on which he had served and various parts in the far East at which the ship had docked.

Luncheon and shower honors Sue Ann Wilmarth

Sue Ann Wilmarth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilmarth, was honored at a one o'clock luncheon and miscellaneous shower held Saturday at the Clarmond Country club with 38 guests present. Steven Paul Dirks baptized at EUB church

Steven Paul Dirks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dirks of Chicago, Ill., was baptized Sunday at the EUB church. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs Victor Nordman and Mr. and Mrs. Harm Dirks.

The rite took place on Children's Day and the birthday of Steven's older brother, Douglas. Rev. Clive Cook, who performed the ceremony, also baptized Douglas and married the children's parents.

Mrs. Victor Nordman and Robert returned a week ago Monday from Chicago, Ill., where they had been visiting in the home of their daughter and sister, Mrs. Donald Dirks. Their grandson and nephew, Douglas Dirks, returned home with them via train, which they report was a thrill for four-year-old Douglas.

County's firemen hear Belmondite

Some 45 firefighters heard Chief R. G. "Bud" Packard of the Belmond Fire department tell of the problems that descend upon a local fire fighting organization in the event of a natural disaster as the Cerro Gordo Firemen's association met here last Thursday night.

"Diaster Right Now" was the topic of the guest speaker's talk. He related the plans for disaster that were ready to be put into operation when Belmond was struck by a calamitous tornado last Oct. 14.

He reviewed the responsibilities a fire company must be prepared to face in such an event and how greatly advance planning can help to meet those responsibilities.

Miss Candace Elaine Trees, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Trees, became the bride of Junior J. Kaduce of Clear Lake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kaduce, Sunday, June 4, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the Church of Christ in Clarion. Rev. Calvin Miland performed the double-ring ceremony.

The chancel was decorated with gold candelabra holding white candles, and with sprays of blue and white mums attached; also baskets of blue and white mums and white galdioli and across the front of the choir loft was a garland of green boxwood held in place by white bows.

Vila Jean Milan was the organist and accompanied Mrs. Phyllis Arthur of Mason City, aunt of the bride, as she sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer." During the reception, she sang "Love Makes the World Go Round."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown styled with empire waist, a bodice of Alencon lace over satin with long sleeves of lace coming to a bridal point at the wrists and closed with a tiny heart-shaped button. The A-line skirt extended into a train at the back.

Her train-length veil was held in place by a small circular headpiece. She carried a colonial bouquet of miniature blue and white carnations, white roses and ivy. Her heart-shaped necklace was a gift of the groom.

Cindy Trees, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a floor-length dress of ice blue peau de soie, styled like the bride's, only sleeveless. Her matching headpiece of tulle was held in place by a cluster of petals and pearls. She carried a kissing ball of blue and white carnations and ivy.

The dresses were made by the bride's mother.

Diane Trees, sister of the bride, as flower girl wore a dress identical to that of the bridesmaid and with it a small straw picture hat with long streamers down the back. She carried a small hollowed-out kissing ball of blue and white carnations and dropped pink rose petals along the aisle as she approached the altar. Michael Trees, brother of the bride, as ringbearer wore a navy blue jacket and light grey pants, also a white carnation boutonniere.

Jerry Pals was best man. Ushers were Tim Trees of Clear Lake, uncle of the bride, Jack Smith of Clarion, Jerry Kaduce, brother of the groom, and Dan Johnson of Mitchell, S. D. The latter two are cousins of the bride and they also lit the candles.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church dining room with Mr. and Mrs. Leland Johnson of Mitchell, S. D., and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Trees of Winfield, uncles and aunts of the bride, serving as hosts and hostesses.

Mrs. Harley Henn, great aunt of the bride, cut the three-tiered cake she had baked. It was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Assisting her was Mrs. Ed Hopkey, Coffee was poured by Jessie Sarber, great aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Sam Mickelson. Punch was dipped by Mrs. Marvin Orte of Fairfield and Mrs. Tim Trees of Clear Lake, aunts of the bride.

Waitresses were Sandy Bock, Jolene Waltzing and Linda Thompson, classmates of the bride, and Eileen LaRue of Clarion. The gift table was attended by Mrs. Virginia Hart of Hardy and Mrs. Merle Hilpipre. of Clarion. Gift pages were Connie Orte of Fairfield and Sheryl Arthur of Mason City.

For going away, the bride chose a print suit with white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. After a trip to Wisconsin Dells, the couple is at home at 400 Fifth avenue north in Clear Lake.

The bride is a 1967 graduate from Belmond Comunity High school. The groom graduated in 1964 from BHS and is employed at Keifer Greenhouse in Clear Lake.

Three pre-nuptial showers honored the bride — one on May 2 at the library basement; one on May 17 at the home of Mrs. Don Smith at Clarion, with Mrs. Ray Duitcher assisting; and one on May 29 at the home of Mrs. Duane Thompson, with Mrs. Harold Bock and Mrs. Harley Henn as assistant hostesses.

Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry; for anger resteth in the bosom of fools. — Eccl. 7:9

It would be hard to find a more enthusiastic audience that the one that last Friday night attended the meeting at the library basement called by the Culture Study and Progress clubs. And it would be most unfortunate if something concrete should fail to develop from that gathering.

What made it different from the majority of meetings, conferences and hearings that Belmond has witnessed in the months following the tornado was the fact that it was not intended to meet some major crisis pertaining to the community's recovery.

True, Paul Jensen of Wallace, Holland and associates of Mason City gave an interesting review of the direction Belmond's zoning and planning commission thinks we should go. It was well presented and underlined the great need of choosing a course before you set sail.

Also, it was evident that of the long-range objectives of Belmond's comprehensive plan of development the idea of a riverside park in the area south of Main street and west of Highway 69 most particularly appealed to the women as one goal they might be able to help in achieving — with their enthusiasm and support, if not in an importantly material way.

But as the meeting progressed, it became increasingly evident that there are numerous groups in town that are eager to help in recovery from from the tornado in ways that involve no more than personal effort. Although the audience numbered less than 40, it did possess a good cross-section of community interests — civic groups, labor and commercial groups, service clubs and purely social organizations.

One thing all of these groups seemed to have in common. They want to DO something to help. They showed keen interest in the planning that has been done and indicated a willingness to help implement those plans as the opportunity develops. But they see much that needs doing NOW — and they're anxious to get about it.

One obstacle that has hampered completion — or even steady progress — on the gigantic job of cleaning up debris-filled pockets has been that there seems to be no place to start. But every BIG job can be broken down into a number of SMALLER jobs. Unfortunately, there has been no agency specifically responsible for defining and apportioning out these small, 'bite-sized" jobs.

At Friday's meeting, it was suggested that the New Belmond Action committee could possibly step into the breach by acting as a clearing house for groups wanting an assignment of reasonable size to tackle. A good example is the Progress and Culture Study clubs' tentative plan to clean up the site of the former Belmond township hall — presently owned by the Belmond Industrial Development corporation — and make it attractive instead of an eyesore.

A multitude of such small clean-up jobs could be devised by a supervisory body setting its mind to it. A mile of roadside ditch clean-up; several truckloads of debris removed from the river bank; litter removed from an open space. There's any number of chores to be done and willing hands to do them. It's a matter of getting the willing hands and the chores together.

Since the New Belmond Action committee was set up as a coordinating and advisory unit, it appears at first glance that this group might best accept the responsibility for direction that is so badly needed. If not, perhaps the city council could name a committee of workable size especially to perform this function.

While the eagerness to "be of help" exists, it would be a pity not to take advantage of it.

Smoking crack-down promised by school leaders

Belmond High school's athletic program has a problem. It's neither a new one nor a unique one; but it has been a growing one. A letter addressed last week to all BHS athletes and their parents indicated that the school administration and athletic department are determined to put the matter into the past tense, so that by the time sports competition of the 1967-68 school year resumes in the fall it (hopefully) can be said, "The Belmond High athletic program HAD a problem."

In the letter sent out over the signatures of Supt. Don Faris, Principal Ernest Doeringsfeld and Athletic Director Jack Steinberg, all returning athletes were reminded that physical fitness is a major aim of sports competition — and that smoking and drinking are bound to have an injurious effect on physical condition.

For some time, Bronco athletes in accepting an Honor B earned by sports participation have been required to sign a pledge that they would not smoke. It has been understood that they would forfeit any letters they might have won if found guilty of breaking this pledge — which applied the year around, not just to a particular sport season during which they were actively competing.

In a case or two, this penalty has been invoked But this has had hardly the affect intended, because it has been all too common knowledge that many who SHOULD have paid it have escaped it simply because they haven't "been caught."

It has been the unhesitatingly expressed opinion of several contemporaries of the non-trainers that their number probably represented 50 per cent of last fall's championship football squad! The same situation has existed on the other athletic squads during the past year — possibly to a lesser degree, in some cases, but nonetheless all too extensively.

Sunday before last the Des Moines Register carried a front page story making a big play of the fact that two Corydon football players had been deprived of letters because they were seen smoking after the season was completed. It was implied that a situation much like our own had developed at Wayne Community High school at Corydon, and that it had been met by the establishment of a new and more strict set of training rules — which had cost the two boys their monograms.

Local sports fans aware of the circumstances that have developed here in the past several years had little trouble imagining that the same sort of publicity could just as well have come to Belmond. For BHS has HAD the "strict rules" intended to combat the flouting of training restrictions, and they haven't been doing the business.

In view of the Broncos' 33-game win streak in football and general predominance of North Iowa conference athletics, the Register would probably have "laid it on good," to our humiliation.

By coincidence, the front page of The Belmond Herald-Press of exactly 45 years ago carried a story complacently relating that Conrad High school had been unable to field a baseball team the previous spring because of a crack-down on smoking. There weren't enough eligible non-smokers to put a team together. . . . So you can see that the smoking athlete is neither a new problem nor one confined to any particular school.

The letter addressed to the Broncos and their parents warned flatly that a football player who will be back in school next fall will be barred from competition if evidence is obtainable that he's been smoking during the summer. The same applies if any are associated with drinking incidents. And the penalty for violation of any training rules during the year will be suspension from all school athletics for an indefinite period of time plus forfeiture of any letters previously awarded.

Either quite a number of boys are going to have to do an abrupt about-face in their attitude toward training, or jeopardize the respect and recognition that Bronco athletes have won for themselves, their school and their community in past years. Those who choose to continue the cat-and-mouse game of "catch me if you can" will be taking a serious gamble.

Credit is due Mr. Faris, Mr. Doeringsfeld and Mr. Steinberg for facing an unpleasant situation and conscientiously attempting to abate it. Just as much credit will be due those athletes who have done themselves and their teammates discredit in the past if they resolve to put that risky nonsense behind them — and stick to it.

LONGEST SESSION EVER—

The 62nd General Assembly is going to be the longest and most expensive session in the state's history. The session already has topped these two records set by the 1965 legislature. The 61st General Assembly lasted 145 days and cost $1.6 million.

Cost of the present session has gone over the $2 million mark and some political observers are predicting the legislature won't finish its business until the last week in June.

However, the tempo has picked up with the passage of several major pieces of legislation. The stumbling block continues to be rising property taxes and what to do about them.

AIR POLLUTION BILL—

Legislative action has been completed on two major bills and Governor Huges is expected to sign both. One sets up an air pollution control commission with the state health department, while the second authorized the state highway commission to build new bridges across Iowa's rivers and to collect tolls to pay for the bridges.

AMISH ISSUE—

One of the more ticklish issues facing the legislators is what to do about the Amish. The Senate was the first to take action when it passed a bill to exempt Old Order Amish schools from the state school standards.

The proposal, approved 34 to 12, would allow the Old Amish to use their own teachers instead of state-certified teachers as obligatory under the present standards act.

The Amish near Hazelton in northeast Iowa have objected to hiring state-certified teachers. Although the plan cleared the Senate with a minimum of debate, it is expected to face stiff opposition in the House.

FUNDS INTO IOWA BANKS—

State Treasurer Paul Franzenburg is expected to invest some $60 million in state funds in Iowa banks shortly. The way for investing these funds locally was resolved when the legislature removed the four per cent interest ceiling Iowa banks could pay for investment of public funds. Governor Hughes has said he will sign the bill into law.

The amount of interest banks will pay for temporarily idle state funds will be determined monthly by a committee of three state officials — the state treasurer, insurance commissioner and banking superintendent.

Under terms of this bill, local government bodies will be able to invest idle funds in local banks at an interest rate up to one per cent less than the rate set by the three member committee for state funds.

IOWA BAR CRITICIZED—

The Senate Republican floor leader has criticized the Iowa State Bar association for withdrawing its support of five court reform bills passed by the Senate.

The bar association has decided to concentrate its efforts on House passage of only two of the bills — abolishment of justice of the peace courts and creating a traffic violations office within the district court clerk's office.

Sen. Robert Rigler, New Hampton, told officials of the association that until the Bar Association's Board of Governors passed its resolution, "there seemed to be an excellent chance the court reform bills would all be debated and voted upon in the House.

"With the new official attitude of the bar association opposing most of the bills, chances of passage may be remote," Rigler stated.

BOND FOR SCHOOLS OK'ED—

A bill to allow cities to issue revenue bonds for buildings for private colleges and universities has passed both houses. This measure could have a great impact on a number of Iowa communities. It allows a city council to issue the bonds under the law passed in 1963 that permitted cities to construct buildings for industrial projects.

LOSING LIQUOR TAXES—

State Auditor Lloyd Smith has issued two important audits involving state agencies. In one he criticized the state liquor commission for allowing some liquor licensees to make late payment on the 10 per cent tax on drinks sold across the bar.

Smith said Iowa is losing substantial amounts of money through evasion of taxes due on sale of liquor by the glass. Smith said his office is not in a position at this time to say how many thousands or even hundreds of thousands of dollars the state is losing.

State liquor commission officials said there will be a general tightening of tax collecting procedures. In the second audit, Smith attacked the bookkeeping of the Iowa Comprehensive Alcoholism Project, which is entirely separate from the liquor commission. Smith said the project's bookkeeping was very sloppy.

TRUCK GAS "UPPED"—

The House has given its approval to a bill which would allow a trucker to have 30 gallons of fuel in his tanks when he enters the state, instead of 20, on which he would not have to pay any fuel tax.

Engineer reports, "It helps"—

Rural intersection lighting value assessed

A study of the affect Wright county's program of lighting hazardous rural intersections has had on decreasing night-time accidents suggests that this project instigated by Sheriff Bob Blecker has been successful beyond all reasonable expectation.

Leland Smithson of the state highway commission made the study and reported his findings to the University of Iowa, Iowa City. It was based on accident reports for the period of January 1958-January 1966, before the lighting program was undertaken, and the 16 months from Jan. 1, 1966 until May 1 of this year. During the latter period, 25 secondary road intersections and one railroad crossing have been lighted to enhance traffic safety.

Mr. Smithson used as his unit of time for judging accident frequency on a relative basis "hazard-years," or the number of cumulative years that the motoring public was exposed to the dangerous road sites that have now been lighted or are scheduled for inclusion in the system of road lights.

More lighting planned

Another eight intersections, besides the 25 now illuminated, are to be lighted in the near future — and seven additional railroad crossings in addition to the one already in the program.

By multiplying the hazardous locations by the number of years in both the "before" and "after" study, the commission engineer arrived at a total of 328 years in the "before" period and 32.25 years over which motorists have benefited by the protective lighting.

During the 328 hazard-years that traffic had to "feel its way" through the risky intersections and over the dangerous railroad crossings, there were four fatal accidents, 17 personal injury accidents and 27 property damage accidents at the 41 locations.

No fatal accidents

In the 16 months over which the affect of the lighting was studied (as a site was lighted, it was included in the "after lighting" statistics), only two accidents happened at the locations illuminated — most of the lights being of 175-watt power and erected from 15 to 20 feet above the road surface.

There have been no fatal accidents in the comulative 32.5 hazard-years during which lights assisted the driving public in negotiating the danger points. In fact, there have been only the two accidents — altogether — at these locations. One caused a personal injury; the other caused property damage, only.

Drink caused one mishap

Mr. Smithson noted that the injury occurred to a man who had over-imbibed at a Woolstock tavern and subsequently was found to be intoxicated. He came to grief at the first turn and stop he tried to manage after leaving the tavern and admitted he "just couldn't get coordinated." The statistician observes:

"Therefore, it could be assumed that, had the intersection been lighted or not, this accident would probably have happened."

Breaking his figures down to an average number of night-time accidents per hazard-year, the engineer found the frequency of fatal accidents to be .01 against zero, before and after; .05 and .03 as to personal injury accidents; and .08 and .03 as to property accidents.

Rural travel increased

In the report it is observed that what relatively few secondary roads in Wright county as were paved in 1956 were only short distances out of towns and did not offer much attraction for cross-country travel by paved road.

In the period 1959-61, however, secondary roads such as County K and County R were paved and invited cross-country travel by secondary routes. In fact, 1962 traffic counts on county roads K, R and E showed 150 to 300 per cent increases in traffic, compared to that on the same roads in 1957. Understandably, a review of accident reports shows a definite increase in secondary road accidents and fatalities beginning in 1962.

Another factor worthy of note in judging effectiveness of the safety lighting is that in the spring of last year, Highway 60 traffic was detoured for a time to US 69; and in the fall, US 69 traffic was detoured over Highway 60. With surfaced secondary roads clearly marked on most road maps, much of the detoured traffic saved distance by using Wright county secondary roads instead of the marked primary road detour.

Warning signs inadequate

Despite the resulting heavy traffic on the county's secondary roads, and even with many of the drivers being unfamiliar with them, there were not accidents at the lighted, hazardous intersections during those times — bespeaking, in Mr. Smithson's opinion, the effectiveness of the lighting program.

In prior years, the county road department tried to lessen the accident potential at danger points by erecting reflectorized advance warning signs, regarding substandard curves and grades and placing extra signing at extremely hazardous locations.

The commission engineer says, "This has undoubtedly helped, but the fact still remains that many of the accidents involved local people who knew the curve or stop was there, but just weren't mentally awake to the situation.

Annual cost only $900

The REC installs and maintains the lights at the points designated by Sheriff Blecker as warranting such installations for safety purposes. The total cost to the county for the entire existing system plus additions yet to be made will run approximately $900 per year.

At this small cost, the safety lighting system would appear to be worth many times over the expense of annual maintenance. The public reaction has been one of approval and local people generally feel it has taken the guess-work out of locating paved secondary road intersections after dark.

Mr. Smthson summarizes: "It would be my opinon that the earlier warning provided by a minimum of lighting at an intersection can decrease accidents. In talking with motorists, I believe they feel the improved visibility and earlier warning gives them more confidence."

Report from Sen. Hugh Clarke

At long last, on the 150th day of the session, the Democrat-controlled Senate decided to face up to the problem of providing more state aid to schools.

In fact, both houses spent a good share of their time recently on the problems of education. The House acted on a bill to give some additional state aid to the area vocational-technical schools and sent back to the Senate a bill raising pensions for teachers and other public workers belonging to the Iowa Public Employees Retirement System (IPERS).

THE SENATE DEBATE ON local school aids was confused and conflicting as amendment after amendment was discussed, voted upon and nearly all principal amendments adopted were reconsidered, again discussed and in most cases voted down.

The Senate leadership approach revolves around the proportionate sharing theory. This differs from the House Republican-passed plan in several major ways.

As outlined on the Senate floor, the plan would have the state pay about 30 per cent of total school costs, compared to the House plan of 41 per cent and the 40 per cent national average.

PROPORTIONATE SHARING

bases the aid on need, and as a result, some districts would receive as high as 70 per cent of their costs from the state, while others would get as little as 15 per cent. In no case, sponsors said, would a district get less than they now receive.

The need would be determined on the basis of the wealth of a district, which originally under the bill would be computed on 80 per cent property valuation and 20 per cent taxable income. However, a Senate amendment would set the formula at 50-50 property and wealth.

The total cost of the plan, again according to the sponsors, is about $90 million a year. The Senate leadership has not said what taxes would be raised to acquire the additional state money needed to fund the plan.

AT THIS POINT, IT APPEARS that the House and Senate will disagree over how to increase state aid to schools. A conference committee will probably be appointed to work out the differences, which will likely require some time. It is regrettable that the Senate leadership waited so long to bring up the aid bill, especially since the House passed its version more than a month ago.

Another bill appears headed for a conference committee, that which provides the area vocational-technical schools with $4½ million immediate state aid to meet outstanding debts. The bill also adjusts the aid system to place it on a current basis.

The House approved several amendments to the earlier-passed Senate bill. One of the amendments cut out the three-quarter mill levy allowed on local property to help support the schools.

IN ADDITION, THE HOUSE called for a new board to administer the schools, rather than have them under a separate division of the State Department of Education. Still another amendment placed a $20,000 limit on the salaries of the area school superintendents.

The House also approved a different version of the IPERS bill. The Senate version would have allowed employees to contribute 3½ per cent of their salary up to $10,000 to the fund, which is matched by the employer at the same rate. The employers in this case are school boards and other governmental units.

The House version kept the percentage the same, but limited, the contribution to $6,600 of a worker's salary. The bill now goes back to the Senate.

THE HOUSE ALSO PASSED and sent to the Senate the 90-page bill which sets up the subdistricts in those counties electing more than one representative or senator. Final passage of this bill will carry out an Iowa Supreme Court order and a strongly-endorsed Republican policy to end at-large elections in the state's larger counties.

The Supreme Court ordered the state's 17 largest counties to divide into subdistricts to carry out the one-man, one-vote rule. The ruling came after the last Democrat-controlled legislature refused to subdistrict. Under the plan, the larger counties would still elect the same number of representatives and senators, but each citizen in the county would vote for only one, a person running from his neighborhood district.

First two tilts called off—

Last weekend, the Belmond High baseball team was still trying to get its '67 summer schedule off the ground — or perhaps, off the mud would be stating the case more accurately — with both of its first two games having been called off due to a wet diamond.

Coach Ted Besch says that both the Tuesday game slated at Dows and the Friday game at Britt could have been transferred to the BHS diamond if the lights had been ready to go. But they had not been entirely repaired from the effects of the tornado and just when they would be was still a matter of some uncertainty.

It was nevertheless his hope that all would be ready for the game here with Mason City High's B team last night; and he felt there should be no question by the time of the next scheduled home game, with Dows on Friday of next week.

On Tuesday of next week, the Broncos will travel to Lake Mills.

As Coach Besch talked over the season's outlook with The Independent last weekend, he'd still had no chance to try out his players under game conditions but had a pretty good idea from practice sessions as to how he'll use them.

Three men will likely alternate on the pitcher's mound, all of whom have demonstrated some ability at hurling. They are Terry Nelson, Rick Hawley and Don Havens. Tim Dirks, an underclassman, might also be called upon occasionally.

Keith Boller and Paul Bamford figure to share the catching chores, and at first base Besch plans to use Dave Dirks and Ron Ginapp. At second base, Tim Dirks will cover the keystone slot if Wayne Smith is in the outfield.

When not on the mound, Havens will be assigned to shortstop, with Joey McLaughlin also a prospect for that position. Tim Roberts is Besch's choice for third base — or Hawley, if idle as a pitcher.

These boys comprise the Bronco diamond squad as it stands at present. Coach Besch says "who will be playing where is going to depend to a fair degree on which one of alternate players is batting the best."

Cadet D. Latham to summer camp

FT. RILEY, KAN. (AHTNC) — Cadet Donald E. Latham, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard C. Latham, Alexander, Ia., will attend Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps summer camp at Ft. Riley, Kans., with his unit from Iowa State university, Ames.

During the encampment, scheduled to begin June 17, he will receive six weeks of training in leadership, rifle marksmanship, physical conditioning and other military subjects.

Upon successful completion of summer camp and graduation from college, he will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army.

Nelson, Roberts receive state ratings in track

Results from 343 track and field meets involving Iowa high school teams during the 1967 season have been carefully combed by Harry Borrell of the Iowa State university sports department to determine the 10 best times in the 16 events that are standard in this state's high school track competition. Top performers in each of the four classes — AA, A, B and C — were named in the season-end release of the ISU statistician.

Belmond's only representatives among the athletes recognized were Terry Nelson and Bob Rise. Terry's :15.6 time in the 120-yard high hurdles tied for 10th best and his toss of 151 ft. 8 inches in the discus was 5th best in Class A, which is the Broncos' class based on average daily attendance at BHS. Rise was among eight sprinters tied for 9th and 10th places in the 100 at :10.3.

North Iowa conference rivals who earned mention in Class A were (all from Osage): Dan Cockram, 9th in the broad jump at 21-6; Tom Hartwig, 9th in the discus at 144-3½; Loren Bechtum, 8th in the high hurdles at :15.5; and Dean Hannam, 9th in the shot put at 50-10.

Class B citations went to the following NIC athletes: Lynn Keraus, Garner, 4th in the high hurdles at :15.4 and tied for 7th in the 180-yard low hurdles at :20.9; Tony Steen, Buffalo Center, tied for 8th in the 880 at 2:04.8.

Relay teams from the conference rated in Class B were: Garner, 3rd in the two-mile at 8:20.0 and 9th in the mile medley at 3:47.6. In Class A, Lake Mills was cited at 7th in the 880 relay with an "official" time of 1:33.8, which unofficial timers at the NIC meet — including the Bulldogs' mentor — suspected was in error by a second but nevertheless went onto the books. The Bulldogs were rated 10th in the 440 at :45.7.

Class C schools of this vicinity who had rated athletes were: Kanawha, Jim Schraeder tied for 6th in the high hurdles at :15.7; Goldfield, Bill Huisman tied for 4th in the 100 at :10.2 and Neil Mandsager, 9th in the broad jump at 20-7.

Jerry Letzring, CAL Community hurdler, tied for 2nd best in the highs at :15.2 and held 9th place in the lows at :21.2. He showed his versatility by rating 7th in the shot put with a toss of 49-5½.

Eagle Grove had three individuals and four relay teams rated in Class A: Mark Blackman, 2nd in the pole vault at 13-2; Bill Brauman, 10th in the broad jump at 21-4½; Larry Egemo 4th in the shot put at 52-5½; the Eagles' two-mile relay team 3rd at 8:11.1; mile quartet 6th at 3:30.7; 880 foursome 9th at 1:34.4; and medley team 10th at 3:45.5.

NOTICE

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the Auditor of Wright County, Iowa, until 10 o'clock A. M., CDST, on the 6th day of July, 1967, for the

1. Re-construction of the Main Line Open Ditch.
2. Re-construction, repairs and additions to the Tile of the Main.
3. Re-construction of the Lateral No. 2 Open Ditch.

DRAINAGE DISTRICT NO. 10 of Wright County, Iowa. The Contract Documents consisting of Plans, Specifications, Advertisement for Bids, Bid and Bond Forms, Instructon to Bidders, and related documents are now on file in the office of the County Auditor, Clarion, Iowa, and may be examined there by interested parties and at the office of the Currie Engineering Company, Webster City, Iowa.

The Contract Documents may be obtained from the Currie Engineering Company of Webster City, Iowa, upon making a deposit of $10.00, all of which will be refunded if the documents are returned in good condition within 15 days after the receiving of bids. Material Suppliers will be furnished without charge lists of quantities and specificatons for the materials they wish to quote to the bidders.

Cash or a certified check in the amount of 10% of the bid but not to exceed $10,000 drawn on a solvent Iowa bank and made payable to the County Auditor of Wright County, Iowa, must accompany each bid. All bids must be on the form furnished by the County. If a bidder receives an award and fails to execute a contract and post a bond approved by the Contracting Authority within 10 days after being notified of award, his bid security may be forfeited as liquidated damages.

Bids will be opened, read and acted upon promptly after the time set for the receiving of bids.

The successful bidder must furnish a performance bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price conditioned on the executing of the contract according to the conditions thereof.

The work consists of approximately the following items required for the re-construction and improvements:

Unclassified excavation, 114,000 cu. yds ; bank leveling, 10.072 miles; CMP inlets, 2,100 feet; drop inlets, 8 — 18" to 30".

Relaying 20" to 28" tile, 4,436 feet; backfill over tile in overflow ditch, 2,000 cu. yds.; 48" CMP culvert through Railroad grade; fertilizer and seed, 7.8 acres.

Junction box, 1; headwall, 1; fence removal, 670 rods; new fence, 10 rods.

The work will be started within 30 days after the execution of the contract and completed within one year.

Payments will be made to the Contractor in warrants drawing 4% interest on the basis of 80% estimates issued monthly.

By virtue of statutory authority a preference will be given to products and provisions grown and coal produced within the State of Iowa and to Iowa domestic labor.

The work will be awarded in its entirety to one bidder.

The Contracting Authority reserves the right to hold the bid security on the two lowest bidders for 15 days and to waive informalities and to reject any or all bids.

Published upon order of the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, on June 5, 1967.

"Heart of This Four County Trade Area"

VOL. 48 NO. 39 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER WRIGHT COUNTY IOWA— THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1967 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER 12 PAGES AND SUPPLEMENT

MAIN STREET

BY PAT, DICK, DUANE

Tomorrow (Friday) Belmond is going to have company. Quite a LOT of company. At the hour 1500 (that's 3:00 p. m. to the militarily uneducated) the vanguard of the 110th Engineers Battalion of the Missouri National Guard from Kansas City is due to arrive.

By the time the whole outfit has Jeeped into town, a tent city to accommodate 500 soldiers will be taking form at the Luick Memorial Swimming Pool grounds. It's a fair guess that the proximity of the swimming pool will be a welcome adjunct of their camp location, if it should be a hot day.

The engineers will be enroute north (presumably to Camp McCoy or Ripley) for their summer training period. Quite a number of local stores will remain open in the evening — mainly to give Main street a lively appearance. As the dew disappears at 7:00 a. m. Saturday, the unit will decamp.

Fred Gordon reports with a grin that "the son-of-a-guns wouldn't cut the cards" when he and three other golfers were involved in a four-way tie for 3rd, 4th and 5th places in the Forest City Amateur golf tournament Sunday.

He's had pretty phenomenal luck in coming out best at breaking ties in this manner. But at Forest City, a play-off was called.

Fred had bogied the first hole three times, already; and on the play-off bogied it again! Bill Engstler of Garner was another of the foursome who tied with four-over-par 106's. Dudley Thompson took 3rd in the 5th flight with an 88.

Larry Schimp, who hurls for the Butt'r Topp softball team from Clear Lake, made the headlines by pitching a no-hitter in the first round of the Early Bird Softball Tournament last weekend at Mason City. His outfit was eliminated in the second round, 5-1, when Larry ran out of steam in the 5th and 6th innings. Jim Soveriegn was also a pitcher in the tournament, the former BHS wrestling coach manning the mound for Kratz Motors.

About that fish of Russell Tidebacks that was reported here last week (a 23-lb. 12-oz. northern caught at Mille Lacs) — there was a story BEHIND the story, we learn. Fishing from shore, "Rut" had gotten a tangle in the line on his spinning reel and had stripped out some 30 feet, which was floating on the water when the lunker hit. Much as if he had a calf at the end of a lasso, "Rut" had to wade into the lake and play him by hand.

Four or five times, the northern made a run — and "Rut" splashed after him, to prevent the line from snapping. It really presents quite a picture; particularly after his wife Marvis grabbed the net and joined him in the lake.

Fortunately, the beach slope is very gradual where the Tidebacks were fishing and "Rut" says he never got into more than four feet of water as he played the monster. When the big fellow once broke water, so Marvis could see what the stakes were — that was when she snatched the net and splashed to "Rut's" aid. A fellow willing to give credit where credit is due, "Rut" admits, "I'd never have got him if Marvis hadn't come in and netted him."

"Soft shoulders" can cause a man a lot of trouble. And they sure have been the past couple of weeks as highway shoulders have become positively slushy due to the rains. Something like half a dozen trucks and semi's have tipped over due simply to the driver pulling off the cement. A Californian moving a load of furniture in a U-Haul truck came a-cropper just north of town when his wife and father "blinked" him to a stop late Sunday night and he pulled onto the shoulder to see what they wanted. Over he went. His eight-year-old son got pretty bruised when Dad lit on top of him. Let a word to the wise be sufficient. Watch those shoulders!

Hans Chase rites held on Tuesday

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon for Hans Edward Chase, 79, who died Saturday night at Belmond Community hospital as a result of a stroke and following complications. He had made his home in Belmond with his half-brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Chase, for about the past 10 years.

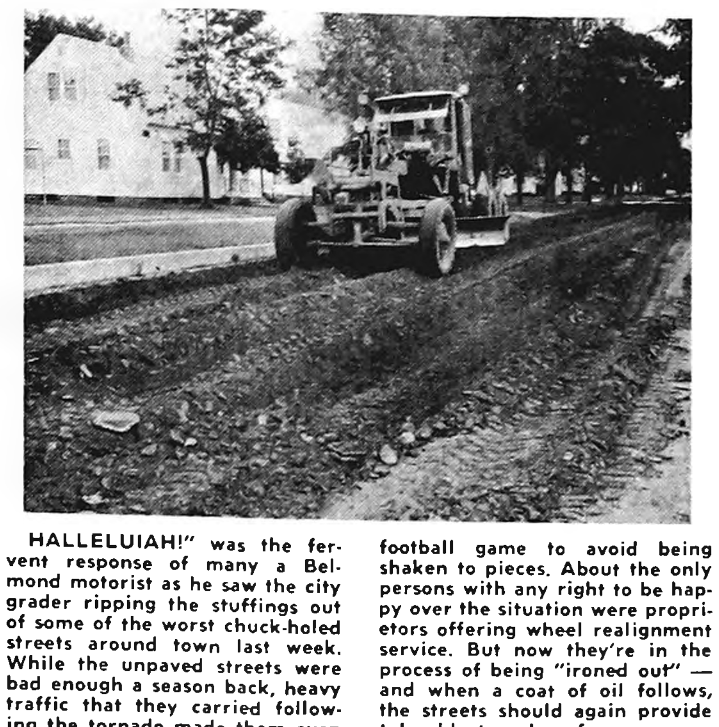
Rev. James Rozendaal of the Bethany Reformed church officiated over the rites and Fulton Funeral Home with in charge. Burial was in the Madison Township cemetery near Forest City. Pallbearers were Jack Crosby, Sr., Jack Crosby, Jr., and Aaron Charlson of Forest City, Bernard Nath of Clarion, Martin Barz of Klemme and R. C. Drake of Hampton.

Mr. Chase was born July 9, 1887, at Odense, Denmark, son of Mamie Johnson Chase by her first marriage and later step-son of Leonard Chase. His mother died here in 1961 at the age of 105 and his step-father also preceded him in death.

After he had emigrated to this country with his mother and they had made their home at Forest City, Hans was for some years employed as an implement mechanic. He was an employee of the Forest City municipal light plant prior to his retirement in 1956.

He was in the U. S. Army during World War I.

Besides his half-brother living here, Mr. Chase is survived by a step-brother, Henry Chase, of Leonard, N. D. A half-sister, a step-sister and two step-brothers died before him.



HALLELUIAH!" was the fervent response of many a Belmond motorist as he saw the city grader ripping the stuffings out of some of the worst chuck-holed streets around town last week. While the unpaved streets were bad enough a season back, heavy traffic that they carried following the tornado made them even worse. Cars have had to weave their way around the chuck-holes like an open field runner in a football game to avoid being shaken to pieces. About the only persons with any right to be happy over the situation were proprietors offering wheel realignment service. But now they're in the process of being "ironed out" — and when a coat of oil follows, the streets should again provide tolerable travel surfaces . . . until that paving program can be carried through.

Dr. S. P. Leinbach had as a visitor at Steele Memorial Clinic on Monday a Japanese guest, Dr. Masashi Makamura, who is professor and director of the department of public health at the University of Hirosaki college of medicine in Japan.

Dr. Makamura spent six days in the state as a guest of the University of Iowa college of medicine, staff members of the U-of-I Institute of Agricultural Medicine being his special hosts.

A graduate of the University of Tokyo, the professor's particular research interests have centered upon nutrition and the influence of climate on basal metabolism.

On Monday, he visited Iowa State university at Ames, before coming to Belmond. At Ames, he conferred with Dr. Ralph Kitchell, dean of the college of veterinary medicine, who like Dr. Leinbach serves on the advisory committee of the Institute of Agricultural Medicine.

Dr. Leinbach learned from his guest that Dr. Makamura's father was living at Hiroshima when the A-bomb was dropped there near the end of World War II. The elder Makamura resided near the outskirts of the city and was unharmed.

Dr. Makamura showed keen interest in the booklet showing pictures of Belmond following the last October tornado and told Dr. Leinbach that they reminded him of Hiroshima's appearance following the A-blast.

Pollitt discount station plans three-day opening

Frank Pollitt announces in this issue a three-day grand opening, Thursday through Saturday, of a brand new Belmond business venture to be known as the Superamerica discount shopping center. It will occupy space in the service station he has had operation on Highway 69 for the past four years — excepting about a month when he had to entirely rebuild following last fall's tornado.

Mr. Pollitt says the Superamerica discount stations comprise a rapidly growing chain that is a subsidiary of the Northwestern Refining company of St. Paul, Minn. Established only two years ago, there are presently about 100 outlets — and Northwestern has a goal of 1,000 within another eight years.

The local outlet is one of not more than a dozen that are privately owned but franchised to carry the Superamerica name and use the organization's buying services. All of the other outlets are company owned. The stores carry a wide variety of merchandise — groceries, sundries, electrical appliances, housewares, automotive supplies, sporting goods and hardware.

As an attraction to the public to visit his discount shopping station during its grand opening, Mr. Pollitt is giving on the basis of registration four valuable prizes: a GE portable television, portable transistor radio and two Polaroid Swinger cameras. He also has free gifts to go to all purchasers of gasoline during the opening.

Frank is continuing to conduct his auto service, which has been in operation in its present location since 1963. Before opening his present business, he operated a service station across the highway. He first came to Belmond, with his family, 10 years ago as an employee of the Len Sheldon Chevrolet agency.

ATTENDS MEETING AT ISU

Barbara Pals, a graduate this spring from Belmond Community High school, last week at Iowa State university attended a two-day orientation meeting on the Ames campus. All incoming freshmen who will be enrolled in the college of home economics attended one of the sessions to become familiar with the campus prior to Freshman Days this fall.

Has made money, done extra jobs—

City's sewer rental tax has "paid off" big

Since the "sewer rental" tax was first applied to the quarterly charges against users of Belmond city water, probably few levies have caused more complaint — with less excuse — than this relatively modest expense to local residents. This is the opinion of Dr. R. E. Misner and members of the city council; and City Clerk Lois Hammond can back up their point of view very solidly with figures.

Mrs. Hammond admits that, in the first place, misunderstanding of the sewer rental tax and its purposes probably is the basis of a good share of the complaints. To help erase some of that misunderstanding, The Independent interviewed Clerk Hammond to obtain a full explanation of why this tax was first applied, how the money has been used, and how long it is likely ot be levied.

It was on July 1, 1952, that the sewer rental tax was first applied as a 50 per cent surcharge on all water bills.

That was the year before the present sewage disposal plant was built — on "orders" from the state department of health, because Belmond had a wholly inadequate sewage treatment system. A bond levy of $80,000 was required to finance construction of the plant, and it was arranged that those bonds be paid over a period of 20 years — the final $5,000 to be retired Sept. 1, 1972.

Besides paying off the bonds, the sewer rental tax supplies the money needed monthly to pay for the plant's operation. All of the bonds have been retired on schedule, with the exception that in November of 1959 an opportunity arose to prepay the Sept. 1, 1972, group of bonds at a $949 discount.

Since money in the sinking fund built up from proceeds of the tax easily permitted this to be done, the savings of nearly $1,000 looked like an attractive proposition to the city council of that time. Over the first 10 years or so, something like $600 monthly was cleared over plant operation expense to be set aside for meeting bond obligations.

Proceeds of the sewer tax have been considerably more generous than was originally anticipated. In 1953, it yielded only $8,840 and such an annual amount was the basis for the size of the tax. By 1965, though vastly increased water usage had increased the sewer tax proceeds for the year to $15,509 — and along the way, sizeable balances have grown in the sinking fund that weren't initially expected.

Wise utilization of these balances has permitted further savings to the city, plus financing some sewer improvements that were not originally contemplated.

For example, investing a part of these balances in federal treasury notes or, on an occasion or two, time certificates in the local bank, the city has realized approximately $2,250 in interest differential.

The government treasury notes have borne as high as five per cent interest compared to an average of about 2.3 per cent payable on the bonds. So a "profit" has been produced by investing from the balance on hand instead of prepaying bonds a short time before due.

Mrs. Hammond adds that on two occasions, balances in the sewer rental tax fund have made it unnecessary for the city to issue bonds for sewer-related projects that otherwise would have necessitated bonding.

In 1963, when sewer and water service was extended to "the hill" in west Belmond, the sewer-extension cost (partially repayable to the city in assessments against propertyowners benefited) of $15,886 was paid out of the sinking fund.

That made about $500 in legal, publication and other expenses attached to an issue of bonds unnecessary. Moreover, the $6,180 assessable against property brought six per cent interest (the minimum allowed by law), while the money was costing the city only a bit over two per cent — bringing an additional slight profit to the city.

When improvements had to be made in the sewer plant last year, the cost came to $39,803 — which, again, ordinarily would have had to be met with a bond issue. But as with "the hill" project, money from the sinking fund was available to make the bonding unnecessary; and Belmond's taxpayers will reap the benefit.

Mrs. Hammond emphasizes that these uses of sewer rental funds were made possible partly because the tax is bringing in more money than needed, and because it has gathered money "faster" than it was needed to retire the bonds as they have fallen due. The sewer improvements — digester cover and other essential items — were fully paid-for in April, and it was possible to do so without using $10,000 in sewer rental proceeds that are currently invested in a five per cent treasury note.

Still another sewer-extension project lies ahead that perhaps can be financed without bonding by use of the sewer rental sinking fund. This would extend primary mains to accommodate the residential area to the north of West Main street and would cost possibly $30,000. If this works out, that will be a THIRD bond issue made unnecessary, at ANOTHER saving to the city.

Mrs. Hammond states that this avoidance of bonding has enabled residents of the city of Belmond to carry through two sewer projects and possibly will be able to include a third — at definitely reduced cost. She estimates that what's been done at, say $12 in quarterly sewer rental tax to a given water user, might have cost that user $16 or more annually in a single property tax payment otherwise.

What about the future of the sewer rental tax, after the last re-

Pick 2 delegates to attend youth camp in Missouri

Two delegates from Belmond will attend the Co-op Youth Camp at William Jewell college, Liberty, Mo., sponsored by Farmland Industries on Monday through Friday of next week. They are Barbara Olson and Wayne Hinman, both BHS juniors this past year.

Farmland Industries is the new name of the Consumers Co-op association (CCA), which has been sponsoring this yearly youth leadership camp for 21 years. It has its headquarters at Kansas City, Mo.

Cost of scholarships is $35. Contributors of the scholarships for the two Belmond delegates are the Belmond Co-op Creamery and Farmers Co-op Service Centers of Klemme.

In past years, the Belmond Creamery has sent Dennis Swenson, Lawrence Basener and Earl Kalkwarf to the camp. Delegates are chosen from among outstanding Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America.

A busy schedule is programmed for the young people, including leadership training, discussion sessions, guest speakers and a variety of entertainment.

Miss Iowa will come to join in 4th festivities

Kathy Solt of Jefferson, Miss Iowa of 1966 — who is just concluding her reign as beauty queen of the Hawkeye State — has been added to the list of eye-filling attractions that will be offered participants in the Jaycees' 4th of July celebration.

She is just winding up a busy year of public appearances and will be handing on her scepter early in July to her 1967 successor. Her presence in the Belmond parade on the Fourth and elsewhere here during the day will be perhaps her last "official" visit before retiring from her throne.

At last count, 13 entries had been lined up for the parade — excluding such extra features as the BHS band, Trail Blazers saddle club members and their horses, and a host of kiddies dolled up for the occasion.

Mrs. Larry Flanagnn, chairman of the Jaycee-Ettes' parade committee, feels confident that more floats will still be obtained and that the parade will be well worth watching.

Jerry McLaughlin, general celebration chairman, says that after reading additional publicity on the Pipestone Clowns he feels the Jaycees have really obtained a first-class amusement feature for their program. The Minnesota buffoons will entertain off an on during the day and will be a main attraction of the grandstand program at Faris Field in the evening.

Delivery has already been received on the $550 worth of fireworks that light the sky starting about 9:30 p. m. Jerry promises this will be one of the biggest displays Belmond has ever witnessed and is guaranteed to extract many and "o-o-oh" and "a-a-ah" from the audience.

Wenzel wounded in hostile action

First Belmond serviceman to be injured by enemy action in Vietnam is Pfc. Gene Wenzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wenzel.

They received a telegram Monday from the Secretary of the Army, Washington, D. C., informing them that their son was slightly wounded as a result of hostile action — no date of the occurence being given.

According to the telegram, Gene sustained metal fragment wounds in his left heel "while in the landing zone when engaging a hostile force in a fire fight."

The young soldier, a BHS graduate in '65, was treated at an evacuation hospital and was being held for further treatment, the official telegram stated.

700 expected at Dairy Banquet

Wright County Dairy Interests association's annual June Dairy Banquet will be held at the Belmond Community High school student center next Tuesday at 6:00 p. m.

Don Warren, WHO radio and TV announcer and "disc jockey" from Des Moines, will be the guest speaker for this event, which has traditionally attracted about 700 Wright county residents.

One of the highlights of the June Dairy Banquet will be the selection of a Wright County Dairy Princess. Selection will be made from a list of five candidates. There will be a panel of three judges to select the young lady who will represent Wright county in the state contest next fall.

The candidates for the 1967 Wright County Dairy Princess crown are: Jeanne McOllough, Clarion; Mary Ann Ramaeker, Eagle Grove; Nancy Dannen, Alexander; Audrene Obrecht, Ames; and Darlene Malaise, Woolstock. Candidate of the Belmond Co-op Creamery is Miss Dannen.

Dianna Marts, 1966-67 State Dairy Princess from Franklin county, will be a guest of the Wright county dairymen. Miss Marts has been the Dairy Interests' ambassador in promoting dairy products for 1966 and 1967.

The Wright County Dairy Interests association is a promotional organization that does everything it can to promote milk and milk products. Officers of the association for 1967 are: Floyd Templeton of Goldfield, president; Harold Nelson of Belmond, vice president; Curtis Rise, Belmond, treasurer, and Bob Bernhardt, Clarion, secretary.

ANESTHESIOLOGIST POST TO DR. DONALD L. SWEEN

Dr. Sweem has completed two years of study at the University of Iowa, Iowa City.

As of July 1, Dr. Sweem will be employed in Des Moines as an anesthesiologist. The family is moving to Des Moines this week.

NANCY DANNEN

Parents to hold July 3rd dance for young folks

As an added feature of the 4th of July celebration in Belmond, a dance is to be held at the BHS student center on the evening of July 3 for Belmond High school students and alumni who are of college age.

This dance is being sponsored by parents of next fall's seniors, the Class of '68, who are making all arrangements and will chaperone the function.

There will be dancing from 9:00 p. m. until 1:00 a. m. to the music of a Garner combo, the Knights, who provided music for last spring's junior-senior prom.

Mrs. Bob Tomson is chairman of the planning committee. She notes that the dance is to be a "dress up" affair and that young people wearing jeans or shorts will not be admitted.

She explains that the parents decided to hold the dance when it was obvious that the Jaycees have all they can handle in looking after the rest of the celebration program — but that there seemed to be a demand for a dance as a part of the festivities.

VISITORS FROM ILLINOIS

Merry-go-round bought for park

A new merry-go-round was delivered last week for the use of children at the city park, replacing the one that "broke down" (completely) in the tornado.

This item of playground equipment was purchased by the Belmond Beta Sigma Phi chapters with the help of funds contributed to the organization by other chapters all over the state after the October disaster.

Other playground items are to be bought by the Jaycees and Jaycee-Ettes, according to present plans, to help get the park back to normal.

Will honor missionaries—

Calvary church plans Homecoming

A homecoming day is planned at the Calvary Baptist church this Sunday, having the purpose of honoring former parishoners who have entered Christian work and giving former members now living elsewhere an occasion on which to meet together.

Rev. Louis Miller notes that a number of young people of the church have answered calls to work in religious fields and that four of them who have been serving as foreign missionaries are currently in the States on furlough.

They are Bonnie Abbas, who has been a missionary to Chile; Robert Banning, the Philippines; Virgil Bunjer, Germany; and Emory Van Gerpen, Nigeria. All but Mr. Banning will be present to take some part in the day's program.

Morning services will be held at 10:30 o'clock and there will be additional services at 2:00 and 7:00 p. m. Mr. Bunjer will speak in the morning, Miss Abbas in the afternoon and Mr. Van Gerpen in the evening. Another son of the church, Rev. Eldon Pals of the First Baptist church at Bloomfield, will bring the evening's message.

A potluck dinner will be held at noon and women of the church plan to serve a lunch late in the afternoon. There will be a period of fellowship following the afternoon program. An invitation is extended to all friends and former members of the church to take part in any or all of the day's activities.

Also, Mrs. Marlowe (Marian Abbas) Reinholdt, who is a pastor's wife at Newton; and Mrs. Arnold (Myrna Van Gerpen) Vander Muelen, whose husband is attached to the staff of Pacific Garden Mission, Chicago, Ill.

MR. AND MRS. LAMBERT PALS, JR.

OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY TO MARK "50TH" OF MR., MRS. L. PALS, JR.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Pals, Jr., will observe their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday by holding open house for relatives and friends at their home, 307 Fourth avenue SE. All are invited to greet them between the hours of 2:00 and 5:00 p. m.

Mr. Pals and Marie Stadtlander were married June 21, 1917, at the home of the bride's foster mother,

Emma (Mrs. Christ) Stadtlander. They lived on the farm where Mr. Pals was born, then owned by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Pals, Sr.

They operated the farm until 1947, when they moved to the home they'd had built for themselves in Belmond.

Their son Alvin now farms the family place, a short distance east of the Immanuel Reformed church on the County U blacktop. Their other children are sons Johan and Marvin, who also farm near Belmond. A daughter died in infancy.

Clinic scheduled for baby-sitters

"How to become a better baby-sitter" will be the subject of a three-day course being planned by the American Legion Auxiliary under the direction of Mrs. Carroll Bamford and Mrs. Ardeth Paule.

Hour-and-a-half sessions starting at 1:00 p. m. at the library basement will be held on July 10-11-12, Monday through Wednesday. Any Belmond girls — or boys, for that matter — of age 12 or over who would like to earn some money baby-sitting are not only welcome but urged to attend.

Adults who do baby-sitting may also want to hear the advice to be offered, Mrs. Bamford and Mrs. Paule suggest. A feature of the clinic will be the airing of complaints; and the co-directors of the program invite mothers to jot down any they might have. These may be left at the library or given to Mrs. Bamford or Mrs. Paule.

The also ask that advance registrations be phoned to them or left at the library. Mrs. Paule's phone number is 2280 and Mrs. Bamford's 5195.

Several professional people will speak to the "students" on problems they may face when baby-sitting. Literature will be distributed and an effort is being made to obtain a movie pertaining to the subject. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Bamford says, "This is being set up in the manner of a pilot program, to see what sort of a response it obtains. If it is successful, similar clinics may be conducted annually."

MINOR SHELLER DIES

Word has been received by former friends here of the death on June 14 of Minor Sheller at Mount Pine, Ark. He was a barber here in the 'twenties.

PERMA-STAMP — the pocket stamp that goes wherever you go — neat and clean — ready for instant use WITHOUT AN INK PAD!

Your light-weight PERMA-STAMP Pocket Stamp is perfect as a personal signature stamp . . . a time-saving check endorsement stamp . . . or a name and address stamp for imprinting envelopes, identifying books and other personal or household items.

Every impression is crisp and clean — as if it came off a printing press. Smallest details and finest lines are reproduced with consistent clarity and cleanliness.

Best of all, a PERMA-STAMP Pocket Stamp costs little more than an old-fashioned rubber stamp.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS ON THE NEW FREEDOM SHARES

Q. What are "Freedom Shares"?
A. This is the designation given to the Treasury's new United States Savings Notes, now available for purchase along with Series E Savings Bonds.

Q. What is the interest rate on Freedom Shares?
A. 4.74%, compounded semi-annually, when held for the full 4½ years to maturity.

Q. Can they be cashed before maturity?
A. Yes, after one year. However, interest rate will be less if cashed before maturity, i.e. 4.01% after 1 year and 4.50% after 3 years.

Q. What do they cost?
A. They are issued only in face amounts of $25, $50, $75 and $100 with corresponding purchase prices of $20.25, $40.50, $60.75 and $81.00.

Q. Is there an annual limit on holdings?
A. Yes. $1,350 (face amount) issued in any one calendar year to any one person.

Q. Who may buy Freedom Shares?
A. Any individual who purchases Series E bonds on either the Bond-A-Month Plan or the Payroll Savings Plan.

Q. What is the Bond-A-Month Plan?
A. This is a plan where an individual authorizes his bank to make monthly deductions from his checking or savings account to purchase for him either Series E Bonds or the Freedom Share Bond combination. Maximum Freedom Share deduction allowable is $81.00 per month.

Q. What is the Payroll Savings Plan?
A. This is a plan where an employee authorizes his employer to make deductions from his salary for the purchase of Series E bonds or the Freedom Share bond combination. Maximum Freedom Share deduction allowable is $20.25 per weekly pay period or $40.50 per bi-weekly or semi-monthly pay period, or $81.00 per monthly pay period.

Q. May I buy Freedom Shares separately?
A. No. They must be bought in conjunction with Series E Bonds of the same or larger face amounts. For example, a $25 Freedom Share may be purchased with each $25 E bond, when secured through Bond-A-Month or Payroll Savings.

Q. Are Freedom Shares subject to taxation?
A. The same as Series E bonds. The interest is subject to Federal income tax, but may be deferred until maturity or redemption, whichever comes first. Interest is not subject to state income tax or local taxes.

Ribbons go to winners—

Own "Olympics" held by Cub Pack

What was scheduled at the May pack meeting of local Cub Scouts was held Monday evening at Luick was held Monday evening of last week at Luick Memorial Swimming Pool grounds in the form of a picnic. Rain had twice caused its postponement.

Highlight of the event was a "Cub Scout Olympics," in which winners were presented with ribbons that had been made by Mrs. Ted Besch, Den Mother of Den 1.

50-yard dash — (eight-year olds) 1. Bryan Hayes, 2. Pat Dorr; (nine-year-olds) 1. Randy Dougherty and David Harty tied, 2. Richard Wilson; (10-year-olds) — 1. Duane Summers, 2. Gary Pals.

Sack race — (eight) 1. Ted Besch, 2. Pat Dorr, Mark McLaughlin tied; (nine) 1. Ricky Summers, 2. Richard Wilson; (10) 1. Duane Summers, 2. Clay Trager.

Javelin throw — (eight) 1. Ted Besch, 2. Pat Dorr; (nine) 1. Brian Eekhoff, 2. Tad Gabrielson; (10) 1. Gary Larkin, 2. Chuck Classick.

One-foot noperoo — (eight) 1. Pat Dorr, 2. Ted Besch, Bryan Hayes tied; (nine) 1. David Harty, 2 Randy Dougherty; (10) 1. Duane Summers, 2. Clay Trager.

Crab race — (eight) 1. Ted Besch, 2. Andy Swenson; (nine) 1. Doug Hawley, 2. Randy Dougherty; (10) 1. Duane Summers, 2. Mark Tendall.

Tug-of-wars saw Den 7 beat Den 1, Den 2 defeat Den 5, and Den 6 winner over the Webelos.

A number of gold an silver arrows are due various Cubs, some of them to replace similar awards lost in the tornado and otherwise. Denner bars were earned by Mark Tendall, Joe Larson, Jerry Greenwood, Dean Dippel, Gary Larkin and Charles Classick.

Next meeting of Pack 16 will be on July 31 on the north shore of Lake Cornelia. There will be a cook-out, with each Cub's family to bring food for itself. Swimming and fishing will follow, weather permitting.

M. C. sophs beat Broncs in opener

A good try was made Wednesday night of last week by the BHS baseball team to get their summer season off to a winning start, but they couldn't quite get the job done. Mason City's sophomores went home with a 7-6 victory after a Bronco rally in the seventh inning fell short Belmond grabbed a 1-0 lead in the opening frame when Jim Studebaker gained base on an error as the first batter and later was singled home by Tim Roberts.

Rick Hawley pitched the first three innings for Belmond and his inability to find the plate gave the visitors three unearned runs in the second. Belmond tallied once on a passed ball in the 5th; but Mason City came back with three more unearned runs in the 6th and added another in the top of the 7th.

Doubles by Ron Ginapp and Dave Dirks in the Broncos' final frame, along with a single by Don Havens brought four runs in and advanced the tying run to third base. But the Mohawk pitcher got control of matters at that point an no one was able to bring Havens in with the tying counter.

Terry Nelson hurled the last four innings for the losers and gave up four of the victors' five hits. Belmond got six hits, two by Havens, but only one man reached base on balls compared to five passes issued by the Bronco moundsmen.

Three games are coming up for the Broncos in the next week's time. Friday they play Dows here, on Monday they play a return game with the Mohawk sophs at Mason City, and next Wednesday they will play host to Forest City.

Game time for the local affairs will be 8:00 p. m. and for the game at Mason City, 7:30 o'clock.

Proceedings of the Wright County Board of Supervisors

Published below are the official proceedings of the Wright County Board of Supervisors. The publication appears in the interest of all county residents, town and rural.

May 15, 1967
Clarion, Iowa

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met in adjourned session at at the Court House in Clarion with the following members present: Ed Kennedy, Chairman, Walter Weidemann, George E. Heard and G. C. Whyte, with the County Auditor in attendance. Supervisor Wendell Duitscher was absent.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The Public Health Nurses made a report of their activities for the month of April 1967.

Newt Draheim, Evert McGarth, Harlan Larson and Jim Houser of the Wright County Bar Assosiation met with the Board for the purpose of discussing the crowded conditions in the Court House, especially the Clerk's offic and vault. They made the suggestion that a study be made of the court house to see what can be done to provide more space and pledged themselves to do what they can to provide more space and pledged themselves to do what they can to help. Newt presented a copy of a letter he had from Toenjes-Stenson & Warm, a firm of architects and engineers in Waterloo. This firm has had much experience in building and remodeling court houses. An appointment will be made with this firm immediately for the purpose of discussing the possibility of their making a comprehensive study of the Wright County court house.

Motion by Whyte, seconded by Weidemann, to remit one-fourth only of the 1966 real estate taxes payable in 1967 on the Center 1/3 and North 60.4 feet of East 1/3 of Lot 8, Block 21, Belmond, owned by Selma Griesy, on account of loss by tornado on October 14, 1966 and no insurance coverage. Motion carried.

Mr. George Cummins, Blue Cross-Blue Shield representative, met with the Board in connection with the health insurance contract carried by county employees. He was informed that the County would not participate in any health insurance plan for county employees by paying any part of the premium. Mr Cummins explained that the group will probably be dissolved by reason of not having the required percentage of employees.

Motion by Whyte, seconded by Weidemann, to abate $148.46 of the second half of the 1966 personal taxes of Hagles Hybrids, Inc. as some of the property had been transferred to another company and had been assessed twice. Motion carried.

Chairman Kennedy appointed Walter Weidemann and Conger Whyte to count cash in the Treasurer's office at 8 o'clock A. M., on June 1, 1967 in accordance with Code Section 452.6

Clarion, Iowa

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met in adjourned session at the Court House in Clarion with the following members present: Ed Kennedy, Chairman, Walter Weidemann, G. C. Whyte and Wendell Duitscher, with the County Auditor in attendance. Supervisor George E. Heard was absent.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Walter Weidemann and G. C. Whyte, previously appointed to count cash in the Treasurer's office on June 1, 1967 at 8 o'clock A. M., reported $79,276.21 cash and checks on hand. Motion by Whyte, seconded by Weidemann, to accept report. Motion carried.

Joe Gunderson, member of the Wright County Soldier's Relief Commission, submitted a letter of resignation from the Commission, effective June 30, 1967. Motion was made by Whyte, seconded by Weidemann, to accept said resignation. Motion carried.

Mr. Ivan V. Warm, engineer, from the firm Toenjes-Stenson & Warm, met with the Board to discuss possible alterations to the court house. Also present were Newt Draheim, Harlan Larson and Roy Henderson, members of the Wright County Bar Association. There was a general discussion. Mr. Warm explained that his firm could make a comprehensive study of existing conditions and submit plans and recommendations. Their fees are a percentage of the costs. Mr. Warm made a tour of inspection of the court house with the attorneys. The Board will take this under advisement pending the return of Supervisor Heard. They will advise Mr. Warm of their decision.

Motion by Weidemann, seconded by Duitscher, to reappoint Ted Hartzell of Dows to the Soldiers' Relief Commission for a period of three years from July 1, 1967. Motion carried.

Frank Champlin, Ted Hartzell and Joe Gunderson, all members of the Wright County Soldiers' Relief Commission, met with the Board to discuss a replacement for Joe Gunderson, who is resigning. No action will be taken on this until Supervisor Heard returns.

Motion by Weidemann, seconded by Whyte, to approve application of Hazel Clifford, d/b/a Clifford's Standard Service, for retail cigarette permit. Motion carried.

The following claims were read and allowed.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the Auditor of Wright County, Iowa, until 10 o'clock A. M., CDST, on the 6th day of July, 1967, for the

1. Re-construction of the Main Line Open Ditch.
2. Re-construction, repairs and additions to the Tile of the Main.
3. Re-construction of the Lateral No. 2 Open Ditch.

DRAINAGE DISTRICT NO. 10 of Wright County, Iowa. The Contract Documents consisting of Plans, Specifications, Advertisement for Bids, Bid and Bond Forms, Instructon to Bidders, and related documents are now on file in the office of the County Auditor, Clarion, Iowa, and may be examined there by interested parties and at the office of the Currie Engineering Company, Webster City, Iowa.

The Contract Documents may be obtained from the Currie Engineering Company of Webster City, Iowa, upon making a deposit of $10.00, all of which will be refunded if the documents are returned in good condition within 15 days after the receiving of bids. Material Suppliers will be furnished without charge lists of quantities and specificatons for the materials they wish to quote to the bidders.

Cash or a certified check in the amount of 10% of the bid but not to exceed $10,000 drawn on a solvent Iowa bank and made payable to the County Auditor of Wright County, Iowa, must accompany each bid. All bids must be on the form furnished by the County. If a bidder receives an award and fails to execute a contract and post a bond approved by the Contracting Authority within 10 days after being notified of award, his bid security may be forfeited as liquidated damages.

Bids will be opened, read and acted upon promptly after the time set for the receiving of bids.

The successful bidder must furnish a performance bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price conditioned on the executing of the contract according to the conditions thereof.

The work consists of approximately the following items required for the re-construction and improvements:

Unclassified excavation, 114,000 cu. yds.; bank leveling, 10.072 miles; CMP inlets, 2,100 feet; drop inlets, 8 — 18" to 30".

Relaying 20" to 28" tile, 4,436 feet; backfill over tile in overflow ditch, 2,000 cu. yds.; 48" CMP culvert through Railroad grade; fertilizer and seed, 7.6 acres.

Junction box, 1; headwall, 1; fence removal, 670 rods; new fence, 10 rods.

The work will be started within 30 days after the execution of the contract and completed within one year.

Payments will be made to the Contractor in warrants drawing 4% interest on the basis of 80% estimates issued monthly.

By virtue of statutory authority a preference will be given to products and provisions grown and coal produced within the State of Iowa and to Iowa domestic labor.

The work will be awarded in its entirety to one bidder.

The Contracting Authority reserves the right to hold the bid security on the two lowest bidders for 15 days and to waive informalities and to reject any or all bids.

Published upon order of the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, on June 5, 1967.

Next Thursday evening—

Plan twilight tour of test plots

The Wright County Extension Service has two demonstration plots at the Mrs. Pearl Robie farm immediately south of Clarion just east of County K. Floyd Robie is the operator and cooperating with the plots. They are to be included in a "twilight tour" under sponsorship of the extension service next Thursday evening, starting at 5:30 o'clock.

Bob Bernhardt, county extension director, reports that there are five of the herbicides most commonly used in this area plus check rows in the demonstration plot. In addition to the herbicide test plot for corn, there is a bean variety plot checking 16 different varieties of beans.

The plots will be marked, so anyone interested may observe the plots throughout the growing season. Bob urges all farmers, chemical dealers and seed dealers to visit the plots.

Among the dealers and chemical companies who have cooperated with the extension service in setting up the plots is Armour Agricultural Chemical company, Belmond.

In addition to the extension-sponsored plots, the tour will include a visit to the Lloyd Drury farm and to the experimental plots at the Hagie farm. At the Drury farm may be seen what may become a revolutionary method of planting corn — the Buffalo Tiller.

John Hagie, of Hagie Manufacturing, has set up experimental plots using many different herbicides. These products have been applied in combinations, and also at different rates, also include pre- and ferent rates, and include pre- and post-emergence herbicides.

At the end of the tour the crowd is invited to go back to the Clarion Recreation Park for a watermelon feed, furnished by the Allied Chemical company.

Dr E P Sylwester, extension weed specialist from Iowa State university, will be on hand for the tour to discuss weed control and answer questions any farmers or chemical dealers may have.

From 5:30 to 6:15 p. m. the tour will visit the Robie farm, a mile south of Clarion on County K and a quarter-mile east. At 6:30 it will arrive at the Drury farm, 5½ miles east of Clarion and a half-mile north on Highway 69 — or 6½ miles south of Belmond.

After a half-hour there, the tour will move on to the Hagie farm after assembling at 7:30 o'clock at the Hagie Manufacturing plant on the west side of Clarion. An hour will be spent at this farm, followed by adjournment to the Clarion park for discussion and questions, and free watermelon.

Should rain interfere with the tour plans, it will be postponed until the next evening.

MAY JOIN HONORS PROGRAM

Ted Berns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Berns, has been invited to join the University of Iowa Honors Program when he enrolls this fall on the Iowa City campus as a freshman. Those are invited to participate whose scores on the American College Testing Program entrance examinations indicate they will rank in the top 10 per cent of the freshman class.

60 from Wright 4-H'er district camp delegates

Sixty Wright county 4-H members were attending district 4-H camp Wednesday through Friday of last week at the Methodist Camp on the south shore of Cleak Lake. These members and their chaperones were among nearly 500 4-H'ers from 10 counties in the north Iowa area attending the camp.

"The First H — Head" was the theme of the 1967 camp program. Guest speakers for the afternoon general assemblies included: Bob Lux, Charles City high school instructor, the keynote speaker on Wednesday; Mrs. Oscar Branstad, Forest City, speaker on Thursday; and Newt Draheim, Clarion lawyer, on Friday.

Spiritual speaker for the campfire Wednesday evening was Karl Killshom of Algona. Glen Thompson, Iowa State university recreation specialist, trained junior leaders to assist him with the recreation in Wednesday evening's program and the classes on Thursday morning.

Junior leaders from Wright county helping with the camp program were Ron Holmes of Goldfield and Mary Drury of Clarion.

Each morning the 4-H campers participated in special classes that included water safety, gun safety, careers, crafts and use of NIAC college recreational facilities in area. Outdoor recreation were a big part of the camp activities every afternoon until evening assembly time.

Among the 4-H'ers from this area who were delegates to the camp are Janice Waltzing, Nancy Barkema, Marlene Suntken and Mary Suntken.

PEPPY PALS DEFEATED

Last Friday evening the Belmond Community Girls softball team, coached by Jean Coulson, defeated the Pleasant Peppy Pals on the BHS diamond. It was something less than a pitchers' duel, the summer recreation team winning 18 to 12.

JEFF MAKES HONOR ROLL

Jeffrey Kessler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kessler, was one of 58 students attending Simpson college at Indianola who earned inclusion on the President's and Dean's List during the second semester by achieving grade-point averages of 3.5 or better. Jeff was a freshman this past year.

NOTICE

Resolution for the Destruction of Noxious Weeds.

TO ALL PROPERTY OWNERS:

Be It Resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa:

That, pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 317, Code of Iowa, 1966, it is hereby ordered:

1. That each owner and each person in the possession or control of any lands in Wright County, shall cut, burn, or otherwise destroy all noxious weeds thereon, as defined in this chapter, at such times in each year and in such manner as shall prevent said weeds from blooming or coming to maturity, shall adopt a program of weed destruction, prescribed by the Weed Commissioner, which in five years may be expected to destroy and will immediately keep under control such infestations of said noxious weeds, and shall keep said lands free from such growth of any other weeds as shall render the streets or highways adjoining said lands unsafe for public travel.

The following weeds are hereby declared to be noxious and shall be divided into two classs, namely:

A. Primary Noxious Weeds, which shall include Quack Grass, Perennial Sow Thistle, Canada Thistle, Bull Thistle, European Morning Glory or Field Bindweed, Horse Nettle, Leafy Spurge, Perennial Peppergrass, Russian Knapweed, Buckthorn and all other thistles belonging in genera of Cirsium and Carduus.

B. Secondary Noxious Weeds, shall include Butter-Print Annual, Cocklebur Annual, Wild Mustard Annual, Wild Carrot Biennial, Buckhorn Perennial, Sheep Sorrel Perennial, Sour Dock Perennial, Smooth Dock Perennial, and Puncture Vine Annual.

2. CUTTING DATES: The following dates are suggested for the first cutting or destruction of the twenty noxious weeds. Cutting to prevent seeding will not eradicate perennial weeds. Spraying is more effective and should be done two weeks earlier in every instance.

Group 1 — (May 20 to June 5) Leafy Spurge, Perennial Peppergrass, Sour Dock, Smooth Dock, Sheep Sorrel.

Group 2 — (June 1 to 15) Canada Thistle, Russian Knapweed, Buckhorn, Wild Mustard.

Group 3 — (July 1 to 15) Field Bindweek, Wild Carrot.

Group 4 — (July 1 to 15) Horse Nettle, Perennial Sow Thistle, Quack Grass, Butter-Print, Puncture Vine, Cocklebur, Bull Thistle.

3. That if the owners or persons in possession or control of any lands in Wright County fail to comply with the foregoing orders, the Weed Commissioner shall cause said weeds to be destroyed and the cost thereof, including costs of serving notice and other costs, if any, will be assessed against the real estate on which the noxious weeds are destroyed. The actual work of destruction will not be commenced until five days after the service of a notice in writing on the landowner and on the person in possession or in control of the land.

4. That the County Auditor be, and she is hereby directed to cause notice of the making and entering of the foregoing orders by on publication in each of the official newspapers of the County.

ON DEAN'S LIST WITH 4.0

Royce Van Gerpen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Gerpen, was one of 33 juniors at Wartburg college, Waverly, named to the Dean's List for academic accomplishment during the second semester of the past school year. A 3.5 grade-point average is the minimum a student may achieve to receive this recognition. Royce outdid the large majority of the scholars in his class, being one of only six who earned 4.0 averages.

Big rig tumbled by soft shoulder

A soft shoulder spelled trouble for Earl Peterson, 35, of Fort Dodge early Monday of last week. The shoulder adjoined Highway 69-3, where the road curves past the rest area eight miles south of Belmond.

When the tractor-trailer Peterson was driving north for Ellsworth Frieght Line of Eagle Grove dipped a right front tire into the muddy strip, he lost control of the rig and it tipped across the highway and tied up traffic over the concrete for five hours.

Investigating officers Sheriff Bob Blecker, Patrolman Bill James and Ron Gearhart of the Clarion police department estimated damage to the tractor at $7,000 and to the trailer — a total loss — $2,000. Another $256 damage was done to a

Peterson suffered head laceraload of candy aboard the trailer. tions and a mild concussion and was taken to Belmond Community hospital. He was still there Tuesday afternoon, but his release was due shortly.

Meyer resigns welfare position

Wright county's board of social welfare is scouting for a new welfare director after advice from Keith Meyer that he is resigning from that post effective Aug. 15.

He plans to enroll this fall at Florida State university at Tallahassee to work toward a Master's degree in social work. He has been Wright's welfare director since July 1 of last year, following the retirement of Margaret Bailey.

Mr. Meyer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Meyer of Dows.

While he has held his county position, he and his wife have been living at Goldfield. During the past year, Mrs. Meyer was a teacher in the Boone Valley Community school system at Renwick.

LLOYD'S SERVICE GIVEN STANDARD OIL CITATION

Lloyd Lerdal, proprietor of Lloyd's Standard Service, has been presented the "TOP Award" by the Standard Oil division of American Oil company, it is announced by District Manager F. W. Roos of Davenport.

The TOP program is a national effort in which Standard dealers cooperate with the company in keying up their overall service station operations for the heavy travel season, Mr. Roos explains.

The TOP Award signifies Total Overall Performance. To qualify the dealer must attain high scores for station cleanliness, attractive displays, sanitary rest rooms, trained personnel and courteous service.

LINCOLN CRUSADE BROUGHT IN PROCEEDS TOTALING $141

In last week's story on 1967 Cancer Crusade proceeds from towns and townships in Wright county, the campaign total from Lincoln township was inadvertantly omitted. With John Lager, Jr., as drive chairman, Lincoln gave a total of $141.77.

Mrs. Roger Keppers of Clarion, who was Crusade chairman, advises that another new director has been added to the board of the Wright county chapter of the American Cancer Society. He is Richard Stevens, who was co-chairman of the Crusade in Eagle Grove.

It will still be necessary to raise sufficient funds via this tax to pay for the sewage plant's operation; so there is no possibility that it can be wholly eliminated.

Also, when all the bonds have been retired the sewage treatment plant will be nearly 20 years old and it is entirely possible that by that time replacement of some parts and equipment may begin to be necessary.

On the other hand, some very major improvements in the water plant are imminently necessary — and a story regarding them will be forthcoming in The Independent soon. To pay for these improvements, comments the city clerk, a raise in basic water rates will be inevitable.

But with the need for sewer rental tax revenue reduced, the city fathers are hopeful that the water plant improvements can be financed without any raise in present quarterly charges for water.

Had not the sewer rental tax been used as efficiently as it has been, a boost over the present level of water plus sewer rental charges would almost certainly have been necessary to pay for the water plant improvements.

Bruce Hill sent back to Eldora

Bruce Hill, 16, was taken into custody by Sheriff Bob Blecker on Tuesday of last week and on Friday returned by Parole Officer Richard Pettigrew to the Eldora state training school for violation of parole. The revocation of parole was prompted by the theft of two bicycles from the Luick Memorial Swimming Pool grounds early this month.

No action was taken against Hill's companion, as he has not chalked up a record of delinquency corresponding to that of Hill, who had been committed to Eldora earlier this year after involvement in a number of scrapes.

They were reported by a witness to have taken the bikes; but when Officer Jerry Lanigan summoned Deputy Sheriff Bob Shaw to question them they denied having done so.

Shaw suggested he did not believe them, and that the bikes had better be left at the city hall by 6:00 p. m. They were.

Wright now lags behind its quota in buying bonds

Wright county for the first time since the start of this year slipped in April behind the pace necessary for it to attain its quota in U. S. saving bonds purchases for 1967. Residents bought bonds in the amount of $40,615 during the month, making Wright's four-month total $247,224.

This represented only 30 per cent of quota for the first third of the year, whereas the state as a whole had attained 32 per cent of the Iowa quota.

Only two counties adjoining Wright were "on schedule" or better for the first four months. They were Kossuth, with 44 per cent on purchases that came to $342,230, and Franklin, which had achieved 42 per cent of its quota on purchases totalling $207,275.

Humboldt matched Wright's quota pace with 30 per cent on $189,743 worth of bonds bought. All other neighboring counties did less well through April than Wright had:

Hardin, 28 per cent on $277,855 in bonds; Webster, 26 per cent on a $496,212 total; Cerro Gordo and Hamilton each 25 per cent on respective totals of $358,918 and $216,602; and Hancock 22 per cent on $154,577.

E. F. Bisbey of Clarion, Wright's volunteer bonds chairman, urges, "If you have not yet signed up to purchase the new Freedom Shares where you work or where you bank, I urge you to do so.

"This new security which went on sale May 1 is a very good investment and your purchases will help support our servicemen in Vietnam."

MRS. TOM REVLAND — PH. 5-8921

BRUNES TO OBSERVE 50TH ANNIVERSARY ON COMING TUESDAY

On Tuesday of next week, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brunes will observe their Golden Wedding anniversary. Herman Brunes and Anna Rust were married on that date — June 27 — in 1917 at the rural home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harm Rust.

Following their marriage they spent three years at Ortonville, Minn., then returning to a family farm near Goodell and they have lived in this community for all the 47 years that have passed since then.

They have three daughters: Ethel of Belmond, Belva and Canoga Park, Calif., and Annalee of Des Moines; also a son Stanton. The latter and his wife Helen, who also farm near Goodell, have three sons, Steven, Don and Kevin.

Dale Brede was a guest Sunday in the home of Floyd Fiero at Garner. Dale also visited a friend, Pete Harsen who is visiting here from Arizona.

Mrs. Henrietta Wilkins had as surprise visitors Sunday afternoon her sister, Mrs. Martha Bachman of Ventura, accompanied by Mrs. Bob Bachman and Kathy of Orland, Calif. The latter Mrs. Bachman, the former Dorothy Sheller of Belmond, had been called to Kansas by the death of her father, Minor Sheller, who left Belmond a number of years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones and Mr. and Mrs. "Shorty" Klinefelter and children returned home Thursday of last week, after spending a week in northern Minnesota fishing.

Boys' ball teams pick their names, captains

Don Hoppel, director of the boys' summer recreation program, reports that captains were elected and names chosen Monday afternoon by the teams that will be playing in the three leagues. A story elsewhere in this issue, which lists the various teams' personnel, identified the teams only by number.

According to those numbers, names and co-captains were picked as follows:

T-Ball league — Team 1, Dodgers, Co-Captains Dalon Obrecht and Brian Eekhoff; Team 2, Giants, Craig Patterson and Tad Gabrielson; Team 3, Cubs, Scott Hickman anda Dennis Lowenberg; Team 4, Twins, Randy Elphic and Ricky Summers.

Peewee league — Team 1, Panthers, Doug Lowenberg and Brian McVey; Team 2, MoHawks, Mark Havens and Lee Laaveg; Team 3, Giants, Gerald Thompson and Greg Miland.

Midget league — Team 1, Cardinals, Darrell Bemrich and Nick Classick; Team 2, Redlegs, Fred Erdman and Jim Pollitt; Team 3, Cubs, Dave Snyder and Joey McLaughlin; Team 4, Tigers, Sam McLaughlin and Joel Laaveg.

Play began Wednesday of this week with T-Ball teams 1-4 and Peewee teams 1-3 meeting in the afternoon. Tonight at 6:00 o'clock T-Ball teams 2-3 will clash and at 6:45 Midget teams 1-4.

Schedule for the rest of this month is: June 23 — Peewees 1-2, 1:00 p. m., and Midgets 2-3, 2:00 p. m.; June 26 — T-Ball 1-3, 1:00 p. m., and Peewees 2-3, 1:45 p. m.; June 27 — T-Ball 2-4, 6:00 p. m., and Midget 1-3, 6:45 p. m.

June 28 — Peewees 1-2, 1:00 p. m., and Midgets 2-4, 2:00 p. m.; June 29 — Peewees 2-3, 6:00 p. m., and Midgets 1-2, 7:00 p. m.; June 30 — T-Ball 1-2, 1:00 p. m., and Midgets 3-4, 1:45 p. m.

Roberts, Nelson win track titles

Terry Nelson and Tim Roberts stepped back into track shoes last Saturday to compete in the senior division of the Junior Chamber of Commerce track and field meet conducted at Roosevelt Field, Mason City, and looked anything but "rusty."

Tim was one of three double winners, taking the high jump with a good leap of 5 ft. 10 in. and the broad jump with a distance of 19-4¾. Terry won the discus with a toss of 146-4 and placed second to Tim in the high jump.

Loren Bechtum of Osage was also a double winner, the North Iowa conference hurdles champ taking the highs in :15.9 and lows in :21.4.

PLEASANT PEPPY PALS

A Father-Daughter dinner was held Saturday evening at the home of Loren Kalkwarf by the Pleasant Peppy Pals 4-H club. The girls' fathers were entertained by a program that included poems, a skit and games. Boxes of homemade candy were presented to the fathers.

Regular meeting of the Peppy Pals was held following the dinner and program. The members decided to camp overnight at Beed's Lake, near Hampton, sometime in July Janice Waltzing gave a demonstration, "Table Settings."

Miss Diane Draper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Draper, became the bride of David Lieberknecht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lieberknecht, on Friday evening, June 2, at the Methodist church. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Maurice Jones.

Mrs. Don Cleveland, organist, played the nuptial music and accompanied Rhonda Kamm as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," the latter as the couple knelt at the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length French Chantilly lace gown and a waterfall veil. She carried a white Bible decorated with streamer of white miniature roses, a gift of the groom.

Janice Draper, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Gary Draper, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Larry Main were bridesmaids. Their identical floor-length dresses were blue taffeta of empire waist design.

Kirk Lieberknecht, brother of the groom, served as best man. Gary Draper, brother of the bride, and Larry Main were groomsmen. They wore black tuxedoes with white carnation boutonnieres.

The flower girl was Ann Brooks and the ring-bearer Mitchell Ersland. Ann wore a white organza dress which her grandmother, Mrs. Joe Brooks, had made. The ring-bearer was attired like the other male attendants.

Candlelighters were Arlyn and Allyn Boelman, cousins of the groom. Wayne Schlichting, Arland Clark and Duane Mennenga were the ushers.

Susan Draper, sister of the bride, presided at the guest book. Gift pages were Jolene and Joan Lieberknecht, sisters of the groom, and Marcia and Patti Spitler. Bette Ammoson, Mrs. Wayne Schlichting, Mrs. Dave Abele and Claudia Voigt arranged the gifts.

The mother of the bride wore an off white, three-piece suit and the groom's mother a white dress, each with white accessories and corsages of white miniature carnations with white miniature roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 250 guests was held in the church parlor. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gordon served as host and hostess.

The four-tiered cake was cut by Mrs. Jack Spliter and Mrs. Richard Brooks. Mrs. Larry Bubeck, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Joe Smith poured the coffee. Marilyn Draper, sister of the bride, dipped the punch.

Waitresses were Fern Meyer, Norma Watne, Sharon Cummings, Cheryl Milligan, Laurie Holmgaard and Roberta Story.

For going away, the bride wore a three-piece white suit. After a trip to Canada, the newlyweds are at home at 217 River Avenue N. in Belmond. The bride is employed at the We 3 Market and the groom is working at OK Tire Supply this summer.

Family gathering held in honor of S/Sgt. Pat Dillon

A family gathering was held Saturday at the M. H. Dillon home honoring S/Sgt. Pat Dillon who is home on a month's leave. Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Dillon and family of Hampton and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Dillon and childhen were present.

Douglas Thompson honored at dinner after confirmation

Mr. and Mrs. Chet Hill and Jane and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hill attended confirmation services on Sunday at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Stanhope, at which Douglas Thompson was a confirmant. They were dinner guest, following the services, at the Milford Thompson home at Jewell.

Belmond "Crusaders" too generous—or just smart?

When Dorothy Steinberg and Jo Kintzi turned in their report on Belmond's giving to the 1967 Cancer Crusade a couple of weeks ago, it was accompanied by an apology that as co-chairmen of the campaign they'd unhappily seen it bring in $130 less than in 1966. We've been doing a bit of figuring on the matter and believe we can salve their disappointment.

First off, we might say that we regard it somewhat problematical that Belmond's population has returned — yet — to the 2,506 level at which it stood in 1960, what with a few families leaving following the tornado and there still being less occupiable houses here than there were a year ago.

But for our purposes, we used the 2,506 figure to ascertain what per capita donation was represented by the $1,566 that the Cancer Crusade here brought in last spring. It figures out to 64 cents per man, woman and child.

Is that good? Well, Clarion's per capita average of giving toward the Crusade was 45 cents; Eagle Grove's was 39 cents; and for the county as a whole, the per capita average was 38.7 cents. That make you feel better, girls?

The statewide per capita average for the 1966 Cancer Crusade was 26.7 cents. Belmond's giving this year was more than two and one-third times as high! North Marion chapter, which led the state last year in per capita donation size, gave 51.2 cents per person. Makes Belmond's 1967 achievement look pretty good, doesn't it?

Just for the record, the most liberal townships in support of the '67 Crusade and their per capita figures were: Iowa, 48 cents; Eagle Grove, 41 cents; Dayton 39 cents; Norway and Belmond, each 36 cents.

As usual, Wright county as a whole will rank well up among the leading counties in all of Iowa as to support of this year's Cancer Crusade — and a very major factor will be the generosity displayed by Belmond. Who says the tornado has us feeling sorry for ourselves and sitting on our pocketbooks?

It might justifiably be asked, is such generous support of the Cancer Crusade as Belmond's really to the point?

The answer to that, we would say, is that research and public education that Crusade dollars have made possible have literally saved many, many hundreds of thousands of lives. Advancements in treatment — and in some types of cancer, actual methods of cure — steadily increase the number of lives saved annually.

The more funds the American Cancer Society has to work with, the more its program is expedited — and the greater becomes the likelihood that a life may be saved right in the immediate family of an individual donor or his close circle of friends.

That being the case, we choose to believe that the people of Belmond are only "smarter" than most in their generous support of the Cancer Crusade. We hope from the facts here given, that Mrs. Steinberg and Mrs. Kintzi will fully appreciate that that's pretty smart.

Girl-watchers! Make that hobby PAY!

It was with more than casual interest that we studied a market chart we saw recently in print that drew a parallel between rising stock prices and rising hemlines. Believe it or not, over the past 70 years practically every market boom of consequence has been accompanied by shorter skirts.

Of course, back before the turn of the century there was simply no place to go but up, where skirts were concerned. In the early 'nineties, though, the market took an upturn and hemlines directly followed. (Clear above the ankles! Wow!)

A decline in stocks shortly thereafter was accompanied by a return of floor-length skirts and modesty prevailed until the boom that World War I brought with it saw the hemline respond with an altitude record — some eight or nine inches off the ground. Before a recession in the early 'twenties briefly brought back a well-draped demureness, the wartime skirt levitated to a giddy three or four inches below the knee.

During the Roaring 'Twenties that led to the bust of '29, hemlines practically went into orbit — along with the market. Above-the-knee skirts and rolled-top stockings provided the best girl-watching that the boys on the corner had ever feasted upon as the market rampaged and stock prices vied with hemlines in a breathtaking altitude race.

When the market collapsed, skirts sympathetically descended and the day of the exposed thigh became a dimming memory. By 1940, the recovering market encouraged a timid climb of the hemline. Watching the skirts go by was becoming a tolerably worthwhile spare-time occupation when the ascension was briefly interrupted by "tight times" of the mid-fifties that brought a fashion response in the form of the dirndl.

It really wasn't a severe set-back for the girl-watchers, though, as the dirndl cooperated admirably with vagrant breezes. Fact of the matter is, the peasant garb had a good deal to recommend it when compared to the shorter but tight-fitting sheath that followed.

That brings us to what might be called the "Xerox Period" on the stock market, which has offered a challenge that could only be met by the mini-skirt. And there you have it.

Each rise in the hemline has had its counterpart in a rise in the market — or vice versa. Some research is needed to determine which has come first, the "chicken" (if we may revive a colloquialism of yesteryear) or the golden egg. But there seems to be an unquestionable relationship.

One possibility has occurred to us. Could it be that the market declines inevitably FOLLOW an elevation of the hemline? There's no denying that the mini-skirt IS a distraction; and if financiers, as a group, permit their minds to stray, might not the market conceivably wobble as a result?

Collegian takes poetical pot-shot at protesters

Without any comment — because none seems necessary — we'd like to pass on a poetical comment on the collegiate protest movement that was published last month in an issue of The College Eye, campus newspaper of the State College of Iowa. It's author was Randy Brandmeyer, BHS Class of '63.

"Gather 'round folks and I'll tell you the story . . . Of how to become an un-American boy. . . . Ya get yourself a guitar, and a plastic pick, . . . A multi-purpose protest card and nail it to a stick.

"You can shout at all the servicemen . . . And even make 'em yield, . . . And forget about your ancestors . . . Who lay dead in Flanders Field.

"For your mouth has grown much bigger now . . . In proportion to your brain, . . . And in place of hard-earned gratitude, . . . You spew out your disdain.

"Rave on in utter blindness then . . . To all we've done that's right. . . . By God I hope they draft you . . . And make you lead the fight!"

Report from Sen. Hugh Clarke

On June 14 Senate File 796, the so-called disaster bill, passed the Senate by a vote of 51 to 7. The bill permits interest-free loans to be made to local governments, when the area is declared by the Governor to be a disaster area, upon application to and upon the approval of the executive council. The application must include a showing of obligations and the expenditures necessitated by the disaster.

This has not passed the House and the bill may find difficulty in getting passed because of the need and desire to adjourn. Should the House pass the bill and it is signed by the Governor, the executive council is restricted to making a maximum of $1 million in loans in the next biennium.

I ATTEMPTED TO REMOVE the $1 million ceiling and was unsuccessful; and I joined others in trying to make a $2 million ceiling, but this too was unsuccessful. The amount concerns me because recent floods on the Mississippi caused damage in excess of $1 million.

This bill came about because I personally sponsored Senate File 581, which contained essentially the same provisions. I am happy to have had a part in getting this bill this far and will continue to work for its final passage. Should the Senate join with the resolution by the House, calling for adjournment on June 23, the limited remaining time would make passage next to impossible.

IN ADDITION TO HELPING handle the disaster bill, I also assisted in the floor management of Senate File 373. This is an act relating to restoration an compensation to counties for secondary roads used as primary road detours. This is one of the most important bills to Hamilton and Wright counties of this session.

This is true because it places in the law, if enacted, the concept that roads destroyed or damaged by heavy traffic resulting from the road's use as a detour or haul road by the State Highway Commission when establishing or maintaining a primary or interstate road is a legitimate cost of the state or federal government.

IT SHOULD BE A PART OF THE cost of the road being built and should not be borne by local property taxes. The future construction of Interstate Highway 35 can and likely will cause very substantial damage to the county roads of Hamilton and Wright counties and the programmed widening of US Highway 20 in Hamilton county could add to their secondary road damage.

I am keenly hoping the House will see fit to pass both of these measures before adjourning.

THE PROGRESS MADE ON passing government reorganization bills far exceeds the predictions of most political observers. Bipartisan work, and a lot of it put in by the sub-committee assigned the tasks, was responsible for passage of bills to provide:

A merit system for state employees; the establishment of a Department of Social Services which merges the functions of the Board of Social Welfare, the Department of Social Welfare, the Board of Parole, the Board of Control and other related state agencies and divisions.

ALSO, THE ESTABLISHMENT of a Department of Revenue, with separate bills that bring together those departments whose function is the collection of revenue with a director who may establish, abolish and consolidate departments when necessary for efficient performance of the functions and duties of the department.

Adjournment pressure continues to mount and the desire to get out of the hot chambers is shared by all legislators. Heat, whether from the people or from the sun, should not cause us to adjourn before property tax revision, through substantial increased state aid for schools, is agreed upon and properly funded.

SESSION IN BIND?—

It's conceivable that the state could find itself in a bind at the end of the month if the legislature still is in session and has not made needed appropriations. The state operates on a fiscal year basis and the new year begins July 1.

After 20 weeks of law-making, the legislators have not resolved such knotty matters as how much money to appropriate for the various welfare programs, board of regents' institutions, and state departments.

The lawmakers are expected to work out their differences on these appropriation matters before the July 1 deadline. But . . .

WELFARE FUNDS OK'ED—

The House has passed its first major appropriations bill, one to appropriate $29.8 million to the state department of social welfare to run its public assistance programs

The appropriation was a $5.6-million increase over the present allocation but $4 million below what the social welfare appropriations subcommittee previously had recommended, and $3.5 million below the amount requested by Governor Harold Hughes.

Most of the criticism of the reductions centered on cutbacks in Aid to Dependent Children (ADC). The House adopted a committee amendment providing $6.2 million annually for ADC, an increase of $100,000 over the present allocation.

The House action prompted Governor Hughes to say that the trend in the legislature appears to be one favoring land and livestock over people.

MONEY FOR NEW LAKES—

The Senate has passed and sent to the House a bill calling for an appropriation of $7.4 million for conservation commission capital improvements, primarily new lakes.

As passed, the bill allocates $3.5 million less than the conservation commission had requested for the 1967-69 biennium but $1.4 million more than Governor Hughes had recommended.

LIQUOR INVESTIGATION—

An investigation of the state liquor commission has been called for by the Iowa House. The lower chamber has adopted a resolution, on a 70-48 vote, to spend $10,000 to conduct the inquiry. The resolution provides for a 10-member legislative committee to make the investigation and report its findings to the 1969 General Assembly.

Both floor leaders, William Gannon for the Democrats and Floyd Millen for the Republicans, opposed the inquiry. Millen said the investigation would be a "witch hunt."

The resolution for an inquiry was triggered by a report from State Auditor Lloyd Smith which disclosed the state liquor commission has not been following a strict policy in requiring liquor licensees to pay on time the 10 percent tax on drinks sold across the bar.

MERGER SEEMS LIKELY—

The legislature appears to be making substantial progress in a drive to reorganize state government. Both houses have now passed a bill which consolidates the board of control, department of social welfare and parole board.

The measure cleared the House 69-52 and goes back to the Senate for action on House amendments.

Actually, the bill combines the functions of the board of control and welfare department, while the board of parole is placed under the new department for administrative purposes only.

REGENTS—

In a surprise move, the House appropriations committee has voted out a bill for spending $40 million for new buildings at the board of regents' institutions at Iowa City, Ames and Cedar Falls. This is $10 million more than the amount recommended by Governor Hughes.

Rep. William Gannon, Mingo Democrat, led an unsuccessful fight in the appropriations committee to hold the appropriation to $30 million.

He was answered by Rep. Maurice Van Nostrand, Avoca Republican, who commented, "If we can't supply buildings these institutions need while we have a $94 million surplus, how in the world are we ever going to supply them?"

AS LONG PREDICTED, THE battle on property tax relief has been turned over to a joint House-Senate conference committee. On a strict party line vote, Democrats pushed through their version of the school aid proposal in the Senate.

The Senate passed what has been labeled as the proportionate sharing plan for distributing state school aid. The formula, under this plan, is based on property value, income and number of pupils in private and public schools, as compared with the state average.

REPUBLICAN SENATORS pressed Democrats to find out how much money would be required under this proposal. Sen. Andrew Frommelt, Democrat floor leader, replied that it would take approximately $60 million of new tax money in addition to the present $53.4 million in state school aid.

So the matter is in the hands of a conference committee, which will try to iron out differences in the House and Senate plans.

Split of tax "pie" shows—

Schools take large part of local tax dollar

How the Wright countian's property tax dollar is spent will be illustrated in visual form in the 1966 annual financial statement that is presently in the process of printing.

Two circular graphs that picture how both the rural and city tax dollar are divided were added to the statement this year by Auditor Ethel West to emphasize which of the taxing bodies use up most of the tax dollar.

It will come as no surprise to the average taxpayer that the reproductions of the graphs that accompany this story show that schools take by far the biggest bite.

Almost 73 cents (72.71) out of the rural tax dollar go for local schools. This is appreciably more than the 55.6 cents that the taxpayer living within a corporation pays for the same purpose. A major factor in making rural school costs so much higher, percentagewise, is the relatively heavy cost of municipal government to the urban taxpayer. This takes almost exactly one-third of the city tax dollar (33.37 cents).

Second heaviest expense to the rural taxpayer is roads, just under 13 cents per dollar (12.77). Roads cut a very small figure for the city propertyowner — less than a cent out of each tax dollar (.81); but more than 6½ cents of what he pays for municipal government goes for streets.

County government costs the rural taxpayer a little more than a nickel of each tax dollar (5.12) and the city propertyowner a bit under four cents (3.81).

Of minor items in the budget, the only other one of sufficient expense to be considered alone is mental health — which includes payments for patients in state institutions, cost of providing for the mentally

'66 champ, Holland, back—

Good field again for Top of Iowa

—SPORTS—

Entries already in for the 15th Clarmond amateur tourney, now called the Top of Iowa Tournament because of the 75 pounds of choice steaks awarded the winner, assure the usual sharp competition for the freezer fare on July 4th.

Heading the list of earlier entries are "Butch" Holland of Lake Mills, who won last year with a record-tying total of 103 for the 27 holes, and George Lee of Humboldt, a three-time winner of the event.

Only Jack Rule, erstwhile Waterloo linksman who for the past several years has been traveling the pro circuit, has been able to match Lee's achievement of winning the 4th of July classic more than once. He took the championship as a high school lad in 1954 and won his second title in 1961.

Although Fred Gordon has been among the high place winners on numerous occasion, he won first place only in the initial tournament in 1953.

Besides Rule, two other Clarmond champs have turned professional. John Marschall, formerly of Hampton, is now a teaching pro; and Duff Lawrence, a buddy of Rule's from Waterloo, was a touring pro for a time.

The Marschall family holds the distinction of having produced two winners. After John took the title in '55, his younger brother Milt matched the performance in '63.

In taking the '66 championship, Holland equalled the tournament record of 103 that was set in 1964 by Dave Bollman of Iowa City. Before that, Lee held the low score mark of 105, posted in 1959 with the help of a four-under-par round of 32 that no subsequent golfer has been able to improve upon.

Four times, an even-par 108 has been good enough to win and seven times it's taken a sub-par total to grab the championship. In only three tournaments has an over-par 27-hole score been able to take the title.

Following is the entire list of past champions:

1953 — Fred Gordon, Belmond, 112
1954 — Jack Rule, Waterloo, 106
1955 — John Marschall, Hampton, 108
1956 — George Lee, Humboldt, 106
1957 — Duff Lawrence, Waterloo, 108
1958 — Bud McCardell, Newton, 108
1959 — Lee, 105
1960 — Lee, 108
1961 — Rule, 107
1962 — Harry Birdsall, Hampton, 110
1963 — Milt Marschall, Hampton, 110
1964 — Dave Bollman, Iowa City, 103
1965 — Floren Dipaglia, Des Moines, 106
1966 — "Butch" Holland, Lake Mills, 103.

11 teams in three leagues—

125 sign up for summer rec' ball

Registration for summer recreation baseball last week found 125 boys signing up for the three leagues that will be directed by Don Hoppel. Exactly the same number — 46 — will be competing in the T-Ball and Midget leagues, each of which will be comprised of four teams. There are 33 boys in the Peewee league, in which there will be three teams.

Boys in the T-Ball league are eight and nine years old, those in the Peewee league are 10 and 11, and those in the Midget league are age 12 through 14.

Last week, team names and captains had not yet been chosen, but Hoppel said that this was to be done on Monday, so that an additional story in this issue may perhaps provide that information and the league schedules. Play was to start on Wednesday, after issuing of uniforms on Tuesday.

ill who are not institutionalized, and the county's contribution toward maintenance of the North Iowa Mental Health Center at Mason City.

These three items combined cost the rural taxpayer 2.9 cents and the urban taxpayer 2.08 cents. Miscellaneous tax costs come to 4.76 cents out of each dollar for the rural taxpayer and 3.41 cents for the urban taxpayer; and the state millage levy for Korean servicemen's bonuses, .24 and .92, respectively.

Converted to actual tax assessments, that rural dollar stands for $2,383,623 being collected this year; and the city dollar, $1,511,949

The total outlays for various categories of expense for the rural taxpayer will be: school $1,734,130, road $304,463, county (both administration and miscellaneous funds) $340,904, and mental health $69,246.

Corresponding total assessments against the city taxpayer are: school $847,022, corporation $508,392, road $12,366, county (administration and miscellaneous funds) $140,167, and mental health $31,719.

Kay Marcella Johansen became bride of Kirk Baker on June 3

The Nazareth Lutheran church at Coulter was the scene of the wedding of Miss Kay Marcelle Johansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Johansen of Latimer, and Kirk Anthony Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baker of Hampton and grandson of Mrs. Guy Baker and Mrs. Fred Pletsch. Rev. Adolph Schardt of the St. John Lutheran church at Cedar Falls performed the ceremony on June 3rd at 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. Wendell Johansen played the nuptial music and accompanied Alice Schaffer, the soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bridal gown fashioned in off-white saki, having a square neckline encircled by wide Venice lace appliques, above-elbow sleeves, empire waistline and slim floor-length skirt. The Watteau train had lace applique accents, was attached at the waist under a bow and streamer detail and flowed into full chapel-length.

Her bouffant, pure silk illusion, shoulder-length veil fell from a Venice lace headpiece trimmed with flowers, pearls and aurora borealis crystals. She carried a colonial bouquet of spider mums, daisies and roses.

MR. AND MRS. KIRK BAKER

Gary Tilleros of Waukon was best man and the groomsmen were Jerry Bishop of Oregon, Ill., Donald Latham of Alexander and Kenneth Barr of Streator, Ill. They wore black tuxedoes. The ushers were Chuck Scott of Alexander, Jim Erickson of Latimer, Arne Ebner of Hudson and Jay Mowry of Lost Nation.

The mother of the bride wore a light blue linen dress and the groom's mother wore a two-piece emerald green dress, each with matching accessories and corsage of daisies and white roses.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of CAL Community High school, attended Wartburg college at Waverly and had been employed by Lutheran Mutual Life Insurance company.

The groom graduated from CAL in 1963 and from Wartburg in 1967 and will be employed by the Westinghouse corporation.

Guess who's wasting your money?

You may be surprised ... but it's the girl at the photo copy machine. She's making an extra copy of an invoice ... at eight to ten cents a copy plus her time. Now, copying machines are just fine. But this particular problem could have been solved for a fraction of a cent ... with a 4-part invoice instead of the 3-part set she's always used. If she has to make 10-cent invoices very often ... she's wasting your money.

Just one example of why it's important to review your printed forms from time to time.

We'll be happy to help you update them. Not just your invoices ... but your purchase orders, sales orders, statements ... all your office forms. Call us today.

BY PAT, DICK, DUANE

Kirk Cunningham, the son of the Lloyd Cunninghams who has spent the past two years in Malaysia with the Peace Corps, was to start home last weekend. He had advised his parents in a letter that he didn't plan to be in a hurry to get back.

He intends to complete a delayed circumnavigation of the globe by returning via a western route (Lloyd and Erma didn't know what mode of travel he was choosing; but sight-seeing along the way was definitely on his agenda).

He has been accepted for enrollment in the University of Iowa law school this fall. Lloyd says Kirk traveled extensively around southeastern Asia for a month last fall and took "a suitcase full" of pictures. He'll have many tales to tell!

One might be entitled to wonder if Masonry and longevity go hand in hand. When J. J. Cook was recognized Tuesday evening of last week as a 50-year member of King Solomon lodge (story on Goodell page), he joined three other gentlemen who can point to the same distinction — Jim Adams, H. J. Whitten of Rowan, and Clyde Jennings. As further "proof" that Masonry might be regarded to bring the blessing of long life, Henry Larsen, as ardent a Mason as you'll find, can at the age of 91 point to 43 years of membership in the lodge. And don't bet that Henry won't get HIS 50-year certificate!

Our office aide, Hannah (Mrs. Ronald) Andrews has a taped copy of a message from a former Iowan — now the protestant chaplain aboard the hospital ship Sanctuary, in Vietnam waters — that she thinks church and club groups would find most interesting.

It was sent to youngsters in the Sunday school class of Mrs. Andrews' sister, Mrs. B. W. Mahoney of Chattanooga, Tenn., in response to some get-well cards they'd written. The officer, a Captain Weber, attended Cornell college and Drake university.

He tells of his activities aboard the Sanctuary, which is equipped to accommodate 600 sick and wounded men. Any group that would like the tape-recording (it runs about 30 minutes) for a "program" is invited to contact Mrs. Andrews.

Right now, the bill that will enable Belmond to proceed with its Main street development plans is "in the pocket" of Gov. Harold Hughes — awaiting his signature. Thanks to Rep. Ray Bailey being on the House sifting committee, the special bill allowing cities to build arcades and canopies by special assessment bonding got House attention AND approval despite the mad rush that has engulfed the legislators as the present, lengthy general assembly session draws to a close.

Sen. Hugh Clarke had introduced the bill and gotten it through the Senate quite some time before (in late May). All this was necessary because the city's bonding attorney was dubious about Belmond selling bonds for the proposed improvements as the existing law in the code reads.

It specifically enables cities to finance the construction of "malls and plazas" by financing with special assessment bonds; but the attorney insisted this didn't necessarily include arcades and canopies such as proposed for our Main street. With this road-block out of the way, it will now be possible to get down to specific plans for implementing the arcade proposal. A year's delay will be entailed; but at any rate the way's now cleared and there should be no legal bugs in the project.

About demolition plans for the razing of the Barendregt and Griesy buildings (or what's left of the latter) and also the old Cornell building that housed Belmond Bakery, things are looking up in this department, too.

A representative of the Urban Renewal Agency will be here on Thursday of next week to confer with city officials — and, hopefully, arrangements may be completed at that time for clearing out the old hulks.

A contract for the demolition work will be let by the council next Monday night, to be carried through if expenditure of funds already earmarked for the job gets URA approval. Then what'll transients do for tornado pictures?

A recent farm crop report on the radio mentioned the thousands of acres of Iowa cropland that have been inundated for such periods of time that the crops planted on them are beyond hope. Wright and Humboldt counties were mentioned as "hardest hit" in north Iowa — which may lead Franklin county farmers to wonder a bit.

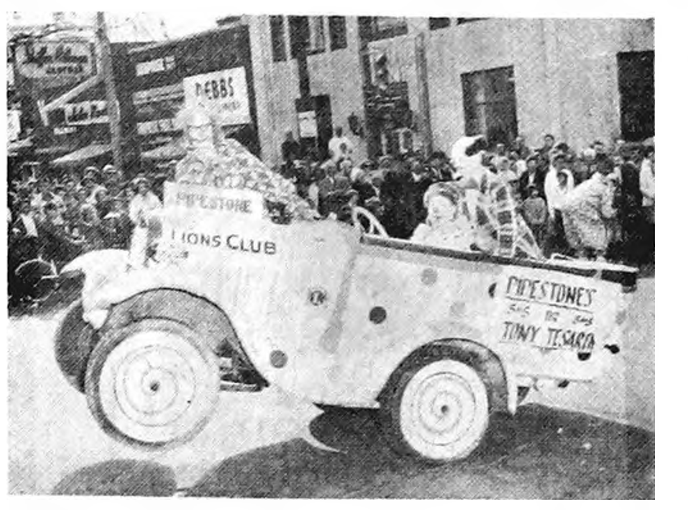
Quite a few of the farmers in this vicinity last weekend had found it possible to get a cultivator over their muddy acres, apparently in hope of getting SOME sort of a crop in belatedly. Then came Tuesday's brief but heavy downpour. How about stocking 'em with fish?

NOTICE!

Due to the 4th of July falling on Tuesday, the Independent will be published one day late next week. It will be in the mail on Thursday instead of Wednesday, so the newspaper staff can also enjoy a holiday.



"BUCKIN' BUGGY" of the Pipestone (Minn.) Lions club is one of the "props" that the Pipestone Clowns will bring with them for their appearance here during the Jaycees' 4th of July celebration next week. The entertainers will put on a 45-minute show as part of the grandstand performance that will precede the fireworks display at Faris Field.

All but firecrackers (illegal, y'know)—

Belmond all ready for old-fashioned Fourth

Exploding of firecrackers at dawn to awaken reluctant sleepers will be about the only thing missing next Tuesday to make the day a "real, old-fashioned 4th of July."

Belmond's Jaycees promise that a "real, old-fashioned celebration" will most certainly be a prominent part of the festivities, for plans have shaped up nicely for providing stay-at-home entertainment that will offer day-long divertissement.

Planned activities will get underway at 9:00 a. m. with the Belmond Trail Blazers' horse show at the Central Soya grounds. A trophy that will go to the saddle club with the largest representation — the local club excepted — is to be awarded as an attraction to out-of-town entries.

In addition, trophies and ribbons will be awarded in all of the individual events.

Registration will start at 8:00 a. m. and the working class events will get underway at 9:00 o'clock. "Coonie" Smith will be the announcer; and to assure complete fairness, all timed events will be accurately timed electrically.

On the program will be: senior pole bending, senior barrel race, open keyhole race, senior ground pick-up, open three-man relay race, senior musical chairs, junior pole bending and junior barrel race (ages 13-17), pole bending for 12-year-olds and under, junior barrel pick-up, junior musical chairs, and barrel race for 12-and-unders.

Entry fees for the various events will be a dollar for adults, 75 cents for juniors and 50 cents for 12-and-unders. An added attraction will be a women's western dress class, with a trophy to go to the woman or girl with the most becoming western outfit. There will be a dollar entry fee for this contest.

All persons who pay the admission fee of 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for children (children under six free) will be given ballots on which to vote for their favorite in the western dress class.

Lunch will be available at the grounds throughout the morning. "Uptown," lunch will be sold at the park and from a mobile lunch stand to be operated by the Jaycees, offering hot dogs and cold drinks.

Scene of the action will move to town at 1:00 p. m., when the 4th of July parade will pass along downtown Main street. While the parade started to take form in rather discouragingly slow fashion, Chairman Nancy Flanagan informs the Independent that interest was picking up rapidly this week and a very satisfactory parade is in prospect.

There will be floats competing in three categories for cash prizes, the BHS band, fire equipment, new cars, and a convertible to provide a proper setting for Miss Iowa, Kathy Solt of Jefferson.

Miss Solt, who won the Miss Iowa title last summer displaying remarkable skill as a baton-twirler as her "talent," will not be demonstrating her talent insofar as is known. But her charm and personality will make her presence in the parade a distinct highlight.

With the kiddies' division adding variety, and some handsome steeds from the horse show prancing through their paces, the parade is confidently expected to come up to "Jaycee standards." Youngsters who plan to participate in the parade should be at the city park at 12:30 p. m.

A particularly amusing highlight of the parade will be the antics of the Pipestone Clowns, with their bucking jaloppy, midget jeep and other mobile units. These men are members of the Pipestone, Minn., Lions club and through their efforts the club has poured thousands of dollars into the Minnesota Lions Foundation for the Blind.

At 2:00 p. m., ceremonies will be held at the city park to dedicate formally the new shelterhouse and new flag pole. The new and larger shelterhouse was completed about mid-June by the Jaycees, money having been provided by the Lions club from funds received by that organization from clubs in Iowa and several other states to help toward tornado-recovery projects.

Pierce-Zeiger Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, from funds similarly received, has erected a flag pole near the flower bed in the center of the park. This is a new addition to the park, no pole having stood there previously for use in patriotic ceremonies.

Immediately after the dedication ceremonies, the tractor pulling contest will be conducted just south of the park. Chairman Keith Carlson says keen competition is expected in each of four weight classes, as the tractors vie for cash prizes.

There will be classes for tractors weighing (including operator's weight) 6,000, 9,000, 12,000 and 15,000 pounds. Entries are to weigh-in on the scales of Armour Agricultural Chemical company on West Main street between 1:30 and 2:00 p. m. on the Fourth.

While the tractor pulling contest is in progress, the Jaycee-Ettes will conduct a Betty Crocker cake walk on the bandstand at the city park. This will provide some diversion for those not particularly interested in the tractor event and also enable the Jaycee-Ettes to raise a bit of money to help pay for their civic projects.

Following this event, races for the kiddies will be conducted at the park. This activity always provides a lot of fun for the spectators as well as the kids, and it's expected that a good-sized crowd will stick around to see the youngsters go at it.

Starting at 4:00 p. m. on the BHS

Dance on 3rd

Fourth of July festivities will get off to a pre-4th start next Monday night when the dance for BHS high school students and alumni of college age is held at the high school student center. It is being sponsored by parents of next fall's seniors-to-be of the Class of '68. Admission will be one dollar per person. Music will be provided by the Knights, a Garner combo that made a big hit when the musicians played for this spring's junior-senior prom.

THIS TRACTOR is among those entered in the weight-pulling contest that will be a highlight of the afternoon program here on the 4th of July. It will compete in the 15,000-pound class. That's Don Goeman giving the giant vehicle's innards an examining look. There will be four weight classes.

Money enough pledged to purchase 22 tables for park, pool grounds

Picnickers using either the city park or the swimming pool grounds will before long find themselves amply provided with tables, thanks to the generosity of a number of local organizations and individuals.

A couple of weeks ago the Jaycees launched a move to obtain an adequate supply of tables by contributing five at $20 apiece. Their invitation to other groups to join in the cause has since brought an excellent response.

Gary Garvin, chairman of the table committee, reports that the Odd Fellows lodge generously made a gift or $200 to the project for the purchase of 10 tables.

Single tables have been pledged by Spahn and Rose Lumber company, the VFW Auxiliary, Trail Blazers saddle club and the Rebekah lodge. That brings the present total to 22 — which the Jaycees regard as probably sufficient.

Chapter LV of the PEO made an inquiry of the Jaycees regarding the picnic tables, or other items needed at the park. It has been suggested to that organization that benches for along the park walks are also badly needed, and that idea is being taken under advisement by the group.

Another welcome contribution toward returning the park to a condition as good or better than it was in before the tornado was made last week by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The Vets have purchased, and installed, a 25-foot flagpole just north of the flower plot in the center of the park.

It will be put into formal use for the first time on the 4th of July with an appropriate accompanying ceremony, according to Commander Keith Chandler.

Margaret Bailey, director—

County homemaker program set up

Applications from women interested in participating in Wright county's Homemaker Health Aid Service are now being sought by Mrs. Margaret Bailey, newly appointed director of the program. She was named by the Wright County Community Action Program directros to guide the service, which will be financed with a $22,000 grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Mrs. Bailey's salary will be $5,100 on an annual basis and that of her secretary, Mrs. Lloyd Volker of Clarion, $3,000. Women accepted to work in the homes of Wright countians who are aged, chronically ill or disabled — or in other homes where domestic stresses have created a need — will be paid $1.40 per hour.

Office of the homemaker service is located at 214 N. Main street in Clarion. It will be open from noon to 5:00 p. m. Monday through Friday and may be reached by phone with the number 532-2151.

Homemakers hired for the project will perform simple homemaking and health duties for individuals referred to Mrs. Bailey who are qualified to receive these services. Referrals may be made by the county nurses, doctors and the county welfare office. Anyone, however, may call a suspected case of need to Mrs. Bailey's attention.

Ten homemakers will be "on duty" at a time, but 15 will be approved for use on an availability basis. Mrs. Bailey says these homemakers must be, "adult, mature women with homemaking experience and a knowledge of simple health needs, who are interested in part- or full-time work under the program."

A training course will be given by Mrs Alice Alleman of Eagle Grove and Mrs. Miriam Vroman of Dows, county public health nurses, on the health aspects of the program. Mrs. Geraldine Steele, county home economist, will conduct further training in the areas of food preparation and buying and the devising of healthful diets.

Mrs. Bailey has been urging a homemaking service of the sort now being undertaken since before her retirement as county welfare director last summer. She was in charge of old age assistance direction in the county from 1934 to 1942, and for the next 24 years was director of the county program that integrated all welfare assistance in the county.

PANNKUK NOW IN VIETNAM

A former Belmond boy, Glen Pannkuk, is presently with the U. S. Army in Vietnam — and hungry for mail. MAVIS RUTER MENTIONED ON COLLEGE DEAN'S LIST

Mavis Ruter, who was a junior this past year at Northwestern college, Orange City, earned mention of the Dean's List for the second semester. A 3.3 grade average is required for inclusion on the honor list.

A social science major, Mavis plans to teach after receiving her B. A. degree next spring. She is the daughter of Mrs. Anna Goeman and a 1952 graduate of Belmond Community High school.

In national contests—

Two press awards to Independent

Entering the National Better Newspaper Contest of the National Newspaper association for only the second time, The Belmond Independent reaped two awards as 1967 winners were announced last Saturday at the NNA convention at Richmond, Va. Entries were submitted by 2,700 newspapers.

Editor J. R. Gallagher was awarded second place in the Best News Story division and 1st honorable mention in the Best Feature Story contest. The winning news story told of the October tornado that caused such extensive destruction in Belmond. The feature story reported Ormal Pals' frank accounting of how he got a foot mangled while combing soybeans in late September.

These two national awards join ranks with 15 honors that The Independent has received in state press competition during the past 15 years.

North Iowa newspapers were mainly responsible for an excellent showing made by the state in the National Better Newspaper Contest. Thirty-eight states took honors at Richmond, only six achieving more than the 10 awards that came to Iowa newspapers. The Independent was the only Iowa paper to pick off two prizes.

Firsts went to the DeWitt Observer for Service to Agriculture and to the Cresco Times-Plain Dealer for Best Special Issue. The Garner Leader, edited and published by C. D. "Chubb" Elling, won second in Service to Agriculture and the LeMars Daily Sentinel received second for Community Service.

Competition was divided into a daily division and weekly divisions for newspapers over 4,000 and under 4,000 circulation.

The Lake City Graphic received third honorable mention in the Best Feature Story category. Other honorable mentions went to: Monticello Express, Freedom of Information; Sac City Sun, Best Sports Column; and Estherville Daily News, Best Advertising idea.

In regard to the Best News Story contest (under 4,000 circulation), the contest judges said: "Good use of imagination in writing and forceful use of words to describe dramatic situations paid off for the winners."

Quoting directly from the winning entries, the judges' comments continued: " 'For more than 24 hours electric clocks in Belmond silently saluted the hour of 2:55 o'clock . . . ' is the way the Belmond newspaper introduces the story of a disastrous tornado."

Soil conservation winners selected

Commissioners of the Wright Soil Conservation district recently completed judging of contestants in the 1967 Iowa Soil Conservation Achievement Awards program and have announced the winners. Doing the judging were Boyd Patterson of Dows, commission chairman, Verdell Hanson of Belmond and Elmer Brandt of Clarion.

Winners in three contest categories are chosen under the awards program sponsored by the Des Moines Register and Tribune, the purpose of which is to encourage better land use on Iowa farms. Each county winner will receive a certificate and be eligible for regional competition and awards.

The county winners were:

Family-operated or owner-operated farms — W. H. Helmke and son Norman of Renwick; landlord and tenant — Bruce Miller of Rt. 1, Williams, and Luther Couser, Chicago, Ill., owner; farmers who have become soil conservation district cooperators since Jan. 1, 1965 — Robert Derscheid, Rt. 3, Eagle Grove.

DOUG VISITS ISU CAMPUS

Doug Thompsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Thompsen, was among students who will be enrolling in the college of engineering at Iowa State university next fall who attended a two-day orientation meeting on the Ames campus last week.

Bruce Smith gets West Point spot

Bruce Smith, son of former Belmondites Mr. and Mrs. Ervin "Swede" Smith, has received an appointment to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

He left for New York City by plane from Mason City on Thursday morning of last week and is to report at the academy on July 1. He had been visiting here with his parents, now of Scottsdale, Ariz., for several days among old friends.

GRIESYS CALL ON SENATOR

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Griesy were visitors in the office of U. S. Senator Jack Miller during a visit to Washington, D. C., last week.

DR. ARTHUR BENETTI

Arthur Benetti, surgeon, joining staff of clinic

Dr. Arthur Benetti, a surgeon who has been practicing his profession for the past 22 months at New Hampton, about July 1 will join the staff of Steele Memorial Clinic. He, his wife Veronica and nine children have already moved to Belmond and are making their home at 511 Third avenue NE.

A native of Ironwood, Mich., Dr. Benetti obtained his undergraduate college education at St. Norbert college, DePere, Wis., and his medical schooling at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. After obtaining his M. D. degree, he interned at Mercy hospital, Des Moines.

Following his internship, he put in a four-year surgical residency at the Veterans Administration hospital at Des Moines and remained an additional year as a staff surgeon before entering private practice at New Hampton in September of 1965.

His wife is a former Des Moines girl. Their children are: Mary, age eight; Ann seven; Cecilia, six; Joseph, five; Jeanette, four; Anton, three; Paul, two; Timothy, one; and Carol, two months old.

The Benettis belong to the Catholic church. Dr. Benetti says his hobbies are golf, fishing and hunting and expresses pleasure that this locale seems to offer fine facilities for all three.

4 new city ordinances—

New building regulations now in force here

Effective with publication of four new city ordinances relative to local building regulations that appear in this issue of The Independent, payment will be required of propertyowners who wish to obtain building permits.

These ordinances establish a fire prevention code, building code, plumbing code and electrical code. They will be found in their legal form on Page 10. They comprise part of the three-phase plan recommended by the Iowa Development Commission to comply with provisions a grant received from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development following the tornado.

With $10,000 from this department, $4,4000 from the development commission and $600 in city money, Belmond was obligated to up-date its laws regarding construction, lay plans for redevelopment of the business district, and set up a long-range plan for city improvement and development.

The cost for obtaining a building permit is now set forth by the following fee schedule: under $20 building cost, none; $20 to 100, $2.00; $100 to $400, $3.00; $400 to $700, $5.00; and $700 to 1,000, $6.00. For additional thousands of dollars in costs, the rate runs per $1,000: $1,000 to $25,000, $3.00; $25,000 to $50.000, $2.50; $50.000 to $100,000, $1.50; and each $1,000 or fraction thereof over $100,000, $1.00.

For a more-or-less typical dwelling costing $18,000 to build, the permit fee would be $57, — $6.00 for the first $1,000 and $51 for the next $17,000. This fee is charged to meet the expense of a number of inspections that will hereafter be required while a construction job is in progress.

Mayor R. E. Misner says, "This new building ordinance is based on the National Uniform Building Code, which is widely followed throughout the country. While persons hereafter contemplating building may be unhappy over having to pay for a building permit, it should be realized that this code has been made local law strictly for the protection and benefit of persons erecting homes and commercial buildings.

"Built according to the code, these structures will be of strictly safe construction, should require less maintenance expense than less carefully planned buildings, should maintain their value longer and last longer."

It is intended that Ted Zook will serve as building inspector, and his appointment by the council will likely be made next week. Under the new code, as a building is in process of construction he will inspect it when the footings are in, after the framework is up, when it is enclosed, and then give it a final inspection when it is completed.

Responsibility for exercising judgment as to a building's value for permit purposes will rest with him. Under certain circumstances, which he says will not occur often, he may require complete plans and specifications of a proposed building for advance examination. In such instances, he may demand one-half the permit charge as a fee.

A building started without the owner first obtaining a permit will be subject to double the normal permit fee. A permit will still be required before construction can continue.

Belmond previously had fire prevention, plumbing and electrical ordinances resembling the new ones in most regards. The most drastic changes under the new ordinances will have to do with the building code; and even where it is concerned, building practices demanded will very largely correspond with those that have previously been followed in local construction, Mr. Zook says.

Governor Award received by Chief "Bud" Packard

Fire Chief R. G. "Bud" Packard was one of five Iowa volunteer firemen who recently received the Governor's Award for long-time community service in conjunction with the 43rd Iowa State Fire School held at Iowa State university, Ames.

In receiving this citation, "Bud" put the Belmond Fire department in the distinctive if not unique class of having two living recipients of the award. Maurice "Barney" Dillon was presented the Governor's Award in 1960 upon completion of 50 years of service with the Belmond fire company.

Mr. Packard has been a member of the Belmond department for 15 years and is in his seventh year as chief of the company.

State Treasurer Paul Franzenburg made presentation of the certificates of award in behalf of Gov. Harold Hughes. Other men honored were: Lloyd Anderson, Nora Springs; Matt Mathieson, Atlantic; Ray Hoff of Saylor township, Des Moines; and Daniel McDermott, Epworth.

The presentations were a highlight of a program dedicating ISU's new Fire Service Extension building. The building, especially designed and outfitted for conducting fire-fighting classes and like activities, will serve as the headquarters for the university's fire service extension program.

In addition to Chief Packard, the Belmond department was represented at the annual fire school by Gordon Sandman, Leonard Steenblock and Hale Mason.

The ISU armory was site of the four-day school, since it provided ample space for the wide range of fire fighting apparatus that was displayed in booths reserved by manufacturers of fire equipment.

Belmond played host to about 500 National Guardsmen from Missouri last Friday night, the soldiers putting up for the night at the swimming pool grounds. Commanding Officers was Col Carmen L. Ramirez, who, like the members of his battalion, is from Kansas City, Mo

He said the proper and complete designation of his outfit it 110th Engineer Battalion (C) (A) (SRF) of the Missouri National Guard The (C) identifies it as a combat unit, (A) of the Army, and (SRF) a Selected Reserve Force. The latter means it would be one of the first units to be called to active duty should hostilities in Vietnam require calling up of the National Guard.

Colonel Ramirz expressed the personal opinion that such an event is not likely SRF groups would have about six weeks to prepare for shipping out, should the need develop.

The colonel had a son, SP4 Dan Ramirez, in the battalion, and anothert son, Sgt Charles Ramirez, is attending Officers Training School at Camp Clark, Nevada Officers next in command were Major Robert Atkeisson, convoy commander, and Major Roy Snow, executive officer.

The battalion was returning from two weeks of field training at Camp McCoy in Wisconsin The men seemed to find Belmond to their liking. After the troops arrived between 5:00 and 6:00 p m., the basketball court at the pool grounds was kept busy while light prevailed, and a ball game (with whiffle ball and plastic bat) immediately got underway east of the pool.

Sirloin steaks featured the evening meal, prepared by the cooks in the shelterhouse Ed Gabrielson of We Three Market says the Guard's presence definitely made "one of the better days" his meat department has enjoyed

Most of the men spent the night by pairs in pup tents, but some chose the "comfort" of convoy trucks

Bacon (75 lbs.) and eggs (125 dozen) were consumed by the soldiers before they broke camp and resumed their trip south Saturday morning.

McConaughey 1st with 69 net in handicap tourney

In an extraordinary turn of events Sunday afternoon, two low-handicap golfers brought in the best net scores in the annual men's handicap tournament at Clarmond Country club.

Lyle McConaughey of Clarion posted a two-under-par 34, followed it with a 37 and had two handicap strokes to deduct to win the tourney with a net of 69. Right behind him was Eldon Vroman of Dows with a 38-39—77 and a seven handicap to take runner-up honors with a 70.

Unusual through it is for a low-handicap player to take top laurels in the men's handicap event, it had happened only a year ago when Roger Kinseth carded a 37-36—73 and won on a net of 68 with his five-stroke handicap.

Sunday, Earl Hoffman of Clarion was third with 21 strokes to take off of his 46-46—92 for a 71. A pair tied for 4th and 5th. Paul Dorr, a former handicap champ had a net of 72 with 15 strokes off of his 44-43—87 and another Belmondite, Sid Hanson, had the same net with 22 deducted from his 47-47—94.

There was also a tie for 6th place — the final prize spot. Al Mechem of Clarion turned in a 44-46—90 with 17 to take off and Don Smith, Belmond, 45-46—91 with an 18 handicap to record matching 73's.

There were 55 entries, just one less than competed in the event a year ago.

—SPORTS—

Four champions of former years in 'Top' tourney

Although entries had not been coming in at the pace expected through last weekend, not much concern was felt by the Clarmond committee but what next Tuesday's Top of Iowa tournament will have its usual complete and gifted field.

Four former champions were signed up for the 15th annual Clarmond amateur affair and more were expected before entries close. Any number of other fine golfers were already in the field.

"Butch" Holland of Lake Mills, the defending champion, will be facing former champs Fred Gordon ('53), George Lee of Humboldt ('56-59-60) and Harry Birdsell of Hampton ('62), for sure.

Other outstanding linksman who have signified they'll be on hand include: John Liechty, Marshalltown; George Turner, Des Moines; Jack Polmateer, Clear Lake; Gene Parr, former Osage athletic star, now of Mason City; Bill Engstler, Garner.

First foursome will start at 7:00 a. m. and players will be starting at seven-minute intervals until 10:51 if another full field is on hand to contend for the 75 lbs. of Top of Iowa steaks and a total of nearly $1,000 worth of prizes.

Several closely contested games featured the opening week of play in the summer recreation baseball leagues last week. A pair on Friday provided all the thrills a spectator could want as the Panthers nudged the Mohawks 4-3 in a peewee game and the Redlegs outlasted the Cubs 9-8 in a midget affair.

Brian McVey was the mound winner in the Panther-Hohawk tussle, allowing five hits, as Mark Havens took the loss on a six-hit performance. McVey had sent the Mohawks ahead with a home run.

Laaveg was brought in by Havens' single in the 3rd to even the court at 3-3 after Tony McLaughlin had scored for the victors in the 2nd. Another McLaughlin run in the 4th, after Tony and had tripled, decided the game.

Capt. Fred Erdman's Redlegs scored one in the bottom of the 7th to beat midget Cubs 9-8, Erdman himself getting the deciding tally. Dana Obrecht was the winning hurler, going the last six innings after Dave Hickman gave up five walks in the opening frame. The score was 8-8 after the regulation five innings. Dave Suyder smacked a homer for the losers.

On Wednesday, the midget Cardinals edged the Tigers 6-4, Nick Classick getting credit for the win and pitching one-hit ball. He had control trouble in the 4th, walking four batters and allowing a single after striking out the first two batters. Kenny Robbins gave up four hits — three of them in the 3rd inning, as the losing twirler.

The peewee Panthers had little trouble in disposing of the Giants, 10-0. Bob Ginapp pitched the 1st inning and Larry Robbins the 2nd for the losers as the 10-run rule ended the game after two. McVey won his second start for the Panthers and contributed a triple and single to the victors' cause.

In the opening pair of T-Ball games, the Dodgers outscored the Twins 20-12 and the Cubs trounced the Giants 24-16. In these games, no pitcher is used. The boys hit the ball off of a rubber tee, so there's a hit every time someone goes to bat.

Froshmore nine wins first two tilts with ease

Belmond's froshmore baseball team made shambles of their first two starts of the season, swamping Garner on Monday of last week 13-3 and then larruping Clear Lake on Wednesday, 9 to 0. Both games were played on the local diamond.

Ron Ginapp hurled against Garner, holding the Cardinal Chix without an earned run as he pitched three-hit ball over the six innings played. Barz pitched for the losers and contributed heavily toward his own defeat by issuing 14 walks while allowing seven hits.

Wielding the big bats for Belmond were Rick Hawley with a double and triple, Bill Broshar and Keith Boller each with a double. Sharp and Barz each got two-baggers for the losers.

Ginapp posted 13 strike-outs and gave up only three walks.

Belmond collected nine hits off of two Clear Lake twirlers, Hawley getting three, Broshar and Boller two apiece. Roger Mayland connected for two of the Lions' five hits.

Dirks pitched five innings for the Junior Broncs, allowing just two hits. Dick Thompson relieved in the sixth and was touched for two safeties. Hawley gave up one hit in the seventh.

Kinseth pin team wins $1,000 in state affair

A split that came one ball too late kept the Kinseth Plumbing and Heating bowlers from winning the state finals in the annual tournament of the Bowling Proprietors Association of America at Des Moines last Sunday. The Hot-Pointers nevertheless finished second among 37 teams in the finals and picked off $1,000 in prize money.

Rolling in an early shift at the Plaza Lanes, the local mapleknockers posted a gross score of 3,061 pins with Roger Kinseth contributing a scratch 628 and Don Meints 574. The other team members were Arlo Stoltenberg, Vernon Schmale and Don Meints.

Kinseth's total stayed in the top spot until the final man rolled his final frame in the final shift. The anchor bowler for a Lenox team got a strike in the 9th frame, doubled in the 10th — and then got an unconvertible split with his second ball in the last frame. But the double had done the damage the Lenox crew took first place by a margin of 13 pins to win an expense-paid trip to the BPAA national finals at Wichita, Kans. They also got $1,000 in state prize money and are assured of winning at least $500 in the national match — with a chance to pick up as much as $7,150 as top prize.

A second Belmond team that competed at Des Moines didn't do so well and finished in 23rd place. In taking the runner-up spot, Kinseth's finished 2nd among 1,980 teams that entered the BPAA competition on the local level as the eliminations started last month.

Broncos lose to Lake Mills; trim Dows twice

A flurry of miscues in the very first inning cost the Belmond High baseball nine a 4-3 defeat at Lake Mills on Tuesday of last week in what was otherwise a generally well played game.

Terry Nelson pitched the full seven innings and had a slight edge on the Bulldogs' Mike Sarno. Terry allowed seven hits, two of them for extra bases; he struck out eight and walked only three men. Sarno was touched for eight hits, walked six men and struck out eight.

A couple of errors by Tim Roberts and a passed ball were factors in giving Lake Mills a 2-1 lead in the first inning. Roberts had scored for Belmond when he doubled and singles by Don Havens and Dave Dirks followed

Dan Groe opened Lake Mills' half of the inning with a single, Nelson struck out Lynn Holstad, then Roger Bang doubled and Steve Pederson got a one-bagger as the Bulldogs went ahead by one.

—SPORTS—

Roberts got the second of three doubles as first man up in the third ining. He scored on a single by Havens and then Dirks singled Havens home to put the Broncos ahead 3-2.

That's how it stood until the bottom of the 5th inning. Groe singled, Bang gained base on a walk and then Pederson brought both home with a double — his third hit of the game. Belmond was unable to do anything about the 4-3 deficit the rest of the way.

In the top of the 5th, Belmond had gotten Havens and Mike Klinefelter as far as second and third base after walks, but Dirks and Wayne Smith then fanned — as Roberts had as the first batter.

Again in the 7th inning, opportunity knocked for the Broncos when Roberts doubled, Havens was walked, and after Klinefelter flied out Dirks got a single. But the threat died when Roberts was tagged out and Paul Bamford struck out.

Three men on each team did all the hitting for their outfits. Roberts and Dirks each sit safely three times and Havens twice — the latter gaining base on balls his other two times up. Pederson had three safe blows for the Bulldogs, Groe and Bang two each.

Summary:

HAWLEY, NELSON POST WINS OVER TIGERS

Belmond High won both ends of a baseball double-header with Dows here Friday night, Rick Hawley hurling a 6-5 victory in the opener and Terry Nelson getting credit for the 4-1 decision in the second game, which was limited to five innings.

The Broncos were sailing along with a 3-1 lead through three frames of the first game when Hawley was touched for two singles, a triple, then another single by consecutive batters. The triple made it 3-3, then the Tigers' pitcher — who'd hit a homer in the 3rd — singled home two more runs to make it 5-3.

In the 5th, Tim Roberts opened with a triple, was brought home by Keith Boller's single, then a double by Dave Dirks tied the count at 5-all. The deciding run in the 6th came after Hawley singled, stole second and went the rest of the way on passed balls.

Hawley gave up 10 hits, struck out five and walked three. Green, the Dows moundsman allowed only six hits, struck out 10 and also walked three.

In the nightcap, Roberts scored in the 1st after he got a two-bagger and Donny Havens doubled him home. Mike Klinefelter tallied in the second, gaining base on a walk and being sacrificed home by Nelson.

Tim Dirks was walked in the 3rd and came home on a wild pitch. Roberts batted in the final run in the 4th when Paul Bamford was walked and Tim sent him across the plate with a double. Dows' only run came in the 2nd when Cross, after a single, scored on a passed ball.

Nelson gave up five hits, one a double, fanned five and walked only one man. S. Matson, on the mound for Dows, allowed only three hits — all of them doubles, and struck out eight but walked five in four innings.

BRITT HERE FRIDAY

Barring the addition of a game not on the original schedule, the only action lying ahead for the BHS baseball team in the next week's time will be a game with Britt here tomorrow (Friday) night, starting at 8:00 o'clock. The 4th of July will bring a lull in sports activities, so the Broncos will not play again until Friday of next week. At that time, they will play host to Lake Mills and try to even the score with the Bulldogs in revenge for the defeat suffered last week.

Don't Turn It Off!

It is your pilot light! Keep the pilot light on your gas furnace on all summer. It's the best way to keep your furnace dry . . . to keep damaging humid air out of your heating system.

Your burning pilot light will give you a more comfortable basement, too. The slight heat maintains a gentle updraft in the chimney that ventilates and drys basement air.

You'll also have instant heat at your command. You can turn the heating system up quickly whenever you need warmth and you don't have to bother having the pilot light turned on in the Fall.

Keep your pilot light on. You'll have a more efficient, better operating furnace when winter comes.

"FANTASTIC" was the way Frank Pollitt described the three-day opening of his Superamerica discount service station last Thursday through Saturday, which was launched by the Chamber of Commerce ribbon-cutting pictured above. Public response to the event so far surpassed anything he'd imagined possible that Frank was still a bit breathless when talking about it the first of this week. He reports that the winners of the grand prizes awarded on the basis of registration were: television set, Clarence Mickelson; transister radio, Mrs. Jack Campbell; Polaroid Swinger cameras, Mrs. Sheldon Dahlgren of Clarion and Bill Dempsey.

Rowan's American Legion Auxiliary met a week ago Monday night at the home of Mrs. Jennie Retleff in Belmond, with eight members and nine visitors present.

During the potluck supper, Mrs. Ronald Andrews played a tape-recorded message from an Iowan, a Captain Weber, who is the protestant chaplain aboard the Sanctuary, one of two hospital ships stationed in Vietnam. In it, he explains the duties he performs in behalf of the more than 600 sick and wounded servicemen aboard ship.

The tape recording has been sent to Mrs. Andrews by her sister, Mrs. B. W. Mahoney of Chattanooga, Tenn., who in turn had received it directly from Captain Weber.

New officers for the coming year were elected as follows: president, Ethel Box; vice president, Inez Whitten; secretary, Mae Myers; treasurer, Hattie Bottoms; historian, Sue Hammond; chaplain, Hannah Andrews; sergeant-at-arms, Hattie Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Anderson and boys of Fort Dodge, Mrs. Carl Anderson of Fort Dodge, Mrs. Carl Anderson of Fort Dodge, Mrs. Wayne Davis and Paul of Eagle Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Carlson and son of Humboldt, Mr. and Mrs. Art Ressler and family of Rockwell, Marilyn Hill, Kayrene and Marjorie Hill, Randy Frohling, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leist and girls and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Leist and daughter of Dows were Sunday afternoon cookout guests at the home of Mrs. Virginia Leist and Ronnie and Mrs. Gladys Thomas. Mrs. Thomas, with the help of others, officiated at the grill.

Father's Day, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hansen entertained Mrs. Harry Schmidt of Clarion, Mrs. Agnes Hansen and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Osier and Tommy.

Mrs. Fern Bell, Mrs. Nellie Hinckley and Mrs. Jessie Stokes spent Sunday afternoon visiting with Mrs. Eunice Keleher in Eagle Grove. They also stopped to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Rawleigh Carter.

Game excursion entertains 35

The Rowan Lumber and Grain company and Rath Feeds sponsored a baseball game excursion trip to Minneapolis last Sunday. A chartered bus loaded with about 35 persons left the lumberyard at 7:30 a. m.

The group stopped at Albert Lea for morning coffee and then proceeded to Bloomington, where the group viewed the game between the Chicago White Sox and the Minnesota Twins, won 3 to 1 by the Twins.

They ate supper at Faribault and returned home about 8:00 o'clock in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roberts and boys attended a potluck dinner at the home of Mrs. Sarah Tudor at Dows. The occasion honored the birthday of Mrs. Eli Pearl. Mrs. Cleo Tudor was an afternoon caller.

Nancy Dannen selected as new Dairy Princess

Nancy Dannen of Alexander, candidate of Belmond Co-op Creamery, Tuesday evening at the annual June dairy banquet of the Wright County Dairy Interests association was chosen as 1967 Wright County Dairy Princess.

Chosen by a panel of three judges who interviewed all of the candidates, Nancy was crowned by Dianna Marts of Hampton, reigning Iowa Dairy Princess. Audrene Obrecht of Thornton was named by the judges as Nancy's alternate, should she be unable to compete in the regional contest.

The other nominees were Darlene Malaise of Woolstock and Mary Ann Ramaeker of Eagle Grove.

Floyd Templeton of Goldfield, Dairy Interests association president, em-ceed the meeting program held in Luick Memorial Auditorium after a crowd of about 700 had partaken of the banquet served in the BHS gymnasium.

Ron Holmes of Goldfield, who last week at the annual Iowa State 4-H Conference at Ames had the honor of being elected state 4-H historian for the boys' organization, told something of his experiences at the conference.

Cecil Hill of Rowan, president of the Wright County Dairy Herd Inspection association, introduced members of the organization whose herds averaged better than 400 pounds of butterfat per cow during the past year. He also presented certificates to those whose herds exceeded the state DHIA average of 442 pounds.

The were: Francis McAlpine, Belmond, 539 lb. average; Mr. Hill, himself, 519 lbs.; Harlan Poolman, Galt, 493 lbs.; Clarence Williamson, Dows, 485 lbs.; Morris Miller, Clarion 468 lbs.; and Don Marker, Woolstock, 464 lbs.

Clinic all fixed for baby-sitters

Plans have been worked out for the baby-sitters' instructional course which the American Legion Auxiliary plans to hold in the library basement on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons of next week from 1:00 to 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Carroll Bamford, who with Mrs. Ardeth Paule, has planned the project, emphasizes that the course is free and anyone age 12 or over is welcome to attend.

On Monday, Mrs. Paule, local school nurse, will outline the purposes of the course and give some useful tips on first aid.

Tuesday afternoon, Dr. S. P. Leinbach will discuss poison and related information; and Fire Chief R. G. "Bud" Packard will give advice relative to fires and fire protection.

At the final session on Wednesday, Patrolman James Bonstetter of Fort Dodge will tell about sensible precautions that a baby-sitter should take to assure the safety of her charge and herself. After each of the talks, opportunity will be given for discussion of the matters brought up. Also refreshments will be served.

Bill Meints sells Phillips business

One of Belmond's older businesses will pass into new hands Saturday when sale by Bill Meints of his Phillips 66 Service station to J. J. Stoffer of Alexander becomes effective. Mr. Stoffer is endeavoring to find a new lessee for the station.

Mr. Meints purchased the Phillips business from John Hanrahan in September of 1931 and for nine years operated a station at the location which at the time of the tornado was occupied by Skarr's Cafe. Since 1940, he has been in his present location.

His son Glenn, 1947 BHS graduate, has been associated with his father in the service station and tank wagon business since that time. He plans to enroll in the college of agriculture at Iowa State university, Ames, this fall with the ultimate view of possibly studying veterinary medicine.

Bill will retire, and says that other than that his future plans are indefinite at this time. He expresses regret over severing so many pleasant business relationships and very sincere gratitude to his patrons over the nearly 36 years he was in business.

GIRLS SOFTBALL RESULTS

In girls summer recreation ball game last week, the Boomerangs defeated the Eagles 35 to 17 and the Wildcats turned the tables on the Boomerangs, 14 to 8. On Tuesday evening, the Belmond Community Girls team trounced the Iowa U-Go-I-Go 4-H girls of Rowan, 30 to 5.

Weather delays lessons at pool

Bob Davis, Luick Memorial Swimming Pool manager, says that swimming lesson postponements made necessary by bad weather will cause a week's delay in starting the second three-week period of lessons.

This week was to see the first period concluded; but four days were lost on account of the weather, so make-up lessons will take up the usual class time next week. There will be no lessons on July 4th, of course.

Barring further miserable weather and additional postponements, the second session of lessons will be conducted during the three weeks beginning July 10th.

30th anniversary marked—

Half of Class of '37 at reunion

Nineteen of the 38 original members of the BHS Class of '37 gathered here Saturday and Sunday for a 30th anniversary reunion. A dinner was held Saturday evening at the Olde Belmond Inn for the class members and their husbands and wives and Sunday noon a picnic was held at the Central Soya clubhouse, attended by the classmates and their families.

Registration and a social hour preceded the Saturday dinner. Leland Jenison expressed a welcome to the returning alumni as master-of-ceremonies for the accompanying program. Special music was provided by Tom Finn, Phillip and Bob Rise.

Each of the class members gave a brief report on his or her activities since graduation. Special notice was made of the fact that the two deceased members, Leslie Johnson and Jacob Krass, had been respectively the class president and secretary-treasurer during the group's senior year.

Class members present, in addition to those already mentioned, were: Lyle Ruka, Boulder, Colo.; Velma Tideback Miller, Eldora; Berle Jenison, West Fargo, N. D.; Helen Nuehring Krpan, Des Moines; June Braner Kepley, Mason City; and from Belmond Leroy Green, Curtis Rise, Kenneth Jenison, Margarette Dempsey Hunst and Lucille Cramer.

Greetings were read that had been written by nine classmates who had found it impossible to attend the reunion: Dr. Roger Brady, Falls Church, Va.; Dr. John Packard, Harlingen, Tex.; Lt. Col. James R. Larson, Weisbaden, Germany; Rev. Herbert Nelson, St. Paul, Minn.; Edgar Jenkins, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Duane Baker, Washington Courthouse, O.; Albert Mack, St. Louis, Mo.; Barbara Chamberlin Blake, Kirkland, Wash.; and Edna Kemp Norris, Eagle Grove.

Dinner tables for the reunion banquet were decorated in the class colors of purple and white, and with yellow roses, the class flower.

Prizes were awarded to various of the classmates as follows: coming from the greatest distance, Belva Brunes, Canoga Park, Calif.; having the most children, Clair Finn; most grandchildren, Madaline Davis Clark, Des Moines; married the longest, Erma Frohling Cunningham; married the most recently, Adele Fetrow Johnson; longest time in the same job, Howard Jacobmeyer; most education, Norma Jean Stebbleton Parry, Cedar Rapids.

Following the dinner, the group was invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Jenison for a continuation of the reminiscing. Special guests there were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Studebaker, Jr., Mrs. Studebaker having been homemaking teacher when the Class of '37 was attending BHS.

diamond, there will be a softball game between the Belmond and Meservey teams. Both outfits are adept — and each is confident it can take the other into camp.

After time out for picnics or evening meals of whatever variety, the program will resume at 7:00 p. m. with a ball game between two of the better teams participating in the local summer recreation leagues.

It will pit the peewee Panthers, captained by Brian McVey and Doug Lowenberg, against the Mohawks, whose captains are Mark Havens and Lee Laaveg. They battled to a 4-3 decision last week, the Panthers edging out the victory.

At 8:15 o'clock, the grandstand show is to start. There is to be a demonstration soccer game between a couple of teams of high school boys. Then, as one of the top entertainment features of the day, the Pipestone Clowns will put on a 45-minute show that has amused thousands of onlookers at special events throughout the upper midwest and Canada — also at VA hospitals, crippled children's hospitals and orphanages.

There will be a 50-cent admission charge for spectators, age 12 and over, 25c for kids five to 12 with younger children admitted free. Jerry McLaughlin, general celebration chairman, says reports he's received on the Clowns should guarantee the grandstand show will be more than worth the modest charge.

As darkness falls, the Jaycees will put on a spectacular fireworks display, to provide the traditional close to a fun-filled 4th of July. This will be on the most elaborate fireworks exhibitions the Jaycees have ever had here, with a wide variety of colorful and exciting pyrotechnics.

Thursday of this week, the Jaycees will be canvassing local business places and the general public for support to help underwrite the very considerable expense of the full day of entertainment next Tuesday. A number of prizes will be given away at the conclusion of the grandstand program as a gesture of appreciation for the assistance rendered the Jaycees by their friends.

"Songs—old, new" 4th parade theme

"Songs, Old or New" will be the theme of the annual parade to be held on the 4th of July at Lake Cornelia — when a float is REALLY a float. Boats decorated to comply with the theme will compete at 4:00 p. m. for a number of prizes put up by the Lake Cornelia Improvement association, sponsor of the celebration.

Any type of a vessel may be used in the building of a float — boat, canoe, barge. Whatever it is, it must float, must follow the theme, and must be registered with the grand marshal of the parade at the public beach in advance in the parade hour.

Climax of the day's festivities will be the annual display of fireworks after nightfall on Tuesday.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS ON THE NEW FREEDOM SHARES
Q. What are "Freedom Shares"?
A. This is the designation given to the Treasury's new United States Savings Notes, now available for purchase along with Series E Savings Bonds.
Q. What is the interest rate on Freedom Shares?
A. 4.74%, compounded semi-annually, when held for the full 4½ years to maturity.
Q. Can they be cashed before maturity?
A. Yes, after one year. However, interest rate will be less if cashed before maturity, i.e. 4.01% after 1 year and 4.50% after 3 years.
Q. What do they cost?
A. They are issued only in face amounts of $25, $50, $75 and $100 with corresponding purchase prices of $20.25, $40.50, $60.75 and $81.00.
Q. Is there an annual limit on holdings?
A. Yes. $1,350 (face amount) issued in any one calendar year to any one person.
Q. Who may buy Freedom Shares?
A. Any individual who purchases Series E bonds on either the Bond-A-Month Plan or the Payroll Savings Plan.
Q. What is the Bond-A-Month Plan?
A. This is a plan where an individual authorizes his bank to make monthly deductions from his checking or savings account to purchase for him either Series E Bonds or the Freedom Share Bond combination. Maximum Freedom Share deduction allowable is $81.00 per month.
Q. What is the Payroll Savings Plan?
A. This is a plan where an employee authorizes his employer to make deductions from his salary for the purchase of Series E bonds or the Freedom Share bond combination. Maximum Freedom Share deduction allowable is $20.25 per weekly pay period or $40.50 per bi-weekly or semi-monthly pay period, or $81.00 per monthly pay period.
Q. May I buy Freedom Shares separately?
A. No. They must be bought in conjunction with Series E Bonds of the same or larger face amounts. For example, a $25 Freedom Share may be purchased with each $25 E bond, when secured through Bond-A-Month or Payroll Savings.
Q. Are Freedom Shares subject to taxation?
A. The same as Series E bonds. The interest is subject to Federal income tax, but may be deferred until maturity or redemption, whichever comes first. Interest is not subject to state income tax or local taxes.

Masonic honors to Julius Cook, 50-year member

Julius J. Cook of Goodell was honored by King Solomon Masonic lodge of Belmond on Tuesday night of last week by presentation with a certificate recognizing him as a 50-year Mason. The honor was bestowed upon him at a meeting held in the Belmond IOOF hall, King Solomon lodge being "homeless" since its hall was destroyed by the tornado.

Mr. Cook was a young man of 24 employed by a Goodell farmer when he took his initial degree in Masonry on Oct. 10, 1916, just four days more than a half century before the destructive twister. He completed his 3rd Degree, to become a full-fledged Mason, the 27th of the next month.

He has held all of the offices in the lodge from Senior Steward through that of Worshipful Master, holding the top office in 1936.

Speaker of the occasion last week was Ted Zacharias of Ackley, who presented Mr. Cook with a golden trowel emblematic of his 50-year membership in the lodge. Mr. Zacharias is chairman of the Iowa Masonic education committee and a former Junior Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge of Iowa.

Witnessing the ceremonies honoring the Goodell man were his wife and his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Reinhart. Mr. Cook's family also includes a grandson and two granddaughters, grandson and three granddaughters, children of the Reinharts.

KANAWHA NEWS

TERRY BETTEN — PH. 762-3718

Student Council presidency goes to Norman Baker

The Kanawha High school Student Council held a meeting Tuesday of last week, made possible by the election of the council members of the spring instead of the fall. The entire student body voted on the amendment for spring elections and each class chose representatives.

The council discussed many activities for the coming school year. It is hoped that the spring elections and summer meeting will eliminate some of the confusion at the beginning of the year.

Belmond officers of FFA attend training session

Officers of the BHS Future Farmers of America, accompanied by their advisor, Keith Carlson, on Tuesday of last week attended a district FFA leadership camp at Clear Lake.

Those present for the training meeting at the Methodist camp were: Kermit Bohning, president; Wayne Hinman, vice president; Don Goeman, secretary; Kevin Hadley, treasurer; Bob Cullinan, reporter; and Larry McAlpine, sentinel.

Prior to attending the leadership camp, the Belmond group went to the state park at Clear Lake and there worked on their program of activities for the 1967-68 school year.

After noon lunch, the Belmond officers went on to the Methodist camp, where district officers gave advice on the devolopment of successful chapter programs. The training session concluded at 3:00 p. m., at which time the BHS boys returned to the state park to complete planning of next year's program.

As an earring of gold, and ornament of fine gold, so is a wise reprover upon an obedient ear. — Prov. 25:12

When the cartoon at the right came to our desk, it caused us to wince. Not just because we've SEEN the gentleman pictured — but because we've BEEN him.

Let us hurriedly assure that it was not the spectre of a spouse armed with a rolling pin that caused our undoing. But the cartoon brought to our mind that the most expensive — and unnecessary — accident in which we were ever involved while at the wheel of a car was caused purely and simply because our mind was on a matter that had nothing whatever to do with operating a vehicle.

That was more than 20 years ago. Since then, we've been involved in only one other minor bash; and again it happened because we weren't as alert as we should have been. A couple of other times, we've been just plain lucky that we didn't get into trouble due to inadequate attention devoted to our driving.

It would be interesting to know just how many accidents are caused on the streets and highways by the distraction of domestic or business problems, or other personal concerns. A blood sample will divulge that a banged-up driver was carrying too big a load of alcohol (which is a load of just about any size); but there's no way to tell if the imminent visit of an unloved mother-in-law caused a driver to overlook that car coming from the other direction.

Safe driving — particularly in these days when autos have become absolutely lethal weapons — calls for your full attention. Any distraction can lead to an accident that could put you in a bronze-handled box.

So we urge you, as summer driving brings extra miles on the road, to put problems, worries and peeves behind you when you grab the wheel of that car. Two vehicles roaring toward each other at a combined speed of 140 miles an hour provide a mighty dangerous setting for a day-dreamer.

Ambulance "facts" not just as they've been told

A more muddled mess than that which has developed over the operation of part-time ambulance services hasn't been stirred up in quite a time. Operators of these services — those that comprise a minor adjunct to an undertaking business, most particularly — have been very much in a tizzy; and the public has had very little on which to base judgment as to whether their worries are justified or not.

Because much pressure has been applied in Wright county, as well as in many others, to induce the county or some other public agency to take responsibility for supplying ambulance service The Independent endeavored to find out exactly how much cause for concern the typical small-town ambulance service actually has.

It seemed logical to confer with the Wage and Hours and Public Contracts Division of the U. S. Department of Labor — which we did. Our contact was John Milice, an investigator with the state office at Des Moines. When we told him the purpose of our phone call — to ascertain what, if any, risk of penalties operators of part-time ambulance services are exposed to by the existing wage and hours provisions — his first response was a chuckle accompanied by the observation, "These ambulance services are not especially profitable, and it would appear that the main motive behind the hubbub is to get the operators out of the business."

This, we had been inclined to suspect; and it gave us some cause for satisfaction that our local ambulance operators have been disinclined to "run scared" at the price of leaving Belmond without assured, around-the-clock, dependable ambulance service.

It also made clear that the fears cited by the majority of small town, part-time ambulance operators are much more of a pretense than an actuality. Mr. Milice said that, on the basis of operation which most of these services follow, drivers would ordinarily have to be paid only for time worked and instances would be infrequent in which overtime pay would be involved. Also, the risk of burdensome and unexpected penalties for wage and hours violations is virtually nil.

He added that, although the ambulance operators point to changes in the wage and hours law that went into effect Feb. 1 as prompting their eagerness to get out of the business, the rules mainly applicable to the ambulance drivers have actually been in force since September of 1965.

All of which would seem to indicate that the "emergency" which the ambulance operators are employing as a reason for setting an imminent deadline when "somebody else" will have to supply ambulance service is much more pretended than real.

It is their apparent consensus that, unless such a deadline is set, they are apt to remain in a position of responsibility for supplying service for an indefinite time into the future. In other words, it strikes them as a "NOW or possibly never" situation.

There is good reason to sympathize with the ambulance operators' plight. It is NOT a paying business. A local operator says he may answer perhaps 60 ambulance calls in the course of a year; and the cost of equipment, plus overhead, could not be spread among the few users of the service without charges being exhorbitant. Raising fees might ease the situation, but it would be impractical — certainly so from a public relations standpoint — to increase them enough to make the service pay.

Traditionally, funeral homes have had ambulance operation as an adjunct of their business as a matter of developing good will among prospective clients. Also, answering accident calls can occasionally lead to an undertaking fee in the event of the death of some person far from home. But the ambulance operators clearly have decided that the benefits to be derived from the accommodation they provide don't come close enough to compensating for the expense involved.

One can hardly blame them for this realistic assessment of the situation they find themselves in. But they are not alone in having an unwanted service that is a bother and not worth the money received. It may be somewhat more expensive than similar services performed by other businesses; but lots of businesses are saddled with services that are costly and inconvenient but "hard to get shuck of".

(For example, The Independent mails each week about 350 single-wrapped papers to subscribers from one end of the globe to the other at the cost of much more time and expense than the subscription rates return. But we haven't yet considered having the county board of supervisors relieve us of the cost or labor of the courtesy.)

Frankly, our sympathy goes to the ambulance operators who find that what was once an easily tolerable pussy cat of service has turned into a tiger that they frustratingly have by the tail.

Where deadlines for abandonment of ambulance service are set and adamantly adhered to, SOMEBODY is going to have to step into the breach — for this CAN be a life-and-death necessity. And since it is not a clear-cut responsibility of a county government, city goverment, fire department, public hospital or any other agency to fill the gap, we are selfishly, perhaps, gratified that there is no threat on the part of our local ambulance services to pressure OUR community into finding an immediate answer to the dilemma.

It is not fair to condemn those ambulance operators who insist on "getting out" by July 1 — or any other designated deadline — for being influenced by self interest. On the other hand, should a needless death occur due to inaccessibility of ambulance service, these gentlemen need not harbor any delusions as to where the blame will be attached — wrongly though it may be. It's unlikely to be directed at the county board of supervisors, just because the state law now provides that the supervisors CAN shoulder the responsibility for ambulance service if they're of a mind to.

Capitol News Letter

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

The Senate has voted to increase the cities' share of the road use tax fund from 13 to 15 per cent. The bill now goes to the House, where its future is in doubt. Some rural senators were sharply critical of the move. One, Sen. John Buren, (Dem., Forest City) called it a "money grab."

The bill would increase the cities' share of the state road fund by nearly $5 million a year. The vote was 39 to 18, with 20 Democrats and 18 Republicans voting for it. Eight Democrats and 11 Republicans opposed.

SCHOOL COMPROMISE—

When the two houses can't agree on a bill, they set up a joint House-Senate conference committee, which attempts to work out the differences. Such was the case in the vocational school bill. The two houses passed different versions of the bill and a conference committee was appointed.

The bill would appropriate $4.5 million to put the area vocational schools and area community colleges on a current financial status. The House wanted to repeal the three-quarter mill property tax the schools now can levy for operating funds. Under the compromise, the three-quarter mill tax would be retained and a declaration would be added that the legislature does not intend the levy ever be increased.

THE HOUSE, WHICH PASSED a much tougher bill than the Senate, also wanted to limit superintendents' salaries to 80 per cent of the amount paid to the state superintendent of public instruction. This provision also was stricken from the compromise worked out by the conference committee. While no limit would be placed on superintendents' salaries, they would be subject to review by the state board of public instruction.

The two houses must now act on the report, or compromise, worked out by the committee.

MERIT PLAN PASSED—

For the last decade or so, politicians have been talking about a merit system for state employees. Last January when Gov. Harold Hughes delivered his inaugural address he said that if only one single measure were to be enacted by this session, he hoped it would be "to right the ancient wrongs inherent in a system that subjects state employees to the constantly recurring hazards of political change."

Now, six months later, the legislature has passed and the governor has signed into law a bill giving Iowa its first civil service system for state employees.

AT THE BILL SIGNING CEREmony in his office, Governor Hughes said, "none of those who worked on this bill believe that it is flawless in all respects. Specific sections will undoubtedly undergo alterations by future sessions of the General Assembly. But the significant fact is that such a law has been, at long last, enacted."

Present employees who have been working for the state less than two years will be required to pass an examination to retain their jobs. Tests will not be required for state employees who have been with the state more than two years as of last Jan. 1.

SUBDISTRICTING OK'ED—

With a minimum of haggling, the legislators have approved a plan to subdistrict the more populous counties. This means that each voter will vote for only one representative and one senator. The action stems from a decision by the Iowa supreme court ordering the legislature to subdistrict the 18 counties in the state that elect more than one senator or representative into single-member districts.

LIQUOR LAW PROPOSAL—

The Senate has voted a major change in Iowa's liquor by the drink law. By a 49 to 3 vote, the Senate has approved a bill eliminating the present 10 per cent tax on each drink sold across the bar. The loss in revenue would be picked up by charging liquor licensees 15 per cent above retail price for liquor they purchase at state stores for resale.

The change prompted a warning from Sen. Eugene Hill (Dem., Newton) that this could lead to increased bootlegging The bill still must be acted upon by the House.

PROPERTY TAX CREDIT—

One of the most complex issues facing the legislature is what to do about the personal property tax. The latest move to correct inequities in the tax is a bill approved by the Senate to grant an income tax credit on personal property taxes paid.

Exemption credit would be based on the first $2,500 of assessed valuation on taxes paid in 1968, which would be deductible from 1969 income taxes. The second year, the credit would be increased to $5,000 and $7,500 in the third year and $10,000 in 1971 and subsequent years.

It's estimated that the $2,500 credit the first year would take about $11 million in state funds.

Early history describes Wright's topography

PIONEER DAYS IN WRIGHT COUNTY

(One of the earliest summarizations of Wright county's settlement is offered in a "Condensed History of Wright County" written by S. D. Pierce, early Belmond newspaperman. It appeared in the issue of July 14, 1876, opening with a geographic description of the land. For its general interest, we will serialize Mr. Pierce's account in this space.)

Wright county's geographical position is in the north part of the State, near the center East and West, and about equal distance from the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers; about 150 miles from each and 50 miles south of the North line of the State.

Its altitude is a little over 800 feet above sea level. Being 24 miles square, there are 16 congressional townships of six square miles each, making an area of 359,000 acres, of which 35,516 acres were under cultivation A. D. 1875, or about every 30th acre, leaving a vast field for future settlement.

Many rivers, lakes

The county is intersected and occupied by numerous Rivers, Lakes, Creeks and Springs, among which is the Boone River, flowing south along the western border of the county through the townships of Boone, Liberty, Eagle Grove and Troy

The Iowa River, formed at the junction of the East and West branches near the village of Belmond, and flowing thence southeastly along the Eastern border of the county through the townships of Pleasant, Belmond, Iowa and Vernon.

Among the creeks we have Franklin Creek, in Pleasant township; White Fox Creek, through the center of the county; Eagle Prairie and Otter Creeks in the west part of the county.

"Twin Sisters" Lakes

Lakes, we have two three miles west of the village of Belmond, in the township of Belmond, called Twin Sisters: one of them is about 1½ miles long by three fourths of a mile wide, surrounded by high rolling grass land, with a clean sandy beach; the other is of smaller size but of equal beauty

Two miles farther south is Little Wall Lake, about two miles long by 1½ wide; water deep and pure, surrounded by a beautiful, clean, sandy beach, high prairie land, covered with a luxuriant growth of prairie grass, affording bountiful feed for thousands of cattle being herded on the surrounding prairie.

One mile southeast is Elm Lake, so-called from a large Elm tree standing on its southern border as a sentinel and land mark to guide the early settlers and travelers passing over the trackless prairie of the county. This lake covers some 650 acres of land and is surrounded as all the other lakes by dry tillable land.

"Beautiful" Wall Lake

Some 10 miles south of Elm Lake is Big Wall Lake, a beautiful sheet of water surrounded by a natural wall, formed of earth and boulders, of some to two four rods in width and two to three feet in height, from which the lake received its name. This lake covers two sections of land, and on its border is a beautiful grove of 18 acres or more.

Many of these lakes are susceptible of being made beautiful places of resort for seekers of rural pleasures. In fact some of them are already places of resort by numerous parties seeking pleasure and amusement during the summer season.

Groves were numerous

On the borders of these lakes, rivers and creeks are numerous groves and belts of timber, furnishing material for fuel, fences and building purposes Among the groves are Franklin and Burr-Oak Groves in the township of Pleasant, Eagle Grove in Eagle Grove township, Batch Grove in Troy township and Horse Grove in Iowa township.

A belt of timber lines the border of the Boone River the entire length of the county. Otis Grove is a large grove on the bank of the Iowa River in Vernon township. In addition to these natural groves and belts of timber, we find numerous artifical groves dotting the prairie in every direction.

"No waste land"

Among the cultivated trees we find the white or gray willow, which in a few years will furnish material to enclose all the land in the county with fence at small cost.

The lands of the county are what is termed level prairie, some portions of it gently rolling and all covered with a luxuriant growth of natural grass, furnishing the best of pasture during the summer season and abundance of hay for the winter. No waste land in the county — probably not a section that could not be made available for farming purposes. The native timber is oak, black walnut, elm, basswood, cottonwood, maple, hickory, etc.

Money, where to spend it, and eventually where to get it, is the major issue standing between the legislature and adjournment.

Involved in the last-minute debates are most of the major problems which the legislature faced as it came into session last January — the need for property tax relief, and more state aid to local schools.

A major part of the money issue, now, however, is the size of the budget which will be passed by this legislature and paid for out of statewide taxes. The Governor's proposed budget called for spending more than $376 million in each of the next two years of the biennium. This record-high budget represents nearly a 39 per cent increase over the present budget of about $271 million.

MANY REPUBLICANS FEEL the proposed budget is too high, particularly since by relying on the use of surplus funds it will require large tax increases in the next legislature just to allow the state to maintain its current spending level. As a result, a search is underway to make careful, selective cuts in the budget.

The governor's reaction to any cuts has been to criticize legislators as being "anti-people." The facts do not support this charge. As an example:

In the House the budget for the department of social welfare was approved at a level of $29,895,000 for each year of the next biennium. The governor had proposed $33,850,000 per year.

AS APPROVED BY THE HOUSE, the budget is a 23 per cent increase over the board's present spending. The last legislature appropriated $24,295,000 to the board, and the House added $5.6 million to this.

This increase is hardly that which would be taken by anti-welfare or anti-people legislators. The new budget, with its increase, takes into consideration the loss caused by inflation and allows some program improvements.

We doubt that many housewives have received a 23 per cent increase in their personal budgets to offset inflation.

The purpose of the budget cuts is to try to put the money in places where it will give more benefits to over-burdened taxpayers. Such recipients of budget cuts could be increased state aid to schools or other types of relief to taxpayers.

THE BATTLE OF THE BUDGET continues, and will go on until the final gavel sounds ending this legislative session.

One of the more significant bills passed in recent days is one setting up an Iowa police academy to train new policemen and give additional skills to present law enforcement officers.

The academy, which has been talked about for more than 15 years, will be set up at Camp Dodge, the state-owned National Guard camp located north of Des Moines.

Debate on the floor brought out that less than 10 per cent of our present law enforcement officers have received formal training for their work. Also brought out was the fact that recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions regarding the handling of persons suspected of crimes require more careful training of officers.

UNDER THE BILL, WHICH was strongly endorsed by the Republican platform, a six-member council will oversee establishment of a curriculum for the officers. Four of the council members will be chosen by the governor and be required to have had some experience in law enforcement work. One senator, named by the lieutenant-governor, and one representative, selected by the speaker of the House, will also be on the council

Backers of the bill said three-week courses will be offered all law enforcement officers. The courses, depending on whether the "students" are experienced or rookie officers, will stress such things as investigation methods, traffic control, the proper use of firearms, preservation of evidence, report writing, proper arresting techniques, and how to work effectively with the public. The gain for Iowans will be better law enforcement.

Details of important, new city ordinances

Iowa laws require that the residents of this area be notified of certain legal procedures. Certain individuals, as well as groups, may have a personal interest in these notifications. Often the publication is the only public notice. To keep well informed, readers should check carefully the notices which appear in this section.

ORDINANCE NO. 152

FIRE PREVENTION CODE

An Ordinance of the City of Belmond, Iowa adopting a Fire Prevention Code, prescribing regulations governing conditions hazardous to life and property from fire or explosion, and establishing a Bureau of Fire Prevention and providing officers therefor: defining their powers and duties: providing penalties for the violation thereof: repealing all ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict therewith.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Belmond, Iowa as follows:

SECTION 1. ADOPTION

That a certain document, three (3) copies of which are on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Belmond, Iowa: being marked and designated as the "Fire Prevention Code, 1965 Edition, recommended by the American Insurance Association," be and the same is hereby adopted as the fire prevention code of the City of Belmond, Iowa: for the purpose of prescribing regulations governing conditions hazardous to life and property from fire or explosion: and each and all of the regulations, terms, and provisions of such "Fire Prevention Code, 1965 Edition, recommended by the American Insurance Association," on file in the office of the City Clerk are herby referred to, adopted and made a part hereof as if fully set out in this ordinance.

SECTION 2. ESTABLISHMENT AND DUTIES OF BUREAU OF FIRE PREVENTION

The Fire Prevention Code shall be enforced by the Bureau of Fire Prevention in the Fire Department of the City of Belmond, Iowa, which is hereby established and which shall be operated under the supervision of the Chief of the Fire Department.

The Chief of the Fire Department may detail such members of the fire department as inspectors as shall from time to time be necessary. The Chief of the Fire Department shall recommend to the Mayor and Council the employment of technical inspectors, who, when such authorization is made, shall be selected through an examination to determine their fitness of the position. The examination shall be open to members and nonmembers of the fire department, and appointments made after examination shall be for an indefinite term with removal only for cause.

A report of the Bureau of Fire Prevention shall be made annually and transmitted to the Mayor and Council; it shall contain all proceedings under this code, with such statistics as the Chief of the Fire Department may wish to include therein: the Chief of the Fire Department shall also recommend any amendments to the code which, in his judgment, shall be desirable.

SECTION 3 DEFINITIONS

Wherever the word "Municipality" is used in the "Fire Prevention Code", it shall be held to mean the City of Belmond, Iowa.

Wherever the term "Corporation Counsel" is used in the "Fire Prevention Code", it shall be held to mean the Attorney for the City of Belmond, Iowa.

SECTION 4. ESTABLISHMENT OF LIMITS OF DISTRICTS IN WHICH STORAGE OF EXPLOSIVES AND BLASTING AGENTS IS TO BE PROHIBITED

The limits referred to in section 12.5b of the "Fire Prevention Code", in which storage of explosives and blasting agents is prohibited, are hereby established as follows: all of Fire Zone 3 except where permitted by the Zoning Ordinance.

SECTION 5. ESTABLISHMENT OF LIMITS OF DISTRICTS IN WHICH STORAGE OF FLAMMABLE LIQUIDS IN OUTSIDE ABOVEGROUND TANKS IS TO BE PROHIBITED

5.1 The limits referred to in section 16.22a of the "Fire Prevention Code" in which storage of flammable liquids in outside aboveground tanks is prohibited, are hereby established as follows: all of Fire Zones 1 and 2 set out by the Building Code: all of Fire Zone 3 except where permitted by the Zoning Ordinance.

5:2 The limits referred to in section 16.51 of the "Fire Prevention Code", in which new bulk plants for flammable or combustible liquids are prohibited, are hereby established as follows: all of Fire Zone 3 except where permitted by the Zoning Ordinance.

SECTION 6. ESTABLISHMENT OF LIMITS IN WHICH BULK STORAGE OF LIQUEFIED PETROLEUM GASES IS TO BE RESTRICTED

The limits referred to in section 21.6a of the "Fire Prevention Code", in which bulk storage of liquefied petroleum gas is restricted, are hereby established as follows: all of Fire Zones 1 and 2 as set out by the Building Code: all of Fire Zone 3 except where permitted by the Zoning Ordinance.

SECTION 7. MODIFICATIONS

The Chief of the Fire Department shall have power to modify any of the provisions of the "Fire Prevention Code" upon application in writing by the owner or lessee, or his duly authorized agent, when there are practical difficulties in the way of carrying out the strict letter of the code, provided that the spirit of the code shall be observed, public safety secured, and substantial justice done. The particulars of such modification when granted or allowed and the decision of the Chief of the Fire Department thereon shall be entered upon the records of the department and a signed copy shall be furnished the applicant.

SECTION 8. APPEALS

Whenever the Chief of the Fire Department shall disapprove an application or refuse to grant a permit applied for, or when it is claimed that the provisions of the code do not apply or that the true intent and meaning of the code have been misconstrued or wrongly interpreted, the applicant may appeal from the decision of the Chief of the Fire Department to the City Council within 30 days from the date of the decision appealed.

SECTION 9. NEW MATERIALS, PROCESSES OR OCCUPANCIES WHICH MAY REQUIRE PERMITS

The Mayor, the Building Inspector and the Chief of the Fire Department shall act as a committee to determine and specify, after giving affected persons an opportunity to be heard, and new materials, processes or occupancies, which shall require permits, in addition to those now enumerated in said code. The Chief of the Fire Department shall post such list in a conspicuous place in his office, and distribute copies thereof to interested persons.

SECTION 10. PENALTIES

Any person, firm, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction be subject to a fine not exceeding one hundred ($100.00), or to imprisonment not exceeding thirty (30) days. Each day of the continuance of such violation shall constitute a separate and distinct offense.

SECTION 11. REPEAL

All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

SECTION 12. VALIDITY

If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this ordinance is, for any reason, held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The City Council hereby declares that it would have passed this ordinance, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more section, subsections, sentences, clauses, and phrases be declared unconstitutional.

SECTION 13. EFFECTIVE DATE

This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication as required by law.

Passed, approved, and adopted this 19th day of June, 1967.

ORDINANCE NO. 154

ELECTRICAL CODE

An ordinance of the City of Belmond, Iowa regulating electrical installations, electrical wiring design and protection, electrical wiring methods and materials, and electrical equipment, provided in, on, or around all bulding and/or structures in the City of Belmond, Iowa; providing for the issuance of permits and collection of fees therefor: providing penalties for the violation thereof; repealing Ordinance No. 52 of the City of Belmond, Iowa and all other ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict therewith.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Belmond, Iowa as follows:

SECTION 1. ADOPTION

That a certain document, three (3) copies of which are on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Belmond, Iowa; being marked and designated as "National Electrical Code, 1965 Edition, published by the National Fire Protection Association," be and the same is hereby adopted as the electrical code of the City of Belmond, Iowa; and each and all of the requirements, terms, and provisions of such "National Electrical Code, 1965 Edition, published by the National Fire Protection Association," on file in the office of the City Clerk are hereby referred to, adopted and made a part hereof as if fully set out in this ordinance. All electrical equipment and wiring shall conform with the requirements of the "National Electrical Code, 1965 Edition," except where the requirements of this ordinance differ from those stated therein.

SECTION 2. ELECTRICAL SERVICES AND CONNECTIONS

2.1 Services to residential and commercial buildings new construction or rewire work, shall not be smaller than 100 amperes with three number two copper conductors, or their equivalent in current carrying capacity, in 1¼ inch rigid metal conduit or electrical metallic tubing. Single phase service, 110 volt, two 2-wire services will be permitted for temporary buildings, trailers, or for outdoor lighting or signs.

2.2 Services and branch circuits shall be protected by circuit breakers or by dual element fuses. Dual element fuses shall be of a type which cannot be replaced with another with a greater current capacity.

2.3 All services shall have a main disconnect switch or a main circuit breaker rated at not less than 100 amperes. If a disconnect switch is used, the ungrounded services conductors shall be protected with dual element fuses.

SECTION 3. INTERIOR WIRING

3.1 For general illumination in dwelling occupancies, it is required for each 400 square feet of floor area in addition to the receptacle circuits required as follows:

For small appliance loads in kitchen, dining room, and breakfast room of dwelling occupancies two or more 20 ampere branch circuits shall be installed for all receptacle outlets (other than outlets for clocks) in these rooms, and such circuits shall have no other outlets. At least one receptacle shall be installed for the laundry area and shall be located within six feet of the water supply to the laundry. This receptacle shall be on an individual 20 ampere branch circuit. This receptacle may also be used for a sump pump or the same circuit may be extended to a receptacle for a sump pump.

An individual branch circuit shall be installed for each appliance or device consuming 1500 watts or over, motors and motor-operated appliances (1/6 horsepower or over) such as disposals, dishwashing machines, air-conditioners, water heaters, ranges, etc.

3.2 Interior wiring shall be number 12 wire or larger except pre-wired furnaces or other pre-wired devices, shall be approved only within the unit and shall be protected with a fuse or breaker of the same amperage as the wire.

SECTION 4. METAL CONDUIT WORK

4.1 All electrical wires and electrical construction in or upon buildings as listed below, and other such buildings as may, in the judgement of the electrical inspector, unduly endanger life and property, shall be of the class known as rigid metal conduit or electrical metallic tubing work.

All service entrances may be run with an approved type of underground service entrance cable and provided with adequate mechanical protection for buildings such as hospitals and institutions of any kind designated for the care or treatment of people; theaters, schools, factories, churches, public buildings, assembly or public halls, office buildings, department stores, mercantile establishments, warehouses, mills, grain elevators, feed stores, garages with floor space for more than two cars, automobile parking stations, public automobile repair shops, billboards and displays, multiple dwellings, residence basements, and residence cellars.

4.2 In residential basements and residential cellars non-metallic sheathed cable will be permitted to be exposed, but not over two lineal feet and providing it is not in a multiple dwelling.

4.3 Where classification of a building has been changed, the wiring in such a building shall comply with all electrical standards for the new classification.

SECTION 5. MISCELLANEOUS

5.1 All outlet boxes and fixed appliances within six feet of a grounded surface shall be grounded.

5.2 Neither knob and tube type of wiring, or armored cable will be permitted.

SECTION 6. ELECTRICAL INSPECTOR

6.1 The City Clerk shall be electrical inspector, and before the current is turned on any installation, either new, renewal or extension, the electrical inspector shall carefully examine such installation, as to whether or not it complies with the provisions of his ordinance, and unless the same does so comply, he shall order such changes made as are necessary for strict compliance thereto. If all wiring and installations comply with the provisions of this ordinance, the electrical inspector shall issue a certificate of satisfactory inspection.

6.2 The council, by resolution, passed by a majority vote of the entire council, may delegate the powers and duties of the office of electrical inspector to any other officer or employee or may combine the powers and duties of this office with any other office or position.

SECTION 7. FEE FOR INSPECTION

Before any inspection shall be made under this ordinance, the applicant for such inspection shall pay the electrical inspector a fee of one (1) dollar, which fee shall be full compensation for his services.

SECTION 8. TURN ON

It shall be unlawful to turn electric current on any new, renewed and extended installation without first securing a certificate of satisfactory inspection from the electrical inspector.

SECTION 9. PENALTIES

Any person, firm, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction be subject to a fine not exceeding one hundred ($100.00), or to imprisonment not exceeding thirty (30) days. Each day of the continuance of such violation shall constitute a separate and distinct offense.

SECTION 10. REPEAL

Ordinance No. 52 of the City of Belmond, Iowa and all other ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 11. VALIDITY

If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this ordinance is, for any reason, held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The City Council hereby declares that it would have passed this ordinance, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more section, subsections, sentences, clauses, and phrases be declared unconstitutional.

SECTION 12. EFFECTIVE DATE

This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication as required by law.

Passed, approved, and adopted this 19th day of June, 1967.

Proceedings of the Wright County Board of Supervisors

Published below are the official proceedings of the Wright County Board of Supervisors. The publication appears in the interest of all county residents, town and rural.

June 12, 1967
Clarion, Iowa

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met in regular session at the Court House in Clarion with the following members present: Ed Kennedy, Chairman, Walter Weidemann, G. C. Whyte and George E. Heard, with the County Auditor in attendance. Supervisor Wendell Dultscher was absent.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Messrs. Robert Whyte of Goldfield, Bill Eagleson of Eagle Grove, Robert Tomson of Belmond and Roger Sumners of Clarion, representing the Wright County insurance commission, met with the Board to discuss insurance requirements of Wright County and to go over the coverage proposed for the 1967 renewal year. The question has come up as to whether, for purposes of insurance, the Wright County Conservation Board and the Assessor's office, may be included in the general county coverage, including Workmen's Compensation. The County Attorney will be asked to get an attorney general's opinion on this.

Motion by Whyte, seconded by Heard, that Board of Supervisors purchase a Blanket Honesty Bond in amount of $10,000.00 to cover deputies, appointive officers and clerks, effective July 1, 1967. Motion carried.

Motion by Heard, seconded by Weidemann, to approve a salary increase of $20.00 to a total of $500.00 per month, effective July 1, 1967, for Miriam M. Vroman, Public Health Nurse, amount of increase to be paid by State Department of Health. Motion carried.

Motion by Heard, seconded by Whyte, to appoint Oscar Mellgren of Eagle Grove to the Soldiers' Relief Commission, effective July 1, 1967, to serve out the unexpired term to June 30, 1969 left vacant by the resignation of Joe Gunderson. Motion carried.

County Engineer, Haydn Jones recommended certain salary raises for several members of his staff and the following Resolution was introduced and read.

RESOLUTION

Be It Resolved that, effective July 1, 1967, salary increases be allowed for engineering personnel, said salaries to be fixed as follows.

Assistant Engineer Merritt McCoy — from $7,500 to $7,800 per annum

Sidney N. Swenson — from $6,000 to $6,500 per annum.

A. W. Johnson — from $5,500 to $5,800 per annum

Grayce McClelland — from $4,200 to $4,500 per annum.

Motion by Heard, seconded by Weidemann, that the foregoing Resolution be adopted. Upon roll call the vote was as follows: Ayes, Heard, Weidemann and Whyte. Nays, None. Thereupon the Chairman declared the motion carried and the Resolution duly adopted.

Motion by Whyte, seconded by Heard, to authorize Treasurer to purchase an electronic calculator for his office. Motion carried.

Mr. Sullivan, Treasurer, discussed the delinquent dog license list with the Supervisors. One hundred seventy-nine (179) names are still on the delinquent list for 1966. Of all those delinquent, eighty-three (83) have their names on both the 1966 and 1967 lists. The Supervisors are asking the cooperation of the towns and cities in order to get people to license their dogs before taking other steps.

Motion by Weidemann, seconded by Whyte, to approve $1,000 bond and application of Helge H. Eide d/b/a Wind Mill Inn, for retail cigarette permit for period July 1, 1967 to June 30, 1968. Motion carried.

Motion by Heard, seconded by Weidemann, to adjourn. Motion carried.

Ed Kennedy, Chairman
Ethel C. West, County Auditor

Why Total Electric Climate Should Be In Your Building Plans

Planning a new home is half the fun. And with Total Electric Climate in your building plans, you'll have the fun of springtime inside your home all year long.

Winter's chilly winds can roar. Summer's temperatures can soar. But inside, Total Electric Climate adjusts automatically to heat and cool every room in your home. Always to the perfect comfort temperature. One central control means complete temperature control . . . and complete humidity control, too. Because Total Electric Climate puts moisture into the air when winter heating dries it out. And it soaks up excess moisture on damp, humid summer days. Your home's humidity level is always comfort perfect.

Plan now to include Total Electric Climate in your building plans. Worrying about changes in the weather will be a thing of the past. See your air-conditioning and heating dealer for all the facts today!

NOTICE To My Customers

After 35 years in the Phillips "66" Service Station and Tank Wagon Service, I have sold the business and will retire on July 1st.

It is with regret that time has caught up with us and that we'll not be seeing and visiting with you as often as we have during the past 35 years. We saw lots of changes, met the finest people and have had a fine business thanks to all of our loyal customers

We appreciated this patronage and thank you again.

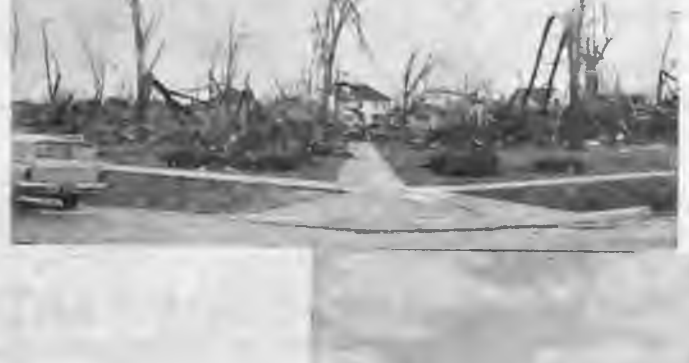
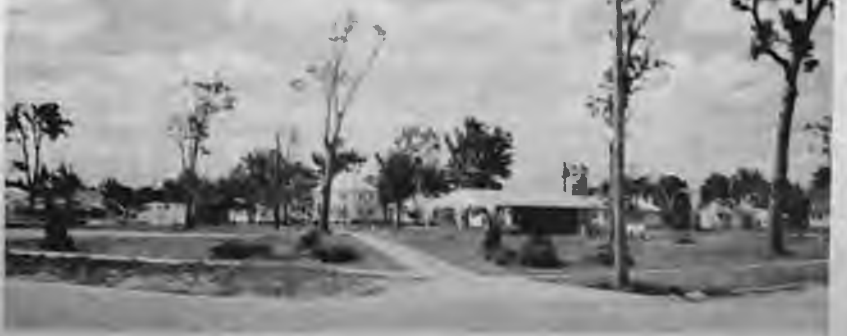
NORTH IOWA Peach OF THE WEEK!





That Belmond is making steady progress at recovery from the tornado that devastated the community last October is graphically illustrated by the accompanying pictures of the city park. A morass of shattered trees and debris after the twister had dealt its destruction, the park is once again taking on the appearance of the pleasant recreation spot it was before. Already rebuilt (larger than previous) is the shelterhouse, with Lions Tornado Fund money and Jaycee Labor. Other facilities are being replaced through the generosity of businesses, clubs and individuals, and many new trees have been planted. By midsummer about the only reminder of the tornado damage will be the still stark appearance of trees that were salvaged — and tree experts promise that within four or five years they once again will shade the park in almost normal fashion.

MAIN STREET

BY PAT, DICK, DUANE

Last week's 'Way Back When column included a paragraph from The Herald-Press of 1922 telling of display in the window of the Belmond Savings bank of an ox yoke that had been used by Fred Luick in breaking prairie sod near Belmond 110 year ago. At the time, it passed through our mind, "What a pity this memento of our past was not saved by SOMEBODY." Then, last weekend from Mrs. Ella Luick Bliss came a letter advising that this yoke carved from water elm, with its bows fabricated from young hickory, was in her possession today!

"Mr. Bliss found those three museum pieces a year ago when we fixed over our garage," stated the message from Ames. "After the tornado, they were still there, although the garage was gone."

Mrs. Bliss joins us in the conviction that this unusual souvenir of Belmond's past should be preserved. She kindly offers to present the yoke to a proper and qualified claimant who would give it fitting display. We can think of no better place for it than the BHS student center, which is a memorial to Fred Luick and his wife Alice, given by their son, Chester P. Luick. It could be placed in a display case in the hall between the lunch room and auditorium in an attractive case, with an appropriate explanation of its background.

We don't really think that Marc Ihm can walk on water, or anything like that. Certainly he's laid no such claim. Nevertheless, we're gaining a healthy respect for his powers — and if he claimed to have mastered pedal navigation, we wouldn't challenge him, "OK, let's see ya." Because he just might.

F'rinstance, last Feb. 28th his first cigaret of the morning tasted like the sweatsock of a basketball player at the end of a hard season. He decided then and there he was through smoking. And he's stuck to it. (He admits he's "quit" many times before; but not without some cheating, and NEVER for so long.)

Then, at the last Lions club meeting, Secretary Owen Bateson suggested Marc drew the name of the Lionelle who'd get a two-buck reward if her husband was present. There were remonstrances on the grounds that Marc would pull his own name; but Bateson was innocently unconvinced. However, Marc DID. So we wonder . . .

We dropped the ball last week in writing that the American Legion Auxiliary's baby-sitting course was to start last Monday at the library basement. It's NEXT Monday, it starts — continuing Tuesday and Wednesday, each afternoon from 1:00 to 2:30 p. m. Jean Bamford reports that advance registrations come, so far, to only 14. That includes one woman, two boys, and all the rest girls. The sponsors had envisioned an enrollment of possibly as many as 50. So the response hasn't been too satisfactory. There's still plenty of time, though, for baby-sitters (present or potential) to sign up for the course and get a host of mighty useful tips.

Thank goodness our friends don't change their names with the frequency that a certain state institution at Cedar Falls has within our lifetime. It even presses our memory somewhat to adjust to addressing the girls differently, after they marry. But one or two names from cradle to grave does the most of us nicely. Even the fellows who favored a middle name before putting in military duty, and return home with their FIRST name in prevailing use. But the college at Cedar Falls has been somethin' different.

Back in the days of our early youth, it seems — if our recollection is right — it was referred to just as "the normal school." Presumably, its official title must have been something a little more decorous; perhaps Iowa State Normal school. Anyway, when "normal training" had seen its day as the process of producing teachers and a more dignified name was deemed required, Iowa State Teachers college became the appelation.

By the time THAT was slipping off the tongue with familiarity, there was another shift of gears and the school became State College of Iowa. This posed no difficulty for the younger folks, but in mentioning SCI to oldsters, it's often been necessary to add, "You know, State Teachers!" Now, as of July 1st, it's University of Northern Iowa. This, we're told has dignity and aplomb which State College of Iowa lacked. It can only be hoped that it will REMAIN UNI for many years to come.

Mrs. George Brady recently returned home after a three-week family tour that was REALLY a FAMILY tour. In the party with her were M. P. Brady of Tacoma, Wash., only surviving member of the family in which he and the late George Brady were brothers; Msgr. D. A. Brady of Waterloo, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brady of Iowa Falls, Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Brady of Dubuque and Mrs. James (Mary Ann Brady) Furleigh of Clear Lake.

All visited Dr. Roger Brady and family at Washington, D. C. And in years to come, an "eastern" family reunion will be even more to the point.

For Dr. Robert Brady, after teaching for 13 years at Loras college, Dubuque, is joining the faculty of a State College of Massachusetts (there are seven, variously located); Mary Ann Furleigh will be teaching English in a New Hampshire high school; and Captain Furleigh, who was mustered out of the Army after being wounded in Vietnam, is enrolling at Harvard university, Cambridge, Mass. People DO shift around!

VIEWS PHOTOGRAPHED in the new hospital addition, above, show: top — x-ray unit, with Connie Mechem, x-ray technologist, and Dr. A. P. Echternacht of Fort Dodge, visiting radiologist (as is his associate, Dr. D. C. Cooper, on a once-a-week basis); center — Administrator Marc Ihm demonstrating the newly installed nurse-call system in patients' room in new obstectrical ward; below — new labor room, which can also be used as an emergency delivery room if circumstances require.

New hospital addition in full use this week

Belmond Community hospital's new addition will be in full use by the end of this week, marking completion of the approximately $190,000 improvement. Actually, the first two babies occupied the nursery more than three weeks ago — the daughter of the Eldon Doanes of Thornton and son of the Richard Holms. Another newcomer "moved in" last Friday, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Janssen of Alexander.

There was a delay in putting other facilities in the new wing into use due to a wait for installation of the air-conditioning. But Administrator Marc Ihm says that all work will be completed by this week's end except for the installing of four items of laboratory equipment on which delivery has not yet been received.

Thanks to some hospital-wide improvements that accompanied building of the new wing, he says that the entire hospital will be "safer, cleaner and more modern" than ever before. These improvements included a fire detection and alarm system and nurse-call system installed throughout the hospital.

Should a fire occur in any part of the hospital, it will now be detected immediately and an alarm sounded. The nurse-call system permits immediate voice contact between the nurses' stations and all patient rooms — and vice versa; also the monitoring of patients' rooms to "listen in" on breathing or other audible evidence of a patient's condition. The system also links the nurses' desks and emergency room entrance at night, when the door is locked.

Particular pride of the hospital staff is the new x-ray, unit, which cost $24,000 and according to the technician installing it "matches anything the Mayo clinic has at Rochester." It possesses an image intensification unit that allows the radiologist to obtain an enlarged and sharper view of an anatomical area than standard x-ray equipment provides. Another special attachment, the mammography unit, enables the radiologist to conduct improved breast examinations when looking for possible abnormalities.

This $24,000 and $5,000 invested in expanded laboratory equipment came out of the hospital's general fund and were expenditures not included in the $160,000 contracted cost of the new wing.

Now, the entire obstetrical ward is in the new addition. Because its nursery is now in use and the patient rooms will be immediately, it will be impossible to hold an open house to acquaint the public with the new facilities. This has been a matter of regret to Mr. Ihm and the hospital staff, but the administrator points out that maintaining the obstetrical ward in a completely sterile condition comes first.

This ward includes two patients' rooms equipped to accommodate four patients at a time. There, also, is the new labor room and new delivery room. The labor room has been outfitted to be used as an emergency delivery room, should such be needed.

Medical Technician Helen McNulty and members of her staff are anxious to see the new laboratory go into use. Due to the delayed delivery of a few items, this may not be until early August. The new laboratory provides 700 square feet of work space, compared to only 160 that the old laboratory contained.

In the basement of the new addition are housed the emergency generator, air-conditioning apparatus and the electrical equipment servicing the x-ray unit. There is also a 28x40-foot storage space, which will permit storage of a quantity of supplies for which there was no room in the older part of the hospital.

Included in the new wing's facilities there are also new lounge and rest room facilities for doctors and nurses that will be a welcome, improved accommodation to members of those staffs.

Hiddleston store will open Monday

Chet Hiddleston announces that Belmond's newest business, the Belmond Department store, will be open to trade Monday of next week. Since late April, he and Mrs. Hiddleston have been personally supervising preparation of the double-front location adjoining the Gambles store on Main street for its new use, buying stock and outfitting the store.

The Hiddlestons were Belmond residents for about four years during the period of 1953-56, when Chet was manager of Woodward's department store — which was acquired by the Anthony's chain shortly before his departure. He served for a year as president of the Chamber of Commerce.

From here, he went to Atlantic to manage a large store of Anthony's. He has had 17 years' experience in department store management.

His new store will offer a complete line in piece goods, home furnishings and domestics in the dry goods field; a complete infants' department and lingerie, sportswear, fashions and accessories for girls and women; and a shoe department providing all sizes for infants, girls and women and for boys up to size four.

For the time being, he does not intend to carry men's and boys' suits, top coats and hats but otherwise will have a complete line of men's and boys' apparel including work clothes, casual wear, jackets and accessories.

Mr. Hiddleston says his customers will find many nationally advertised brands stocked on the Belmond Department store's shelves. He adds that he and his wife Imogene are "eager to renew old acquaintances and make new friends" now that they are back in business here.

Loren Bamfords host family—

Brazilian youth named as AFS scholar here

An 18-year-old Brazilian youth, Paulo Renato Canineu, will be attending Belmond Community High school during the 1967-68 school year on an American Field Service scholarship provided by the people of Belmond. He will be the second AFS student it has been this community's privilege to have in its midst, Valorie Bayley of South Africa having attended BHS under sponsorship of the Field Service in 1965-66.

Paulo will make his home with the Loren Bamfords while he is a guest in this country. Only one of the Bamfords' three children are still "at home." Their oldest daughter, Janice, is now Mrs. David Crawford; Merry, though at home during the summer, will be returning to the University of Northern Iowa at Cedar Falls as a student this fall. Their son Paul will be a BHS junior.

Mrs. Luin Cox, president of the Belmond AFS chapter, was notified only last weekend of the Bamfords' approval as a host family and Paulo Canineu's selection as an AFS scholarship assignee to Belmond.

Paulo lives in Sorocaba, a Brazilian city of 68,000 population, where his father, who has the same first name, is manager of a bank. He has a 14-year-old sister, Mario. His mother and an aunt, who makes her home with the Canineus, are primary school teachers.

Young Canineu, who will be 18 on Oct. 15, will be entering his senior year of high school here and looks forward to graduating as an official member of the BHS Class of '68. His ambition is to become a doctor.

He says in an autobiography that accompanied his AFS application that he has longed to make a visit to the United States since he was a small boy. He has been studying English since he was six years old and it has been one of his best subjects in high school. In his second semester of the past year he got the highest grade possible in his English course.

He says he enjoys playing football and basketball and has a keen interest in other sports. (At 5 ft. 8 in. and 154 pounds, Paulo would hardly have the physique for varsity football; but he's experienced in soccer, so the Broncos just might find him a prospective kicking specialist.)

The young man comes from a Catholic family; and although the Bamfords belong to the Lutheran church, they have signified that they will most happily and willingly enable him to attend the church of his faith during the time he will be living in their home.

Paulo has a pet Basset hound named Ajax and two pet cats. He says a favorite pastime at home when not studying is to watch television.

He is expected to arrive in Belmond about two or three weeks before the start of school.

Six Army buddies have get-together

A reunion of five Army friends, after 25 years, was held the first of last week at the W. A. Cramer home. The men had served together in Army post offices at Casablanca and in Italy during World War II

Enjoying a get-together here were: Emil Bish and son Mike of Linn, Mo.; Jay Dunham of Fulton, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dillonbeck of Grand Rapids, Mich., who spent Sunday until Tuesday with the Cramers.

On Monday, all went to Albert Lea, Minn., to meet a sixth buddy and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Libby of Richfield, Minn., and spent the day together.

GARY ATTENDED CAMP

In naming the 4-H'ers from this vicinity who attended the recent district 4-H camp at Clear Lake, that of Gary Abbas, a member of the Pleasant Pioneers, was accidentally omitted.

With student coming, AFS fund now in need of additional $354

Mrs. Luin Cox, president of Belmond's American Field Service chapter, says that the good news that Belmond will have an AFS student again during the 1967-68 school year introduces the need to add some more money to the AFS scholarship fund.

This fund was launched in the fall of 1964 when the Lions club held a benefit talent show, proceeds from which were pledged to the scholarship fund. The show, netted $410, of which the AFS needed to draw only $290 toward the $750 scholarship awarded Valorie Bayley for the 1965-66 school year.

When her scholarship expenses had been met, a balance remained in the fund; and some contributions were received a year ago in anticipation of a foreign student attending BHS in 1966-67. When arrangements for last year fell through, $276 remained in the fund —plus the $120 still receivable from the Lions.

Altogether, the chapter now has $396 of the $750 needed for Paulo Canineu's scholarship. The needed remainder of $354 will have to be raised through contributions from individuals, organizations and businesses. Such donations may be turned in to the Independent office and will be reported in the newspaper as they are received.

Deadline July 31 for disaster loans

Don Albertson, supervisory loan officer for the Small Business Administration at Des Moines, advises that he will be making his final visits to Belmond to receive inquiries and applications on disaster loans on July 17 and 31. Both of those are Monday dates, the latter marking expiration of the period during which loans prompted by the October tornado can be considered.

According to Mr. Albertson, 34 home loans in a total amount of $335,800 have been approved here and five business loans totalling $344,100 — making a total of $679,900.

He will, as usual, conduct interviews relative to loans during regular banking hours at the First State bank.

NELSONS ATTEND REUNION AND S. D. HALLINGLAGET

Mrs. Reuben Nelson, Mark, Beth and Joel spent from June 15 to 27 in the home of her mother, Mrs. Albert Gudim, at Newfolden, Minn.

While there they attended a Lee family reunion held at the Dan Hanson home in Grand Forks, N. D., and also attended a Hallinglaget (a Norwegian celebration) at Grand Forks.

Lester reappointed assessor—

Cash for reappraisal "in" again

That much-kicked around appropriation to finance a professional reappraisal of Wright county real estate is back in the assessor's budget again. But it's bigger than ever before.

Last Friday night the county conference board (comprised of mayors, supervisors and county school directors) signed a contract with the J. M. Cleminshaw company of Cleveland, O., to reappraise Wright's real estate for a fee of $73,750. Of that amount, $50,000 is to be raised by taxation next year.

This is the fifth consecutive year that an appropriation for this purpose has been included in the assessor's budget by the conference board. When the hearing on the budget was held on each of the four past years, the board members had second thoughts on the matter and deleted the appropriation.

This time, they have an order from the state to have a reappraisal completed by Sept. 1, 1968 — or else. The job can't be done in time to comply, but at least the Cleminshaw company will be at its work by this coming September or October and will have the job done in about two years' time.

Assessor Vernon Lester says, "This will have to satisfy the state, as it's the best we can do."

When the conference board contemplated a professional reappraisal in setting the '64 assessor's budget in '63, estimated cost of the reappraisal was only $45,000 — and $30,000 of that amount was appropriated.

By last year, the estimated cost of the reappraisal had grown to $65,000, and $40,000 of the amount was included in the '67 assessor's budget. Then the conference board once more took the ax to the appropriation— leading to the state's ultimatum.

Cleminshaw has agreed to accept first payment on the reappraisal work after the first tax draw is given the assessor's office in April of next year. It based the $73,750 cost on the appraisal of 7,000 parcels of land "with a principal structure thereon," with the understanding that if the appraisal actually involves 35 or 40 more—or less — parcels, the contract figure will be amended to the extent of $10 additional or less per parcel.

As another matter of business at the conference board meeting last week, Mr. Lester was reappointed to a six-year term effective Jan. 1, 1968, at his present annual salary of $8,000. He was initially appointed April 5 to fill the vacancy left by the death in December of Assessor F. Ross Henry, whose appointive term ran through this year.

Official details of the assessor's budget for next year will be published in The Independent next week, with the hearing date set for July 26.

Parade proves "one of best"—

Huge crowd on hand for Jaycees' celebration

A crowd variously estimated at 5,000 to 6,000 jammed the parade route at noon on the Fourth of July to witness what turned out to be one of the better parades of its sort ever to be among the feature attractions of a local celebration.

Judges found it a difficult task to pick the winning entries. Their choices, finally, were. business division — 1. Bel-Chris Manor; 2. Lynn's Lounge; 3. Flanagan and Courson Agencies.

Organizations — 1. J. and M. club of the Belmond Community hospital; 2. Newcomers club; 3. Belmond public library.

In a third division, substituted for the industrial due to the few entries in that, generalized as the "sweepstakes division" (though not implying superiority over the other winners) — 1. St. Olaf church; 2. Camp Fire Girls.

In the kiddies' division, 1st went to a group comprised of the children of the Larry Dorrs, Dean Pals and Lynn Sorums; 2nd, to a group made up of David and Diane Beenen and a young relative from Eagle Grove, Leonard Steig, plus April Kennedy; and 3rd, a tie between Mike Crawford and a group made up by Carl, Hubert and Tom Beavers.

Including prize money for the various celebration events, importing of talent, fireworks, and other aspects of the celebration the Jaycees had $2,000 invested in the day's entertainment for the public. President Larry Flanagan says that a preliminary tabulation of receipts suggested that the Jaycees proably came within about $50 of breaking even.

Mr. Flanagan expressed his organization's dismay that the grandstand show that had been promised by the Pipestone (Minn.) Clowns failed to develop as expected. This group provided onlookers with a great deal of fun during the parade; but the entertainment they had pledged for the evening simply failed to materialize.

Close to 2,000 persons watched with keen interest as more than 30 tractors heaved and tugged in the tractor-pulling contest just south of the city park. Prizes of $30, $20 and $10 were awarded in each of four divisions. The results were:

6,000-lb. class — 1. Cecil Lewis, Lime Springs, 130 ft. 8 in.; 2. Daniel Derry, LeRoy, Minn., 130 ft.; 3. Henry Arends, Belmond, 126 ft. 6 in. Preston Gruis of Meservey missed a tie for 3rd by just six inches.

9,000-lb. class — 1. Marvin Smith, Galt, 284 ft.; 2. Clarence Kuhlers, Meservey, 279 ft. 8 in.; 3. Terrell Baker, Belmond, 278 ft. There was more than a 22-foot difference between 3rd and Larry Swenson's 4th-place pull of 255 ft. 1 in.

12,000-lb. class — 1. Jim Staley, Rowan, 243 ft. 10 in.; 2. Roger Leist, Dows, 194 ft. 11 in.; 3. Bob Kalkwarf, Belmond, 167 ft. 11 in. From Kalkwarf's pull, there was a large drop to Denny Barkema of Goodell in 4th place with 122 feet.

15,000-lb. class — 1. Harry Nelson, Belmond 300 ft.; 2. Roger Schafer, Dows, 300 ft.; 3. Don Goeman, Belmond, 279 ft. 5 in. Harold "Harry" Nelson won a pull-off with Schafer, hauling an increased load, 285 ft. 9 in. to Schafer's 276 ft.

Because of the late start of the parade and the prompt start of the tractor contest following the parade, dedication of the new shelter-house and new flag pole in the city park had to be conducted on an impromptu basis.

Jaycee President Flanagan made formal presentation of the shelter-house to Mayor R. E. Misner, who noted that the council has passed the following resolution in acknowledgment:

"BE IT RESOLVED that the City

THESE SMILING FACES graced the candidates for Wright County Dairy Princess on Tuesday evening of last week, excepting that the center smile was that of Dianna Marts of Hampton, reigning Iowa Dairy Princess. She was a guest of honor at the June Dairy Banquet of the Wright County Dairy Interests association, held at the Belmond High student center. Nancy Dannen of Alexander (left) was chosen as the new Wright County Princess, with Audrene Obrecht of Thornton (right) as alternate. The other candidates were Darlene Malaise of Woolstock, next to Miss Dannen; and Mary Ann Ramaeker, Eagle Grove.

Reunion enjoyed by Class of '57

Twenty-nine of the 64 members of the BHS Class of '57 held a 10th anniversary reunion dinner last Saturday evening at Lynn's Lounge and another five were present for a family picnic held Sunday afternoon at the swimming pool shelter-house. A special guest at the dinner was Dick Hobbs of Hoopeston, Ill., who was athletic coach during the time the class was attending high school.

A major highlight of the dinner was presentation of a plaque to Mrs. Sandy Chandler in memory of her husband, the late Jerry Chandler, who was also a member of the class. An account of the presentation will be found in the sports section.

Prizes were awarded the following: Jim Fetrow, as most changed man; Sandra (Swenson) Eliason, Minneapolis, as most charged woman; Bud Lerdal, as least changed man; Sandra (Smith) Chandler, as least changed woman; Larry Kinseth, as the longest married; Duane Lowenberg, St. Paul, Minn., married the shortest time; and Kenneth Harty of Canoga Park, Calif., for coming the longest distance.

Door prizes went to Mrs. Dave (Judy) long of Clear Lake and Larry Williams of Steamboat Rock, who were guests as spouses of class members.

Your Child's Health

Many so-called "dull" children are not dull at all . . . they simply have an unnoticed defect or illness retarding normal development of perception or expression. Your child's health during formative years may determine his whole future.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL HEALTH EXAMINATIONS ARE IMPORTANT . . . If your children are active, they absorb more than their share of falls, jolts, jars and sprains. The concussion of such forces produces spinal misalignments. Misaligned vertebrae in the spinal column will interfere with nerve transmission between brain and tissue cell and may cause your child to be retarded in school work.

See Your Family Chiropractor

Your Chiropractor is trained in locating interference to transmission of nerve energy caused by misalignment in the spine. He will determine whether your child has trouble of this nature and will correct misalignment with spinal adjustments.

You'll be surprised how rapidly your child responds to Chiropractic care.

Jerry Chandler's widow given memorial plaque

A highlight of the 10th anniversary reunion of the BHS Class of '57 held Saturday evening at Lynn's Lounge was presentation of a memorial plaque to Mrs. Sandy Chandler honoring her late husband, Jerry Chandler. He was a member of the class and established an outstanding athletic record, earning 12 varsity letters during his BHS career.

Mrs. Chandler received the plaque from Dick Hobbs, former Belmond High coach now at Hoopeston, Ill., and Steve McLaughlin as a gift from Mr. Hobbs and Jerry's classmates.

The son of Keith and Bernadine Chandler, Jerry was born at Marshalltown on Nov. 27, 1939. His parents moved here in 1946. As a Bronco athlete, Jerry lettered four times in baseball, three each in football and basketball and twice in track. He was a 2nd team all-North Iowa conference guard as a junior and senior and ran on sprint relay teams that won NIC titles in the 440 and 880 and placed third in the state Class A meet in the 440.

After his graduation from BHS, he went to Bemidji (Minn.) State college and then transferred to Winona (Minn.) State, receiving his B. A. degree at mid year. He coached one semester at Arcadia, Wis.

—SPORTS—

In 1962-63 he taught and coached at CAL Community high, then went to Laurens High as teacher-coach in the fall of '63.

He died of nephritis on March 12, 1964. A fund sponsored by The Independent brought more than $1,750 to Jerry's family. Besides his wife and parents, he left two sons— Lance, now age five; and Lane, four years old.

On the memorial plaque was inscribed: "In memory of a beloved and admired friend, whose example as a skillful and dedicated athlete, a courageous competitor, a model of sportsmanship and a loyal companion will be an inspiration to all of us as long as we live."

Wright county's bond purchases continued to slip

Wright county in May slipped further behind in purchases of U. S. savings bonds, where keeping pace with its 1967 quota was concerned. That month saw only $15,250 in E and H bonds bought in this county, the lowest total in many months. In fact, only three counties in all of Iowa purchased a smaller amount in bonds, one of them being neighboring Franklin with only $10,563.

Purchases in Wright made a five-month total of $262,474, which was only 32 per cent of quota. Among counties adjoining Wright, only Hancock and Cerro Gordo were farther behind quota — with 25 per cent on sales of $175,640 and 30 per cent on $433,446, respectively. Hardin had merely matched Wright's 32 per cent on $310,491 sales.

Other adjoining counties stood as follows: Webster, 33 per cent on $635,584; Humboldt and Hamilton, each 34 per cent on $217,555 and $310,491 respectively; Franklin, 44 per cent on $217,838; and Kossuth, 51 per cent on $401,536.

Exams now open for postal jobs

It is announced by the U. S. Post Office department that applications are now being accepted for civil service examinations for positions of substitute clerk and carrier. These are not for a local opening, but applications may be made for any geographic area that openings might occur.

Postmaster Bill Walrod explains that the requirement of one year's residence in a community where a clerk or carrier opening exists has been dropped by the department as an eligibility requirement. Now, for example, if a person would want consideration for a vacancy elsewhere in Iowa — or even in another state — he may so designate and take the necessary civil service examination.

Starting pay is $2.64 an hour. Further information can be obtained by writing the Civil Service Establishment Board, Room 109, Main Post Office, St. Louis, Mo. 63155.

Races "tighten up"—

Mohawks, Cards head recreation leagues

While good, two-way races for leadership claimed the spotlight in the peewee and midget leagues of the summer recreation baseball program after two weeks of play, the Dodgers were threatening to make a run-away of the T-Ball league with three, consecutive victories. Their superiority was not so great as the standings might suggest, though, as both of their wins last week were by single-run margins.

Co-captained by Dalon Obrecht and Brian Eekhoff, the Dodges nipped the Cubs 9-8 and then edged the Giants 7-6 as much tighter play marked the T-Ball action than had been the case in the first week of the schedule.

Rain on Tuesday caused postponement of the Giants-Twins T-Ball game and the Cardinals-Cubs game in the midget league. They will be made up when circumstances permit, Director Don Hoppel says.

Top game of last week saw the peewee Mohawks hand the Panthers their first defeat in a 1-0 rouser on Wednesday. Mark Havens hurled a one-hitter for the winners, striking out 12 batters and allowing only three walks. Brian McVey pitched well for the losers, fanning 10 men and walking only three. But he gave up five hits, and two of them were combined with passes in the 4th inning, Wayne Waage scoring on a hit by Eddie McClenahan.

On Friday, the Mohawks swamped the Giants 12-2, the 10-run rule ending the game after four innings. Havens held the losers to two hits and stuck out seven. Greg Miland banged a triple to bring Gerald Thompson in with the Giants' final run.

Craig McMurray and Larry Robbins gave up nine hits as the Giants' pitchers, McClenahan getting a pair of doubles, Waage a double and a single and Havens a double.

The Mohawks got their first of three consecutive wins on Monday, trimming the Giants 3-0. Havens hurled a one-hitter in this one and fanned 11. Thompson doubled for the losers' only safe blow. Jerry Bemrich, Havens and McClenahan each got a couple of hits and Randy Banning one off of Thompson, who was on the mound for the Giants.

In midget play the Tigers, captained by Sam McLaughlin and Joel Laaveg, posted a pair of wins with a 6-1 decision over the Redlegs and an 11-1 victory over the Cubs. Kenny Robbins was the Tiger twirler in both games, giving up five hits in the first affair and only three in the second.

Dana Obrecht was losing moundsman for the Redlegs, allowing six runs in the 1st inning on five hits and a walk. Tom Korthas was the Cubs' losing pitcher as the 10-run rule ended this game in 5½ innings.

By whipping the Redlegs 6-3 on Thursday, the midget Cardinals remained the only undefeated team in their league. Co-Captains Darrell Bemrick and Nick Classick played major roles in the win, Bemrich scoring in the 3rd after he'd lashed out a triple and then bringing Jim Mason home with a single in the 4th. Classick pitched four-hit ball and fanned seven men. Dave Hickman had a hand in all three Redleg runs, sending Fred Erdman across the plate twice with a single and double and getting a tally himself in the 1st inning.

This (Thursday) evening at 6:00 p. m. the T-Ball Dodgers play the Cubs, followed by a peewee game between the Mohawks and Giants. Friday at 1:00 p. m. the peewee Panthers play the Giants, with a Cardinal-Cub midget game following.

Monday at 1:00 p. m., it's the T-Ball Dodgers vs. the Twins, then the peewee Panthers vs. the Mohaks in a key battle. Tuesday at 4:00 p. m., T-Ball Giants vs. Cubs, then the peewee Mohawks vs. Giants; Wednesday, 1:00 p. m. T-Ball Cubs vs. Twins, then the midget Redlegs vs. Cubs.

The change from regular playing time on Tuesday was made to allow both recreation league players and fans to watch the Major Leagues All-Star game on television.

Season's mark up to 4-3—

Broncos defeat Forest City, Britt

Belmond High's baseball team followed a 4-3 defeat Tuesday of last week against Mason City's "B" team on the Mohawk diamond with a pair of wins — 4-2 Wednesday night over Forest City and 7-0 Friday against Britt in games at home — to bring their season's mark to four victories against three defeats.

They will play host to Lake Mills tomorrow (Friday) night and on Monday will meet Clarion on the local diamond. both games to start at 8:00 o'clock.

At Mason City on Monday of last week, the Broncos were never able to recover from a poor start that saw the Mohawk "B" team chalk up three 1st-inning runs. Rick Hawley gave up five hits in facing his first six batters.

Only three more hits were allowed by Hawley, one being a double by Peck, who went the rest of the way on a couple of errors in the 4th.

Hawley doubled in the first inning to score Roberts, after Tim had singled; but the Broncs were unable to tally again until the top of the 7th. A couple of runs by Mike Klinefelter and Wayne Smith closed the gap to 4-3, but some too bold base running with only one out caught two men on the base paths and retired the side.

Terry Nelson was the winning pitcher over Forest City on Wednesday. He held the Indians to only three hits, all of them being bunched in the 6th inning when the visitors scored both of their runs. Tom Anderson, the visiting moundsman, was touched for 10 hits.

Belmond scored in the 1st when Roberts and Don Havens singled and Smith then brought Roberts home with another single. In the 2nd, Klinefelter doubled to bring Hawley across the plate; and in the 5th, Roberts doubled and was sacrificed home by Dave Dirks. Klinefelter got the last score in the 6th when he singled and a hit by Nelson got him home.

Hawley's stuff was entirely too good for Britt on Friday night, the shorty moundsman allowing only one hit and striking out 10, while allowing only one base on balls. Doug Hunsley went five innings for the Eagles, surrendering nine hits and giving up all the Bronco runs.

After Betcher had relieved Hunsley in the 6th, Coach Ted Besch filled the Belmond line-up with reserves and the new twirler got the side out in 1-2-3 order on strikeouts. Klinefelter got a pair of doubles, Roberts and Hawley each a double and single to pace the Bronc batting attack.

HOW MANY CAN YOU recognize of the BHS Class of '57 members who gathered Saturday for their 10th anniversary reunion? Their names are in the accompanying story.

• • • • • •

Classmates send their greetings by mail, who weren't able to come

And from Belmond — Gordon Sandman, Steve McLaughlin, Larry and Nancy (Smith) Schimp, Gary Ersland, Marilyn (Nelson) Eckhoff, Carol (Pals) Lerdal, Leonard Steenblock, Mary (Larson) Ausborn and Larry Flanagan.

At the picnic, though unable to attend the dinner, were: Caren (Coulson) Courter, Independence, Mo.; Ronald Johnson, Alexander; Mary Alice (McLaughlin) Grant, Britt; Betty (Eccles) Rath and Joan (Kriens) Clark, Belmond.

Classmates who couldn't be present for the reunion but who sent greetings were: Karon (Bohning) Carpenter, Onalaska, Wis.; Gary Dean, Milwaukee, Wis.; Phoebe Bucalstein, Culver City, Calif.; Karen Hansen, Costa Mesa, Calif.; Jim Stadtlander, Palatine, Ill.; Mary Alice (Studebaker) Moran, Denver, Colo.; Kathy Dorr, Des Moines; Karthryn (Hunst) Johnson, Klemme; Marjorie (Johnson) Corrick, Louden; Karen (Meints) Ofstethun, Garner; and Hemmo Eekhoff, Belmond.

Gary Ersland served as master-of-ceremonies for the dinner program and the Class Prophecy which he'd prepared for Class Night in '57 was read by Verlyn Frohling.

Chosen as a committee to plan another reunion on the class's 15th anniversary year in 1972 were Verlyn Frohling, Larry Flanagan, Nancy Schimp, Mary Ausborn, Carol Williams and Larry Kinseth.

Hello, World

HAMILTON HONOR SOCIETY ADMITS TWO BHS ALUMNI

Hamilton college of Mason City reports that membership in the honor society for the most recent quarter included Marvin Katuin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harm Kauin of Goodell, and Jerry Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Boyd of Alexander.

These two BHS graduates had respective grade point averages of 4.0 and 3.5 for the period. An average of 3.2 or better is required for membership in the honor society.

In Top of Iowa tourney—

Les Holland repeats as links winner

No. 2 may have "tried harder" Tuesday in the 15th annual Top of Iowa golf tournament at Clarmond Country club, but it was No. 1 that came out on top.

When the regulation 27 holes had been completed in the championship flight, there was a tie at 110 between Les "Butch" Holland of Lake Mills and Bob Miller of Waverly, who for the past three years have played respectively as No 1 and No. 2 man on the Wartburg college golf team.

Holland had had to sink a tricky seven-foot putt for a birdie on his 27th hole to achieve the tie. After each had parred the first play-off hole, Miller got the yips on the second and Holland clinched the champ's reward of 75 pounds of Top of Iowa steaks with an eight-foot putt for another par.

Another play-off was required to break a three-way time for 3rd, 4th and 5th places when George Lee and Tom Benda of Humboldt and George Turner of Des Moines all posted 111's. Turner dropped out when the Humboldt pair birdied No. 2. Moving to No. 7, Lee and Benda tied again on pars, but Lee's par on No. 8 was the decider.

This was Holland's second consecutive championship in the Clarmond County club classic. A year ago he carded a five-under-par 103 to tie the record. Several rivals had excellent chances to de-throne Holland but missed the boat on out-of-bounds shots or flubbed putts.

Dale Hayes of Humboldt, Larry Tideback, former Belmondite now living at Des Moines, and Turner tied for low medal honors on the first nine with 34's. Hayes won the prize on the strength of a birdie on No. 3.

A total of 123 golfers entered the tournament and regular play in the title flight was completed with the sun still well up in the sky. By the time the play-offs had been decided, though, daylight was practically gone.

Following are the flight results:

Defensive driving course next week

A defensive driving course is being sponsored by the Dubuque Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women, with the women's organization of St. Francis church cooperating.

Mrs. Alice Flanagan (phone 2391) and Mrs. Bill James (2967) are local registration chairmen and are hopeful that a good represetation from Belmond will enroll.

Instructors provided by the safety education division of the Iowa department of public safety will teach the course, to be given at the Farmers National bank in Webster City. There will be an enrollment fee of $2.00 to cover the cost of materials handed out.

Mrs. Flanagan and Mrs. James emphasize that the course is open to all men, women and teenagers of all faiths. Its purpose will be "to make more careful and intelligent drivers, to improve traffic safety and to reduce the alarming accident tragedies," they say.

The course will require two afternoons of instruction, Wednesday and Thursday of next week from 12:30 to 4:30 p. m. There periods will be divided into eight separate sessions, each devoted to a separate approach to "defensive driving."

Notification of enrollment must be given to the sponsors in advance, so persons wishing to enroll should notify Mrs. James or Mrs. Flanagan at once. They will phone in the local registrations by 6:00 p. m. this Friday, at the latest.

BELMOND GIRL'S HUSBAND JOINING STAFF OF KGLO

Donald Meinert, who is the husband of the former Rachel Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kennedy of Belmond, on July 17 will join the staff of KGLO radio and television stations at Mason City. He has been employed by radio station KCHA, Charles City, for the past 3½ years.

Mr. Meinert will head KGLO's farm department. He and his wife plan to move to Mason City as soon as they can obtain satisfactory housing.

● Belmond Locals

Mrs. Tillie Benson returned home Monday of last week from Louisville, Ky., after spending three weeks in the Maurice Felde home.

Mrs Jennie Retleff entertained 21 dinner and supper guests Sunday. They included Mr. and Mrs. James Marlow and family of Birmingham, Ala., Mrs. Tillie Meylink of Rowan, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Andrews and family of Alexander, Debra Ressler of Rockwell, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Nolte and family and Ben Nolte.

A family picnic was held July 4th at the Dale Busick home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Busick and family of Webster City, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ulrich and family of Klemme and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Busick and Susie.

Mrs Ruth Thompson and her mother, Mrs. Tillie Benson, spent the weekend in Minneapolis, Minn. While there, they attended the wedding of Cathy Benson, granddaughter of Mrs. Benson, held Saturday.

Seed assn. honor to Harold Loden

Dr. Harold D. Loden, research director of Anderson, Clayton and company's seed operations, was named 1st vice president of the American Seed Trade association at the close of ASTA's 84th Annual Convention in Washington, D. C., last week.

Mr. Loden was recently named to head the combined research staffs of Paymaster Seeds and Tomco Seeds, the new ACCO seed research department being headquartered in Belmond.

While serving as 2nd vice president of ASTA, Mr. Loden headed many important committees during the past year. His elevation to 1st vice president of the seed trade association represents one of the highest honors that the seed trade industry can bestow.

597 man-hours put in—

Park shelterhouse "big job done"

Belmond received one of the biggest bargains imagineable in the new shelterhouse that now graces the city park. This becomes apparent upon a review of man-hour and material figures on the project provided this week by Larry Flanagan, new president of the Belmond Jaycees.

It was while Terrell Baker still headed the organization that the Jaycees took up an offer of the Belmond Lions club to provide the labor to replace the shelterhouse destroyed by the tornado, if the lions would put up the necessary money.

It took just about all of the $1,500 pledged by the Lions from donations the club had received in tornado-recovery donations from Iowa clubs and others outside the state that wished to help after last October's disaster.

Expense of materials came to $1,458.71. The figure would have been very considerably larger but for generosity on the part of suppliers and skilled experts who pared their bills to the bone — or contributed materials and labor.

Spahn and Rose Lumber provided all the building materials at cost. Kinseth Plumbing and Heating supplied plumbing fixtures, eaves spouting and light fixtures at cost.

Packard Electric installed wiring and outlets at no cost for either materials or labor. Belmond Ready-Mix made a handsome price concession on concrete that was needed.

For their part, the Jaycees in 15 work sessions of about three hours each gave 483 man-hours of labor to the job. In addition, non-Jaycees volunteered another 114 man-hours of time to bring the project total to 597 man-hours. The undertaking was launched May 31 and was wholly completed by June 21.

As a finished product, the city park has a shelterhouse that is superior in a number of respects to the one that was destroyed. Originally 24x38 feet in dimension, the almost completely rebuilt structure is 16 feet longer. In addition, a plywood ceiling was installed to prevent birds from inhabiting the beams — a feature the original shelterhouse lacked.

The ceiling also gives better lighting inside the shelterhouse at night. The addition of eaves enables the new shelterhouse to provide better protection to occupants in the event of a shower.

O'Larry Dorr put his experience as a contractor to work in "straw bossing" the entire job and contributed much skilled labor. Dick Krapfl, Spahn and Rose manager, took responsibility for booking all materials and seeing they were on hand as needed.

Persons not belonging to the Jaycees who gave a hand in building the shelterhouse were: Erv Redder, Bill Dempsey, Dale Bemrich, Clarence Steenhard, Johan Dieckhuit, Gene Milton, Kenny Erhardt, Paul Dorr, Herman Beek, Jimmy Peterson, Don Sandry, Derl Morris, Kevin Dorr, David Nelson, Roger Kinseth.

About 36 out of the 50 current Jaycee members participated in the work. The original shelterhouse cost about $3,000. Mr. Flanagan estimates the people of Belmond now have a structure worth close to $4,500 through the joint project of the Lions, the Jaycees and their friends.

He sees the generous cooperation given the project as an expression of appreciation from the city of Belmond for the good works that have been carried on by the Jaycees and the Lions during the years. The Jaycees and Lions, he adds, are deeply appreciative of that cooperation.

Last rites today for Dale Smith

Funeral services were to be held this afternoon (Thursday) at 2:00 o'clock at the First Christian church at Mason City for Dale R. Smith, 49, husband of the former Ruth Quigley of Belmond. He died of cancer Monday morning at a Mason City hospital.

Mr. Smith for 27 years had been an employee of Northwestern Bell Telephone company, the past 11 as an engineer with the Mason City district office. He was a native of Clarion.

He and Ruth E. Quigley were married March 4, 1937, at Clarion.

Surviving, in addition to his wife, are: a daughter, Cheryl Anne, at home; three sons, Patrick F. Smith, a Belmond High school graduate now living in Las Vegas, Nev.; Ronald D. Smith, in the U. S. Navy; and Robert L. Smith, Burlington, Wis.

Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Sheldon Smith of Clarion; two sisters, two brothers and four grandchildren.

MARINE CORPS DISCHARGE TO ALLEN E. KOPPERNAGEL

Allen E. Koppernagel left Monday for Elkhart, Ind., where he is to be employed, after visiting for several days in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lepper.

He was discharged June 9 at Camp Lejeune, N. C., after serving since May, 1963, in the U. S. Marine corps. He had attained the rating of corporal. During his period of service he saw duty in California, Okinawa, Vietnam and North Carolina.

● Celebration—

Council of the City of Belmond, Iowa, express the appreciation and gratitude of all of the people of this City to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, to the Lion's Club, and to everyone who has contributed materials and services for the very fine manner in which the shelter house in the city park has been rebuilt and refurnished.

"And for the picnic tables, playground equipment, trees and flowers that have so unselfishly been contributed in our city park.

"Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the records of the minutes of this Council.

"PASSED AND ADOPTED this 3rd day of July, 1967."

R. E. Misner
Mayor

ATTEST:
Lois J. Hammond
City Clerk

In behalf of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Commander Keith Chandler presented the flag pole and a handsome new flag to Mayor Misner, with the following remarks:

"Mr. Mayor, Pierce-Zeiger Post of the VFW wishes to present this flag to the City of Belmond, not only as a symbol of our nation's greatness and the principles for which it stands, but as a constant reminder to all of us of the hand of helpfulness extended to us in our hour of deepest need — and an inspiration to us to extend that same hand of brotherhood whenever the opportunity arises."

Mayor Misner accepted the flag with an expression of the city's gratitude for both it and the 25-foot pole from which it will be flown.

As at the other events of the day, the Belmond Trail Blazers' horse show in the morning at the Central Soya grounds, the softball game between Meservey and Belmond teams and the baseball game between a pair of peewee summer rcreation teams drew good-sized audiences.

Spectators jam-packed the grandstand at Faris Field for the evening award of prizes and for the fireworks display that concluded the day's attractions.

Fractures skull in 10-foot fall

Matthew Schulte, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Schulte, was released from Belmond Community hospital last Friday after fracturing his skull in an accident the preceding Sunday.

He was alone upstairs in the Schulte home when he opened a screen and toddled out on a porch roof. Getting too close to the edge of the roof, he took a 10-foot tumble to the ground.

Matthew was rushed to the Belmond hospital about 7:00 p. m., where he made a good recovery.

It is hoped by young Matthew's parents that the tot has learned that screens are to look through and not to crawl through.

Sgt. Pat Dillon finishes furlough and heads for Vietnam Army duty

Staff Sgt. Pat Dillon, who will have put in 17 years in the Army on Saturday of this week, must have set the powers-that-be back on their heels when he recently requested assignment to Vietnam. He'd just returned to the States May 23 after a tour of duty in Germany — and he didn't have to go "where the action is."

Pat explains that he missed the Korean conflict, since he was out of uniform for 22 months in the early 'fifties, and says, "I felt I owed 'em some combat duty."

Actually, he won't be on a combat status in Vietnam. He is being assigned to an advisory group training South Vietnamese troops to use American weapons. But his duty will include going on patrols with the native soldiers to test their knowledge; and that could involve serving as a Viet Cong target.

Sergeant Dillion is to report Saturday at the Oakland (Calif.) Army Terminal to get his orders, then to continue on to Vietnam by plane. He has been visiting with ihs parents, the "Barney" Dillons, since re-enlisting May 24th and coming home on furlough.

Pat first enlisted in the Army in September of 1948. After serving three years and nine months, he had second thoughts about being a career soldier and returned to civilian life for the aforementioned 22 months. In April of '54 he re-enlisted.

He spent nine years as a paratrooper (his only injuries during that period being the result of a bash-up in an automobile) and since then has been engaged mainly in planning and intelligence duty. His overseas time has included 13 months in Korea and the recent stint in Germany. In Germany, he was platoon sergeant with an armored calvary reconnaissance outfit.

Though he only completed schooling through the 8th grade here, he has acquired the equivalent of a high school diploma by taking Army courses.

He'll be in Vietnam for a year. He figures that should square accounts with Uncle Sam on the combat thing.

HAWKEYES LOSE PAIR

The Iowa Hawkeyes' junior 4-H softball team played two games against the Blaine Livewires at the Dows diamond on Thursday evening. Blaine came out the victor in both contests. Blaine is managed by Burneil Jones of Dows, and the Iowa Hawks are managed by Cecil Hill.

Jack Nicklin of Toppenish, Wash., is visiting several days with his uncles, Bob Rowen and Sim Stout.

CUB SCOUTS MET

The monthly Cub Scout pack meeting was held Wednesday night at the schoolhouse picnic area. Den I, led by Edna Groom and Ardith Frohling had charge of the entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roberts, James Paul and Danny and Mrs. Cleo Tudor left Friday night to spend several days visiting Roy's parents and the Clebert Tudors at Nebo, Mo.

Re organization meeting held by Phi Epsilon circle

The Phi Espilson circle of the Congregational church held a re-organization coffee Tuesday morning. An informal business meeting was held to discuss ways of making circle projects more appealing to more women.

Mr. and Mrs. Burneil Jones and family visited the Richard Kopish home in Fort Dodge Sunday evening. Mrs. Kopish just returned home from the hospital following minor surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ritz and family of the Cedar Falls-Waterloo area were weekend visitors in the Karl Rietz home.

Mrs. Robert Zangel and three children of Las Vegas, Nev., arrived Friday to spend two weeks in the parental Henry Arends home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Aldrich, Jr., and son moved into their house in Rowan this past week. It is the former Joe Rowen house.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McReynolds of Prairie City spent most of the past week visiting the Harry Hinckley family.

Mr. and Mrs. Del Hoke of Des Moines spent Friday night at the Raymond Aldrich home en route north on their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Aldrich and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McReynolds and Melissa of Prairie City were Friday night guests in the Harry Hinckley home to celebrate Karen Hinckley's birthday.

GIRL BREAKS ARM

Jeanne Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith, had the misfortune of breaking her arm in two places on Sunday. Jeanne is employed at Midwest Egg Processing at Alexander.

"Freedom of information" enhanced by federal act

On July 4th — most appropriately — a "freedom of information" law enacted by Congress went into effect. Under its terms, federal officials will be required to prove their right to withhold government information. This is a distinct departure from the traditional requirement of the press to prove its right to information known or suspected to have been withheld.

At a recent 10th annual "Newspaper in the Classroom" Workshop that was conducted at the University of Iowa, the managing editor of the Honolulu Advertiser told teachers assembled for the clinic, "Public knowledge of what the government is doing is the most powerful weapon the United States has to protect its security."

Buck Buchwach pointed out that it has always been the case that men in government want to hide their mistakes and display only their successes. This can result in the public losing confidence in a governing body when information pertaining to an action or development is withheld, only to come out later through a "leak" from an indirect source.

Not infrequently, the delay in disseminating the facts can be much more damaging to the governing body concerned than the actual facts concerned.

An example is the attempts that have been made to "whitewash" aspects of the war in Vietnam. It will be recalled that Harrison Salisbury of the New York Times created a global furor with his reports that residential areas of Hanoi had been hit by U. S. bombs.

For two years previous, it had been denied by the U. S. government that bombs were killing civilians even by accident. The fact of the matter is that bombings simply cannot be so selective that unintentional casualties among the civilian population can be avoided. But by denial of the fact, the government imputed to itself a callousness and indifference to civilian suffering of which it was really not guilty.

Because of the effort to conceal the facts, the U. S. — in spite of an actual policy never to attack civilians intentionally — was made to look more vicious than the Viet Cong, which deliberately terrorizes the civilian population with killings, mutilations and kidnappings.

Whenever a news vacuum is created, public suspicion inevitably follows when the concealed facts ultimately come to light. It is the hope of the American press that the new "freedom of information" law will not only enhance the public's right to know what is going on but will benefit government by shielding it from unwarranted suspicion that the withholding of information arouses.

It is always frustrating to the press when it knows information of a legitimate public nature is not being publicized as it should be. An example comes to mind, close to home, in a practice that has become altogether too prevalent in the reporting of Wright county board of supervisor proceedings.

We have run into numerous examples in past months of business we KNOW the board has transacted, from evidence in the form of claims, that has never been noted in the form of action taken at a board meeting. It would appear that the action must be taken when the supervisors are assembled informally over a cup of coffee or under similar circumstances, rather than when they are gathered in official session.

Included in such blacked-out actions have been major purchases of equipment, letting of contracts, and other matters that warrant public attention. We don't suggest that his is an intentional cover-up for activities that are in any degree illegal — because we don't believe that to be the case.

But at a time when greater openness and frankness is being required of government news sources at a federal level, it is distressing to find a local governing body being remiss in keeping its constituents informed.

That scamp TJ, the office cat, will soon be back

When TJ, the office cat, betook himself to Des Moines to sit in on the deliberations of the 62nd General Assembly — and, incidentally, to make his space on this page available to reports thereon — he anticipated being gone for 100 days, plus perhaps a couple of weeks more. What he actually let himself in for was the longest legislative session in Iowa history; and we anticipate he'll not be in the best of humor when he returns to the old diggin's.

As soon as we receive the wrap-up column of the Capital News Letter, after the exhausted solons have returned to home cooking, TJ will be back to ruffle our feathers and complicate our life. He'll find there've been some changes made.

We were still in a state of post-tornado upheaval when he departed. TJ was without an easy chair on which to repose himself — which was a sore point. In the meantime, a replacement chair has been ordered from the manufacturer, delivered in the wrong decor, returned, and the correct chair delivered in its place. That REALLY suggests how long TJ's been gone; because straightening out incorrectly filled orders takes time, patience, and restraint. Most of all, TIME.

The Independent's won some additional press laurels, a couple of state ones and two on the national level, during TJ's absence. We hope to get the evidence hung on the wall before his return, to see if he'll notice. The carpet on the floor, we're sure he WILL; not to mention the new office front and other developments of the past six months.

It's with some trepidation that we look ahead to the feline's imminent return. Life has been simpler, while he's been gone. But all good things must come to an end. . . . And the cat will soon be back.

Report from Sen. Hugh Clarke

Many days (and the recent ones have been very hot, long and tiring) have been put in by members of the 62nd General Assembly in an effort to consider the important issues of our day. Weeks of great pressure for adjournment by those satisfied with our tax structure failed because the legislature, heeding two decades of public demand, has approved bills giving property tax relief and increased state aid to schools.

Final approval to a package of bills and approaches came only after leaders from both parties and the governor worked out a compromise attack on the twin problems. The compromise does have its cost in terms of higher state taxes. The tax increases have been fully reported, but some of the benefits of the aids bills have not been as thoroughly covered.

As approved, the bills:

—INCREASE STATE AID TO schools from the present 13 per cent to around 36 per cent by spending about $141 million a year of state funds.

—Repeal the personal property tax on household goods, ending this unfair tax on homeowners and renters in both urban and rural areas.

—Exempt from personal property taxes the first $2,500 of assessed valuation (about $10,000 actual value) on livestock, farm machinery and merchants' inventories.

—Grant an additional homestead tax credit to needy homeowners over age 65 to help these persons with fixed incomes meet the demands placed on them by inflation.

—Increase the agricultural land tax credit base from 15 to 20 mills for school costs and make available a total of $18 million to pay claims in full.

THE MAJOR IDEA BEHIND the entire package is the need to shift the ever-increasing costs of education from the slow-growing property tax base to the rapid growth part of our economy. Because revenue from state taxes reflects our economic growth more accurately than property values, it is believed the state will be able to continue meeting its share of school costs despite the expected increases in public education costs.

Taxpayers in most school districts will get some initial relief in the remaining part of this year, but most of the replacement of property taxes will come later, when the money is made available and the distribution plan is in operation.

An estimate of the property tax savings for either Hamilton or Wright county will approach a million dollars.

UNFORTUNATELY, NEW REVenues will have to be generated and an allocation of the state estimates of the nex taxes under the combined bills indicates that replacement revenues within each county will equal the property tax savings. I predict that far more than the $22½ million, estimated by the Governor's office, will be generated by the new tax on services.

One of the most important parts of the aid plan is the section which encourages more careful school spending. The bill calls for school districts to limit their operating budget increases to the same percentage, or less, as the growth in the state's economy.

This growth is determined by averaging the increased revenue from property and statewide taxes. Any district exceeding this growth must have its budget examined by a newly-created state budget review committee. If the district refuses to go along with the committee recommendations, it could lose part of its state aid.

AS MENTIONED EARLIER, THE price tag on the school aid part of the plan is about $141 million, which is about $100 million more than the state is now spending on local school aid.

The repeal of the household goods tax costs the state about $5.3 million a year, while the exemption of the first $2,500 in assessed valuation amounts to at least $18 million a year. In both cases, the state will directly reimburse to local governing units the amounts of money they lose as the result of these exemptions.

The freeze on real property taxes for persons over 65 with taxable incomes under $3,500 a year is expected to cost about $3 to $4 million the first years, and is likely to go higher thereafter.

THIS FREEZE FOR SENIOR citizens will be based on the lowest level of property taxation incurred in 1967 or 1968. This gives the school aid plan time to get into operation and will be more beneficial to the older persons.

I supported both the school aid and tax reform measures and hope that time will prove that Iowa's economy can prosper under these measures. This bi-partisan legislature's willingness to work long hours and hammer away at many of Iowa's toughest problems to the point where laws have been passed in an attempt to solve them, has convinced me of the great merit of both parties. Hopefully solved are many problems that neither party had the courage to do by itself.

Serving in the 62nd General Assembly has been a great experience and I wish to thank everyone who counseled me on the issues they thought important. I hope I have served you well.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

TAXES, TAXES, TAXES—

For the past three decades Iowa has operated on the same basic tax structure. Oh, there have been some modifications, but by-and-large it's been the same basic plan. Periodically legislators have talked of changing this structure, but until this legislative session all attempts at a tax overhaul have fizzled out.

This session was different, however. After three days of secret sessions involving Gov. Harold Hughes, Lt.-Gov. Robert Fulton, Speaker of the House Maurice Baringer and other legislators, a plan was unveiled to raise $112.5 million annually in new taxes, over and beyond what the governor had recommended in his budget message last January. At that time, Governor Hughes had suggested a budget of $376 million annually. The bill passed the Senate 48-13.

IF THE GOVERNOR'S BUDGET recommendations are followed, with this massive tax increase plan adopted Iowa could wind up with an annual budget of $488.5 million.

Less than 10 years ago, Iowa's budget was only $170 million. But property taxes have been on the up-swing. School costs, in particular, have been rising at a faster rate than local communities have been able to cope with. It's estimated that this year school budgets have gone up $25 million on salary increases alone.

The governor has been very anxious to get his budget enacted; several of his recommendations have been cut by the lawmakers. This has led some political observers to wonder if the compromise on the tax plan is linked to the budget. They reason that Governor Hughes gave in to demands for a tax increase when he was assured by legislative leaders that they would restore some of these budget cuts. This remained to be seen.

$100 MILLION SCHOOL AID—

The plan to raise $112.5 million in new taxes called for increases in sales, income, corporation, beer, cigarette and other taxes. The proposal calls for pumping more than $100 million a year into additional state school aid.

This means that instead of paying 12 per cent of the school costs, the state will be picking up the tab on about 36 per cent of the total school (elementary and secondary) costs. Another way of putting it is that property tax levies are expected to drop an average of 18 to 20 mills.

Besides additional state school aid, the plan also provides for $18 million a year in personal property tax replacement, $5.3 million for elimination of the personal property tax on household goods, $4 million to cover an additional tax credit for elderly with incomes under $3.500 and a $3 million boost in agricultural land tax credit.

der $3.500 and a $3 million boost

WHERE IT'LL COME FROM—

Someone has to pay for the increase. Legislative leaders say they have tried to spread the burden. The most revenue from a single tax increase would be from the sales tax, which would jump from two to three per cent. A one per cent additional tax hike would bring in an estimated $56.4 million.

However, during Governor Hughes' three terms he has never proposed increasing the sales tax. So there is a modification here People with taxable incomes under $7,000 would be given a credit on their state income tax. The credits would range from $2 to $12, depending upon income.

THE LEGISLATORS PROPOSE raising some $23 million by extending the sales tax to certain services, like hair cuts, auto repair, dry cleaning, and a tax on advertising.

When questioned as to how the tax on advertising would work, the legislative leaders were non-committal. They say it would apply to radio, television, newspapers and magazines. One of the main problems is how the tax would be applied in interstate trade. For example, one reporter wanted to know how the state could tax network radio and television shows originating out of New York.

THE LONG CONTROVERSIAL "readily available" clause would be stricken from the law. Many companies, in the past, have kicked up their heels when lawmakers have talked of removing this clause. They contend, as do others, that this law is an incentive for manufacturers to locate and stay in Iowa.

The law, as now construed, provides that a manufacturer does not have to pay the sales tax on items "not readily obtainable" in Iowa which are used in manufacturing a product. For example, a tire manufacturer does not have to pay the tax on rubber brought to Iowa because it is not readily obtainable here. This tax plan would change that.

It also increases the corporation tax from four to eight per cent. This increase would bring in an estimated $10 million annually. The plan goes even further. Presently individuals, and corporations, can deduct the amount of federal income tax they pay on their Iowa tax returns. Under this proposal, corporations will receive only one-half credit on federal taxes paid on their Iowa returns.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO—

There is pleasant news for taxpayers of the Belmond Independent School district in that millage for the 1952-53 school budget will be very little higher than for the past year. The $160,056 that must be raised by taxation will require slightly under 38 mills, Supt. Don Faris predicts. (Ed's note: tax needs for the past year came to $616,000, requiring a millage of close to 44 mills.)

History of county relates—

(This article continues S. D. Pierce's "Condensed History of Wright County" from the July 14, 1876, issue of The Belmond Herald, which was started in this space last week.)

The first permanent settler was Wm. Striker, who came into or near Eagle Grove in Eagle Grove township in August, 1854. Next came A. Overacker, Henry Luick, Mr. Wilsey, R. Gray and David Luick in September, 1954, the four families being the only families in the township of Pleasant who wintered through the winter of 1854-55; and I am told that had it not been for the wild game and fish, they must have left the country or perished.

In October, 1854, came Winter Brassfield, C. H. Martin and H. W. Montgomery and settled in Liberty township. November 9, 1854, came N. B. Paine, S. B. Hewitt, Sr., and S. B. Hewitt, Jr., and settled in Eagle Grove township. Mr. Paine built a log cabin in which the three families lived for a season.

Indians drove settlers away

In the spring of the year 1854, two men by the name of Ford and Murdock squatted on land in Horse Grove and prepared some of it in the timber on which they planted corn and potatoes. In the course of the summer of 1854 a company of Sioux Indians pursued a company of Mosqua Indians and drove away all the settlers there were in Horse Grove (the said Ford and Murdock) and followed them into Hardin County.

Towards fall Murdock and Ford returned to their premises, and sold their corn and potatoes to Messrs. Overacker & Luick, from Belmond, and their claim to Mr. Robert Rowen, who came to Horse Grove in the fall of 1854 and purchased their claim, and in the spring (10th of May) 1855, moved his family onto the premises on which he still resides.

INDIAN SCARE RAN OFF SETTLERS

Sawmill erected in '56

Ed Ballou and Horace Riley came with him and purchased land near the Grove, Mr. Ballou still residing on the premises then purchased. In November, 1855, Robert Duffy and James Riley came and purchased farms in or near the grove, where Mr. Duffy still resides. Daniel McNeil and Wm. Hurd also came in 1855.

In 1856, Messrs. Hurd and McNeil erected a steam sawmill, which was destroyed by fire since. Mr. R. K. Eastman came into the grove in 1856; Geo. Bingham came in 1857.

Martin Pritchard came to Pleasant township in the spring, and G. G. Pritchard in the fall of 1856, they erecting the first frame house in the county, it now being known and the Levi Whited house.

The first post office was established in Horse Grove in 1856, Wm. Hurd P. M. They were compelled to bring their mail from Cedar Falls free of expense to the department (a distance of 65 miles) for two years. The first school house erected at the grove was in 1857.

21 lived in mill

Dr. H. N. Crapper, Henry Franks, C. H. Packard, F. Zimmerman, and W. H. Gillespie came to Boone township about this time and settled on the Boone river. In the fall of 1854 Dr. L. H. Cutler came to Belmond and made a purchase of land; and in the spring of 1855, moved in with his family, as also did Thomas Oliver and A. Dumond.

They built a log cabin near the mill in which lived 21 persons during the season. Mr. Dumond purchased the mill privilege and soon after, in company with Dr. Cutler, erected a mill thereon. The Whited Bro's (three of them), a Mr. Fisk, Geo. and Ed Rogers, James M. Elder, Adrian Elder, Luther Loomis, and Geo. A. McKay came into the county about this time — 1855. W. Rankins came in 1855. A. Duke came in 1854.

Hotel built here in '58

The Belmond Hotel was built in 1858 by Patterson & Prindle. The first store in Belmond was opened by Dr Cutler in 1858.

Middleton Bro's and J. D. Sells were some of the earliest settlers in Troy Twp.

A man by the name of Beebee built a bark shanty in Pleasant township in the spring of 1854, and planted corn and potatoes, which he sold, with his claim, to A. Overracker, and many others who we have not time to name came into the county about this time or soon after.

First marriage recalled

The first marriage in the county was Wm. Paine, aged 70 years, to a widow Murphy, aged 55, by Esquire Eggleston, A. D. 1855, at Dr. Crapper's house in Liberty Twp. The first birth in the county was in Troy township, to Mr. Striker and wife, about the same time.

The first death in the county occurred in Pleasant township: was the wife of A. Dukes. In 1855, the nearest P. O. to Belmond was at Cedar Falls, whence they brought their mail a matter of 75 miles by private subscription, a trip occupying four days. The first post office in Belmond was in 1856, A. Dumond, P. M.

The first election to organize the county was held in the log cabin of N. B. Paine in Eagle Grove township, August 6th, 1855, at which the following named county officers were elected, viz:

Election polled 27 votes

For County Judge, C. David Dean; Att'y, N. B. Paine; Treasurer and Recorder, A. D. Brassfield; Clerk District Court and County Court, C. H. Martin; Sheriff, Scott Crapper; School Commissioner, H. W. Montgomery; Surveyor, S. B. Hewitt, Jr.

At this election, 27 votes were polled. At an election in 1856, 68 votes were polled.

The entire business of the county was under the control of the county judge until 1861, when the government of the county was changed by adopting a board of supervisors, one from each township.

NORTH IOWA Peach OF THE WEEK!

Here's JoEllen Swanson, daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Swanson of Britt, who is Britt's Peach of the Week this week. Jo was elected Britt band queen and represented Britt in the recent North Iowa Band Festival. She is a 1967 graduate of Britt High School, was named to membership in the National Honor Society, and plans this fall to attend Trinity College at Deerfield, Ill.

Jo plays bassoon in the Britt concert band, and played drums in the marching band. She was also an accompanist and piano soloist and sung in mixed chorus, girls' glee club and ensembles. For a number of years, she also served as pianist for the Britt Rotary Club.

Your Girl Friday may be trying her best . . . but she can't be efficient with outmoded business forms.

Not important?

It is when you consider that the time spent in handling business forms costs you many times more than the forms themselves. But business forms designed to fit your special needs can cut your clerical costs way down.

So before you fix the blame on "her" . . . why not give us a call? It may be your first step toward solving your paperwork problems.

The Belmond Independent

"Heart of This Four County Trade Area"

VOL. 48 NO. 42 | OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER | WRIGHT COUNTY IOWA—THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1967 | OFFICIAL CITY PAPER | 10 PAGES AND SUPPLEMENT

MAIN STREET

BY PAT, DICK, DUANE

Belmond Department store was, as the saying goes, a beehive of activity Sunday afternoon as Chet and Imogene Hiddleston got things shaped up for the store's opening on Monday. As Ye Ed watched the bustle from across the street, it became apparent that the Hiddlestons had quite a sizeable "staff" lending a hand. Not only that, but things were getting done with very little evidence of "straw bossing" on Chet's part.

We were curious enough to ask Chet about it Monday morning. He concurred that he DID have a mighty efficient crew helping out. In it were four Anthony managers and the wives of three of them, all of whom had extensive store experience and as a consequence needed no direction beyond naming of the next task to be done.

Helping were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Moellenberndt of Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Borcherding of Denison, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Fielder of Perry and Al Thompson (bachelor) of Humboldt. This group, with Chet, has engaged in similar cooperative efforts in the past and they've clearly reduced the helping-hand business to a science. Chet says it took a lot of "sweat" out of his opening, knowing his buddies were coming.

Got a request a short while back from Mrs. Phil (nee Barbara Chamberlin) Blake of Kirkland, Wash., to start a subscription for her and to mail the previous six weeks' copies. There followed this note: "Thank you for the back issues of the Independent. I've had $5.00 of fun reading it already! Especially the 15-30 etc., years ago items, which have names I KNOW (including mine)." . . . It's always nice to renew connections with ex-Belmondites who have deserted "the best town goin' " for parts afar.

An interested — and interesting — visitor to Belmond last weekend was Lylle Dunlap of Eugene, Ore., whose father practiced dentistry here around the turn of the century. Mr Dunlap had never been back to Belmond since his family moved away in 1906, when he was 14 years old. Dr. Dunlap sold his dental practice to a Dr. Goodsell, who in turn later sold it to Dr. H. L. Gowdy, father of the middle Mainstreeter.

Mr. Dunlap brought with him a number of photographs that were related to his days in Belmond and found persons with whom he struck up a conversation eager to look them over.

When the old - timer arrived here on Friday, it had been his intention to leave the same day; but he was having such a big time that he put up at Hill Motel for the night. He told us how Susan's Bay (the small bay off the river north of town) REALLY got it's name. Lylle said farmer's cow, name o' Susan, drowned in it; whereupon this long-favored skating pond got the name it's borne for lo, these many years.

After a surprisingly long lapse of time, we got a communication last weekend from our good friend O. H. Leary. He pretty regularly keeps us on our toes, and we've missed his notes. He was commenting on the 4th of July poster that announced that the parade would follow its line of march between 1:00 a. m. and 2:00 p. m. (Yep, that's what it said). Wrote Leary: "That was some parade! Finally fell asleep and awoke nine hours later and, believe it or not, the parade was still passing by!" He had an observation to make on a different matter, which we're leaving for TJ, the office cat, to handle. TJ dearly loves a good argument with Leary.

From a Mrs. Philip McCaffery of Stanley, Wis., comes a postcard saying that her son made a stop in Belmond early this month and left behind a hunting knife that he highly treasured. He's a summer student at Wartburg college, Waverly, and the weekend of the 4th stopped here en route to Hannibal, Mo., to see the Mark Twain memorials.

On Friday of last week, the neatly packaged knife arrived at the McCaffery home — no return address except "City of Belmond."

"Our son has had this knife for many years and will really be happy to know it is safe here at home," wrote Mrs. McCaffery. "We do wish to thank whichever citizen of your town, who took the trouble to do this nice deed." Sure and for certain, a friendly deed it was, and we'd like to know ourselves who was the responsible party.

Do you have trouble lining up good baby-sitters? Jeanne Bamford believes that problem should be considerably simplified as a result of the baby-sitting clinic sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary this week at the library basement, Monday through Wednesday in the afternoons.

Thirty baby-sitters were on hand for the first session Monday afternoon. Several more joined the group on Tuesday. The sponsors were delighted with the response.

A lot of valuable know-how was provided by the volunteer lecturers — how to meet emergencies, as well as how to be a satisfactory baby-sitter under routine conditions. The Auxiliary sees good reason to make the clinic an annual affair, to Belmond's benefit as well as the sitters'.

BACK FROM TRIP ABROAD

Mrs. D. R. Schaal and her son Lewis returned Monday of last week from a month's tour in England and Europe. While on the continent they traveled in Holland, Germany, Austria, Italy, Monaco, Switzerland and France.

"THIS IS NOT ALL," said Senator Hugh Clarke of the tall pile of journals and cartoned paperwork with which he was photographed above as an accumulation of the 62nd General Assembly. The volumes shown included House and Senate journals, bill books of both houses, enrolled bills that have been signed by the governor; and in the cartons, departmental reports, hearing testimonies and correspondence. He admits it takes a bit of doing for a legislator to keep up with it all.

Solvent, so it will dissolve—

Friday night at a joint meeting of local American Legion and VFW members held at the IOOF hall, the ill-fated Veterans Memorial corporation was voted out of existence, its property was sold for $5,000 to King Solomon Masonic lodge, and the two veterans organizations were pointed toward future careers wholly independent of one another.

Strangely enough, it was a misfortune in the form of last October's tornado that proved a final blessing to the long troubled corporation. An insurance settlement of $10,000 paid to the corporation for demolishment of the Veterans Memorial hall gave the two organizations an unanticipated opportunity to get out from under a financial obligation that had proved too heavy for them to carry.

As matters stood after Friday night's meeting, all that remained was for debts to be cleared out of an adequacy of funds on hand and the balance to be equitably divided between the veterans groups. The corporation will then be dissolved.

Money from the insurance settlement, sale of salvagable furnishings for $1,200, and the purchase price of the memorial hall site enabled the corporation to pay off a $5.000 first mortgage held by Mrs. Ella Cleveland, a $3,000 second mortgage held by the Legion, and other outstanding debts.

It was a happy turn of events for the corporation and the two organizations that had created it, as in the struggle to buy the property and keep the corporation solvent they had jointly "had a tiger by the tail" for a number of years.

About 16 years ago, the corporation was set up after the Veterans of Foreign Wars post here had come into existence and the Legion post sold a frame building on Highway 69 that had served as its home. There seemed reason to believe that no trouble would be experienced in purchasing from Mrs. Cleveland the former Belmond Opera House to serve as a meeting hall for the two veterans groups and a site for their activities and others of a community nature.

Belmond's was the 35th American Legion post organized in Iowa after World War I and had enjoyed a thriving existence. Signs of trouble ahead might conceivably have been detected when the joint venture was undertaken, but they were anything but apparent.

Veterans of the first World War who had made the Legion post a valuable asset to the community were reaching an age when their interest in the post was beginning to dwindle due to other matters bidding strenuously for their time and attention.

Creation of the Veterans of Foreign Wars post was accompanied by an enthusiasm that attracted a majority of World War II veterans to its membership. A friendly rivalry developed between the two organizations for veterans' support; but the division of support was to some degree a handicap to both.

Nevertheless, the Veterans Memorial corporation was launched on an optimistic note and for the first few years experienced no great difficulty in keeping up on its building payments and keeping in a satisfactorily solvent condition. Then there was a legal "tightening up" on some of its sources of income, and a pinch began to be felt.

Matters got slowly but steadily worse, and only generous cooperation of the part of Mrs. Cleveland prevented foreclosure on the property as the corporation fell into desperate straights.

Somewhat over a year ago, directors of the corporation made a careful study of plans that might possibly enable it to extricate itself from its financial plight. None seemed to provide a satisfactory answer, however, and the decision was reached that the property would have to be sold in hope of realizing enough to settle all debts and leave a balance that would represent at least a partial recovery of the corporation's investment.

But construction of the new high school, with its attractive student center made possible by the C. P. Luick endowment of $300,000, made the hall no longer needed as a site for large banquets; and Luick Memorial Auditorium had eliminated its usefulness as a meeting place for large gatherings. It became apparent that the building had outlived its need; and a buyer willing to pay an acceptable price could not be found.

That was the situation on Oct. 14 of last year. Then came the twister — and solvency.

Not only did the insurance settlement go a long way toward easing the Veterans Memorial corporation's dilemma; but the Masons decided that the site was a better one for their proposed lodge hall than one just south of the Kinseth Plumbing and Heating property on First avenue SE that they had owned for some time.

So after 16 rather stormy years, the corporation is bowing out of existence; the Masons before long will have an attractive new "home" on the old Vets' hall site; and the Legion and VFW are now freed to work out their own destinies separately — without an albatross about their collective necks.

Bingo scheduled for 4 Saturdays

Retail promotion plans for the balance of the year were reviewed at a general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held Monday noon at Lynn's Lounge.

Particular notice was given to the series of bingo games that will be held under Chamber sponsorship for a period of four, consecutive Saturdays, beginning this weekend.

Approximately 30 firms are currently handing out free bingo cards to local shoppers who enjoy a go at the popular corn game. The cries of "Five under B . . . " etc., will begin at 9:15 o'clock on each of the Bingo Nights.

It was noted that the community auction sale that the Chamber had planned to conduct last Saturday night was postponed due to rain and now will be held this coming Saturday, at 6:00 p. m.

A major addition to the promotion calendar for the last half of 1967 is Tornado Appreciation Days, to be held in October. No specific dates have yet been selected; but Belmond businesses hope to put on a really big affair, which will serve as an enthusiastic "thank you" to the many hundreds of persons who helped us out of our mess following the twister of last Oct. 14.

"Work week" in Tennessee—

Busy time at settlement for MYF

Fifteen members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, weary but with a gleam of satisfaction in their eyes, returned home Sunday from a week of work and study at Henderson Settlement, a Methodist mission station in mountainous southeast Kentucky.

Accompanied by five counselors — Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Jones, Al Korthas, Kris McNeal and Sheila Musselman — the MYF'ers had traveled to the settlement in two station wagons and a third car. And while there, they WORKED!

They arrived July 1 and left July 8. In between times, they were up at 6:30 a. m. and ready to tear into the day's work at 8:00 o'clock. It was the plan that they work four hours daily, then spend four hours hearing lectures by the settlement staff.

It didn't exactly work out that way. The settlement has acreages of cucumbers and peppers this year, being raised as demonstration crops. And due to excessive rains, the weeds were about to take them over — particularly the peppers.

Consequently, by their own choice the Belmond workers were letting lecture-hearing go until evening and putting in sunshiny hours on the business end of a hoe. Manager Jerry Marks, an Iowa Falls native and Iowa State university graduate, credited the faithful 15 with having prevented a $3,000 loss on the peppers.

The settlement area has been blighted by strip mining, and it is hoped that cucumber and peppers possibly can be raised thereabouts as a cash crop. Sixty-seven per cent of the male adults are unemployed, and cash from any source is decidedly scare.

When rain forced the boys and girls indoors, they did repairs and cleaning in the church, school and dormitory; or they did a variety of office work — or anything else that called for doing.

On the settlement staff besides Manager Marks and his wife are the over all director, a minister and his wife (both ex-Iowans), a trained nurse and a social worker.

During the past year, the MYF raised money toward financing themselves during the work week by a variety of projects. Some "tornado money" sent to them by other churches was also used in this manner; and all pitched in some money of their own. The group had to meet all its own expenses for travel and the week at the settlement.

Mr. Jones and the other counselors returned home mighty proud of the group and the remarkable way they'd met the pepper crisis and other challenges of the week. Making up the work party were:

Legion meeting set for tonight

A regular meeting of Eimbrink post of the American Legion will be held this (Thursday) evening at 8:00 o'clock at the library basement.

Election of officers will be one of the major items on the agenda. Ralph Wilson has served as commander during the past year.

An important discussion will be held relative to the post's future existence as a wholly separate and independent organization, with the imminent dissolution of the Veterans Memorial corporation.

Hospital auxiliary sets drive for membership

Annual membership drive of the Belmond Community Hospital Auxiliary will be launched on Monday of next week. Mrs. Pat Quigley will be chairman of the campaign.

She reminds present and potential members that the auxiliary's only sources of money are the membership fees and proceeds from annual Hospital Appreciation Day.

These funds are spent to the benefit of the hospital on items that cannot be acquired out of the hospital's operational budget. Over the years of its existence, the auxiliary has spent close to $15,000 on hospital equipment and furnishings.

This has made an average of almost $1,000 per year. Thus far this year, $580 has been spent by the auxiliary to buy furniture for the doctors' lounge in the new obstetrical unit and on re-upholstering furniture in the waiting room.

Twenty-five dollars buys a life membership in the auxiliary, $5.00 a sustaining membership and regular membership fee is a dollar. Mrs. Quigley urges women of Belmond and adjoining communities to give the hospital their support by renewing or obtaining auxiliary memberships.

Skelly will hold "grand opening"

Joe's Skelly Service this weekend joins the list of Highway 69 businesses "officially" back in operation after suffering major damage or demolishment in the tornado. Joe's Skelly was serving customers again not too long after the storm; but the service station's official grand opening in its new quarters is this Friday and Saturday.

Proprietor Joe McLaughlin says that on those days he'll have free roses for all the women visiting the station, free bloop balls and candy for the kids; and for all adults, a chance to win one of 10 valuable door prizes to be given on the basis of registration.

MAJ. JERRY HANSON SOON TO LEAVE FOR VIETNAM

Maj. and Mrs. Jerry Hanson, Jodi, Jeff and Joel of Brush, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Larson, Cathy and Susan of Pittsburg, Pa., are visiting in the parental A. C. Hanson home.

Major Hanson and family will go on to Seward AFB, Murfreesbro, Tenn., where he will be in training for five weeks. He will leave for duty in Vietnam the last of August and the family will then return to Brush, Colo.

The past several years, Major Hanson has been on the faculty of the U. S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs.

Future plans uncertain—

Clarke reflects on long session

Senator Hugh Clarke told The Independent after his return last week from the longest-ever session of the Iowa legislature, "To have served in the 62nd General Assembly was every bit the great experience that I expected it would be.

"Because the session lasted so long, I felt towards the end of the session that being referred to as a 'freshman' legislator was rather inappropriate."

Explaining that a legislator in this particular general assembly was bound to acquire more than "a session's worth" of knowledge as to legislative procedures, he went on to say, "I have yet to resolve the question of choosing between the satisfaction of a life of public service or the more lucrative pursuit of a career as an executive in private enterprise."

Senator Clarke referred to his separation from the executive staff of Tomco Genetic Giant, now a subsidiary of Anderson, Clayton and company, shortly after he took up his legislative duties just after the first of this year.

He said that not only whether he would seek re-election in 1970 rested upon his decision in this matter, but whether he would serve out the balance of his present four-year term.

The senator admits, "Had I anticipated only the disagreeable events of the past assembly, such as the session lasting six months, or such time consuming and bitter battles as were mine to fight in government reorganization, or a host of other problems that did arise, my original decision as to running for the office would have been different.

"But I had no crystal ball, and I foresaw no such trials. Now that the session is over and I'm starting to get rested, I look back and feel great to have been among the majority who had the courage to face up to the controversial and emotional issues that have long been talked about without action."

He added, "This legislature did have a majority of members determined to do those things which would better Iowa and the results were dramatic.

"Who would have predicted that one session would take up and resolve such issues as tax revision, a rewrite and upgrading of our state aid to schools formulae, revamp our governmental structure and achieve reapportionment?"

Federal demolition sum dwindles; like from $120,000 to $2,221

A discouraging discussion was held Thursday of last week by the city council with a field representative of the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development relative to Belmond's chances of obtaining any of the $120,000 that was earmarked for local demolition purposes.

All that the city has asked for is $6,900 — and if the matter is pursued farther, $2,200 of that amount may be deleted. That sum was for demolition of the Cornell building (which formerly housed the Belmond Bakery), and it is now understood the owner is not interested in having the structure torn down.

Should that be the case, the only funds asked for would be $2,400 for tearing down the Barendregt building (the old bank property) and $2,300 for the Griesy building that was the location of Anthony's department store. Those were the low bids submitted for the demolition work.

The representative from the Chicago office of HUD (no one thought to make note of her name) was able to give little encouragement that any grant could be obtained unless the city puts up one-third of the total amount in cash of its own.

Somewhere along the line, city officials had been led to understand that volunteered demolition work on the heels of the tornado could be taken as credit "in kind" toward a demolition grant.

At the expense of much time and trouble, a conservatively accurate estimate of $56,731 was arrived at by the city in volunteered labor and machinery put to demolition work here. But the Chicago visitor declared these figures would have to be backed up by invoices — and no invoices were indulged in during the critical clean-up period.

It was additionally called to the city's attention by the HUD representative that a fixed fee of $1,913 is taken by the government "off the top" of any demolition grant to cover federal expense for audits, etc., etc., etc., involved in arranging the grant.

Should only $4,700 for the Barendregt and Griesy jobs be asked, the city would receive a net grant of only $2,221. The city fathers feel they've just about expended that much value in fruitless time and effort to date on the proposition and are about of a mind to throw in the sponge.

Role in play won by Luanne Paule

Luanne Paule, daughter of Mrs. Ardeth Paule, is filling a role in a presentation of four one-act plays Wednesday and Thursday of this week at the University of Iowa, Iowa City.

She is one of 21 high school students chosen from among 56 attending the 36th annual U-of-I workshop in speech and drama who won parts in the plays.

Cowboys shortended, 8-2—

Broncs whack Clarion; 6th in row

Coach Ted Besch's Broncos racked up their sixth win in a row, after three starting losses, by smashing out an 8-2 decision over Clarion here Monday night.

Terry Nelson's team mates presented him with a 3-0 lead in the first inning, and the tall right-hander limited the Cowboys to five hits to win without trouble.

Lyle Shillington went four innings for the losers and gave up all nine Belmond hits and all eight of the runs. Terry McCool was brought in from right field to relieve on the mound in the 5th and 6th, setting the Broncs down with little trouble.

Wildness got Nelson in temporary trouble from time to time. He walked six men; but good fielding by the Broncos got him off the hook on several occasions. Tim Roberts continued his outstanding work, pounding out a single and double and making several fine plays from his third base position.

All of Belmond's hitting was done by the top of the batting order — Roberts, Tim and Dave Dirks and Wayne Smith. Twice Smith smashed solid singles, but each time was out trying to turn the hit into a double.

Poor base running was costly to the Cowboys in several innings when they appeared to have rallies underway only to have the threat wiped out by Belmond defensive plays.

Jack Smith, Clarion second baseman, was the only Cowboy to get more than one hit. He collected a pair of singles and scored Clarion's second run, in the 5th inning.

CANDY MAKES HONOR ROLL

Candy McClenahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy McClenahan, was among the students at Morningside college, Sioux City, named to the Dean's Honor Roll for the spring semester. A minimum of 3.25 out of a possible 4.0 is required as a grade average to win this recognition.

Achievement show time for 4-H'ers

Every girls 4-H club in Wright county will be holding an achievement show in its community during the last part of July or the first part of August. The public and especially neighbors and friends of the members are encouraged to attend these shows, to see what the 4-H'ers have been learning about foods and nutrition this past year.

Some of the projects which have been different from those in other years dealt with comparing convenience foods with the homemade, and the "science why" classes. The latter are displays to show the science involved in preparing food as well as science in connection with the nutritive value of food.

Other entries at achievement shows will include cookies, yeast breads, day's food plan, canned foods, jellies and jams, baked products from an Iowa product—cornmeal, and table settings.

Dates and places of achievement shows for girls from this area of the county are: Grant Go-Getters, 10:00 a. m. on July 25, Lutheran church at Clarion; Pleasant Peppy Pals, 1:00 p. m. on July 27, 4-H clubhouse; Iowa U-Go-I-Go, 1:00 p.m. on July 28, American Legion hall at Rowan.

Boyd gets Bronze Star — 22 years after citation

Twenty-two years ago the 22nd of June, Tech. Sgt. Merritt Boyd was discharged from the U. S. Army after a period of duty that saw him very much in the thick of things when the Allies were still trying to retrieve France from the Nazis' clutch.

Just a day or two after the 22nd anniversary of his discharge, he received belatedly a Bronze Star medal he'd been awarded for heroism in action that took place exactly 23 years ago this coming Sunday.

Merritt's daughter and two sons, Elizabeth, Jerry and Gary, had seen a letter their dad had received notifying him he'd been awarded the medal; but somehow or other, the Army never got around to presenting it to him.

The children considered this a rather serious omission, and last March wrote to the Joint Chiefs of Staff asking about it. That started wheels turning — and some three months later, along came the medal to the Boyds' farm home northeast of Rowan.

It was under the date of Feb. 13, 1945, that Sergeant Boyd received a copy of the following memorandum sent to the Commanding Officer of the 899th Tank Destroyer Battalion:

"Under the provisions of Army Regulations 600-45, as amended, the Bronze Star is awarded to:

"Merritt L. Boyd, Technical Sergeant (then Staff Sergeant) 37039637, 899th Tank Destroyer Battalion, who distinguished himself by heroic achievement in action against the enemy on 16 July 1944 in the vicinity of Esglandes, France.

"Learning that a vitally needed Tank Destroyer had been disabled about 200 yards in front of supporting Infantry positions Sgt. Boyd unhesitatingly moved forward with his T-2 Recovery Vehicle and crew to retrieve the damaged vehicle before enemy fire could completely destroy it.

"Regardless of the extremely heavy enemy small arms, mortar, and direct tank fire, the recovery crew advanced until they were within 25 yards of the Destroyer, when the enemy fire became so accurate that the crew was unable to tow the vehicle to safety. Three attempts were made before the crew was able to accomplish its mission.

"Sgt. Boyd's aggressive initiative, devotion to duty, and complete disregard for personal safety were a credit to himself and to the Armed Forces of the United States. Entered military service from Iowa."

While Merritt, himself, was sufficiently unimpressed by the whole matter that he'd never sought delivery of the medal, the kids are mighty proud of their dad — and of the impressive bronze award in its leather case.

In summer league ball—

Dodgers and Cards still unbeaten

—SPORTS—

Two of the summer recreation baseball leagues found one leader firmly in charge of proceedings by the end of last week. No rivals had been able to trip the T-Ball Dodgers, captained by Dalon Obrecht and Brian Eekhoff; and the midget Cardinals, captained by Darrell Bemrich and Nick Classick, were also sailing along without a loss.

It was a different story in the Peewee league. The Mohawks and Panthers have handed each other a single defeat; but other than that, they've taken turns beating the somewhat outmanned Giants to share the top spot with 4-1 records.

That the Giants may not endlessly play the role of fall guys was hinted, though, when they held the Panthers to a relatively shaky 4-1 victory last Friday. Although Brian McVey fanned 12 Giants in the five innings played, he was touched for four hits. Two of them came in the 4th when Craig McMurray doubled and Larry Robbins later singled him home.

As losing hurler, McMurray allowed six hits; but he held the Panthers scoreless until the 3rd inning, when an error along with three hits gave the victors a 3-0 edge.

In T-Ball action, the luckless Twins captained by Randy Elphic and Ricky Summers lost a pair of tough ones. They bowed to the Cubs 24-19 and then were nosed out by the Giants 19-18. The Dodgers won with ease their only start of the week, Thumping the Cubs 27 to 10.

Besides the 4-1 rouser between the Panthers and Giants in peewee action, the Panthers swept by the Giants in an earlier game 9-1 and the Mohawks blanked the Giants 10-0. In the whitewash affair the winning pitcher, Mark Havens, tossed a no-hitter and helped his own cause by rapping out a home run and a triple.

The question of who is going to stop the Cardinals in the Midget league came no closer to a solution as the Classick-Bemrich team needed only three innings and the 10-run rule in whipping the Cubs 13 to 3. Tom Korthas was pounded for 10 hits, including a triple by Bemrich and double by Classick. Nick gave up only two hits as the winning pitcher but issued seven walks to complicate matters for himself.

In the other midget game of the week, the Redlegs pulled into a second-place tie with the Tigers will a 12-8 victory that saw the Bengals rally with three runs in the 5th inning but fall short of overtaking the winners. Dana Obrecht hurled for the Redlegs and Kenny Robbins for the losers.

In the exhibition game played on the Fourth, which did not count in the standings, Mark Havens tossed a three-hitter as the peewee Mohawks downed the Panthers 10 to 2. McVey had control trouble, walking 10 men. Two of the four hits he allowed were a triple and single by Lee Laaveg.

Rick Hawley and Lynn Henderson locked horns in a first-class pitchers' dual here Friday night as the BHS baseball nine edged Lake Mills, 1 to 0. Hawley got credit for the win on his two-hit performance as Henderson gave up only four hits but allowed them to come in clusters of two.

In the second inning, the Bulldogs got by with no damage done when Earl Kalkwarf and Tim Roberts got two consecutive singles but Kalkwarf was caught off of second on a throw by Catcher Craig Mitchell and Don Havens was nailed for the third Bronco out.

When Havens gained base on a walk as third man up in the 6th inning, Lake Mills wasn't so lucky. Tim Dirks advanced him with a single and then brother Dave Dirks matched the one-bagger to bring Havens in with the lone score of the evening.

The Bulldogs' only hits came in the 4th and 5th innings. After Groe singled in the 4th, Hawley nailed him off the bag after he'd stolen second and retired the side 1-2-3. In the 5th, Steve Pederson singled as first man up, gained third on a passed ball by Keith Boller and was joined on base by Maurice Hope when the latter was walked.

At this point, two men were out and Hawley fanned Mitchell to get the third one. Belmond's lead was threatened again in the top of the 7th when, with two down, Pederson was walked, stole second and gained third on another passed ball. But Hawley struck out Gudmondson for the final out to clinch his well earned victory. It brought the Broncos' record to 5-3.

Each pitcher walked only two men, but Hawley fanned 11 batters to six for Henderson.

Eagles take over girls' league top

Racking up a couple of additional victories last week, the Eagles in the girls summer recreation softball league took lone possession of first place with a 3-0 record.

Game results to date have been: Eagle 35, Boomerangs 17; Wildcats 14, Boomerangs 8; Eagles 11, Wildcats 9; Eagles 22, Boomerangs 21; Boomerangs 15, Wildcats 9.

In recent games played by the Belmond Community Girls softball team, the summer recreation outfit ceached by Jean Coulson lost to Lindsay Water Softeners of Clarion 18-0, dropped a 22-21 thriller to the BHS Class of '65, and was edged by the Pleasant Pioneers 22-18.

Fred takes 4th at Lake Mills

Trouble on the second nine forced Fred Gordon to settle for fourth place in the annual Rice Lake Amateur golf tournament Sunday at Lake Mills. Actually, he tied with John Eymann of Forest City for third at 108 but lost on a coin flip.

Hitting eight of the nine greens in regulation on the first nine, Fred posted an even-par 35. On his second round, he could do no better than a 38, then parred the final nine.

Don't Turn It Off!

It is your pilot light! Keep the pilot light on your gas furnace on all summer. It's the best way to keep your furnace dry . . . to keep damaging humid air out of your heating system.

Your burning pilot light will give you a more comfortable basement, too. The slight heat maintains a gentle updraft in the chimney that ventilates and drys basement air.

You'll also have instant heat at your command. You can turn the heating system up quickly whenever you need warmth and you don't have to bother having the pilot light turned on in the Fall.

Keep your pilot light on. You'll have a more efficient, better operating furnace when winter comes.

Good turn-out of riders for horse show on 4th

A first-class riding show was put on by the Belmond Trail Blazers on the 4th of July at the Central Soya grounds, more than two dozen riders competing in some of the individual events.

Trophy for the visiting club having the most members riding went to the Wright County Saddle club of Clarion.

Of keen interest to the spectators, along with the riding events, was the women's western dress class conducted to choose the most attractive equestrienne outfit. Chosen on vote of the paying customers, the trophy went to Anita Severson.

Placing after her, in order, were Meredith Ersland, Shirley Pals, Jan Ersland and Myrna Baker.

Event results were as follows:

Senior musical chairs — 1. Chick Taylor, 2. Denny Barkema, 3. Bob Haupt, 4. Gary Ersland, 5. Bill Johnson.

Junior musical chairs — 1. Kaylene Malloy, 2. Jim Lalor, 3. Jim Cullinan, 4. Linda Lalor, 5. Bob Cullinan.

Pop race (12 and under) — 1. Craig Poolman, 2. Terry Peters, 3. Debra Cullinan, 4. Mark Muhlenbruck, 5. Darwin Weide.

Froshmores drub Britt, 12 to 2

Belmond High's freshman-sophomore ball team added another easy victory to its string Wednesday of last week at Britt, clobbering the Eaglets 12 to 2 on the losers' diamond. Ron Ginapp gave up five hits as winning hurler, but kept them scattered except in the 3rd inning when a hit batsman, error and three consecutive singles accounted for both the Britt runs.

Ginapp fanned 12 batters and walked only three men. Hesley hurled three innings for the losers, allowing seven hits including a triple by Rick Hawley and double by Tim Dirks. He was relieved by Goepel, who permitted only one run in the 4th through 6th innings but then let three more cross the plate in the 7th.

Hawley had a perfect performance at the plate, getting three singles in addition to his triple and gaining 1st base a fifth time on an error. He scored four of the five times he got on. Stan Korthas also made it to first base five times, twice on hits and three times on walks.

Out-of-town kids do "all right" in races held here on July 4th

From the frequency with which unfamiliar names popped up in results of the kids' races held at the city park on the Fourth of July, it would appear that visitors for the day took a fair chunk of the prize money out of town.

This was fine, where the Jaycees were concerned, as they were anxious to see visitors enjoy themselves as well as to provide fun for the home-towners. A Hayworth family from parts unknown produced winners in three of the girls events, Kyra taking two events and her older sister Kim being victor in one and second in another.

Larry Elphic was perhaps the afternoon's standout performer, winning all the race events for boys in the 11-15 age group. His younger brother, Randy, won one. Vicki Broshar was a double winner in the girls' 11-15 class and Brian McVey won two boys races, age 8-11.

Renee Ketchum placed in every foot racing event for girls 8-to-11 and also picked up prize money in the bicycle race.

Following are names of all the winners:

Sprints for girls — (six and under) 1. Jody Jenison, 2. Karen Gerdes, 3. Janes Lindvall; (6-8) 1. Kyra Hayworth, 2. Teresa Jenison, 3. LuAnn Korthas; (8-10) 1. Kim Hayworth, 2. Renee Ketchum, 3. Petty Smith; (11-15) 1. Vicki Broshar, 2. Dianne Bemrich, 3. Connie Delger.

Sprints for boys — (six and under) 1. David Knoshaug, 2. Randy Pals, 3. tie between Todd Stadtlander and Bobby Stalker; (6-8) 1. Jimmy Nuehring, 2. Tony Goss, 3. Curtis Patterson; (8-10) 1. Craig Patterson, 2. Steven Soma, 3. R. Ratcliffe; (11-15) 1. Larry Elphic, 2. Doug Lowenberg, 3. Daryl Martin.

Girls backward race — (6-8) 1. Kyra Hayworth, 2. LuAnn Korthas, 3. Janet Anderson; (8-11) 1. Joan Lieberknecht, 2. Renee Ketchum, 3. LeeAnn Stalker; (11-15) 1. Dianne Bemrich, 2. Yvonne Deike, 3. Connie Delger.

Boys backward race — (6-8) 1. Randy Elphic, 2. Dalon Obrecht, 3. John Rout; (8-11) 1. Brian McVey, 2. Doug Lowenberg, 3. Ricky Summers; (11-15) 1. Larry Elphic, 2. Tom Korthas, 3. Jim Killius.

Girls sack race — (8-11) 1. Renee Ketchum, 2. Kim Hayworth, 3. Shirley Suntken; (11-15) 1. Vicki Broshar, 2. Yvonne Deike, 3. Dianne Bemrich.

Boys sack race — (8-11) 1. Brian McVey, 2. Randy Pals, 3. Doug Lowenberg; (11-15) 1. Larry Elphic, 2. Brad Jenison, 3. Kevin Bohman.

Bicycle races — (girls 8-13) 1. Amy Modderman, 2. Renee Ketchum, 3. Annette Olson; (boys 8-10) 1. Dalon Obrecht, 2. Ricky Summers, 3. Gary Pals; (boys 10-13) 1. Tony McLaughlin, 2. Doug Lowenberg, 3. Tom Korthas.

Power mower? It not only mows, but can gobble toes

It seems to be man's fate that a good share of the time when he's blessed with a new convenience, he's subjected to a new menace, also. There's no disputing that we pay a pretty stiff toll for our modern modes of transportation, the airplane — and most certainly the automobile.

A typically mixed blessing of recent years is the power mower. If you think IT'S not a menace to be taken seriously, consider the National Safety Council's statistic that 90,000 persons were injured last year in grass-cutting accidents.

More than a handful to these mishaps bred fatalities — like the little girl who recently died with a wire imbedded in her brain, driven there by a power mower.

Sure, you've probably read the Safety Council's advice on proper precautions to take when operating such a mower. But read them again. They could save you some hamburgerized toes . . . or worse.

Therefore, we reiterate the Safety Council's suggestions to:

Don't unclog or refuel mower when running or hot.

Don't pull mower backwards.

Mow hills back and forth rather than up and down.

Be alert at all times and never leave running mower unattended.

How'll conservative Young GOP's view David Stanley?

When we read about the national Young Republicans plodding the path blazed — unsuccessfully — by Barry Goldwater in 1964 and casting their glances at Ronald Reagan as a properly conservative prospect for the 1968 presidential nomination, it left us wondering.

More precisely, it left us wondering how the same cloak could clothe such a consensus and also harbor a gladiator such as David M. Stanley, the young state senator from Muscatine who has flung down the gauntlet before that old war-horse Bourke B. Hickenlooper.

We don't mean to imply that his audacity marks Stanley as a wild-eyed "liberal" — but it does suggest some undeniable gumption . . . AND imagination . . . which was lacking at the parley of Cautious Charlies that decided the best way to advance the Republican cause is to lean over backwards.

Stanley has done all right by the Republican party. He defied the Democratic landslide of '64 by getting elected to the state senate with a 60 per cent majority. He was re-elected in 1966 with a 73.4 per cent majority and carried every precinct in his two-county district. He's been elected to the legislature five times and has topped the Republican ticket in his bailiwick each time.

He's been a stand-out in the Iowa General Assembly; which might be expected of a young fellow who was valedictorian of his high school class and winner of a Phi Beta Kappa key at the University of Iowa, in the course of ranking first in the law college class of '53.

Stanley knows he's chewed off a mouthful if 71-year-old Hickenlooper decides to have another go at it. But he hasn't made a habit of backing away from a scrap of any sort.

His approach to political problems has been aggressive and forthright. He'd make a rather strange ticket-mate for Ronald Reagan. We're inclined to believe the Young Republicans could use a rather liberal salting of David Stanleys, if they're going to do the GOP cause much good next year. . . . There never is enough David Stanleys to go around.

Nine rules given on how to ruin your home town

There are certain "classics" in the newspaper editorial-writing business that go the rounds, appearing in paper after paper because they have a message that is widely pertinent. Such is this one, which was recently picked up by the Garner Leader. Whoever the author might have been has long since been lost in the course of many republications.

This one has to do with a list of nine ways to ruin a town. Here they are for your and my "Don't" list:

1. Never attend any meetings. Just sit around and criticize the way "they" are doing things.

2. Vote against any kind of tax levy — whether the purpose is good or not. "They" just want your money.

3. Make fun of fire and police departments. "They" are just out there for their fun and glory.

4. Don't ever go to a play, school concert, or ball game, benefit program or exhibit. Sit in a half-trance in front of that "idiot box."

5. Stay out of church. You might go on Easter and Christmas just to prove to yourself that the minister does not know what he is talking about and everyone there is a hyprocrite.

6. Buy everything you can out of a discount catalog or mail order book. These firms are the first to come forth with donations and contributions to the community.

7. Don't support your town's newspaper. The out-of-town newspapers and circulars mean a lot more to your town than the local bugle. But jump on your editor the first time Aunt Hegatha's name is left out — forget the other 10 times it was in.

8. Spread any story or rumor that is defamatory or uncomplimentary about the town. Never say nothing nice about nobody. All kids are delinquents, all businessmen are crooks.

9. Above all, always be skeptical and cynical about anything supposed to be good for the progress and betterment of the community.

There they are — nine good ways of ruining a town. And a good motto would be: "If it's good, it can't happen here!"

What to do with aged courthouse?

(This editorial is reprinted because it deals with a problem that has been given preliminary consideration — from the remodeling standpoint — by Wright county's board of supervisors.)

A subject certain to spark considerable conversation during the summer months is the proposed remodeling of the Hardin county courthouse to the tune of $450,000. In fact, the proposal for building the courthouse originally must have caused more than mild interest, for 9,832 voters went to the polls in 1891 as the issue carried 5,566 to 4,266.

Regardless of how one feels about remodeling vs. a new building or the wisdom of county consolidation, somethings needs to be done. The courthouse has become something of a relic.

There are, however, two questions connected with this proposal which are disturbing. First, is it better to remodel than build new? Secondly, has the county really seriously considered a merger of its offices and function with one or more neighboring counties?

ON THE MATTER OF A NEW building, county officers have pointed to Black Hawk and Story counties as examples of cost. They say that Black Hawk's new courthouse cost $2.5 million and that Story's will run to almost $1.5 million.

We don't doubt these figures, but we do question that a courthouse for Hardin county need cost as much as one for Story county. The Story county figure seems rather large when school men say they could build a new high school for Iowa Falls for that same amount . . . $1.5 million.

Say that Hardin could build a new courthouse for only $1 million. Would it be wise to spend roughly one-half that amount to remodel a building that is already 75 years old?

THE QUESTION OF MERGING county services with other counties takes off in an entirely different direction. However, with the changes taking place in rural Iowa today, it is one that must be considered. Far too many county officers — and not only in Hardin county — dismiss the advantages of county mergers as so much nonsense.

The prospects for population growth in Hardin county are not exactly bright. One or two cities and towns may well see some growth, but the exodus from the farms is likely to keep the total, at best, where it is today at roughly 22,300.

Under present laws, there will always be business to be handled through the county offices. But we're no longer required to travel to the courthouse to transact much of this business. License plates may be purchased and taxes paid by mail.

MANY TIMES IT TAKES ONLY an inexpensive telephone call to handle business that formerly required a trip to the courthouse. The average person's connections with the "county seat" are far more flexible than they were just a generation ago.

In short, voters should ask themselves if this is the time for Hardin county to become serious about consolidating some of its county functions with one or more of the neighboring counties.

All of this is not to question the decisions or sincerity of the county officers in regard to the remodeling proposal. However, the expenditure of $450,000 on a building is something of a milestone in our county government and it is one which should be considered and explained from every possible angle. — Iowa Falls Citizen

SESSION FINALLY OVER—

The Iowa legislature is through! It was in session 175 days, 30 days longer than any previous general assembly.

The 62nd General Assembly spent more money and raised more taxes than any other legislature in the state's history. The lawmakers raised $102 million in new taxes as the state budget for this biennium will approach $1 billion.

The session lasted so long that it prompted one freshman senator to say: "I have been here so long that I don't feel like a freshman any more."

STATE TAXES UP—

Whether the 62nd General Assembly was a "good" or a "bad" session depends upon your point of view. The $100 million tax bite represents the first major overhaul of Iowa's tax structure since the 1930's, when the state personal and corporate income tax and sales tax were enacted.

The reason for the tax increase was to provide revenue for a new method of financing schools in counties, increased state aid to schools and changes in the personal property tax laws to exempt household goods and the first $2,500 assessed valuation of other personal property, such as farm equipment and livestock.

Legislative leaders predicted the measure would provide 18 to 20 mills property tax replacement throughout the state.

HOWEVER, IT WILL BE MANY months before this property tax replacement plan can actually be implemented and this millage reduction is bound to be offset by higher local budgets in the up-coming fiscal years.

The legislature also increased the appropriation for agricultural land tax credit from $15 to $18 million a year. However, this money will be used for agricultural land tax credit on general school fund levies over 20 mills, instead of the present 15 mills.

The plan also provides for increased homestead tax credits for those over 65 with incomes under $3,500. This law, which freezes the property taxes of low-income, elderly homeowners, won't take effect until 1969.

MONEY, MONEY, MONEY—

With the governor already requesting a 39 per cent increase in the state budget, the big question was how to raise more tax revenue. The answer was a massive tax increase hammered out in the governor's office during three days of private meetings involving Gov. Harold Hughes and legislative leaders from both houses.

Then, with a minimum of debate, this tax package was hurried through both houses of the legislature in its waning days.

Here are the major revenue items and estimates on the money to be raised:

Increase sales tax to 3 per cent ($56.4 million); extend sales tax to most services ($22.9 million); eliminate "not readily obtainable" use tax exemption ($10 million).

INCREASE CIGARET AND tobacco tax ($6.9 million); change in corporation income tax ($10 million); change in personal income tax rates on income over $7,000 ($11 million); increase beer tax ($1.8 million).

The sales tax increase and the extension to services are to become effective Oct. 1. The increases in corporation and personal income tax rates are retroactive to Jan. 1, 1967.

The tax bill also provides for additional state income credits. The credit for dependents increases from $7.50 to $10 per person and there is a sales tax credit for those with less than $7,000 in taxable income, ranging from $2 to $12, depending up income.

QUESTION ON YIELD—

During legislative debate, and even more now that the lawmakers have adjourned, there is much discussion of the tax on services. One question is how much revenue the service tax would bring into the state treasury. The comptroller had estimated $22.9, but many people say this is a very low estimate. Some experts on the subject say a service tax could bring in as much as $100 million per year.

This prompted Governor Hughes to comment that if the service tax brings in a lot more money than expected, he would call a special session of the legislature to correct the situation. Hughes told newsmen that the purpose of a special session would be to decide what to do with the extra revenue or what other action might be taken.

THE LIST OF SERVICES TO BE taxed includes: newspaper, magazine, shoppers guide, radio and television advertising; alteration and garment repair; armored car; auto repair; battery, tire and allied services; investment counseling; bank service charges; barber and beauty; boat repair; car wash and wax; carpentry; roof, shingle and glass repair; dance schools; dry cleaning, pressing, dyeing and laundering.

Monday was the hottest day of the year — 95 degrees in the shade.

NINETY YEARS AGO—

To the Public — I have this day, July 9th, 1877, sold a one-half interest in my stock of goods to Thomas Edwards and under the firm name of Howland & Edwards we shall continue the business at the old stand, where we hope by square dealing to merit a liberal share of your patronage. E. A. Howland.

—1877—

—1877—

—1877—

I want it understood that the reckless cur who edits the Monitor published a falsehood in saying I "struck my wife" and that my brother "choked me off." If he has any sense of honor, and a due regard for himself, he will take it back. D. L. Sargent.

County's founders recalled—

Pierce history tells about settlement days

(This is the third installment in a serialization of S. D. Pierce's "Condensed History of Wright County," as it appeared in the July 14, 1876, issue of The Belmond Herald.)

BELMOND HAD FOUR ATTORNEYS IN '76

ORGANIZATION

The names of the first Board of Supervisors were as follows: For Boone, W. H. Gillespie; Liberty, C. N. Overbaugh; Eagle Grove, N. B. Paine; Troy, H. Middleton; Vernon, E. P. Purcell; Belmond, G. W. Dumond; Pleasant, H. Luick; Iowa, Robert Rowen.

In 1870 the government of the county was again changed by reducing the number of Supervisors to three, to be elected by general ticket. The names of the county officers first elected under this new system were as follows:

Auditor, J. L. Morse; Treasurer, W. W. Gates; Clerk of Courts, L. P. Davis; Superintendent, J. D. Sands; Surveyor, G. A. McKay; Recorder, W. F. Gibbs; Sheriff, W. D. Hulse; Supervisors, S. D. Pierce, D. M. Inman and J. W. Parmelee.

The names of the present officers of the county are: N. F. Weber, Auditor; J. Q. Hanna, Superintendent; L. P. Davis, Clerk; M. H. Austin, Surveyor; J. H. Rowen, Treasurer; Ed Hartsock, Recorder; N. Malvin, Sheriff; C. H. Packard, Coroner.

SCHOOLS

The first school house was built in Liberty township of logs in 1855, 14x12 feet, which was used as a school house the first summer; it was used next as a fort by the settlers to protect themselves from the cruelties of the Indians, who never came to disturb them, but came near enough to give the settlers a good scare.

There is now in the county fifty-five school houses; there was in session the past year forty schools; there was employed in 1875, 37 male and 58 female teachers; average wages per month for male teachers, $33.58, for female $27.00. Number of male children between the ages of five and twenty-one, 697; females 655; total 1,352.

Number enrolled in schools 1,107; average attendance 528; cost of each pupil per month $3.17 attending school. Value of school houses, $27,756; apparatus, $1,527; total $29,382.

Number of volumes in library 452. Money raised for school purposes in 1875: School house fund, $3,955; contingent fund, $5,956; teachers, $9,855; total $19,766.

CHURCHES

There are three churches in the county, one in Woolstock, two in the village of Belmond — Methodist and Catholic. There are regular organized religious societies in every township in the county, holding regular services each Sunday. Sunday schools are held in every township and are numerously attended, and the progress made by the pupils will compare favorably with the pupils in the schools of the older states.

There was under cultivation in the county in 1875, 35,516 acres. Unimproved land in the county, 323,484 acres. In spring wheat, 13,629 acres; in corn, 10,089 acres; oats, 4,134 acres.

Number of dwelling houses, 616; families, 617. Population, (males) 1,730; females, 1,513; total, 3,243. Acres planted to timber, 574. Total population now, over 4,000.

VILLAGES

The village of Liberty was laid out in 1855 by Major Brassfield and his brother. The first store erected in the county was by John Melrose, a short time after, and he is still doing a successful business in the same building. There are two other stores in Liberty doing a flourishing business, one by J. S. Braden, who has a general stock; the other a drug store by Dr. Brackett; and one Hotel, kept by Mr. Huyck.

BELMOND

Belmond was laid out by A. Dumond, Ed Rogers and James M. Elder in 1857, and now has three general stores, one hardware store, one grocery store, two millinery stores, and two drug stores, whose aggregate sales for A. D. 1875 were $67,000. One wagon shop, three farm farm machinery stores, one cabinet store, whose sales amounted to $1,000.

One hotel, kept by W. H. Purdy. One saw mill and grist mill, two banks, two churches, two boot and shoe manufactories whose sales for 1875 amounted to $1,300. One cheese factory, manufacturing in 1875, $600 worth of cheese.

Three blacksmith shops, three carpenter shops, one harness shop. Two physicians, four attorneys, one printing office, The Belmond Herald, F. A. Gates, publisher.

CLARION

Clarion township was organized in 1866 and a court house erected the same year, D. Leonard, Wm. McCormick, S. Overacker and others having located within the territory of the township before its organization.

Immediately after the completion of the court house, R. K. Eastmen, Treasurer and Recorder, and Geo. A. McKay, Co. Clerk, removed to the township and both families occupied the court house the first winter. The next summer, 1867, Mr. McKay built himself a house, as also did Mr. Eastman in that or the next year.

Clarion has three stores — one general store, one hardware and one drug store. One hotel, kept by Ja's Brooks; one blacksmith shop, one shoe shop, one physician, three attorneys, and one printing office, the Wright Co. Monitor, G. E. Hathway, proprietor.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kercheval and family of Cedar Falls were Sunday guests at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kercheval.

Now on European jaunt—

Charlie Keith writes "Hi, there"

By Charles Keith

I remember from my school days that what we wrote about had to have a title, so assuming that this might be read by some people I don't know I shall use the thought of the Englishman who asked another Englishman what he called his mother-in-law when he was first married. "Oh well", he said, "for the first year I called her 'Hi There' then after that I called her Grandma."

We left home on June 14 aboard a plane at Mason City, changed at Chicago and arrived in New York about noon. Nineteen years ago we left Ames at 7:30 a. m. and arrived in New York the next day at 10:30 p. m.

Flying in a jet can be a new experience. At 33,000 feet you are above the clouds, feel like you are suspended in the heavens, and before the stewardess has time to serve you lunch somebody says on the loud speaker, "Fasten your seat belts; we are about to land."

When the clouds parted we had a few places of interest called to our attention. The hustle and bustle of New York has multiplied with the years so after settling down in our hotel, walking down to the docks to see the SS United States and the HMS Queen Mary, going to a good show in Radio City Music Hall, we turned in around midnight. From 5:00 in the morning until 12:00 at midnight it turned out to be some day for the old folks.

The next day we boarded the ship around 10:30 in the morning. The only requirements were to show your ticket and passport. There is something exciting about all of this, the thought of going to a different country, having five days at sea and meeting a host of new people.

Last but not least is the temptation set before you three times a day in the dining room, plus boullion and crackers in the forenoon, tea and cookies at a tea concert in the lounge at 4:00 in the afternoon.

The ship carried 2,000 passengers with a crew of 1,000, plus mail, baggage, and automobiles which were stored in the hold.

The United States is the newest of the luxury liners. The stairways, halls, railings, and all visible parts were done of stainless steel or aluminum. Our tourist cabin was carpeted, had bunk beds, its own bathroom, was air conditioned and we had our own telephone. First class is even more luxurious.

A typical day consists of reading the ship's daily newspaper, maybe a little writing, a movie, bingo, horse racing, a Gay 90's party one evening with lots of eats, hats, music and singing, all furnished by the ship.

The Lions on board were served a lovely noon meal by the purser, first class. Our names were all printed on a program. We were served in a small private dining room, and there were men from South Africa, South Carolina, and even Rowan.

After five days of this we put in at La Havre, France, then Southampton, England, and I might say we were ready to return to normal dry-land life.

The boat train was waiting at Southhampton. Our luggage was arranged according to the letter of your last name, so after a little looking under K, then telling the customs officer that we had no bombs along and did not want to overthrow the British Government, he let us be on our way to London.

We spent three wonderfully warm days seeing the sights of London. The British people have a deeper respect for authority than Americans do. The bobbie, as the policeman is called here, carried neither a gun or a night stick. He is the personification of law and order and he exercises his authority with a polite but firm dignity.

It would take too much writing to describe the places we visited in London. We were to Trafalgar Square, Buckingham Palace (saw the Changing of the Guard), St. James Park, Piccadilly Circus, Russell Square, Westminster Abbey, saw Big Ben, went to the House of Commons, also saw Lady Churchill and strolled for a half day along the river Thames.

We took the underground railway to Earl's Court and heard Billy Graham preach to around 16,000 people. Next Jaunt was to Edinburgh, then to Bathgate where we visited relatives a few days.

We are now at Kilmarnock with a Mrs. Hannah, as I write this on June 30. We have been to the theatre at Ayr and today we shopped in Glasgow. The British people are very well dressed, well cared for with family grants, education grants, and pensions.

Laura and I were under British Medical Care as soon as we set foot on British soil, so don't be surprised if I come home with British teeth, a British hearing aid and maybe a British accent.

23 studends end course in driving

Twenty-three students have completed the Driver Education course offered through the Kanawha Community school summer program.

The completion of this course does not indicate the student is ready for a driver's license, notes KHS Principal Leland Anderson. Bad driving habits of those who had driven before were pointed out, while those who had not driven were given instruction in developing proper habits.

The driver education course consisted of 30 hours of classroom instruction and six hours behind-the-wheel driving for each student. Each student averaged about 12 hours observation time.

Letters will be mailed to all parents including the student's grades and comments concerning driving habits, with the requests that the parents continue to encourage safe and proper driving habits.

Yeakel's Garage of Kanawha loaned the school a 1967 Chevrolet free of charge for the behind-the-wheel training. This fine gesture, says Mr. Anderson, was sincerely appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Betten attended the funeral for John Mauss at Rake on Monday.

MODERN SUMMER HOME IN NORTH IOWA

BOATING — WATER SKIING — FISHING
SWIMMING — HUNTING — GOLF

Beautiful wooded area—not many spots like this available today. A neat all modern house your wife will be happy to live in for a month or the year around. Gas furnace, REA, St. Charles Kitchen, built in oven, dishwasher, refrigerator. Tile bathroom and cork floors. Big fireplace.

Neighbor says, sure am pleased that we sold out on the "big" lake and came here where water sports are safer for the whole family and not so crowded with people.

EDWARDS-BRANDT TORGERSON REALTY, INC.

You too will love this spot if you are looking for the best in summer recreation spot, close to home. No need to drive a hundred miles for summer lake pleasure.

NORTH IOWA Peach OF THE WEEK!

At the left is Jane Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Martin of Forest City. Jane is a water safety instructor at the Forest City pool. At the right is Mrs. David Bolstorff, director of the summer water safety instruction program in Forest City.

On July 17 more than 125 youngsters will begin the second session of swimming lessons at the Forest City pool. Lessons range from "beginners" to "life saving."

OUT

Your Girl Friday may be trying her best . . . but she can't be efficient with outmoded business forms.

Not important?

It is when you consider that the time spent in handling business forms costs you many times more than the forms themselves. But business forms designed to fit your special needs can cut your clerical costs way down.

So before you fix the blame on "her" . . . why not give us a call? It may be your first step toward solving your paperwork problems.

Ink It?

...NEVER!

PERMA-STAMP — the pocket stamp that goes wherever you go — neat and clean — ready for instant use WITHOUT AN INK PAD!

Your light weight PERMA-STAMP Pocket Stamp is perfect as a personal signature stamp . . . a time-saving check endorsement stamp . . . or a name and address stamp for imprinting envelopes, identifying books and other personal or household items.

Every impression is crisp and clean — as if it came off a printing press. Smallest details and finest lines are reproduced with consistent clarity and cleanliness.

Best of all, a PERMA-STAMP Pocket Stamp costs little more than an old-fashioned rubber stamp.

MAIN STREET

BY PAT, DICK, DUANE

Visitors to our shop Monday morning were Merlin Lowenberg and his daughter Jolene with a couple of house guests from Chicago, Nathaniel Phipps, 11, and Derek Johnson, age nine. The two boys are Negroes who are spending two weeks in the Lowenberg home under Operation "Friendly Town," the annual project of the Student Congregations of Iowa State University aimed at giving city youngsters an opportunity to view rural life first-hand.

Nate, Derek and the Lowenbergs seemed to be hitting it off in first rate fashion. The boys were given a tour of the Independent's print shop and showed keen interest in what goes on back there.

Whereas most of the visiting youngsters got off the train at Des Moines well loaded with comic books, young Derek had been giving his attention to a clothbound volume of science problems! Merlin says the youngster comprehended them, too. Nate is an enthusiastic ball player while Derek was enthused over the prospect of doing some fishing. Fine lads, they are. And what a wonderful project this "Friendly Town" of the Ames students is!

Two other families in this vicinity also have "Friendly Town" visitors. Willie Simon, 10, is a guest in the Cleo Wilson home and Lynette Jones, seven, is enjoying her second visit to the Larry Aldrich farm home near Rowan. Both are colored youngsters and from Chicago. The Aldriches and Lynette's parents have corresponded off and on since the little girl spent two weeks in the Aldrich home last summer. When another "Friendly Town" trip was shaping up, both the Aldriches and Joneses requested of the project sponsors that the friendship of a summer ago be renewed when Lynette came back to Iowa.

Belmond people showed praiseworthy generosity toward the American Field Service foreign student project a couple of years ago, when Valorie Bayley of South Africa was assigned to Belmond as an AFS scholar. Now a call is issued once again for contributions to meet the deficit in the AFS fund that for the 1967-68 school year will bring Paulo Canineu of Brazil to BHS

An overage of funds from 1965-66, plus donations received when it was thought that Belmond would have an AFS student last year (which we didn't) left the AFS chapter with $396 of a needed $750.

A contribution of $50 from the First State bank and another of $25 from the Belmond Jaycee-Ettes has reduced the amount needed to $279. The rest of that amount will have to come from organizations, businesses and individuals who look upon this interchange of students (someday, Belmond may have one going abroad) as a worthwhile good will project in these snarled-up days.

Contributions to the AFS fund may be left at — or mailed to — the Independent office and due note of their receipt will be made in this column. It's the mark of a progressive, forward-looking community to play host to an AFS student. Let's not botch it.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Gabriel Gabrielson departed from the Mason City airport on the first leg of a jaunt back to her native Norway — which, in itself, is nothing particularly sensational in these days of convenient, high-speed air travel. But considering that she is 87 years old and is making her first trip back to her homeland since coming to this country as a young lady of 21, the matter becomes decidedly newsworthy.

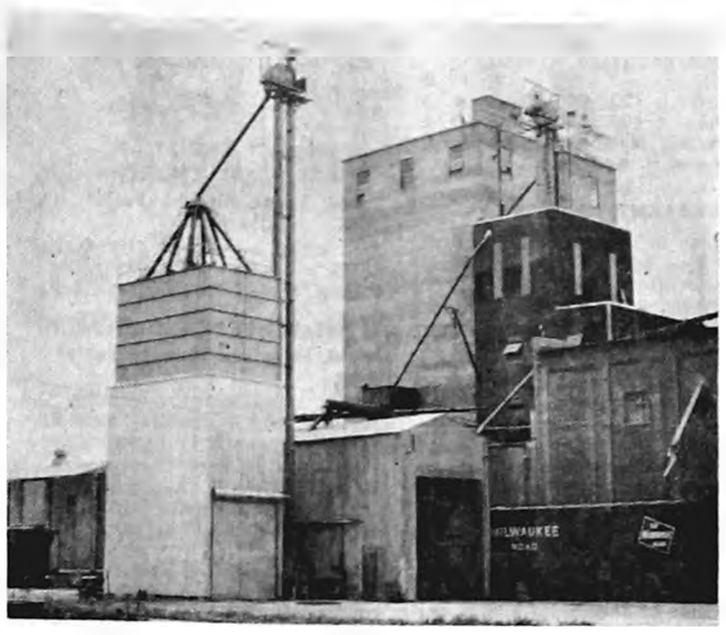
She will be taking her first trip by plane, leaving Mason City about 2:00 p. m. and boarding a jet at Chicago for a non-stop flight to London. With a brief stop-over at Copenhagen, she'll be back at her home town of Stavanger TODAY!

Mrs. Gabrielson will be having plenty of company on the trip. With her will be her grandson, Wilmer Gabrielson of Goodell, his wife Dorothy and two sons, Joel and Mickey, also Dorothy's sister, Susie Halfpap, now of Des Moines. As a homesick Norwegian girl, she initially arrived in Belmond on a freight train from Hampton, after a long boat trip to the U. S. The trip will be a lot quicker for Anna Sunde Peterson Gabrielson "going home."

We're advised that on June 6 the degree of Master of Arts in languages and literature was conferred by teachers college of Columbia university upon Paul Griesy, who last year returned to the States to further his education before returning to Japan to resume his educational work there. Paul recently spent a couple of weeks here with his mother, Mrs. Selma Griesy, before returning to New York City.

He has accepted a position as research assistant in the Institute of International Studies in its Center for Education in Asia. This institute is financially underwritten by the Ford Foundation and is concerned with problems of education in the Far East.

Along with his research duties, Paul is continuing study at Columbia toward a Ph. D. degree, his doctorate to be in comparative education with special emphasis on the Far East. He holds a bachelor's degree from Carleton college, Northfield, Minn., and a divinity degree from Yale university. He and his Japanese wife will return to Japan when he's gotten that Ph. D., possibly under mission sponsorship, perhaps independently.



BACK IN OPERATION (HOPEFULLY) NEXT MONDAY

Maximum output 200 tons per day—

Expect feed mill to start production Monday

Hesitating to be specific after so many disappointments in the past, Central Soya Manager Ray Wright said this week that he believes the Master Mix feed plant should be in operation by Monday of next week. Engineers have been giving the mixing equipment a final tune-up in preparation for the plant to start production.

Resuming production in the mill that General Mills ceased using in 1962 has been a much longer and more arduous task than had been anticipated. When rehabilitation of the mill was undertaken about a year ago, it had been confidently expected that it would be operating by April of this past spring.

Intrusion of the tornado in October played hob with the original time schedule, however; and numerous unanticipated delays have afflicted the project during the current year. When Central Soya exercised its option to purchase the General Mills property here June 1, it was expected that the feed mill could be started up within a month's time. Then further difficulties made it necessary to set back the target date to Monday of this week.

So Manager Wright crosses his fingers when he says, "Now it looks as if Monday of next week should see the wheels turning."

Part of the difficulty has been the synchronization of about 25 per cent new mill equipment with three-quarters of the equipment retained from the former operation. It would have been an easier job, Mr. Wright observes, if it were an entirely new mill being put in operation.

When all is ready, the "new" mill will have a production capacity appreciably larger than that of the General Mills operation. Compared to 80 tons per one-shift day, 100 tons of Master Mix feeds can be turned out; or 200 tons if it should be advisable to go on a two-shift basis.

At the outset, Mill Superintendent Curt Beauchamp plans to aim at 75 tons per day, operating a single, five-day shift.

Central Soya's Belmond mill will, as soon as production is geared up, service a Master Mix territory extending from the south border of Hamilton county east and west to the Mississippi and Missouri rivers and north through the two southern tiers of counties in Minnesota. There are presently six district salesmen in this territory responsible for setting up dealerships and supplying the dealers' needs.

To begin with, the Belmond facility will service Wright and eight other counties in this area, while the Des Moines Master Mix feed mill continues to take care of the remainder of the northern territory. Mr. Wright says it is the hope of the local staff that the mill here will be able to supply all of its assigned territory within a period of 30 days.

Included in the mill staff of 10 men, in addition to Superintendent Beauchamp, are: Leroy Green, mill supervisor; and Don "Barney" Stoffer, clerk. Dave McCleary has come from Decatur, Ind., to serve the local sales territory as customer service man.

This week, Wayne Bell was in the process of moving here from Des Moines to be trucker for local delivery of feeds. He has been serving the Des Moines mill in a similar capacity. He is married and has one child. The family has rented the house at 116 Third avenue NE.

Three tax hearings set for Wednesday evening

Three hearings on as many county budgets are scheduled for next Wednesday evening at Clarion. Those on the county school budget and the assessor's budget will be held at 7:30 and 8:00 o'clock respectively at the county superintendent's office and in the courtroom. That for the extension council will be held at 8:00 p. m. in the extension office in the post office basement.

It is noteworthy that the assessor's budget fixes as the taxable valuation subject to levy this year at $63,183,388. This is up almost $5.4 million over last year's $57,795,059.

Biggest change in any of these departmental budgets in the assessor's, in which provision is made for raising $50,000 of the estimated $73,750 that will be needed for a professional reappraisal of Wright county real estate.

Assessor expenditures last year came to $25.078, but $37,800 was requested from taxes for the current year. The 1968 budget calls for $31,650 to be raised by taxation, over and above the $50,000 special appropriation.

County school expenses for 1966 came to only $33,736; but proposed expenditures for 1968 are set at $51.215. Needs from taxation are fixed at $40,890, up $7,615 over a year ago. This budget has been increased because the county's special education staff has been shortmanned this past year and the county board hopes to get it up to full strength for the coming school year.

Proposed expenditures under the extension council budget for 1968 are estimated at $20,545 — which compares with $17,501 actually spent in '66 and estimated expenditures of $19,431 for the current year. The tax asking will remain at $17,500, the county extension council regarding it advisable to keep a moderate surplus on hand.

New extension director to serve 9-county area

AMES (Special) — An Iowa State university extension area office will begin operation in Fort Dodge on or about Sept. 1, it is announced by Marvin A. Anderson, dean of university extension at Iowa State.

Lloyd M. Reid, Ames, has been named to the post of extension area director for the nine-county area. He will live in Fort Dodge and carry responsibility for administration of the extension staff and educational programs of the extension service in the counties of Boone, Calhoun, Carroll, Greene, Hamilton, Humboldt, Pocahontas, Webster and Wright.

Dean Anderson also announced that similar offices will be set up in Mason City and Creston. Area offices established by Sept. 1 will bring to six the number of such offices in the state. Plans call for 12 extension area offices, bringing all counties within this organizational pattern.

Office facilities will be established in Fort Dodge to provide a headquarters for the area staff. That will include Reid, three extension leaders — Clarence Babcock (in crop production), Clarence Rice (area development) and James Hughes (in farm management) — and other staff members who may be assigned to serve programs throughout the nine counties.

As extension area director, Reid will work directly with each of the county extension councils, which are the legal governing bodies for extension work in the respective counties. His duties will include both planning of educational programs — involving the councils and other local persons — and supervision of the work of the county and area extension staff personnel.

Reid has most recently served as district extension director, working with extension programs in 16 counties, including the nine that he will serve in his new position. First appointed to the Iowa State university staff in 1948, Reid served as county extension director in Monroe and Van Burean counties.

Reid is a native of West Virginia, where he earned his B. S. degree from the University of West Virginia. In 1962 he was awarded the M. S. degree by Iowa State.

VISIT IN MINNESOTA

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fuller, with their son Benjamin, spent a few days last week at Nisswa, Minn., visiting with their daughter Rochelle.

Mrs. Sorum, son injured in crash

Mrs. Lynn Sorum and her five-year-old son David are making satisfactory recoveries at a Fort Dodge hospital from injuries they received Thursday afternoon of last week in an auto collision near Palmer, southeast of Pocahontas.

Fatally injured in the crash were the driver of the car that struck the one driven by Mr. Sorum, Richard Bjork, 75, and his wife Hannah, 76. Sharleen Sorum suffered a broken ankle and severe facial lacerations and her son a broken leg.

Mr. Sorum, English and speech instructor at Belmond Community High school, was treated at the hospital for minor facial cuts and also had a painful hip bruise. His daughter Michele, three, also was released after examination.

The Sorums were en route to the home of Mrs. Sorum's parents at Lawton when the accident occurred about 2:55 p. m. Thursday. The Belmond car was traveling west on a county blacktop road when Mr. Bjork, approaching from the south on a gravel road, went through a stop sign and directly in front of the Sorums.

Olive Vestweber rites on Friday

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at St. John Lutheran church for Mrs. Fred Vestweber, 64, who died at her home early the preceding Wednesday morning. She had been in failing health for a period of months.

Rev. David Anderson of Dows officiated over the rites and Johnston Funeral Home was in charge. Burial was in the Gilmore City cemetery. Pallbearers were George Crawford, Loren Bamford, Robert Ostendorf, Herbert Hill, Floyd Broshar and Wayne Vestweber.

Olive McMannus was born March 5, 1903, at Livermore daughter of Joseph and Susan McMannus. She attended school at Gilmore City, where the family moved while she was still a girl.

On April 5, 1933, she was married to Fred Vestweber at Eagleville, Mo. They lived for a time near Alexander, then farmed for 15 years west of Belmond before moving to a farm near Bradgate. They made their home there for five years.

At the end of that time, they moved to Mason City and were employed by the IOOF home there until returning to Belmond in 1963.

An avid reader, Mrs. Vestweber enjoyed writing poetry as a hobby and had several poems published.

Mr. and Mrs. Vestweber had no children. Besides her husband, she is survived by several nieces and nephews.

FELLOW MEMBERS of the Chamber of Commerce last Friday morning assembled at Joe's Skelly Service station to join in a ribbon-cutting ceremony that marked the grand opening of Joe McLaughlin's new facilities. The Skelly Service station had to be almost entirely rebuilt after nearly total demolishment in last October's tornado. Joe is rightfully proud of his new, better-than-ever station.

Anderson funeral rites Wednesday

Mrs. A. K. Anderson, a Belmond resident for the past 15 years, died Monday morning at Belmond Community hospital. Her death, caused by cancer, occurred just 15 days after she had reached her 74th birthday.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist church, Rev. M. L. Jones officiating and Fulton Funeral Home in charge. Pallbearers were Frank Anderson and Harold Dahlgren of Clarion, Ralph Coombs and Oscar Holmes of Dows, Dale Busick and Marvin Suntken. Burial was in Evergreen cemetery in Clarion.

Elsie Marie Ingeson was born July 2, 1893 at Ostergotland, Sweden, daughter of Anton and Hulda Ingeson. She was married on Oct. 29, 1916, to Algot K. Anderson. They farmed for a number of years west of Belmond before moving to town in 1952.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Anderson is survived by five sons — Swen of Clarion, Nels of Santa Cruz, Calif., Everett of Dallas, Tex., Eldon of Rensselaer, Ind., and Melvin of Klemme. She also leaves 10 grandchildren and one great grandchild, two sisters living in Sweden and a brother.

Bohning gets FAST grant—

Attends poultry research clinic

Kermit Bohning, president of the BHS Future Farmers of America and a senior-to-be at Belmond High this fall, was one of 10 Iowa students chosen to attend a clinic on poultry research held Monday through Saturday of last week at Iowa State university, Ames. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Bohning.

This is an annual high school summer research program conducted by the ISU poultry science department. The Fellowships in Avian Science and Technology that cover room, board and fees for the full-week workshop are supported by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

Candidates from all over Iowa applied for the fellowships, so selection represented a distinct honor for the 10 boys chosen to participate. They conducted brief experiments and attended demonstrations and lectures in three areas of research.

These research areas were genetics, nutrition and poultry products technology. Supplementing the youths' introduction to research, they toured poultry production, processing and marketing facilities. Kermit declares that the program's nickname, FAST, accurately describes the busy schedule that he and his companions followed during their short stay on the ISU campus at Ames.

This was the second year that the FAST project has been conducted. It is the first joint high school-university research program sponsored by any agricultural school, college or university in the nation.

It was born of a keen need for young men to enter the technical side of the poultry business, says Robert Jungk, ISU extension poultryman. He explains, "It started when the poultry department had a deluge of job offers from industry carrying $6.000-plus salary tags, and the department didn't have enough graduates to fill the jobs."

Sheriff in crash; pays fine of $15

Bob Blecker, Wright county sheriff, was on the receiving end of an accident complaint Wednesday of last week and it cost him a $15 fine plus costs of $7.50 in the police court of Judge Herbert Bennett at Fort Dodge.

The charge of failure to yield to oncoming traffic resulted from a collision about 1:00 o'clock the preceding Sunday morning at the east edge of Fort Dodge.

Blecker had pulled out of the entrance to the Pancacke Feast into the path of Larry J. Brown, 19, of Duncombe, who was headed east on Highway 20. The charge against Blecker was lodged by Fort Dodge police. Blecker entered a charge of failure to stop in an assured clear distance again Brown. The latter's car struck the rear of the sheriff's.

Two witnesses to the accident who were leaving the pancake house at the time, Kenneth Porter and Ronald Halligan of Fort Dodge, testified that in their opinion responsibility for the crash lay with Blecker.

Testifying as a witness for the sheriff was Deputy Janet Downing, who was a passenger in Blecker's car.

Judge Bennett accepted Brown's assertion that he had been unable to avoid the accident, despite applying his brakes promptly upon seeing Blecker pull out of the drive. The sheriff's charge against Brown was dismissed.

GOODELLIANS' KIN DIES

Relatives at Goodell have received a message of the death of Carl Chronister of Decatur, Ill., on Monday evening. Wife of the deceased is the former Gail McNutt, sister of Mrs. Elmer Kienenberger and Robert McNutt, both of Goodell.

P. O. to deliver parcels six days each week, again

Postmaster William Walrod today announced that parcel post deliveries in Belmond were expanded from five to six days a week as of last Friday, July 14. The boundaries of the expanded service include both business and residential districts.

The legislation contains an $8.5 million item for restoration of the six-day a week delivery, which had been cut back in May 1964 as an economy measure. Nearly 5,000 cities are affected, Postmaster Walrod says.

The Belmond postal official noted that the improved service will remove an inequity for many business and residential patrons in smaller cities and towns.

Postal customers served by "motorized" letter carriers in larger communities have been receiving six-day deliveries all along. They were not covered by the 1964 cutback inasmuch as carriers on vehicles can deliver parcels of any size.

Customers living on routes serviced by foot carriers have received larger parcels from a five-day a week parcel post route covered by a truck. Carriers on foot only deliver small packages.

CALLERS FROM NEVADA

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Shahan of Las Vegas, Nev., called Thursday evening at the Otto Tegland home.

Tom Lerdal, 22, dies in Germany of crash injuries

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lerdal were notified by U. S. Army sources on Monday of this week that their son Tom, a soldier serving in Germany, was killed the previous day in an auto accident. No details regarding the tragic mishap were immediately received.

Funeral arrangements, with Johnston Funeral Home to be in charge, will be delayed pending arrival of word regarding shipment of the body back to the States.

SP5 Thomas Dean Lerdal would have completed his two-year enlistment in the Army next month and was looking forward to his return home to become associated with his father in the operation of Lloyd's Standard Service station.

He was born here on Dec. 20, 1944, and attended the local elementary school and high school, graduating with the Class of 1963. After receiving his diploma, he was employed for two years at his father's station before enlisting in the Army in August of 1965. He had served overseas for the past 18 months.

Surviving, besides his parents, are his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Anna Lerdal of Goldfield; two sisters, Mrs. Glenn (Janet) Meints of Belmond and Mrs. James (Beverley) Lande, Sumner; and three brothers, Kenneth of Eagle Grove, Roland and Robert of Belmond.

He was preceded in death by two brothers, Richard and Roger.

MRS. SELMA GRIESY BACK HOME—THEN GONE AGAIN

Mrs. Selma Griesy recently returned from New York City, where she'd spent a month after returning there with her son, Paul Griesy, after he had made a two-week visit to Belmond. In New York, she spent her time with Paul and his wife and with her sister, Mrs. John (Inga) Benson.

She returned home via Sioux Falls S. D., and visited with her son Carl and family at Rock Rapids. Dr. Griesy and daughters Jane and Kay brought her back to Belmond on Wednesday of last week.

Given to Wright countians—

Value of '66 commodities $16,697

During 1966, government-donated foods valued at $2.540.351 were distributed to needy families and individuals in 73 Iowa counties by their departments of social welfare. Wright countians benefited by the receipt of $16.697.96 worth of surplus commodities.

Though arrangements with the U. S. department of agriculture, the state department of social welfare received 9,595.812 pounds of donated food. Wright county received 64,485 pounds.

Like the other counties, Wright paid the delivery costs from Des Moines, which came to $672 — or slightly over one cent per pound.

There was a marked decrease in use of the surplus commodities program last year in Iowa. Value of foods requested came to $1,743.000 less than in 1965 and the poundage was down by over 5.210.000 pounds. Five less counties participated, also.

Commodities having the highest value among those distributed were canned beef in natural juice, 933,241 pounds worth $606,606; and dried milk, 1,034,766 pounds worth $455,297. These two products accounted for more than $7,000 of the $16,697 in commodities used in Wright county.

Wright's welfare department gave out 5,394 pounds of the canned beef with a value of $3,506; and 8,145 pounds of dried milk valued at $3,587.

Other commodities distributed in this county, with poundage in parentheses and the value of that amount, were: rice (3,540) $665; flour (13,900) $1,417; corn meal (5,250) $525; butter (1,140) $839; margarine (3,150) $3,150; lard (384) $73.

Grits (1,536) $235; cereal (5,940) $797; peanut butter (2,160) $648; split peas (3,192) $319; beans (1,560) $234; shortening (3,840) $1,152; raisins (2,544) $661; chopped meat (2,837) $1,532.

Foods distributed by other counties in this vicinity that have commodity programs were valued as follows: Franklin $14,376, Hancock $14.689, Hardin $22,868, Humboldt $12,247, Hamilton $20,707, Kossuth $19.405, Webster $96,622. Cerro Gordo does not participate in the commodity program.

R. H. Whitlach, director of the Iowa board of social welfare's division of administrative services, says that the decrease in use of the commodity program is attributable to shifts from direct food distribution to utilization of the food stamp program.

In 1966, a total of 28 counties — including Franklin, Hamilton and Hardin — switched to food stamps; and since January of this year, another 14 counties have applied to change over to the food stamp program and are awaiting approval of their appications. Wright is one of these counties.

Under the food stamp plan, an increased volume of food business done through the welfare departments can be channeled through local merchants. Although food coupons are not yet accounting for near the dollar volume that the surplus commodities do, in 1966 the worth of food coupons purchased came to $1,700,256 and with them $492,101 in bonus coupons were given.

Women's clubs spark move for new park

One of Belmond's worst post-tornado eyesores has disappeared from the scene through the efforts of a group of local club women — with some family help also drafted for the project.

Instead of the rubble heap that marred the appearance of the Main street-Highway 69 intersection where the old Belmond township hall and the office and garage of L. W. Murray were demolished, an attractive — if unshaded — picnic spot now stands.

Having parts in the project have been members of the Culture Study and Progress clubs, with Chapter LV of the PEO lending a hand on decoration of the corner. Each of these three organizations has contributed a flower planter to beautify the spot.

A number of truckloads of gravel fill have been spread over the area to make it level and to cover tornado scars. The concrete slab that served as floor of the former Rowat-Murray Engineers' office has been cleared of broken and faded floor tile to present a neat appearance; and a public-spirited individual who prefers to remain anynomous donated a redwood picnic table to grace the site.

A sign identifying the corner as the prospective gateway to a proposed riverside park of some 10 or 15 acres adjoining the Iowa river south of the Main street bridge and west of Highway 69 looks a bit pretentious right at this point. But the members of the Progress and Culture Study clubs — plus a growing number of other community-minded individuals — view it as a worthy and feasible project.

They have under consideration the raising of several hundred dollars to finance a preliminary engineering plan that would pin down details of the park proposal. If they should carry through on this undertaking, it would bring the park a giant stride closer to reality.

Not only do they envision an attractive picnic area and inviting grounds for campers, but the possibility of a river dam that would permit boating and canoeing for a distance of several miles upstream.

Even the most optimistic of the club women admit that the overall plan sounds somewhat ambitious at the present. But they refuse to regard it as beyond realization. And the commendable start they've made on the corner should make scoffers hesitant to "underestimate the power of a woman."

Victory to Klemme—

Broncos out of tourney, 5 to 3

A bad first inning at Thornton last Friday saw the BHS baseball team ousted from sectional tournament play by Klemme as the Shamrocks posted a 5-3 victory. Their defeat came on the heels of seven consecutive wins as they failed to show the excellence of play that had accounted for the win streak.

It looked as if the Shamrocks might have an easy time of it when they collected three hits off of the pitches of Terry Nelson and were aided by two walks and two errors in the first inning. This gave them a 4-0 lead.

Belmond had a golden opportunity to take up most of the slack in the bottom of the inning when errors permitted the first three batters to gain base; but the Broncos managed to get only one run across. Tim Roberts was thrown out at 3rd and Wayne Smith was nailed at home. Only Tim Dirks came in for a score as his brother Dave lashed out a double. Don Havens accounted for the third out when his fly to left field was caught by Barz.

In the second inning, Earl Kalkwarf singled and Neil Kalkwarf was walked to get the first two men on base. Paul Bamford was out on a grounder and Terry Nelson gained base on a shortstop error, the Kalkwarfs both getting across for scores that made the count 4-3. The two Tims, Roberts and Dirks, then were out on flies to end the rally.

Belmond got two men as far as third in the 3rd inning and got one or more on base in the 4th, 6th and 7th but could do no scoring. Poor judgment in base running caused the Broncos trouble time and time again.

Klemme wound up the scoring in the 4th inning when Pitcher Hagen was safe on an error, Blau singled and Hartzell doubled. Hagen came home on Hartzell's hit, and it didn't help matters enough that Blau was caught at 3rd.

Summary:

				R	H	E
Belmond	120	000	0—	3	4	3
Klemme	400	100	x—	5	6	6

THREE GAMES TO GO

Belmond High's baseball team will wind up its season with a double-header appearance here against Garner on Friday evening and a single game at Forest City on Monday. The Broncos' record stands at 7-4 and a sweep of the last three games would give them an excellent .714 mark for the summer campaign.

Broncs win 1st tourney tilt from Sheffield 4-3

—SPORTS—

Although outhit 10 to 4, the Belmond High baseball nine had the right statistics in the right spot and came through its first round sectional tournament game at Thornton with a 4-3 victory over Sheffield on Wednesday night of last week.

Prospects didn't look so good for the Broncos in the first couple of innings. Rick Hawley, on the mound for Belmond, walked the first man up, allowed a single by Allison — the opposing pitcher, struck out the next batter and then was touched for two more singles.

Larry Frese, who'd gotten the walk, was cut off at the plate on a toss from Tim Roberts at 3rd to Catcher Keith Boller and the final out came when Atkinson's roller was nabbed by Hawley and the runner was out at 1st.

Things got worse instead of better in the 2nd frame when three singles and a couple of Belmond errors let Sheffield score twice. Meanwhile, the Broncos had been retired in order in both of the first two innings, and the process was repeated in the 3rd.

Belmond got back in the ball game in the 4th when Roberts singled, Tim Dirks walked and Wayne Smith tripled to bring both in. "Coonie" then scored himself on a passed ball and the Broncos were in front 3 to 2.

Sheffield got a man on 3rd in the top of the 4th inning, but he got no farther. In the bottom of the 5th, Hawley doubled, gained 3rd on a passed ball and then came home on Boller's single to boost the score to 4-2. Sheffield came back with a tally in the 6th on a pair of singles and a passed ball, but the threat was erased when the third out came on an attempted steal at 3rd.

First man up for Sheffield in the 7th inning doubled. Hawley struck out the next, walked the third, then fanned two in a row to end the game. Rick had nine strike-outs and walked three while surrendering his total of 10 hits.

Allison struck out five, walked only one man, but allowed his four hits in clusters of two — which, with passed balls allowed by Catcher Doug Siems, did the damage. Sheffield committed only one error to three against the Broncos.

Froshmores take Britt into camp

All of the winners' scoring was packed into the third inning as the BHS froshmores took a 9-1 decision from Britt's underclassmen here Tuesday of last week. Twelve Junior Broncos went to the plate in that frame.

the first man to fly out but then ran into a variety of troubles. Tim Dirks tripled, errors got another couple of runners on the base paths, then four singles and two walks kept the merry go round in motion.

Tim Dirks hurled five innings for Belmond and Ron Ginapp the last two. Britt got men as far as third base in the 1st, 3rd and 4th innings but wasn't able to get a batter home until the 5th. A base on balls followed by a double brought the run in.

Dirks fanned seven men and allowed only three hits but walked five batters. In his two-inning stint, Ginapp walked none, struck out one and was touched for only one hit. Higgon struck out seven men, walked four and gave up eight hits.

Rick Hawley and Dirks each got a pair of hits for the Junior Broncos, Ginapp cracked out a double and singles were chalked up by Bill Broshar, Joey McLaughlin and Jim Pollitt.

—SPORTS—

Feature game of last week's play in the summer recreation baseball leagues saw the peewee Panthers outslug the top-place Mohawks to draw within a half-game of the team captained by Mark Havens and Joel Laaveg.

After the Mohawks had reeled off eight runs in the 4th inning to gain a 9-7 advantage, the Panthers — co-captained by Doug Lowenberg and Brian McVey — rallied with seven runs in the 5th to go ahead by five. The Mohawks responded with a surge of their own that netted four runs, but with two men on base McVey fanned a batter for the final Mohawk out to leave the final score 14-13 for the Panthers.

Havens gave up only three walks to seven for McVey as they performed the mound duties; but McVey had an edge on hits allowed, with eight to Havens' 12. Tony McLaughlin starred at the plate for the winners with a home run, triple and single.

This game was on Thursday. On Monday, the Mowaks had beaten the Panthers without trouble, 6 to 0, as Havens struck out 10 batters and allowed only three hits. On Tuesday the Mohawks added a 14-3 decision over the winless Giants.

Because Scout camp had drained off most of the Cardinals' personnel, the midget league leaders were idle last week. On Wednesday, the Cubs evened their record at 3-3 with a 12-9 win over the Redlegs. Joey McLaughlin hit a homer and double and Dave Snyder a homer and single to pace the Cub batting attack.

No decision was reached in another midget league tilt of last week. Because the lights were out of order, a clash between the Redlegs and Tigers on Thursday had to be called on account of darkness when the end of the 5th inning found the count tied at 8-all. The teams will take up from there on July 28 to finish the game.

In the final midget league game of the week, Gene Thayer pitched the Cubs to a 10-6 decision over the Tigers with five scattered hits. Sam McLaughlin got the Tigers off to a good start with a bases-loaded home run in the first inning for a 4-2 lead. Wildness on the part of Tim Greenwood — four walks complicated by six passed balls and three hits — let the Cubs tally seven runs in the 3rd inning.

In T-Ball play, the Dodgers captained by Dalon Obrecht and Brian Eckhoff continued their domination by posting two more wins. They had little trouble in downing the Twins, 16-9, but then found their hands full before nipping the Giants 13-12. The Cubs won a couple of slug-fests, walloping the Giants 29-11 and trouncing the Twins even worse, 31-4. Scott Hickman and Dennis Lowenberg are the Cub captains.

Recreation league games at 1:00 p. m. today pit the T-Ball Giants against the Twins and at 1:45 the midget Redlegs against the Cubs. At the same hours Friday, the T-Ball dodgers oppose the Cubs and the midget Cubs go against the Cardinals.

DR. WEISBROD APPOINTED TO QUACKERY COMMITTEE

Dr. W. W. Weisbrod has been appointed by the board of directors of the Chiropractic Society of Iowa as a member at-large of a newly formed Iowa Chiropractic Committee on Quackery in the Healing Arts.

Says Dr. H. T. Barnes of Audubon, secretary of the society, "The function of the committee will be to scrutinize closely fads and healing 'quickies' and to work in close harmony with other healing practitioners."

Corn harvesting clinic scheduled

Wright county farmers are urged to attend a meeting at the town hall in Vincent next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at which the latest information on corn harvesting, storage and drying will be presented by two Iowa State university agricultural engineers, Dale Hull and Fred Roth.

Discussion will be aimed mostly at on-the-farm storage, but the principles and problems involved with drying would apply to commercial elevator drying as well as on-the-farm drying, says Bob Bernhardt, extension director.

Elevator managers and directors, or farmers planning new facilities or expanding present facilities may gain information from this meeting.

HOURS FOR DRAFT OFFICE

Wright county's selective service office in the post office basement at Clarion will be closed mornings until Aug. 14 while Clerk Golda B. Hecox is on her annual leave during the period of July 17-Aug. 14. There will be personnel in charge of the office each afternoon from 1:00 to 5:00 o'clock.

Pair from Belmond make Deans' List

Two Belmond students were among 911 at Iowa State university, Ames, who earned places on the Deans' List during the spring semester for academic excellence. A grade-point average of 3.5 or better is required for mention on the scholastic list.

Douglas Pals, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Pals, earned the distinction as a student in agricultural education; and Neal Waddington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Waddington, as a mathematics major.

My thanks to everyone who remembered me while I was in the hospital and after my return home. Everything was sincerely appreciated. Anna Langlitz. 43t1*

Headache ahead for P.O.

There's all the makin's of a built-in headache for the local post office when a new Central Soya employee from Des Moines by the name of Wayne Bell gets moved into the residence at 116 Third avenue NE. Because Wayne Bell ALSO lives at 115 Fourth avenue NE — the latter being local Spahn and Rose Lumber manager. The two Waynes had better get their correspondence geared to middle initials and full addresses, pronto, or a merry mix-up of mail seems inevitable.

MERLE FACING SURGERY

Merle Obrecht the first of this week was awaiting surgery at the VA hospital in Minneapolis. Under the circumstances, he feels quite a long way from home and thinks it would let a little more sunlight into his room if he got some mail from his friends. His address is: Ward 5 — AW — Room A-578, Veterans Hospital, 54th st. and 48th ave. S, Minneapolis, Minn. 55417.

Hospital Notes

On July 12, Hunt Scott of Corwith, Kent Kuhlers of Meservey and Janette Ahrens of Thornton entered for surgery and LeRoy Jenison as a medical patient.

Delwin Barkema was admitted as a medical patient, Mary Koenen of Alexander as an accident patient and LeRoy Harson of Kanawha for surgery on July 13.

Mrs. Herman Gast of Klemme and Mrs. Mabel Morris entered July 15 as accident patients and Mrs. Irwin Buseman as a medical patient.

Medical patients admitted on July 16 were Rachel Vander Schaaf, Melvin McAlpine and Walter Schleiffarth.

Entering as medical patients on July 17 were Raymond Pals of Kanawha, Mrs. Wilhelmina Pelley and Mrs. Emma Peddle of Rowan, Mrs. William Johnson and Mrs. Harley Thayer; and Mrs. Mabel Morris was re-admitted as an accident patient.

THERES NEWS IN THE ADS

NIAD will offer business courses

Two business management courses will be offered this fall under auspicies of NIAD extension, according to Martin Poe, leader of area development.

Two-hour evening classes in basic principles of management will be held over an eight-week period at Hampton, starting on Sept. 6. Extension engineers from Iowa State university, Ames, will teach these courses.

"Human Relations in Management" will be the subject of the second course, which may be taken either at Forest City or Mason City. Two-hour evening classes in this course will extend over a six-week period.

The "Human Relations" course will be directed by Don Bowman, ISU extension engineer. First class at Forest City will be Sept. 5 and at Mason City, Sept. 7.

Mr. Poe would appreciate hearing from any business people interested in taking either of the courses, so plans can be made accordingly. His address: Box 778, Mason City.

Connie Benson and Robert Witaker married in Mason City ceremony

Miss Connie Benson, daughter of Mrs. Bertha Benson and the late Lloyd Benson, and Robert Witaker of Mason City were united in marriage Saturday evening, July 1st. The double-ring ceremony took place at the Wayside Chapel of the Mason City Methodist church with Dr. Truman Carl officiating.

The bride wore a three-piece white knit suit. A comb held the simple, sheer, fingertip veil in place. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mrs. Clement McLaughlin, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a yellow, two-piece, wool suit with yellow accessories and veil. Her bouquet was a cluster of white carnations set with miniature yellow roses.

The bride is a graduate of Hamilton Business college and the groom attended North Iowa Area Community college at Mason City before entering service in the U. S. Army.

The bride will continue working for Interstate Light and Power company in Mason City and plans to join her husband after his basic training.

A pre-nuptial shower honored the bride Wednesday evening, June 28, at the library basement. Roxanne Slining presided at the guest book as 35 guests from Mason City, Clarion, Alexander and Belmond registered.

Mrs. Elmer Hopkey of Alexander read several poems suitable for the occasion, games were played and the honoree opened her gifts. Lunch was served by a committee consisting of Mrs. Ed McLaughlin, Mrs. Robert Slining and Mrs. Clement McLaughlin.

Land purchases making headway

Wallace Richmond, who has been buying right-of-way along Highway 69 through Belmond to make ready for widening of that thoroughfare next year, made a report to the city council last week.

He advised the city fathers that he has been successful in obtaining contracts for purchase of 25 out of 35 parcels of land that will be needed.

Most of the delay on the other 10 parcels, he said, has been due to absentee ownership. Only a very few resident owners have refused to accept terms proffered by the city.

Mr. Richmond expressed the belief that it will be necessary to resort to condemnation procedures in very few cases to complete purchase of the needed strips of property.

GORDON D. JOHNSON MARRIED ON JULY 1 TO JERILYNN HILMOE

The marriage of Jerilynn Ann Hilmoe and Gordon D. Johnson was performed at 2:00 p. m. Saturday, July 1, in the First Evangelical Lutheran church at La Crosse, Wis.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Hilmoe of La Crosse and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Johnson of Belmond.

Jean Hengel, a college friend of the bride and also of La Crosse, was maid of honor. Ervin Johnson of Moorhead, Minn., served his brother as best man.

Bridesmaids were Kathleen Lucey and Ann Spooner of La Crosse and groomsmen were Hiram Lund and Thomas Stenson, fellow faculty members of the groom at Westby, Wis.

Ushers were Marlin Jenison of Des Moines and Leland Lewison of Viroqua, Wis.

The bride was attired in an empire gown of silk organiza over peau de soie accented with Alencon lace. Organza roses accented with seed pearls and lace held her bouffant, shoulder-length veil and she carried a formal cascade of yellow carnations and red sweetheart roses.

Attendants to the bride wore pale aqua gowns with matching headpieces of tiny roses and veiling. Each carried an arrangement of pompons and streamers.

The newlyweds will live at 1434 Cass street in La Crosse. Mr. Johnson will continue to teach at Westaby and his bride teaches second grade at near-by Onalaska.

R. K. Blisses surprised on their 10th anniversary

Mrs. Ralph Bliss reports from Ames that her son Wilbur and his family from San Jose, Calif., and her son-in-law and daughter from Hammond, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. William Bissell, surprised her and Mr. Bliss with a visit on their 10th wedding anniversary on June 2. The date is also Mrs. Bliss's birthday.

She learned from the Bissells that their son, Mrs. Bliss's only grandson, has accepted a teaching position at Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y., for the coming year. He will receive his Ph. D. degree in chemistry upon completion of summer study at Duke university, Durham, N. C.

Backache may be a warning . . .

Backache can be very painful . . . What's more, it can lead to serious disorders not immediately associated with the pain itself.

Pain is nature's way of warning that something is wrong. Frequently pain in any part of the back is caused by a misaligned vertebra somewhere in the spinal column which interferes with nerve transmission between brain and tissue cell. Permanent relief is not possible in this type of case until the vertebra is restored to its normal position.

Statistics from official workmen's compensation files in three states showed that Chiropractic brought health to backache cases almost twice as rapidly as cases under other types of health care. An independent insurance carrier revealed that 49 per cent of backache cases reporting attendance of a Chiropractor showed no loss of time from work. NO OTHER TYPE OF HEALTH CARE EQUALLED THIS RECORD.

County library tax set-up badly needs revamping

It was to very good intended purpose that the Wright county board of supervisors last year approved a county library tax to the ostensible purpose of providing free library service to all rural people of the county. Unfortunately, it has been a source of considerable dissension among the libraries of the county — and this promises to continue being the case unless it is administered in the manner that the law suggests.

The whole thing got off on the wrong foot because such a county library tax is intended to serve primarily the interests of the rural population, whereas the Wright county tax was actually levied to serve the interests of the libraries.

It was at the urging of the librarians and library boards of the county — with rather minor impetus provided by rural people — that the supervisors agreed after some coaxing to levy a quarter-mill tax on rural property.

There is nothing in Chapter 378 of the Iowa code, under which the tax is levied, that permits raising money in this manner simply as financial aid to town and city libraries. Purpose of the tax may only be to "contract for the residents outside of cities and towns" . . . in order that they may borrow books from the designated libraries "on the same terms and conditions as residents of the city or town in which said library is located."

When it was proposed that the library board presidents and secretaries of the five public libraries in the county — at Eagle Grove, Clarion, Belmond, Dows and Rowan — serve as a body to administer the new tax, the suggestion was readily accepted by the board. The result has been that there is not a single voice on the board that speaks for the rural people.

Had the county's rural people requested an election on the matter of a library tax and the levy had been approved by them, the board of supervisors would have HAD to appoint a board of five, seven or nine members to enter into contract with the town and city libraries. These trustees would have HAD to be rural residents.

As matters presently stand, rural Wright countians not only had minor influence in the esablishing of the library tax, but they have not a shred of influence in its administration. This is patently contrary to the intent of law under which the tax was established.

One result has been that contracts that rural residents in the northwestern part of the county had with the Renwick and Kanawha libraries for free services were abrogated and those people were left without free service from the library of their choice and greatest convenience. We understand that abandonment of the contracts mentioned has drawn strong protest, and that they are to be reinstated with county tax funds supplanting the funds previously raised by township tax levy or public subscription.

Another sore point has been distribution of the available funds to the five libraries in the county Off the top" of the tax yield is paid $2,557 to the area extension service of the Iowa State Traveling Library to give all rural Wright countians full privileges in using that service. But the division, thereafter, is dubiously achieved.

Eagle Grove has "sold" the county library board on the assumption that the amount of local tax support (not by millage, but by dollar amount) and total book circulation should be major factors in apportioning the balance of the tax money. Small attention is given to rural usage of the library — either actual or potential; which SHOULD be a major determinining factor, since the tax money is paid exclusively on rural property for the specific benefit of rural dwellers.

We might cite a few statistics — then let you guess HOW the money is divided. In 1966, Belmond's library had 533 rural card-holders, Clarion's 299, Eagle Grove's 234. And in the first five months of the current year, Belmond's library had a total book circulation of 15,599, Eagle Grove's 16,160, Clarion's 9,889.

Under pressure from the Eagle Grove element on the board, the library there received 35 per cent of the dividable funds (after the extension service had been paid), Belmond and Clarion each 24 per cent. Dows and Rowan, despite sizeable rural areas that their libraries should logically be equipped to serve, were left "looking out the window" with 7½ and 9½ per cent respectively.

We haven't found time to analyze the geographical distribution of Wright's rural population; but we'd make a gamble at generous odds that the potential rural usage of Eagle Grove's library (from within Wright county) would fall very decidedly short of the potential rural usage of either Belmond's or Clarion's libraries. And THAT is what should decide apportionment of the library tax funds.

Eagle Grove certainly should NOT receive the largest share of the money on the strength of larger total circulation of books — due to an appreciable degree to usage by students attending Eagle Grove Junior college. If the library there is financially hard pressed on account of serving the junior college, then the school district should be asked to provide the funds to pay for services rendered. It certainly is not an obligation of the rural people of the county.

The Wright county library tax has a very worthwhile function to perform. Basically, it's a good idea. But it should be administered to fulfill that specific function — of paying for library services for the people who pay the library tax, the county's rural dwellers.

Until the supervisors create a board of library trustees such as state law clearly prescribes, ill will is going to persist among the participating libraries and our rural people are not going to benefit in the proportion that they should. Right now would be a good time to disband the board that is illegally functioning and appoint one that meets the rural residency requirement set forth in the code and can impartially administer the county library tax funds.

Year around summer time? British soon to have it

While some Iowa petunias droop from the excess of sun they're receiving this summer because of daylight saving time (at least, so some petunia fanciers would have us believe), Iowans might nevertheless count their blessings.

Consider the poor British. Inhabitants of the United Kingdom are soon to have summer time all the year 'round. How about THAT?

We don't wish to imply that a climatic miracle is about to occur. It's just that starting early next year the Britons will go on the equivalent of our daylight saving time around the calendar.

Their problem isn't to gain an extra hour of daylight leisure time. It is rather that the hub of European economy has shifted to central Europe, and the British with their Greenwich mean time have gotten out of synchronization with the bulk of their economic associates.

It doesn't seem to be bugging the Britons too much that they'll be rising earlier and retiring an hour later What most bothers them at the moment is what they're going to call the new time regimen. Quite naturally, they aren't going to settle for calling it central European time and thereby admit they aren't calling the economic shots as they once did. And "Perpetual summer time" is equally out of the question.

According to the Christian Science Monitor, the British government has solicited suggestions in hope of solving the dilemma. One wag recommended "Continual British Winter Time," taking a suspicious view of how efficacious an effect the "summer time" label is apt to have on British weather. One British newspaper proposed that, until a permanent name can be found, the government simply call it "In-the-Meantime."

The Monitor harbors serious doubts that the official suggestion-sifters are likely to come upon one serious and sober enough to fill the bill. To demonstrate the inherent drawbacks to inviting an exercise of wit in such a sober matter, the Monitor admits that the best IT'S been able to come up with is "All-the-Time-Time."

Need for annual sessions shown

Need for annual legislative sessions in Iowa never was demonstrated more clearly than by the session of the 62nd Genneral assembly just ended.

Sessions in either odd or even years should be devoted strictly to careful consideration of tax laws.

Last legislature waited until the final two days of its record marathon 175 day session to jam through a tax bill. It is a Pandora's box, full of tax surprises which nobody knows which taxpayers are going to be helped or hurt dollarwise.

Leaders of both the Republican and Democratic parties are guilty of forcing this bill down the throats of legislators without adequate debate or investigation into the effects of various parts of the bill on taxpayers.

GOV. HAROLD HUGHES CALLED the legislative leaders of both parties to his office to hammer out a tax bill in three days of secret sessions with participants refusing to disclose to the press what was being done.

Then the legislators, weary from the longest session in Iowa's history, were told they had to swallow the bill without time to study its ramifications. Proposed amendments were beaten down by the leadership of both parties in both the Senate and the House, in almost every instance.

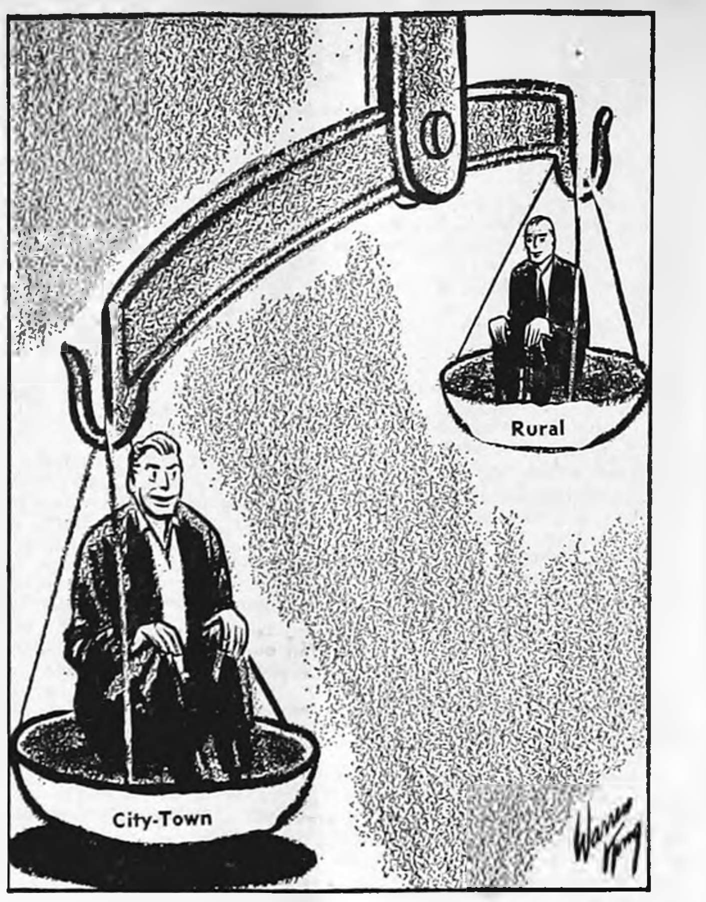
Legislators were told by their party leaders that both party platforms had promised tax relief on real property and school costs. This bill in its entirety and in one unstudied package was it, or go home without passing tax relief.

STATE TAX EXPERTS WERE not consulted on some phases of the new tax laws in the bill passed. Nobody has come up with satisfactory explanations of how some phases of the new tax laws are going to be enforced.

Only possible solution to such foolish legislation is to have annual sessions of the legislature Every other year designated solely for preparation and revision of tax laws.

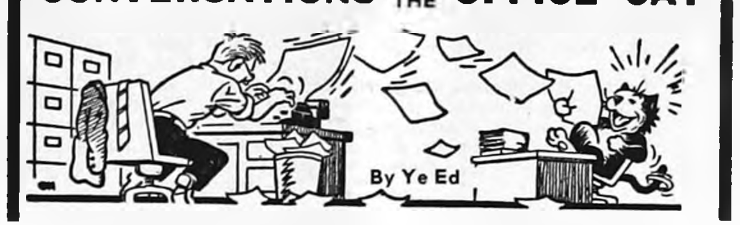
IN THIS MANNER THEY CAN be done carefully and hammered out on the anvil of public opinion in open debate with time to study the overall effect on taxes to be paid by citizens in different income brackets, city and rural residents, and different lines of employment.

The Journal hopes that leaders of both parties and interested citizens will start working now for annual sessions of the legislature — with every other year devoted solely to tax matters. — Anamosa Journal



Balance needed on county library board

CONVERSATIONS WITH THE OFFICE CAT



By Ye Ed

Finally, TJ made his appearance. The office cat ambled through the front door on the heels of a customer, stopped for an uncertain look around the premises, then asked anybody who might be listening, "Is THIS the place?"

"This is the place," we assured him. "Welcome home."

He eyed the carpeting, surveyed the new wood panelling, studied the rearrangement of desks and counters With a disbelieving wag of his head, TJ observed, "The Red Cross must have been mighty good to you folks."

"AW, CUT OUT!" WE BARKED. "You sound like some of the other nincompoops. The fixing up was done with tornado insurance money, plus a bundle from Uncle Lu at the bank acquired with a nice new mortgage.

"We might have felt like a hardship case, but the Red Cross goes by its own definitions. . . . What's new with you?"

It was TJ's first visit to the office since departing early in the year to take in the 62nd General Assembly down at Des Moines. It was a longer vacation than either of us had figured on — 175 days, or just five less than the kids have to attend school during an entire year's time.

TJ ignored the inquiry. Striding back to the editorial corner, he glanced around and asked, "The chair? Thought you were getting a new chair for back here, what with my cushion having disappeared during the big blow."

HE EYED WITH DISAPPROVAL a slick-cushioned, pink number stationed where the old easy chair used to be — and which had been an office fixture for some years past.

We nodded toward a new chair with a fabric cushion setting in the center of the office and told him, "We got that one to replace the casualty; but the consensus around here seems to be that it's too nice for a cat roost."

Our furry friend exploded, "Too nice for a . . . ! Now just a darned minute!"

"Look, pal," we admonished, "with the new carpet, the whole doggoned floor is as comfortable for loafing purposes as that old sag-bottomed chair of your used to be. You never had it so good."

TJ STRETCHED EXPERIMENTALLY on the floor, rolled over and back, reclined himself in a half moon with his chin on his front paws, and then cocked an eye our direction.

"Not bad, really," he admitted. "Not bad at all." . . But as his attention wandered to the typewriter, he sat up on his haunches and complained, "How the dickens, though, can I see what you're hacking out on the machine from clear down here?"

"In the first place," we replied, "it need be very little concern of yours WHAT I'm hacking out on the machine. And in the second place, if you're all that concerned, you can hop up on the desk like you always used to. . You can't read my mail from the floor either — any more than you could from the old chair," we pointed out.

INTERPRETING THIS AS AN invitation — which it wasn't — the cat leaped to the desk top and began to inspect its contents As his gaze settled on a sheet of onion skin lying open by the in-and-out basket, his eyes lit up and he blurted, "Leary! Here's a note from Leary!"

We nodded agreement. With it was a clipping from the Sigourney newspaper commenting that a tornado alert has been sounded there "Monday evening at 7:30 following a report of possible tornado action to the southwest; but no tornado was sighted."

Returning his attention to Leary's note, TJ read out loud to himself, " 'It would seem City Fathers and VIP's would do will to inject a little foresight in things that may happen to its citizens' welfare rather than to material things that are not necessary. Maybe you can help — or sure TJ can.' "

The news story told how Sigourney's city fathers have designated that six sharp blasts on the fire siren, repeated at minute intervals, means "Hit for the basement; tornado's brewin'!"

"OF COURE," WE OBSERVED, "if the bloomin' thing comes sneaking into town on its hands and knees, like ours did, who's going to know there's one on the door tep'

But the cat didn't seem to be listening. He mused, "How about that! Leary didn't forget ol' TJ, did he? . . . And he hasn't forgotten who gets things DONE around here."

Briskly, he turned toward us and ordered, "Take an editorial, bub. We're going to get a tornado warning system established here, by golly. Start it out . . . While wasting its time on such non-essentials as sewage systems, water plants, streets and annual budgets, Belmond's city council is renouncing its first — make that caps — FIRST obligation to . . . "

With a sigh, we brushed the cat off our desk. It was going to be like old times, with TJ back.

Wright history tells of earliest newspapers

(This installment concludes serialization of S. D. Pierce's "Condensed History of Wright County," reprinted from the Belmond Herald, issue of July 14, 1876.)

The first newspaper published in the county was the Wright County Free Press, in 1861, by G. D. Ingersol, at Liberty. The next was the Wright County Register, published at the same place by Mrs. Mary Reed in 1868. In March 1869, the material of the Register was removed to Clarion, when the name was changed to that of the Wright County Monitor, Wm. F. Smith editor.

The next March, the paper again changed hands, A. M. White becoming its editor. After other changes of ownership it came into the hands of its present proprietor, G. E. Hathway, who is a live editor.

The Belmond Mirror was started in Belmond by Pritchard & Allen in 1873, who sold to Kirk Whited; and after changing owners twice again, it passed into the hands of its present proprietor, F. A. Gates, under the name of The Belmond Herald.

Fine climate and soil

Climate and soil of Wright county are equal to that of any other county in the same latitude, being free from all local diseases. The soil is of easy cultivation, producing abundantly all kinds of cerals, grass, vegetables, etc.

Wheat averages 12 to 30 bushels to the acre, corn 40 to 80 bushels, oats 30 to 80 bushels; average 45. Timothy hay 2 to 3 tons to the acre. For stock growing and for dairy purposes the county is not surpassed by any in the state.

Unimproved lands are held at from $3.60 to $8.00 per acre. Farms are held at $16 to $22 per acre, according to value of improvements.

Wright citizens praised

The citizens of Wright county, coming as they do from the eastern and middle, and older western states, and constituting the most enterprising and liberal minded of those states, will ultimately make one of the most flourishing counties of the state.

The people are amiable, courteous, kind and hospitable and the stranger is ever welcome to the shelter of their roof and a seat at their board. They are intellectual, energetic and enterprising, sociable, agreeable and refined, and with the gentler sex remarkably so.

SCHOOLS, RAILROADS BIG PROBLEMS OF THE DAY

In those 'way back when times of 90 years ago, big problems of the day were the attraction of railroad lines (Wright county was one of 11 in Iowa that had nary a mile of railroad within its boundaries) and the establishment of satisfactory schools as settlements began to outgrow the one-room schoolhouse.

There was talk in Belmond of "going modern" with a graded school system. County Superintendent Hannah was encouraging the prospect, saying, "The first move is for the people to agitate the matter and see if something cannot be done towards harmonizing the adjoining school districts — consolidating them."

School consolidation urged

To this end he recommended that "the Elder school, the two town schools and the West Belmond school" join to provide their scholars improved facilities and instruction. This was in mid-February of 1877. On the following March 9, The Belmond Herald had the following report to make:

"On Monday the voters of Sub-District No. 1, Pleasant Twp., voted to levy a $2,000 tax to build a schoolhouse in the village of Belmond. A graded school is what the town needs badly. We hope the people of the township will think the matter over candidly.

"There are 100 scholars in this sub-district and one house 18x26 has to accommodate them unless an extra building is rented for school purposes. In Miss Grove's school the past term, the average attendance was 35, ranging from the ages of 5 to 20. Is it any wonder the children do not get along with their studies as rapidly as expected?

Too few teachers

"It is impossible for one teacher to handle successfully this number of scholars when their ages are so dissimilar — the grades so many. We are creditably informed that the advanced classes in her school had to recite after school hours on many occasions, as it was impossible to get through earlier.

"This is a state of things that should not be; it is asking too much of any teacher. Let us have such schools in Belmond as the wants of the pupils demand, and it will be of incalculable benefit to the entire township. We do not complain of the schools taught in the town, but of the accommodations furnished the teachers and the scholars.

Not enough room

"First, for instance, there is not room enough even by dividing the scholars; secondly, they are not conveniently seated; thirdly, there are too many scholars for two teachers unless there can be graded departments. And this is impossible with the present facilities. A good building amply adequate for a number of years could be built for $2,500.

"The people have got to come to it if the children are given a fair chance. There is no economy in putting it off."

Wonder what the good people of Belmond would have thought, 90 years ago, if it had been suggested that proposed expenditures of the community school system in 1967 would run close to $800,000 — for one year's operation?

U.S. SAVINGS BONDS
KEEP FREEDOM IN YOUR FUTURE

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS ON THE NEW FREEDOM SHARES

Q. What are "Freedom Shares"?
A. This is the designation given to the Treasury's new United States Savings Notes, now available for purchase along with Series E Savings Bonds.

Q. What is the interest rate on Freedom Shares?
A. 4.74%, compounded semi-annually, when held for the full 4½ years to maturity.

Q. Can they be cashed before maturity?
A. Yes, after one year. However, interest rate will be less if cashed before maturity, i.e. 4.01% after 1 year and 4.50% after 3 years.

Q. What do they cost?
A. They are issued only in face amounts of $25, $50, $75 and $100 with corresponding purchase prices of $20.25, $40.50, $60.75 and $81.00.

Q. Is there an annual limit on holdings?
A. Yes. $1,350 (face amount) issued in any one calendar year to any one person.

Q. Who may buy Freedom Shares?
A. Any individual who purchases Series E bonds on either the Bond-A-Month Plan or the Payroll Savings Plan.

Q. What is the Bond-A-Month Plan?
A. This is a plan where an individual authorizes his bank to make monthly deductions from his checking or savings account to purchase for him either Series E Bonds or the Freedom Share Bond combination. Maximum Freedom Share deduction allowable is $81.00 per month.

Q. What is the Payroll Savings Plan?
A. This is a plan where an employee authorizes his employer to make deductions from his salary for the purchase of Series E bonds or the Freedom Share bond combination. Maximum Freedom Share deduction allowable is $20.25 per weekly pay period or $40.50 per bi-weekly or semi-monthly pay period, or $81.00 per monthly pay period.

Q. May I buy Freedom Shares separately?
A. No. They must be bought in conjunction with Series E Bonds of the same or larger face amounts. For example, a $25 Freedom Share may be purchased with each $25 E bond, when secured through Bond-A-Month or Payroll Savings.

Q. Are Freedom Shares subject to taxation?
A. The same as Series E bonds. The interest is subject to Federal income tax, but may be deferred until maturity or redemption, whichever comes first. Interest is not subject to state income tax or local taxes.

Proceedings of the Wright County Board of Supervisors

Published below are the official proceedings of the Wright County Board of Supervisors. The publication appears in the interest of all county residents, town and rural.

June 19, 1967
Clarion, Iowa

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met in adjourned session at the Court House in Clarion with the following members present: Ed Kennedy, Chairman, Walter Weidemann, George E. Heard, G. C. Whyte and Wendell Duitscher, with the County Auditor in attendance.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The Public Health Nurses made a report of their activities for the month of May 1967.

Mrs. Carl Thorson of the Eagle Grove library and Mrs. Richard Woodin of the Belmond Library met with the Board to submit the apportionment schedule for the rural library fund for 1968. This was not acceptable to Supervisor Whyte. The people he represents in Norway and Boone Townships use the Kanawha and Renwick libraries. Mr. Whyte feels that $300.00 should be apportioned to each of the Townships for their library service. It was also felt that the portion of the fund going to the Dows Library was inadequate. It was agreed that the libraries would all keep records to show the number of families served, number of books taken, etc., and the apportionment schedule will be resubmitted the early part of December 1967.

Motion by Whyte, seconded by Heard, to rescind the motion, made and carried at the June 12, 1967 meeting, to purchase a Blanket Honesty Bond to cover deputies, appointive officers and clerks, due to an opinion from the County Attorney that this type of bond will not qualify as a substitute for individual bonds specifically required by the Code of Iowa. Motion carried.

The board talked with Vernon Lester, Assessor, and asked his assistance in maintaining the Xerox copying machine. He stated he would be glad to assist the Auditor in this respect.

Motion by Weidemann, seconded by Heard, to reappoint Stanley Shupe of Clarion as a member of the Wright County Conservation Board for a term of five years from July 1, 1967. Motion carried.

Motion by Duitscher, seconded by Whyte, to abate the 1966 taxes of the Woolstock Missionary Church on Lot 2 in SW¼ of NE¼ Sec. 31, Twp. 90 North, Range 25, in amount of $113.42, due to said property being held tax exempt for the year 1966 by order of Court dated April 27, 1967 in case brought by said Church vs. The Board of Review of Wright County, et al. Motion carried.

Motion by Heard, seconded by Weidemann, to discontinue suspension of taxes of Lewis Hagen on Lot 5, Block 2, Dows and of Della Bulis on Lot 3, Block 1, Eagle Grove, both recipients being deceased. Motion carried.

Motion by Heard, second by Weidemann, to accept the semi-annual settlement and report of H. E. Sullivan, County Treasurer, for he period from January 1, 1967 thru May 31, 1967. Motion carried.

Motion by Weidemann, seconded by Heard, to accept annual financial statement of Wright County Soldiers' Relief Commission dated June 5, 1967. Motion carried.

Motion by Whyte, seconded by Duitscher, to publish notice in all Wright County papers to all Property Owners for the destruction of Noxious Weeds and the mowing of weeds along highways. Motion carried.

Motion by Weidemann, seconded by Heard, to abate $6.69 of the 1966 taxes of E. H. & Marie H. Zook on the buildings located on Lots 3, 4, 5 and 6 in Block 18, Morse Bros. Add., Belmond, due to loss of buildings by tornado on October 14, 1966. Motion carried.

Motion by Whyte, seconded by Heard, to approve bonds and applications for Cigarette Permits of Farmers Exchange and Lake Cafe. Motion carried.

Motion by Whyte, seconded by Weidemann, to adjourn. Motion carried.

Ed Kennedy,
Chairman

Ethel C. West,
County Auditor

July 3, 1967
Clarion, Iowa

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met in adjourned session at the Court House in Clarion with the following members present: Ed Kennedy, Chairman, Walter Weidemann, George E. Heard and Conger Whyte, with the County Auditor in attendance. Supervisor Wendell Duitscher was absent.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The following Resolution with reference to Thomas M. Stark and Edwin H. Nuehring was introduced and read:

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, Wright County, Iowa has incurred considerable expense for the costs resulting from institutionalizing Thomas M. Stark and Edwin H. Nuehring for the treatment of alcoholism, and

WHEREAS, in response to a letter written to the County Attorney, he rendered an opinion dated June 13, 1967 regarding County expense for institutionalizing inebriates, and,

WHEREAS, in response to a letter to Williard C. Brinegar, M. D., Superintendent, Cherokee Mental Health Institute, specifically asking whether additional hospitalizaton would be a benefit to the said Thomas M. Stark and Edwin H. Nuehring, Dr. Brinegar did, on June 26, 1967, reply in part that "We had written the County Clerk in regard to Mr. Stark some weeks ago indicating that we felt further hospitalization was not of any benefit to him and that we would recommend that he be handled locally. The same would apply to Mr. Nuehring as we find that their situations are very similar."

NOW BE IT RESOLVED that it is the position of the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, that during the next six (6) months they will not be responsible for the expenses of voluntary commitments of Thomas M. Stark and Edwin H. Nuehring.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the County Auditor is directed to furnish the Clerk of Court and the Sheriff with copies of this Resoluton, the County Attorney's opinion and the letter from Dr. Brinegar dated June 26, 1967.

Motion was made by Heard, seconded by Whyte, that the above Resolution be adopted. Upon roll call the vote was as follows: Ayes, Weidemann, Heard and Whyte. Nays, None. Whereupon the Chairman declared the motion carried and the Resolution duly adopted.

Motion by Weidemann, seconded by Whyte, that the County enter into a renewal lease with Clay Kramer and Margaret Kramer on the 320 acre county farm covering the South ½ of Section 5, Township 91 North, Range 24 West 5th P. M. Iowa, for a term of 5 years from March 1, 1969, and that the Chairman of the Board of Supervisors be, and he is hereby authorized and empowered to execute said lease for and on behalf of Wright County under its corporate seal, which the County Auditor is directed to affix and attest. Rental to be ½ of all corn, beans and other small grain raised on said premises, all to be delivered to market at Clarion, Iowa, as Landlord shall direct. Landlord reserves sufficient bin and granary space to hold its share of all crops and shall pay for shelling its share of corn. Landlord and Tenant will each pay for ½ of seed for above crops. In addition Tenant shall pay $15.00 per acre cash rent on all pasture, hay ground nd building lot. It is hereby agreed that the building lot is eight acres. Pasture and hay ground shall be measured by the parties. Each party will pay for ½ of all fertilizer and Landlord will buy weed spray and Tenant will pay for or do all machine work in connection with application of fertilizer and weed spray. In the event that the Landlord desires, at any time, to use the said leased premises for purposes of a county home, or for any other purpose other than rental to a private individual for farming purposes, or to sell said premises, they shall have the right to terminate said lease on the next March 1st succeeding by giving notice of their intention in writing on or before July 1st preceding said termination date. Said notice shall either be served in the same manner as an Original Notice or by U. S. Certified Mail with Return Receipt Requested. If the latter, said letter must be placed in the said U. S. Mails on or before June 20th preceding the said July 1st. The Tenant hereby expressly agrees to this reservation and right to terminate said lease before the five year period hereinabove otherwise given. Motion carried.

The following Resolution was introduced and read:

RESOLUTION Concurring in Recommended Award of Contracts for Farm to Market Projects Nos. SN-2997/1/—51-99 and SN-3023/1/—51-99, Wright County.

WHEREAS the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, has considered the bids received by the Iowa State Highway Commission on June 20, 1967, for construction work on Farm to Market Projects Nos. SN-2997/1/—51-99 and SN-3023/1/—51-99, Wright County.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the said Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, concurs in the Commission's recommendation that contract for said work be awarded to the low bidders, as follows:

0.997 Miles of Grading to O. E. White, Laurens, Iowa $10,931.77
100 ft. x 28 ft. Conc. Slab Bridge to James H. Merryman, Algona, Iowa $28,902.08
SN-3023/1/—51-99:
4.983 miles of grading to O. E. White, Laurens, Iowa $45,902.68
Gr. I — 30 ft. x 28 ft. Conc. Slab Bridge) $17,189.46
Gr. II — 24 ft. x 28 ft. Conc. Slab bridge), $15,929.70
both Groups to James H. Merryman, Algona Iowa

Motion by Heard, seconded by Whyte, that the foregoing Resolution be adopted. Upon roll call the vote was as follows: Ayes, Weidemann, Whyte, and Heard. Nays, None. Thereupon the Chairman declared the motion carried and the resolution duly adopted.

Motion by Whyte, seconded by Weidemann, to transfer $15.71 from the Court Fund to the County General Fund for telephone bill paid out of wrong fund. Motion carried.

Motion by Weidemann, seconded by Whyte, to approve bond and application for Beer Permit of Lynn Q. Knoll, and also all bonds and applications for Cigarette Permits of Lynn Knoll, Eagle Grove Golf & Country Club, Clarmond Country Club, Jim's 66 Service, Hilltop Cafe, and Rowan Highway Service and Cafe. Motion carried.

Motion by Heard, seconded by Weidemann, to approve 1967 2nd quarterly reports of Clerk of Court, Auditor, Sheriff and John Van Gerpen, Justice of the Peace for Belmond Township. Motion carried.

The following claims were read and allowed:

You can trust seat belts.

4 out of 5 auto accidents happen within 25 miles of home, according to the National Safety Council. You're taking a risk, every time you drive. So always buckle your seat belt. Also, the National Safety Council says . . . if everyone had seat belts and used them, at least 5,000 lives could be saved each year and serious injuries reduced by one-third. Always buckle your seat belt. You can't trust luck . . . you can trust seat belts!

NORTH IOWA Peach OF THE WEEK!

Flowers are an important part of the summer scene so this week's "Peach of the Week" is a Lillie with a lily.

Mrs Quintus also gives much of her time each summer in the planting and helping to care for the town flowers along the boulevards and at the courthouse square in Garner.

Strange salad, isn't it? But all the ingredients can be found at READ'S and with a little know-how (supplied by our decorator staff), even an amateur can concoct a salad a la mode for a price a la budget! Furnishing your home is really a personal matter because you want it to express your individual taste and provide the greatest selection of styles to make the particular arrangement you need to meet your individual requirements. Come in ... look around ... you'll be surprised to see how far your dollars will go and how much more gracious you can make your living.

What? You STILL don't fasten that seat belt religiously when you're on the road? Better cut it out. Mrs. Lynn (Sharleen) Sorum will tell you why. When the Sorums were recently involved in a bad accident, Sharleen suffered considerably more extensive injuries than her husband and the reason was "seatbelt."

The crash occurred before she could get herself safely strapped down again. The difference was multiple facial gashes and a broken ankle for Mrs. S. — two face cuts and a bruised hip (from the tug of the belt?) for Lynn. The experience left both Sorums firmer believers than ever in the wisdom of USING those seatbelts.

Director Maurice Fahrney and his dedicated bunch of bandmen (and bandwomen) have been quite disheartened by the poor turnouts for the series of Wednesday night band concerts this summer. Their final appearance was to be Wednesday night of THIS week. If you are among the Independent subscribers who get their newspaper on Wednesday afternoon — and this item catches your eye — why don't you give yourself a treat and the kids and Mr. F. some well deserved encouragement by slipping down to the park and hearing some good, rousing music? Concert starts at 8:00 o'clock.

If The Independent doesn't look just, well . . . entirely natural, for the next couple of weeks, it won't be surprising. The middle Mainstreeter is out of commission with acute sciatica and was to go to Younker Rehabilitation Center at Des Moines yesterday in hope of obtaining relief from the severe pain he's been suffering for more than a week.

Ye Ed and family had their vacation scheduled for the next couple of weeks and were to head this morning for Montana. No chance of postponement, because it was the last two weeks of the year the trip could possibly be made, due to work commitments.

That leaves Duane Anderson all alone in the saddle. We we're trying to line up a pinch-hit ad man OR editor; but "Andy" said he'd just as soon take a try at keeping all the balls in the air by himself. Well, not alone exactly. He's counting on proffered help from Miriam Gowdy, wife Mildred, plus Louise and Hannah of the regular staff. Good luck, friend!

The Belmond Community Girls softball team has flung down the gauntlet to the town's "young marrieds" for a ball game at the BHS diamond Friday at 7:00 p. m. Coach Jean Coulson's gals had a cancellation and Mary Dorr has been dared to line up an outfit to take 'em on. She's broadcasting an SOS to any and all women who think they still have a game of softball left in them. Call Mary, if you think you can put the mustard.

Nobody picked up the $50 prize last Saturday night as the Chamber of Commerce held the second of its four, weekly bingo parties at the city park. But nine people went home richer for the fun they'd had, including Gladys Thompson of Clarion, who picked off $10; and three who got $3.50 apiece when they tied for another $10 prize — Daryl Steenhard of Clarion, Darwin Weide of Meservey and Mrs. Albert Sturm.

There was also a tie for a $5.00 prize, with Mrs. Joe Kaduce and Lorinda "Rindy" Watermiller splitting it even.

Dollar winners were Arnold Mennenga, Tom Gerberich and Mrs. Charles Velau. While there was disappointment over the "big one" getting away, the Chamber is making it all the more worth while to be on hand THIS Saturday by adding another $25 to set up a $75 jackpot prize for next time. There was a good crowd of bingo addicts on hand for the second "go"; and there'll likely be a bigger one night after tomorrow.

We let Keith Carlson put a low curve by us last week when we were talking to the BHS vo-ag instructor about the grant awarded to Kermit Bohning to attend the recent poultry research clinic at Iowa State university. We asked him, "Whose son is Kermit?" and Keith replied, "The Pete Bohnings" (yes, you really did). Kermit is a member in good standing of the BILL Bohning family. His mother says they'd like to keep their claim on him.

Things were "looking up" this week, where the American Field Service scholarship fund was concerned. There's still quite a way to go, before it reaches the necessary total of $750 to meet the costs of young Brazilian Paulo Canineu's year here as a BHS student. But Marc Ihm, AFS treasurer, felt encouraged over the progress being made.

Last week, the amount still needed came to $279. The picture improved materially with receipt of a $100 donation from the Belmond Community Theater group.

In addition, $15 was received from St. Francis Rosary society, $10 apiece from the Rebekah lodge and the Luin Coxes, and $5.00 from the O'Larry Dorrs. That pares the deficit to $139, which should easily be met if those who've been "putting it off" will get in their intended donations. Marc Ihm or The Independent will be glad to receive 'em.

OUT OF THE PAST, the minute book held by Sig Helgeland offers a glimpse of the ways and concerns of Civil War veterans who comprised the membership of Whited Post No. 247 of the Grand Army of the Republic here in Belmond at the turn of the century. Discovered by Sig among possessions of Eimbrink post of the American Legion, the book covered G. A. R. activities from early 1899 until the post permanently disbanded in 1926. A story concerning the minute book will be found on the editorial page.

City budget needs go up but levy rise not large

Belmond's city budget for 1968 will require only slightly more in tax levy than did the current year's, $132,993 compared to $129,494 — but taxes will run a bit higher due to lower property valuation resulting from last fall's tornado.

The official publication of the budget estimate elsewhere in this issue shows that the levy will run $37.97 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. For this year the figure was $34.51.

Even so, the difference in millage is not so great as the city fathers had expected. One reason is that utility valuations in Wright county were increased appreciably last year and will compensate to quite a degree for property destruction by the storm. The council estimated that the net decrease in assessed valuation in the corporation probably will not exceed 10 per cent of last year's total.

A one-mill levy in the '68 budget was approved by the state comptroller to create an emergency fund against the possibility that the city may need to borrow from the newly established state disaster fund. The emergency fund would be used to repay the loan.

It is not yet known if Belmond would qualify for such a loan, or — if so — for how much. The council tentatively decided that $18,000 might be needed to put municipal finances on an even keel; but the aforementioned increase in utility valuations, it is now thought, would probably make that large an amount unnecessary.

By and large, levies for the various municipal funds will be very close to what they were a year ago. One exception is the general fund, for which $13,232 is asked compared to $9,380 for the current year. Establishment of the position of building inspector, said official to receive a $200 monthly salary plus mileage, mainly accounts for the general fund increase.

Hearing on the city budget will be held at the city hall on Monday, Aug. 7, at 8:00 p. m., at which time questions regarding it may be asked and taxpayers either for or against the estimate may be heard.

FITTS TO YOUNKER CENTER

Corri Fitts left Saturday for Des Moines to take treatments at Younker Rehabilitation Center. His son and daughter, Orvis Fitts of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. Joan Braun of St. Louis, Mo., took him to Des Moines. Mrs. Braun had spent the week visiting in the home of her parents.

FORMER RESIDENTS' SON DIES IN HOME ACCIDENT

Word has been received of the death on July 11 of Brian Jensen, 16, son of former Belmond residents Malcolm "Mac" and Dorothy "Dee" Jensen. The young man was born here when his father was proprietor of a local grocery store.

No details regarding the death were received, but friends understand that Brian died as the result of an accident in his home at Alexandria, Va.

Attending the funeral at Alexandria were the youth's grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Landry of Independence, and his aunt — also a former Belmondite — Mrs. George Infelt of Edina, Minn.

Start that state aid anytime!—

School taxes for '67-68 going up $93,600

Although uncertainty as to what tax millage will be required makes it impossible to forecast the property levy for Belmond Community district school taxes for next year, there is one unquestionable certainty as to the 1967-69 budget drafted last week by the board of education. It will be by far the largest in the district's history.

Public hearing on the budget will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 8, at 8:00 p. m. in the high school board room. At that time, taxpayers for or against the proposed expenditures may express their opinions. A detailed statement of school district receipts and disbursements, both past and anticipated, will be available.

Proposed expenditures are up to $819,308 — $77,104 more than for the past year. More pertinent to the taxpayer, the amount needed from taxation is increased by $93,632, to $709,650. This would represent approximately a seven-mill boost — to something over 50 mills total — if all the amount had to be met by local taxes.

Because state aid to schools was greatly increased by the 62nd General Assembly, but application of the aid formula has yet to be worked out, the actual millage will not be known for some time. Paul F. Johnston, state superintendent of public instruction, has informed Supt. Don Faris that budgets are to be drawn up in the customary manner and that the state comptroller's office will make the necessary amendments under the new aid formula when details have been worked out.

Mr. Faris says salary raises for all school employees account for a very major share of the budget increase, with teachers' and administrators' raises representing the biggest part of that increase. In addition, a number of faculty members moved into higher pay brackets by acquiring advanced degrees or getting additional hours toward same.

Salaries of elementary teachers went up a total of $23,117.35, of junior high teachers $11,113.34, and of high school teachers $18,833.14. Salaries of the superintendent, three principals and guidance counselor were increased by an aggregate of $7,014; and $8,500 was budgeted for a junior high guidance counselor, who has yet to be acquired.

Lesser pay raises went to secretaries, janitors, bus drivers, school nurse and librarian. Allowance for mileage of staff members was increased from seven to 10 cents a mile, adding a bit more. And the salary increases necessitated a $1,000 boost to meet the school's share of the Iowa Public Employees Retirement Service benefits and $6,000 more as the school's contribution toward social security.

All told, salaries of certified (teaching and administrative) personnel went up $61,044 and salaries of non-certified staff employees, $16,035 — for a total of $77,079.

An amount of $2,800 was added to the janitorial budget because under the Fair Labor Standards Act time and a half must be paid whenever a janitor finds it necessary to work over 44 hours in a week.

One expense item adding to the budget increase was $6,500 which the school district had to pay for tornado repairs to the junior high building and gym due to the nature of insurance coverage in force on those buildings.

Cost of transportation service is down by $1,035, to $50,010, because the school board decided to forego purchase of a new bus that was scheduled for the coming year.

Operational costs will go up a matter of $13,582 to $89,916 due to improvements contemplated and because of the $6,500 item for tornado repairs. The amount of $3,000 is earmarked for the school's share of paving the street east of the high school grounds and as much additional paving on the drive west of the high school as the sum will permit.

A thousand dollars each is set aside for new kitchen equipment in the junior high and for new lighting in four junior high rooms. Another $300 will be required for improved exterior lighting of the high school grounds.

Instructional expense over and above salaries calls for $9,230. Major among items comprising this figure are $3,200 for better equipping the junior high science room and $1,500 for playground equipment to serve Ramsay school students.

Other items under instruction are: library furniture $875, shop $850, vocational agriculture $830, home economics $800, vocal music $400, Spanish room $350, art $230, girls physical education $200.

Legion Auxiliary installs officers

New officers of Eimbrink unit No. 35 of the American Legion Auxiliary, who will serve during 1967-68, were installed at a regular meeting of the organization held Tuesday of last week in the Belmond library basement. Jeanne (Mrs. Carroll) Bamford took office as president, with Veronica Barry serving as installing officer.

Mrs. Bamford succeeds Juanita Elphic as head of the Auxiliary, the latter to fill the offices of both chaplain and sergeant-at-arms during the coming year.

Others who took offices were: Minnie Leebrick, vice president; Violet Wagner, secretary; and Jeanette Hall, treasurer.

Mrs. Margaret Bailey of Clarion, director of the newly established Wright County Homemakers Service, which will be funded by the Office of Economic Opportunity, explained the purposes of this new pilot program.

She told who would be eligible for the services and described the responsibilities of the homemakers who will perform these services in the various communities.

Bingo was enjoyed following the meeting. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Wagner, Pearl Doctor and Dorothy Brede.

THERE'S NO PROBLEM with attendance at the Red Cross swimming classes held at Luick Memorial Pool; barring sickness or vacations, just try to keep the kids away! So Instructor Janis Porter was merely "making sure" when she called roll last Friday morning. She has 21 youngsters in her class for beginners, and expects virtually all of them to be in the advanced beginner class next summer. How well Chester P. Luick's gift to the children of Belmond and vicinity fulfills its purpose is suggested by a story on the annual swimming classes to be found in this week's sports section.

Funeral services of John Mennenga held on Tuesday

John Mennenga, a lifelong resident of this community, died Saturday morning at a Garner nursing home where he had resided for the past year. He had reached the age of 86 last month.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Immanuel Reformed church, Rev. Robert Vander Schaaf officiating and Johnston Funeral Home in charge. Interment was in the church cemetery. Pallbearers were nephews of the deceased: George, Carl, Louis, Henry, Al and Arnold Mennenga.

Born June 29, 1881, to pioneer settlers of the Belmond community, John was the son of Hey and Margaret Frohling Mennenga. As a youth he received his early elementary education in schools near his rural home.

He was married on Jan. 24, 1906, to Kate Gruis at Meservey. They farmed in the Belmond-Meservey area until retirement in 1953, when they moved to their home in Belmond.

All of the couple's five children, four sons and a daughter, survive: Harry and Loren of Belmond, Ben and Elmer of Meservey and Edna (Mrs. Ted) Krebs of Chicago. Mr. Mennenga also leaves 11 grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Six brothers and three sisters preceded him in death.

HEARS GRANDDAUGHTER SING

Mrs. W. H. Trafford spent a week ago Thursday in Cedar Falls. She went to attend a special concert given by the band from Medina, Minn., during which her granddaughter, Kay Murray, appeared as guest soloist in two vocal numbers. Kay will be a junior in Cedar Falls High School this fall. Mrs. Trafford also visited in the Searle Ridenour home.

Wilson re-elected post commander

Sig Helgeland was elected as post adjutant, and other officers were chosen as follows:

Mr. Helgeland, who has been heading up the drive for 1967-68 members, reports that close to 50 had paid dues by the end of last week. The Legion officers optimistically look for membership to exceed the number of 73 that the post had last year.

ENJOY LAKE OUTING

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Bohning were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Burk at their cottage at Lake Okoboji a few days last week.

Mrs. Morris, 84, breaks her arm, then breaks leg

Mrs. Mabel Morris, 84, has had her troubles coming in bunches.

Despite her years, Mrs. Morris has been living by herself in a basement apartment in the Kinseth "church apartments." But that was "before."

A week ago Saturday she fell at her home — possibly from a fainting spell; she could not clearly remember — and broke her left arm just above the wrist.

She was released from Belmond Community hospital on Monday and went to stay at the farm home of her son Glenn while she more completely recuperated. There, the same day, she fell on the basement stairs and broke her left leg.

Now she is being cared for at Heritage Home in Clarion, following release from the local hospital on Thursday.

Though the degree of her recovery from the leg fracture is a matter of medical conjecture at her age, her family reports of Mrs. Morris that her spirits remain high. They regard that if "grit" will get her back on her feet, she'll make it.

HAS CHICAGO VISITORS

Tom Lerdal rites draw big throng

Funeral services held Sunday afternoon at Trinity Lutheran church for SP5 Thomas D. Lerdal attracted a large throng, honoring the young man who on July 16 lost his life in an auto accident in Germany.

Army personnel numbering close to two dozen were sent to Belmond from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., to serve as pallbearers and to comprise the military honor guard and firing squad.

Rev. Leo Anderson of St. John Lutheran church officiated in the absence of the regular pastor, Rev. Oscar Laaveg, who is on vacation.

Honorary pallbearers, who had been schoolmates of the deceased, were Dwight Hinman, Eric Buseman, Roger Leist, Dick Kamm, David Lieberknecht and Dan Nelson.

As of Tuesday of this week Tom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lerdal, had not yet received any information from the U. S. Army supplying details regarding the accident that had taken their son's life.

TYRRELL BACK FROM TRIP

Preston Tyrrell made a business trip to Texas recently and also visited relatives there.

KiRin Kim, former teacher here, will marry in August

KiRin Kim, who was teacher of Spanish at BHS a few years ago, was a visitor in Belmond last Saturday to attend the Kellermann-McNeal Wedding. He informed friends that he, himself, is to be married on Aug. 11 in a ceremony to be conducted at Minneapolis.

With Mr. Kim was his fiancee, Martha Weiss, who is presently studying toward a Master's degree in the theater arts at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, and doing some undergraduate teaching at the university. They will live in Minneapolis during the coming year, while Miss Weiss completes her graduate work.

Mr. Kim has most recently been living in Chicago. For the past five years he has been employed by Random House publishing company. Most of that time he has visited colleges and universities in behalf of the firm's text books and sought out promising manuscripts for publication.

Since last summer, he has been one of three Random House regional managers, having the mid-America territory that extends from Ohio to the Rocky Mountains and from Canada to the Rio Grande border. He has eight men under him, developing text book sales and pursuing manuscripts.

After Miss Weiss receives her degree next spring, the couple will return to Chicago to make their home.

CALIFORNIANS DEPART

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Brooks left for their home in South Gate, Calif., after visiting since Tuesday of last week at the home of Myrtle Godtland and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Brooks of Mason City.

Installation held Monday—

Sylvia Gray heads Jaycee-Ettes

Sylvia (Mrs. Bob) Gray was installed Monday evening as 1967-68 president of the Belmond Jaycee-Ettes at a dinner of that organization held at the Olde Belmond Inn. She replaces Ruby (Mrs. Bruce) Schroeder, who served as installing officer.

Others who will serve in Jaycee-Ette offices during the coming year are Loraine (Mrs. Lynn) Thorpe, vice president; Martha (Mrs. Keith) Carlson, secretary; Chyrl (Mrs. Tom) Hill, treasurer; and Audrey (Mrs. Richard) Wirth, state board representative.

Mrs. Schroeder gave a report on the activity highlights of the group during the past year. Their first undertaking was to direct the Community Chest campaign — a project launched just before the tornado, and finally brought to a conclusion in January.

Immediately following the tornado the Jaycee-Ettes conducted two surveys in behalf of the community, one concerned with debris removal and the other related to housing. In November, while entertainment facilities in town were out of operation, they put on a dance for the high school students.

In February, the members made favors to brighten patients' trays at Bel Chris Manor and the Johnson nursing home; and in March they assisted the Jaycees in putting on the Wright County Swine Producers banquet here.

During June they sold American flags as a patriotic project; and they were responsible for organizing the 4th of July parade, in conjunction with the Jaycees' celebration

Mrs. Schroeder also noted that the Jaycees-Ettes purchased a new slide for the city park, financed repairs to the damaged swings and teeter-totters and also paid for the repair of several picnic tables.

They bought a memorial book for the city library, to contain the names of donors of memorial gifts. They are having shelves made to hold books bestowed as memorials.

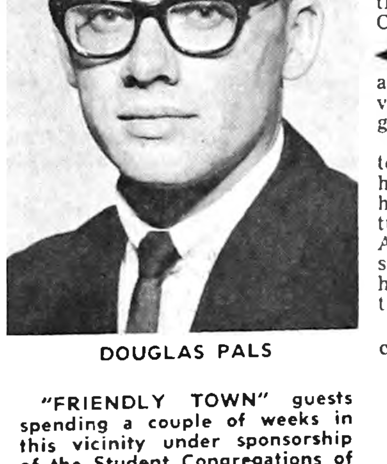
Ag' honor award to Douglas Pals

AMES (special) — Douglas Pals, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Pals of Rt. 1, Belmond, has been given a Danforth Award for Agriculture College Seniors at Iowa State university, where he is majoring in agricultural education.

Given by the Ralston Purina company of St. Louis, Mo., the award pays for a two-week session at the Youth Leadership Training Camp, Stoney Lake, Mich., and an ← additional two weeks in St. Louis visiting business and industry as a guest of Ralston Purina.

A number of honors have come to Douglas during the three years he has been on the ISU campus. He holds membership in the Agricultural Education club, Tomahawk, Alpha Zeta agricultural honorary society, Head Resident group and he is a senior representative on the Agricultural Council.

He plans to teach vocational agriculture after his graduation.



DOUGLAS PALS

HELLO, WORLD

Janine Kay is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. James Brown of Dows for the baby girl born to them July 19. At birth she weighed 7 lbs. 13½ oz.

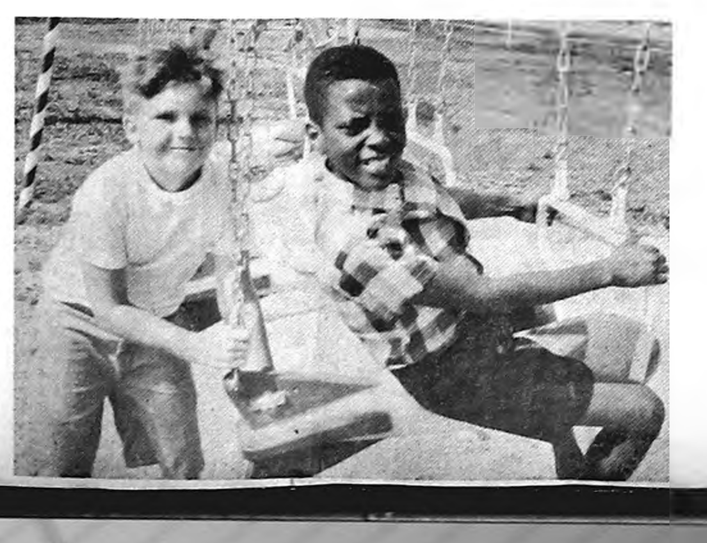
A baby girl, weighing 9 lbs. 9¾ oz., was born July 21 to Mr. and Mrs. Merle Janssen. They have named her Becky Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Renberg of Sheffield are parents of a 7-lb. 12½-oz. daughter born July 22.

An 8-lb. 6-oz. girl was born July 23 to Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Coe of Ventura. She has been named Colette Christine.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith became parents July 24 of a baby girl weighing 8 lbs. 6¾ oz. Her name is Debra Ann.

"FRIENDLY TOWN" guests spending a couple of weeks in this vicinity under sponsorship of the Student Congregations of Iowa State University have been finding fun in abundance, as the pictures below clearly indicate. Luick Memorial Pool has been a favorite recreation spot; that's Lynette Jones with Beth Aldrich enjoying a dip — this is Lynette's second summer visit in the Larry Aldrich home near Rowan. Next is Richard Wilson giving Willie Simon a push in one of the city park's new rocket swings; Willie is staying with Richard's folks, the Cleo Wilsons. And at right, Derek Johnson, an ardent fisherman, is giving a word on casting to Jolene Lowenberg and his companion at the Merlin Lowenberg farm, Nathaniel Phipps. All the host families have had enthusiastic praise for their young guests from Chicago. The visitors' reaction to the experience, in a word . . . "Great!"



To further advance plans—

2nd public meeting Friday re park

Tomorrow (Friday) night at 7:30 o'clock at the library basement a second public meeting will be held under sponsorship of the Culture Study and Progress clubs to give further consideration to plans for development of a new riverside park west of River avenue.

Paul R. Jensen of the Mason City engineering firm of Wallace, Holland and associates, will again be on hand. He spoke before a similar meeting in June at which the project was the subject of preliminary discussion.

Mr. Jensen will bring with him a landscape engineer, who will be able to answer some of the questions for which no answers could be provided at the earlier meeting.

Mrs. Merle Bonte, who has been helping give impetus to the proposed project in behalf of the interested clubs, says heads of local organizations are urged to attend the meeting — because the undertaking is one of such scope that it stands small chance of success except through communitywide effort.

She adds that any and all persons concerned with development and advancement of the Belmond community are also encouraged to attend. It is hoped that some farm leaders will also lend their cooperation and interest.

Besides words from Mr. Jensen and the landscape engineer, C. C. Christie will have some comments to make. He is chairman of the city zoning and planning commission, which was the original source of the park proposal.

Mr. Jensen has advised the two clubs that have been boosting the project that a preliminary engineering survey to outline a definite plan for the park and suggest ways and means for bringing it into being will cost slightly under $1,400.

Following tomorrow's meeting, if the continuing enthusiasm for the park project matches that which has so far been exhibited, the Culture Study and Project clubs propose to launch a campaign to raise the money needed for the preliminary engineering survey.

Mrs. Bonte says the project is of a sort that might well lend itself to development by stages and that several years could be devoted to implementing the over-all plans. But a first essential will be to get the preliminary plan drafted; and that will require generous financial support from service-minded organizations and civic-minded businesses and individuals.

DEE ANN JESSEN WED TO MICHAEL FOWLER IN LOCAL CEREMONY

Miss Dee Ann Jessen of Belmond, daughter of Mrs. A. M. Jessen of Waterloo, became the bride of Michael Allen Fowler of Ames, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fowler of Floyd, Saturday evening, July 15, at 7:30 o'clock at the Methodist church. Rev. Maurice Jones performed the double-ring ceremony.

Harvey Hansen of Austin, Minn., sang two solos, "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Richard Bleeker of Cedar Falls, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor and Mrs. Ronald Anderson of Waterloo and LaRaleyn Hart of Des Moines were bridesmaids. They wore turquoise crepe dresses with matching satin trim and carried white mums.

Donald Ahrens of Ames served as best man and the groomsmen were Lauren Jessen of Middletown, O., brother of the bride, and Dennis Ives of Marshalltown. James Ives of Fort Dodge and Donald Jessen of Mason City, brother of the bride, were the ushers. The men of the wedding party wore white jackets and black trousers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors.

The bride received her home economics training at Iowa State university, Ames, has been teaching in the Belmond Community High school and next year will teach at the Ballard Community school at Huxley.

The groom is a graduate student in animal science at ISU. The couple will be at home at Kelley.

Peewees take spotlight—

Panthers, Mohawks in tight race

—SPORTS—

With only a week of play remaining, last weekend's standings in the summer recreation baseball leagues found the T-Ball Dodgers in firm command with an 8-0 mark, the midget Cardinals practically out of reach with a 6-0 mark, and the peewee Panthers and Mohawks still battling it out with 7-2 and 6-3 records respectively.

After lambasting the winless Giants on Monday, the Panthers came back the next day to take a 13-11 thriller from the Mohawks and dump the league-leaders captained by Mark Havens and Lee Laaveg into second place. Co-Captains Doug Lowenberg and Brian McVey were heroes of the hard-fought victory.

McVey poled a triple for the Panthers in the six-run second inning and a homer in the fourth that gave the Panthers a 13-6 lead. Lowenberg rapped a home run in the third with the bases loaded to send his team into a 10-6 advantage.

McVey struck out six, allowed seven hits and walked only two as winning pitcher. Havens also fanned six batters and allowed just seven hits, but walked seven and hit one batter. The Mohawks put on a strong rally in the top of the fifth frame that brought in five runs, but it was too little and too late.

After a week's layoff while most of the team members were at Scout Camp, the midget Cardinals racked up three wins last week to pull virtually out of reach of their rivals. Only one of the victories came easy, though.

On Friday they sacked up the Cubs 23 to 13 as they made four hits plus a bumper crop of walks and Cub errors good for 13 runs in the first inning. Walks and errors accounted for most of the Cub scoring as they plated their 13 runs on only two hits.

Co-Captain Nick Classick gave the Tigers only four hits on Monday, but the Cards had a close squeeze in winning only 9 to 8. The Tigers had scored three in the bottom of the fifth and had the bases full when Nick Boller popped out to the pitcher for the final out.

On Wednesday, the Cards nicked the Tigers 8-7 as they gained a 7-0 lead in the first two innings and held on for the win. Tim Greenwood held the Cards to a single hit in the last three frames, but the damage had been done.

In the other midget game of the week, the Redlegs trimmed the Cubs 9 to 5. Fred Erdman played a major role in the victory with a single, double and triple.

Both the Dodgers and Giants picked up a pair of wins in T-Ball play. It was 13-4 for the Dodgers over the Twins; then the Cubs threatened the league leaders in a well-played game before losing 7-6. It was the second single-score defeat of the week for the Cubs, who earlier had bowed to the Giants in a 21-20 slugfest. The Giants easily disposed of the Twins, 28-13.

As summer recreation league action winds up today and tomorrow, it was to be the T-Ball Giants vs. Twins at 1:00 this afternoon followed by the midget Cards vs. Cubs; and at 1:00 p. m. Friday the peewee Panthers against the Giants with completion of the 8-8 suspended game between the midget Redlegs and Tigers at 1:45.

All-star tilts scheduled next Monday, Tuesday

Next Monday and Tuesday the summer recreation baseball season will wind up with the annual all-star games, the peewees having at it on Monday at 6:00 p. m. and the midgets at the same hour on Tuesday evening.

Director Don Hoppel predicts a pair of interesting games between well matched teams in each case.

Gerald Thompson and Doug Lowenberg will captain the American League team and Mark Havens and Jerry Bemrich the Nationals in the peewee encounter.

Others on the American League roster will be: Brian McVey, Wayne Waage, Dennis Kessler, Kevin Braner, Bill Walrod, Brett Lobdell, Bob Ginapp, Lee Laaveg, Dave Redder and Chuck Classick.

On the Havens-Bemrich team will be: Tony McLaughlin, Kim Gabrielson, Eddie McClenahan, Bob Bateson, Larry Robbins, Gary Larkin, Kenny Beenken, Greg Miland, Duane Summers and Randy Banning.

Dave Snyder and Joey McLaughlin will captain the midget Americans and the National League captains will be Sam McLaughlin and Darrell Bemrich.

Players filling out the National League squad will be: Ken Robbins, Tom Korthas, Fred Erdman, Norman Olson, Larry Elphic, Jim Pollitt, Nick Boller, Charles Bell, Jim Killius and Gene Thayer.

Broncs overcome one bad inning to edge Eagles

A bases-loaded home run by John Camp, versatile Britt sports star, almost upset the apple cart for the Belmond Broncos in a 6-5 baseball game played Wednesday of last week on the Eagles' diamond.

Belmond was nursing a 2-0 lead gained in the third inning when Rick Hawley, starting pitcher, saw the first Britt batter in the fifth frame tally an unearned run after gaining base on a walk. Three singles in a row set the stage for Mr. Camp's round-tripper as he cleared the base paths with a long poke into right field.

Terry Nelson relieved Hawley at that point. Nelson got Tom McDermott to loft a fly to right field and then struck out Dallman. But the Broncos still faced the job of correcting a 5-2 deficit.

They got the job done in the next inning. Tim Dirks was walked and Don Havens brought him home with a double. Nelson connected for a lusty single and, after Keith Boller and Tim Roberts were retired on strike-outs, Tim Dirks singled. With Havens and Nelson home safe, Dave Dirks got a safety that sent the leading run across.

Nelson got the Eagles out 1-2-3 in the sixth and had to face only three men in the seventh, also, when an error by the Bronco second baseman was rectified by getting the runner out on an attempt to reach second.

Hawley had allowed only single hits in the first and fourth innings before the roof fell in on him in the fifth. Belmond collected 10 hits off of two Eagle hurlers. Havens got two singles, besides his double, Roberts a double and single, Wayne Smith and Tim Dirks each a pair of singles.

Season's record to 9-4—

Broncos in twin win over Garner

—SPORTS—

Last Friday night in a double-header at home, the Bronco baseball aggregation downed the Garner Cardinals 4-2 and 10-5 to bring Belmond High's summer record up to nine wins against four losses.

Tim Dirks figured prominently in the proceedings, literally from start to finish. After Garner had been blanked in the opening inning of the first game despite three safe blows off of Rick Hawley, Tim got the show on the road by slugging the first pitch from Bill Engstler over the Faris Field fence for a home run.

And in the fifth inning of the nightcap, Tim stepped to the mound when brother Dave got into trouble and Wayne Smith failed as a reliever by issuing a run-scoring base on balls.

The Broncos were without their top batter, Tim Roberts, and No. 2 pitcher, Terry Nelson, who'd gone to Indianola to compete in the state Jaycee Junior Champ track meet. That explained the presence of Dave Dirks on the mound for Belmond in the second game, making his debut as a pitcher.

Hawley gave up eight hits in the opener, but escaped being scored on until the fifth inning. With two men down, Donny Havens made a bad throw to first from his third base corner and the error opened the way for a pair of tallies.

Belmond already had a 4-0 lead going into that frame, though, and Hawley kept matters tightly under control in the last two innings. On the other hand, Engstler gave up all of the Broncos' seven hits in just five innings and had to be relieved in the sixth. A half-dozen Card errors complicated his job.

Greg Schoneman was Garner's starting hurler in the second game, but gave way to Al Tompkins after two innings that saw Belmond pile up seven runs. The Broncs got five hits off of Schoneman in the four-run first inning and five in the second to add another three tallies.

Dave Dirks got in a little difficulty in the second frame on three hits, two walks and a costly error but Garner was held to a pair of runs. A siege of wildness afflicted Dirks in the fifth, when the Cards picked up three more. But after Smith relieved for one man, brother Tim came in to put out the fire and clinch the Broncos' ninth win in their last 10 starts.

Paul Bamford was perfect at the plate in the nightcap, with a double, two singles and a walk. Dave Dirks, too, was three-for-three including a double; while Mike Klinefelter and Havens each chalked up a single and double.

Red Cross meets expense—

Swim program attracts 475 kids

Luick Memorial Swimming Pool this summer has been the scene of the largest swimming classes that have ever enrolled for the local Red Cross instruction program. Manager Bob Davis reports that 230 youngsters took lessons during the first three-week lesson. Almost as large a number is completing the second session this week. In addition, approximately 45 boys and girls have taken the Senior Life Saving course.

This brings to between 475 and 500 the number of young people who are benefiting from the water safety instruction that the Red Cross chapters here and in neighboring counties make possible at no cost to the students. All that is required of an enrollee in the program is a season ticket for use of the pool.

Out-of-town participation in the program has been steadily growing. Close to 50 students signed up from Thornton and Meservey for this season, In addition, there is a larger than usual number from Kanawha, the customary enrollment from Rowan and Goodell, also several from Alexander and even a couple from Galt.

Different courses of instruction are offered for beginners, advanced beginners, intermediate swimmers and full-fledged swimmers. Those who achieve an adeptness at swimming may then go on to qualify for Junior Life Saving or Senior Life Saving certification.

Mr. Davis says the cases are few in which it takes a youngster more than two seasons to become a bona fide swimmer. There is of course a scattering that don't make it; and some who advance from the beginner to swimmer classification with only one season of instruction.

Tom Stevens heads up the program as a certified Red Cross water safety instructor. In direct charge of the classes are Ed Dana, Cindy Musselman, Nicki Killius and Janis Porter. Because of the large enrollment for the first session, Nancy (Mrs Larry) Flanagan served as an instructor during the opening period.

Each boy and girl who signs up for lessons and succeeds in advancing to the next class is presented a Red Cross card signifying that achievement. Mr. Davis is hopeful that these cards will be ready for distribution to the second-session students the end of this week and that those for the first-session group can then be picked up at the pool.

Froshmores keep their win string going; unbeaten since 1st '65 tilt

Belmond High's froshmores posted two more wins last week to make their baseball record for the season 6-0. They had one more game to go — meeting Dows here Tuesday of this week — to wrap up a second, consecutive undefeated season. In fact, no BHS freshman-sophomore has suffered a loss since the first game of the 1965 season.

Dows gave the Junior Broncs their biggest scare of the season on Tuesday of last week when the Belmond team was forced to go an extra inning before they managed a 10-8 win. The game was played under Babe Ruth league rules, with shortened base paths and pitching distance. The victory over Garner on Thursday came easier, 13 to 5.

At Dows, Ron Ginapp pitched five and two-thirds innings, giving way to Tim Dirks with the score 8 to 5 and three men on base via walks. Tim was touched for a double by Matson that brought in three runs to knot the score, but Dirks then got a strike-out to retire the side.

In the 7th and 8th, Tim got the Dows batters in 1-2-3 order and fanned five out of the six in the process. Belmond got two men on in the 7th, but both were nailed at second base and no run was produced.

Joey McLaughlin as first up in the 8th was walked, Dirks was pegged out at first, then Ginapp and Keith Boller got solid singles, the latter's hit scoring the pair on base — and that sufficed for the victory.

At Garner, the Junior Broncs fell behind 4-0 in the first two innings but tied the count in the third when, with two down, Fred Erdman was walked, Rick Hawley got a hit, Dirks was nicked by a pitch, Ginapp hit safely and Boller made first on an error.

Mike Barz, on the mound for the Cardinal Chix, got through the fourth frame unscathed but couldn't find the plate in the fifth. Five walks, a hit batsman, two hits, an error and a fielder's choice allowed eight runs to score as a dozen Broncos went to bat.

Garner added a meaningless run in the bottom of the fifth, then Ginapp took up hurling duties for the Broncs and kept the Chix scoreless in the last two frames while Belmond added a final tally in the seventh.

Ginapp wielded the big bat for Belmond in both games, with six safeties in 10 at bats. The Broncs outhit Dows, nine to four, but five errors and eight walks kept the losers in contention. Garner was outhit eight to four, but Belmond did better on walks and errors with five and three respectively.

Wright County Board Proceedings

March 6, 1967
Clarion, Iowa

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met in adjourned session at the Court House in Clarion with the following members present: Ed Kennedy, Chairman, G. C. Whyte, Walter Weidemann, George E. Heard and Wendell Duitscher, with the County Auditor in attendance.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Motion by Heard, seconded by Weidemann, that the appointment by Marjorie Mishler, Recorder, of DeeLorys Baker as Deputy Recorder be approved and also her bond in amount of $1,000. Motion carried. This action was taken because the bond had not been filed in time after the first appointment.

Bob Bernhardt of the Wright County Extension Service visited with the Board relative to certain funds being held in escrow. He stated that this matter will be taken care of and that a certain amount will be paid in to the County General Fund as required by law.

Sheriff Blecker discussed the matter of unlicensed dogs in the county, as well as damage claims for livestock injured or destroyed by dogs. He presented an ad which he is going to put in the newspapers in this connection. The Board approved this action.

The following bids were received on February 28, 1967 for Wright County's 1967 Asphalt resurfacing:

Western Engineering Co., Harlan, Iowa	$253,813.01
P. & M. Stone Co., Inc., Humboldt, Iowa	254,930.83

Highway Surfacers, Inc., New Hampton, Iowa	308,798.64
Cessford Constr. Co., LeGrand, Iowa	349,052.07

Motion made by Duitscher, seconded by Whyte, that the bid of Western Engineering Co., of Harlan, Iowa in amount of $253,813.01 be accepted and that the Chairman be and is authorized to execute the contracts and approve the Conractor's bonds and that the Auditor be directed to return the Auditor be directed to return the proposal guarantees to the unsuccessful bidders. Motion carried.

The following Resolution was introduced and read:

RESOLUTION

Resolution — Concurring in Recommended Award of Contracts for Farm to Market Project No. SN-1256/3/—51-99, Wright County, Iowa.

WHEREAS the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, has considered the bids received by the Iowa State Highway Commission on February 28, 1967, for construction work on FARM TO MARKET Project No. SN-1256/3/—51-99 Wright County,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the said Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, concurs in the commission's recommendation that contracts for said work be awarded to the low bidders, as follows: 6.818 Miles of Asph. Conc. Resurfacing.

Motion was made by Weidemann, seconded by Heard, that the foregoing Resolution be adopted. Upon roll call the vote was as follows: Ayes, Whyte, Weidemann, Heard and Duitscher. Nays, None. Thereupon the Chairman declared the motion carried and the Resolution duly adopted.

The following claims were read and allowed:

A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver. — Prov. 25:11

Protective bars, belts would cut tractor deaths

When numberless auto drivers continued to invite injury and death despite the safeguard offered them in the way of seatbelts, the law took matters into its own hands and made seatbelts required, standard equipment.

Because this is Farm Safety Week (July 23-29), it set us to thinking that perhaps the time is about ripe that the powers-that-be should do the same favor to farmers, who insist on killing themselves off in wholesale lots by letting tractors roll on top of them.

The National Safety Council points out that protective frames or crush resistant cabs could eliminate a large share of the tractor fatalities. In addition, the use of a seatbelt along with the recommended frame is suggested as a mighty sensible precaution for tractor drivers, too.

This current crop season, it's seemed that one can hardly pick up a copy of the state daily papers without seeing another story of death caused in a tractor mishap. In all too many instances, the victim is a youngster who possesses only the knowledge of how to drive a tractor without the judgment that is equally essential.

More than 500 farm workers are being killed each year in tractor overturn accidents, says David McFarland, NSC agricultural engineer. He's convinced tht "safety education" can never provide the answer to tractor tragedies any more than it has sufficed to diminish highway accidents.

"When a tractor reaches the point of no return, once it starts to roll, only seven-thenths of a second is needed to complete the roll-over," he says, "and the chance of a man jumping to safety in this time is very remote."

That prompts his conclusion that, "Since operator error cannot be totally controlled, deaths from tractor overturn accidents are likely to continue unless tractors are equipped with a basic device to protect the operator from overturn."

He notes that protective frames for agricultural tractors are now available on some recent production models, and that all tractor makers are expected to offer them soon. He adds that the use of a seat belt provides important added protection by keeping the operator in the seat during an upset.

This is all well and good; but left the choice of voluntarily protecting himself by the outlay of a few extra dollars for a protective frame and the small inconvenience of strapping himself to the seat, how many farmers will voluntarily acquire these available safeguards?

Tractor deaths contribute importantly to a shameful record of 320 fatal farm accidents per 100,000 population in the over-65 age category; and 61 per 100,000 in the 15-to-24 age group. We suspect that these statistics would make the risk from driving a car look almost as small as for walking the dog — despite the thousands killed annually on the highways.

If our legislators are interested in keeping their farm constituents live, healthy taxpayers, they'd better follow the seatbelt precedent and make it obligatory that tractors offer the same safeguards for survival that car-makers are required to provide the motorist.

About that item concerning Sheriff Bob Blecker

From first-hand sources, we understand that there was rather widespread expectation last week that the item regarding the arrest and fining of Sheriff Bob Blecker on a traffic violation would not find its way into print in The Independent. It might be noted that Blecker was NOT among those who anticipated disregard of the matter.

The implication that The Independent would knowingly "protect" anyone from publicity on a law violation miffed the editor more than somewhat. If we haven't established in nearly 18 years of scrupulous effort that it is the policy of this newspaper to play court reporting "down the middle," we don't know how we should go about it.

However, it might be to the point to review that policy — because the Blecker item MIGHT have been overlooked inadvertantly since the case was in an out-of-county court. Because we don't have regular access to such court records, we don't ordinarily publish penalties assessed persons in our readership area that we learn about in hit-and-miss fashion. But if a public figure is involved, and we know of it, you can count on it that The Independent will publish the facts.

We DO have access at all times to the records of the local justice of peace courts and complaints filed at the sheriff's office. Since we can consequenty give fair and consistent treatment of all whose names appear in these records, it is our determined intention that "the names you know" (plus a lot of 'em you don't, from the J. P. dockets) will without exception appear in this paper.

Because an editor occasionally is one of the last to learn what's traveling the grapevine, we did not hear of the Blecker incident until several days after the sheriff's appearance in court. We promptly took such steps as were necessary to obtain the full facts — and publish them.

We repeat that we are not in a position to cover out-of-county court actions of a routine nature as a regular thing. And we regard it would be unfair to report a few and miss the most. But don't count on us "protecting" anybody voluntarily, within the framework of our policy on court reporting. THAT will never happen.

Again we say, it's your money; take some interest

It would seem superfluous to suggest to taxpayers that they keep a particularly close watch on local tax budgets this year. All are going to be paying a welter of new taxes as a result of the tax bill rushed through in the final days of the 62nd General Assembly to the purpose of reducing levies on property — on which all local budgets are solely based.

The Independent will do the best it can to explain the proposed levies and tell what services they are to supply. And if you never "bothered about" budget hearings in the past, this would be a good year to concern yourself with them.

As a general rule, the taxpayer keeps local government officials relatively well informed regarding the services he expects his taxes to provide. He shows much less interest in needed innovations that might permit local government to be operated more economically — or at least, more efficiently.

An example in case is the conduct of county school affairs. That County Superintendent C. W. Sankey has been hired the past several years on only a part-time basis indicates that the county school directors regard that the present set-up marks a transition to something different from what county school administration has been in the past.

Because no news of the county directors' deliberations reaches the press, except for occasional staff hirings or resignations and the receipt of state aid checks, we have no idea if the board has been giving thought to combining Wright's school administration with that of another county, or several others. But this is distinctly the trend of the future and deserves consideration by our county board — and action in the not too distant future.

Similarly, there are facets to most of the budget hearings that justify the interest and sober concern of the conscientious taxpayer. It's your money that's being spent.

THIS is Congressional "ethics"?

Most people feel that congressional ethics have sunk pretty low in recent years. They have.

The scandals of the Bobby Baker case, the grave misconduct of Adam Clayton Powell, the misuse of campaign funds by Sen. Thomas Dodd are familiar.

But you haven't heard anything yet.

These other things pale when you consider what happened a few days ago.

I submit that when one of the worst examples of official misconduct can take place on the floor of the House of Representatives, in the presence and in the hearing of every congressman in attendance — and nothing, absolutely nothing, is done about it then or later this is carrying complicity to a new low.

THE OFFENDING CONGRESSMAN should not only owe an explanation and an apology to the House, but the House of Representatives owes a collective apology to the country for letting the incident go unrebuked at the instant it occurred.

It happened this way:

An important piece of legislation was up for action — a measure offered by Rep. Donald Rumsfeld of Illinois creating an independent safety review board for NASA's space program to prevent such tragedies as last January's Apollo fire.

AN INDECISIVE VOICE VOTE produced a call for a teller vote in which House members file one by one up the center aisle to be counted. First the "aye" voters filed by the tells, Representative Rumsfeld counting across the aisle from Rep. George F. Miller, of California, chairman of the House Space Committee and the "anti" teller.

Rumsfeld announced a count of 88 "aye" votes.

The "nay" voters then filed by with Miller counting and Rumsfeld checking.

Miller announced 101 votes.

Rumsfeld was dumbfounded. He had tallied only 71 "nay" votes and immediately asked Miller to repeat his count. It was 101, Miller said.

ADDITIONAL CONGRESSMEN, who hadn't voted, then marched by the tellers — adding five votes for Miller, 13 for Rumsfeld for a total of 106 to 101. The result was the same. Rumsfeld lost.

To congressmen on the floor, the "nay" line was visibly shorter than the "yea" line. To reporters in the galley, who kept their own count, Miller was up to 30 votes short of his stated total. Congressmen later also told Rumsfeld that they believed Miller was "about 30" votes shy.—Roscoe Drummond in Christian Science Monitor

Indignantly kicking the current day's issue of the Des Moines Register off of his chair, TJ assumed a relaxed position thereon, checked to see if the air conditioner was going, then pinned Ye Ed with a baleful glare.

"Things don't seem to have changed much around here while I was gone," he commenced. "Oh, sure, the office is dolled up. . . . what I refer to is your penchant for tripping over your own typewriter."

With a sigh — knowing darned well what the cat was talking about — we said, "Wayne Bell is manager for Fullerton Lumber; and Dick Krapfl is manager for Spahn and Rose."

"AM I SUPPOSED TO GIVE you 64 silver dollars now?" TJ inquired sarcastically. "You kid the post office gang about the trouble they'll have with a Wayne Bell at 115 Fourth avenue NE and another at 116 Third avenue NE — and YOU can't even keep straight who's manager of what lumberyard!"

"It's a funny thing," we told him. "We didn't have too much trouble with goofs like that while you were gone. Oh, a little minor stuff, of course. You can't avoid it. . . . But a 14-carat case of mistaken identity . . . "

"You DO know better?" the feline prodded.

"Yes, we DO know better," we admitted. "Actually, we don't have any trouble keeping the managers straight. It's the lumber companies we tend to get mixed up. Now shall we talk about something pleasant? Like who won the 1967 session of the legislature?"

BY THE WAY TJ CAME BRISKLY to attention, it was clear that he was all prepared to serve as political commentator.

"Glad you brought that up," he said, "because I'm just the fellah who can tell you. You know who REALLY came out smellin' like a rose? The farmer!"

"That so?" we responded.

"That's EXACTLY so," repeated the cat. "The odd part was, this wasn't a 'Farm Bureau assembly' like so many Iowa general assemblies have been in the past. There's been a considerable drop-off of farm representation in the legislature, y'know. Rural population dwindling, and all.

"SEEMED LIKE JUST ABOUT every special interest outfit was shaking the tree harder than the farmers. At least, the legislators seemed to be paying more attention to the other groups. But when the apples started falling, the farmer sure got a lapful."

"Elucidate," we suggested.

"Well, in the first place, who's going to benefit more from the property tax relief that was jammed through at the last minute? The farmer — and you'd better believe it. The dab of tax you're going to save on next year's levy against the Gallagher manse, you could stick in your eye.

"BUT WAIT TILL YOU PAY all those 'relief' taxes that'll be holding the line on property. You're going to be ready to go ON it, brother. Relief, that is!"

We shuddered. He was getting us convinced.

"On the other hand, if you were getting that property tax cut spread over 240 acres . . . . That'd be somethin' different. Farmers gets a new break on his livestock, too. And three million more dollars in the ag land tax credit kitty."

"But," we interrupted, "he gets credit only for such of general school taxes as run over 20 mills, where it used to be 15 mills."

TJ nodded, "So the book said. But when was there ever enough in the land tax credit fund that he GOT anything like he was s'posed to GIT? Now, he may not have so much COMING; but he'll get a good deal more of whatever it is.

"AND ANOTHER THING, WITH all the deducks the farmer seems to find available when he makes out his income tax, the hike in THAT item isn't apt to pinch the most of 'em too hard.

"And so it went?" we interjected.

"And so it went," TJ agreed. "Then, when the city folks tried to nip a few bucks by getting their share of the road use tax fund upped from 13 to 15 per cent, the farmers began squealing like a bunch of porkers at sloppin' time— and the lawmakers put the kibosh on THAT. Even though a lot more of that road use tax comes from the towns and cities than from the country."

"THE LAWMAKERS — INCLUDING our own Hugh Clarke and Ray Bailey," we noted. "Hugh and Ray did a right good job for us down there, to our notion; but we didn't exactly feel they earned an A-plus on THAT proposition. Seems like that little bit extra could have been spared for city streets."

"Oh well," said the cat, composing himself for a snooze, "we all make mistakes. . . . Like — don't forget that Bell-ringer YOU printed up so purty this week."

Old minute book relates decline of G.A.R.

An interesting relic of Belmond's past has been turned over to The Independent by Sig Helgeland, adjutant of Eimbrink post of the American Legion, discovered among records that had accumlated in the Legion's "archives." It is the minute book of Whited Post No. 247 of the Grand Army of the Republic.

On its opening page, dated Feb. 22, 1899, it is noted: "Having lost all records (by fire on Feb. 8th, 1899) of all previous meetings, the following is a list from memory of the Comrades installed as officers of Whited Post No. 247 G. A. R. at our last regular meeting Jan. 25th, 1899."

The officers then listed were: E. S. Hubbard, Commander; N. M. Wolcott, Senior Vice Commander; Charles Schleiffarth, Junior Vice Commander; Rev. J. D. Sands, Chaplain; C. J. Boughton, Quartermaster; D. L. Cuppett, Officer of the Day; W. H. Clark, Surgeon; J. B. Robbins, Officer of the Guard; Geo. Pierce, Guard; G. W. Cram, Adjutant; S. N. Hinman, Sergeant Major; W. F. Culver, Quartermaster Sergeant.

Post establish in '83

Trustees were H. E. A. Diehl, S. N. Hinman and Frank Christie.

For the benefit of those possibly unfamiliar with the G. A. R., Birdsall's "History of Wright County" (published in 1915) had this to say of the organization: "The Grand Army of the Republic is one of the secret order, or fraternities, that is known in almost every town and hamlet in all the Northland, as a patriotic memorial fraternity established in the late seventies by that gallant volunteer, Gen. John A. Logan of Illinois."

Wright county had posts at Goldfield (the oldest, established March 19, 1883), Clarion, Eagle Grove and Dows, as well as at Belmond. Whited Post was formed on Dec. 7, 1883.

Most disastrous fire

It was probably the most disastrous fire in Belmond's history that destroyed the records and other belongings of Whited Post. The Iowa Valley Press of Feb. 8, 1899, told that the fire bell had rung at 9:30 a. m. and that "the fire laddies for two hours fought the conflagration heroically, with the mercury at 10 degrees below zero."

The "Union Block" — which was replaced by the building now occupied by Jobco Printing, the Ward Catalog store and Town House cafe — was destroyed, along with two other business establishments and damage was dealt two more stores.

Apparently both the G. A. R. and Masons met in the Odd Fellows hall in the Union Block or had nearby, upstairs quarters, as the Press related: "The Odd Fellows, Masons and G. A. R. folks lost their paraphernalia."

Sought pension for widow

By the time the Feb. 22 meeting was held, the Iowa Department of the G. A. R. had sent Whited Post a duplicate charter, rituals, service books and cards, for which the adjutant was instructed to thank the department. It was left in the hands of the trustees to obtain a new meeting place and procure such furniture as needed.

A notation in the minutes had to do with information received that "Mrs. Wickersham, the widow of our late Comrade Deceased A. J. Wickersham," had had an application for widow's pension rejected. C. H. Boughton was appointed as a committee of one to take the matter up "with Hon. C. B. Henderson, Congressman of this district, giving him such information as is known and ask his assistance in getting said claim reinstated and approved."

Memorial Day big event

At the April meeting, "General Orders No. 6 and No. 8 were read, also a circular on Memorial Day, to be left with the local printer to publish if they will print without charge to this Post."

Presumably the matter was printed — without charge; for the May minutes related: "Comrade Kaufman reports as to the arrangements made regarding Memorial Day exercises and program as printed in the local paper."

In June, "Comrade J. Waltz, delegate to the Department Encampment (state convention) reported that all went well as far as he knew. . . . Other Comrades who attended reported a royal good time."

Helped Comrade in need

Comment also was made that "$2.25 was advanced to a needy Comrade who was traveling through the country" from the Relief Fund.

Relative to Memorial Day, it was reported that on the day before the Post sent Comrades to both Amsterdam Cemetery and the Rowan Cemetery to decorate veterans' graves.

Then, "On May 30th, with the aid of the school children and their teachers the citizens of Belmond held appropriate services and decorated the graves of all Comrades lying buried in the Belmond cemetery."

In July $279.40 was collected by subscription to meet the cost of holding the Wright County Soldiers Reunion in Belmond; and since the expense ran to only $163.64 the Post was left with a tidy overage.

"Ended for all time"

August found the post approving a motion that the trustees "procure one gavel for use of the Post" and "the Adjutant was instructed to write the county auditor for 12 tickets to State Fair for Soldiers Day."

Minutes in the book ran to Aug. 23, 1926, when the following was solemnly noted: "Moved and carried that Whited Post N. 247, Dept. of Iowa, G. A. R. be this day disbanded, said Post having but three members left here and one in California."

With routine business disposed of, the curtain was rung down with: "No further business appearing, Whited Post No. 247 was closed and the Post was ended for all time."

Dilene Bradley, Sgt. Donald Larson repeated vows at Alexander church

Miss Dilene Kay Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd R. Bradley, became the bride of Sgt. Donald C. Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Larsen of Latimer, Saturday afternoon, July 8, at 4:00 o'clock at the First Reformed church. Rev. Robert Vander Schaaf performed the double-ring ceremony.

Two large baskets of red carnations and white mums with blue bows decorated the chancel. White satin bows marked the pews.

Roger Mollenbeck of Hampton played the organ and accompanied Mrs. Roger Busma as she sang "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Wedding Prayer", the latter as the couple knelt at the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of white lace over satin fashioned with a satin stand-up collar and three-quarter-length sleeves with satin edge. Her shoulder-length veil fell from a satin bow headpiece. She carried a white Bible covered with white lace and bearing red roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Charles Bachman of Cedar Falls, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Carol Ann Kruse of Aberdeen, S. D., was bridesmaid. They wore street-length dresses of navy blue dotted swiss, empire-styled and with A-line skirts. Their pillbox headpieces were accented with blush veils. Each carried a single long-stemmed white mum with red, white and blue bows.

Victor Steding of San Diego, Calif., was best man and Ralph Larsen of Spencer, brother of the groom, was groomsman. Ushers were Charles Bachman of Cedar Falls and Dennis Lemke of Dows. The men of the wedding party wore black suits and white carnation boutonnieres.

Rhonda Larsen of Spencer, niece of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a dress identical to those of the bride's attendants and carried a blue basket of red and white carnations and trimmed with red, white and blue bows.

Following the ceremony, a reception and dinner for 85 guests was held at the Gold Key dining room at Hampton. The bridal table was decorated with the bride's bouquet and a small wedding cake was used as the centerpiece. After the dinner, the bride and groom opened their gifts.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of the CAL Community High school and the bride has been employed as a secretary at the school at Alexander.

Hank Koenens celebrated 25th wedding anniversary

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Hank Koenen celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary.

Afternoon visitors were Harm Koenen, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Barth, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Plagge, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Halze, all of Latimer, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Schreuder and Mr and Mrs. Pete Koenen of Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Heaford and Billy of Rockwell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rietma and family of Kanawha, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shipley and Connie of Boscobel, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stoffer, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stoffer, Jr., and Jane of Sheffield and Mike Long of Eagle Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Pals and Mr and Mrs. Tom Jessen are on a western trip.
